QUARTET TOURS

Two male quartets have been chosen to tour
the Northwest Educational Zone this summer in the interest of Northwest Nazarene College.

One quartet is composed of Floyd Kinzler,
Lauriston DuBois, Gordon Olsen, and John Maxey. This quartet will spend two or three weeks in northern California and then tour with Rev. Ira L. True the Northwest and North Pacific Districts.

The other quartet is composed of Whitcomb
Harding, John Eby, Stanley Mittelstaedt, and Harold Plumb. This quartet leaves in a few days for the Oakes, North Dakota, camp meeting. They will be joined by Rev. A. C. Tunnell, our field secretary, and tour the eastern part of our zone.

Let all of our pastors, friends, and former students watch carefully for the announcement of the quartet's visitation and plan for a great service.

COMMENCEMENT NEWS

To have with us Dr. H. Orton Wiley, first president and president for ten years of N. N. C., and now editor of the Herald of Holliness, on Sunday, May 22 and Monday, May 23, was indeed a pleasure.

Doctor Wiley spoke to a crowded house at First Church on Sunday evening. From Ephesians I: 1-14 came his message. "The epistle," he said, "begins with grace and peace and ends with peace and grace. It deals not with salvation wrought by Christ, but in Him.

The speaker took us through the tabernacle, giving us glimpses of the priest, the golden candlestick, the tribes, and the veil behind the altar of incense.

Rev. L. A. Reed, pastor of Headquarters church, Kansas City, delivered the annual baccalaureate address on Sunday morning, May 29, on the subject, "He is the Same."

Using as a text Hebrews 13:8, he spoke of a pre-existent Christ, of a redeemer, of a humiliated Christ, of a majestic Christ, of a human Christ, of a crucified Christ, a resurrected Christ, and of Christ, the burden-bearer.

More than 400 students and faculty members participated in the processional march. The college seniors followed the faculty to the front seats, and each succeeding class came in its order.

As Brother Reed brought the message, tears flowed freely and it seemed that the benediction of the Holy Spirit was on the service. In the evening again, the speaker addressed a full house on the subject "Son, Remember." Once more the Spirit descended and many found their way to the altar for salvation and sanctification.

The college senior class gave their program on Monday evening, May 30.

Charles Croft read the Scripture; Dr. Olive M. Winchester, class sponsor, gave the invocation; the senior male quartet sang; Miss Alice Cary, salutatorian, gave the address of welcome; Donald S. Harper, president, gave the class will; Miss Thelma Culver and Ross Price sang.

Rev. Donnell J. Smith, pastor of First Church, Portland, Ore and secretary of the College Board of Regents, gave the address of the evening. The president of the class presented a picture of the members to the school; Miss Willyla Bush gave a chalk drawing, accompanied by Paul Thoreen, who sang, by Charles Croft at the piano and Miss Ruth Witt on the violin; Ross Price, valedictorian, read; the senior chorus sang; and President R. V. DeLong pronounced the benediction.

One hundred and eight students were graduated from the various departments of Northwest Nazarene College on Tuesday evening, May 31. More than 1000 persons witnessed the graduating exercises.

To Ross E. Price, Poplar, Mont., went the honor of being valedictorian of the College senior class of twenty-seven members.

Miss Alice Cary, Yakima, was salutatorian. Miss Hazel Hankins, Emmett, was valedictorian of the Academy seniors and Miss Mary Carr, Yakima, salutatorian. Miss Willyla Bushnell, Eugene, Ore., was the third member of the college senior class to be graduated this year with a summa cum lauda on her diploma.

Reverend Reed announced his subject as "The Modern Economic Expectancy in Relation to the Nazarene Program." He mentioned two handicaps of the modern economic program. "It does not consider man's natural propensities," he said, "and it leaves no place for Christ."

"The task of the church is no tone of reform. Our task is to attack directly the problem of evil, which is responsible for the ills of society. The church seeks an eternal existence which the economic program fails to provide, and he offered a final exhortation to members of the college senior class.

Forty-one students were graduated from our normal department, 28 from Academy, 27 from the College of Liberal Arts, and ten from the Training School.

The Alpha Delta Phi athletic-literary society was winner of the faculty loving cup for literary and sports ability for the second semester. The Sigma Lambda Alpha society was second in the number of points won and the Olympian society third.

It was the track meet and the literary contest that won for the A. D. P.'s. To Robert Howard, Emmett, who won the track meet almost single-handed, went the cup for track honors. His teammate, Chester Fujino, our Japanese boy, took second place.

Glen Nolte, Nampa, and Charles Croft, Connell, Wash., won the second semester's tennis doubles' championship when they defeated Paul Thoreen, Alexandria, Minn., and Robert Mangum, Nampa. Earlier in the week Croft defeated his doubles teammate for the college singles' championship.

Miss Alice Cary, Yakima, Wash., turned the tables of the first semester on Miss Hazel Kjonaas, Starbuck, Minn., to win the women's singles' championship, and this pair annexed the women's doubles' honors.

LAST CHAPEL SERVICE TESTIMONIES

"The greatest event that can come into anyone's life is to be introduced to Jesus Christ. I am glad that it was here that I was introduced to Jesus. I am glad because He is a personal friend and a personal saviour."

—Donald Harper.

"I am glad for all the memories I have of Northwest Nazarene College. I cannot be sorry that I am leaving because I don't think the Lord wants me here any more. I am glad that wherever I go the Lord will never fail me. I am glad for this friend that sticketh closer than a brother."—Lee Rodda.

"My desire above everything else is that God keep a tenderness in my heart both to Him and to my fellow-man."—Willard Hoffman.

"This has been the best year of my life this last year without any question whatever and it has largely been due to the influence of Northwest Nazarene College. I will say since our children were saved and began to write home concerning their victories and how God was blessing here, it seemed my preaching began to take hold in a new way. I have seen more souls saved in the last six or seven months than in any one year of my life. Every since the boys were at Walla Walla and helped in the revival meeting we have had salvation in almost every service and the revival is still on. I believe that God has answered our prayers through the revival last fall."—Rev. R. J. Plumb.

"I am giving my final testimony. I have appreciated and enjoyed my eight years since I have been here and if I ever amount to anything for God and the salvation of souls it will be because of the school and the influence and blessing of what has been given here. I know what God wants me to do and I am going out to do it, and by the help of God bring some gems more precious than gold to the Saviour. I trust you will all remember and pray for me. I have no doubt about going, but am going this fall as a missionary to South America."

—Elden Mason.

"This morning I want to testify that as much as I love you people, I love God more; as much as I love the college, I love God more. God has first place in my desires. It may not seem always that I care most for God. It may seem I care more for me, but if I know my heart this morning, God has first place. This has been my best year; the Lord has been nearer and closer this year; He has borne my burdens. I thank God for His presence in the hearts of the students. Thank God for fellowship with those who love Him. I mean to go through."—Bertha Dooley.

"My greatest desire this morning is as I go out that my life might be a blessing as the school has been to me, and that I may lead someone to Him."—Lauriston DuBois.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

Professor Paylor expects to spend some time studying in Seattle this summer preparing for the fall work. If there is more work than one teacher can care for, assistant teachers will be available.

TRAINING SCHOOL

The prospects are that we may be able to obtain Mr. Willard Harper, M. A. University of Kansas, as Supervisor. Mr. Harper will also teach some educational subjects and probably take the Registrar work.

PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

If you are planning on enrolling at Northwest Nazarene College next year be sure and write in for information and make your room reservation early. We are trying to help all students with work that we can. Address all communications to Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, Idaho.

! Hello, Students & 1932 Seniors !

How are you? Where are you? And what are you doing? Pardon us for seeming so curious about your personal affairs, but we should really like to know—and we are sure many others of your friends and classmates would, too. Will you send us in ten words—like a telegram—the answers to the above questions? If you will, think how interesting The Messenger will be to you and others!

Yours inquisitively,
RADIOGRAM COLUMN

The wedding march was played over a local radio station when Rev. George Taylorson, Billings, Mont., and Miss Edith Potter, Moscow, Idaho, both of the class of '31, were married on Wednesday evening, May 25. Rev. Lewis E. Hall, superintendent of the Rocky Mountain district, performed the ceremony. Thirty guests were present.

BUILDING FUND CAMPAIGN.

About the First of May letters were sent to those who had previously subscribed to the Forward Program of Northwest Nazarene College. A month has now passed, as this is written, since these letters were written and many fine replies have been received.

Not all these replies have had money enclosed but there have been some fine expressions of appreciation, of cooperation and of support in prayer. We have received about $200.00 for the May payment where we needed $363.00.

We wish that we could give you an insight into the work here and let you read these letters as they come in. Since this cannot be done we are quoting from a number of them to show the sentiment of the people of the School Zone.

Mitchell, S. D.

"Please find enclosed $10.00 which covers my pledge to N. N. C. I am sorry it is so small an offering. I only wish I could make it more. May God bless you in your work is my prayer."

Selah, Washington

"Please find enclosed money order for $3.00. Please accept as our part on pledge, all we can do at this time. We are remembering you in prayer."

Condon, Oregon

"You will find enclosed $1.00 for Nampa School as my pledge. All God's blessings on the School, its pupils and its workers."

Emmett, Idaho

"I am sending the entire amount of my pledge which is $10.00. Hoping this will help you in your work."

"I am sending you a check for $1.00. This is all we have just now, apply on my pledge and oblige. May God bless you in your good work and may our prayers mingle with yours in pushing the good work."

Such letters as the above have been received with pleasure. We hope they will keep coming for there is a need of $363.00 each Month to meet the loan and interest. This comes due the 20th.

It will not be possible to send letters often to those who have subscribed to the building fund, neither will it be possible for our representative to see all those who are interested in our forward program, therefore we would like every person interested in the College to keep the school in mind.

Those who have not yet paid a part of their subscription should do so as quickly as possible. Those who would like to help but who have not made subscriptions should correspond with the Field Secretary, or send their money direct to the College.

Address, Rev. A. C. Tunnell, Field Secretary
