Eckel Gives Opinion On War Situation

"It's dark," said W. A. Eckel, district superintendent of the Rocky Mountain district, for missionary to Japan, and speaker at the college auditorium Friday evening, when he was asked how the war situation looked to him. "America will lose for six months," he continued. "After that Japan will entrench herself, and the war will become an offensive war with America. The only way Japan will be conquered is not by destroying her boats or army; we must battle down her palaces, destroy her Gods, and her emperor. Then, and only then, will the morale of the people break. Japan has unbelievable resources and strength."

Rev. Eckel then turned to a lighter subject. Quoting Confucius, he said, "He who sits on tack, is better off."

Double Feature Program Friday

Sigma Lambda Alpha and Alpha Delta Phi literary societies will be combining a double feature program to be held in college auditorium Friday.

ADPs seem to have invited trouble in having an all girl group. Guy Nees is program chairman. With Mangum trying to find Prof. Reed, Reed trying to find Lowman, Lowman trying hard not to see either of them, SLAs are getting their wires crossed trying to prepare for "Crossed Wires," a comedy dramatization. In an interview with John Sutherland, ex-president of SLA, he merely stated "Shades of last semester."

Both programs are to be of a humorous nature for an evening of relaxation and entertainment.

N.N.C. STUDENTS PATRONIZE ADVTS.

In a poll taken among the students recently concerning the business men they traded with, it was found that the first in line of the students' interest was their stomachs, for they all seem to head for the Cheesbrough Lunch or the Mechanafe in Boise. The two restaurants have reported over two hundred customers from N. N. C., which is more patronage than any other concern in the Boise Valley receives. Next in line of the restaurants is Peter Pan, then Dixies, Sexton's, Quick Lunch, and Tablerock Cafe.

Heading the list for merchandise is the J. C. Penney Co., with over 140 customers. Other leading businesses patronized are Falk's Nampa-D, C. C. Anderson's, Montgomery Ward & Co., Case Furniture, Style Shoppe, Alexanders, Bellamy Shoe, Penny Wise, Speares, Vic Stolle, Parsons' Shoe Shop, Wolf's Shoe Renewing, F. W. Woolworth Co., Martin's Radio and Photo Shop, and the Cash Bazar.

Students buy groceries at the Economy Market, Glen's Drive-in Market, Albertson's, Consumers' Market, Kampus Korner, and at the Safeway Market. They get their watches fixed at Lester Hamilton's, J. W. Wilson's Bullock Jewelers, get their bispupids repaired at Dr. Blickenstaff's office, and their hair trimmed at Ray's Barber Shop.

A few students have insurance policies and bank accounts. These fortunates do business with Idaho Mutual, First Security Bank, and the First National Bank. Others with automobiles have their cars serviced at Co-op Gas and Oil, Cook's Gas, and Allen Fletcher's. Those who have no cars go by Taxi, Yellow Cab, and the City Taxi.

Mr. Burkey does an excellent job of cleaning, because he has a student customer list of 115; other cleaners patronized is Nampa Dry Cleaners. Pictures are taken at the Northwest Photo, and Wright's. Flowers for the fairer sex come from Mott's Flower Shop and from Mindens.

It was noted in the poll that the merchants who advertised in The Crusader are the ones who received the most patronage from the students.

REGENTS MEET IN ANNUAL SESSION

Northwest Nazarene College was the scene of increased activity when the Board of Regents met Wednesday in annual spring session to discuss policies of N. N. C. for the coming year. Various matters of official business and administrative problems were taken care of at the meeting. Plans were laid for the coming school year, taking into consideration the present critical world situation.

The Board of Regents has as its officers: Rev. D. I. Vanderpool, of the Northwest District, chairman; Dr. W. W. Hess of Salem, Ore., secretary and Rev. Glenn Griffith of the Idaho-Oregon-Utah District, treasurer. The members of the Board representing the Northwest District are Mr. James A. Felter, Yakima, Wash.; Rev. J. E. Williams, Yakima, Wash.; Rev. Milo

DR. DeLONG RESIGNS N. N. C. PRESIDENCY AFTER 16 YEARS

Dr. R. V. DeLong

Presents Resignation to Regents Effective July 1; Will Return to Mass.

Dr. Russell V. DeLong gave his resignation as president of Northwest Nazarene College to the Board of Regents here Thursday, to go into effect July 1. Regents announced their reluctant acceptance of the resignation to students in chapel session Wednesday.

According to a statement by Dr. DeLong, Mrs. DeLong's health and "the strain and responsibility of such a position under the present national crisis," were the causes of his resignation. The DeLongs plan to return to their former home state of Massachusetts at least for the time being.

Dr. DeLong came to Northwest Nazarene College in 1926 from Waltham, Mass., where he had served a pastorate. His first year on the campus was as professor of theology, after which he became acting president, later accepting a contract as president. He was in the East taking graduate study from 1932 to 1935, returning to Nampa and becoming president in the latter year.

Under the able administration of Dr. DeLong, Northwest Nazarene College has enjoyed a steady spiritual and material growth, the enrollment for 1941-1942 totals over 600, the largest in the history of the school. During his tenure of office, the faculty has been enlarged and the school has received full accreditation. Dr. DeLong is a member of the commission on accreditation of the Northwest Association of Colleges.

Tribute to the executive ability of Dr. DeLong are the two modern and beautiful new buildings, Morrison Hall and R. T. Williams Library, which have been built during the past two years of his administration.

A Cappella Choir Presents First Concert of Season Sunday Night

DeLong To Leave For Wash., D. C.

Dr. R. V. DeLong, president of Northwest Nazarene College, will leave at noon today for Washington, D. C., where he is to hold a two-weeks' revival at the First Church of the Nazarene. Services will begin Sunday, and continue over a period of two weeks.

While en route to Washington, Dr. DeLong will stop at Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo. Following the transaction of business affairs in these cities, he will proceed to Washington.

Prof. Vanderpool Requests Leave

Prof. Emmalyn Vanderpool requested the Board of Regents for a leave of absence to be granted to her beginning at once. For the past few years Prof. Vanderpool has been instructor in the English department of N. N. C. and faculty sponsor for the Crusader.

This request was granted in the recent session of the Board of Regents meeting, and Professors Meyers and Washburn were appointed to take over the classes.

New Choir Robes Enhance Appearance

An audience of nearly 1000 was inspired by the singing of the N. N. C. A Cappella choir in its initial program of the school year Sunday night at the First Church of the Nazarene in Nampa.

As the strains of "Make Me a Blessing," the song which has been adopted as the choir's "Identification Melody," rang out, the audience caught the first glimpse of the choir in their new robes. These robes, of black poplin with orange satin trim and stoles, are a decided asset to the choir and add much to their appearance.

Efficient Leadership

Under the expert direction of Professor Doris Gale DeLong, the choir showed exceptional training and versatility. Interpretation and spiritual feeling characterized the entire program.

Enthusiastic response from the audience well demonstrated the choir training ability of Prof. DeLong, who has trained the choir for several years.

Choir Members

Members of the choir this year are:

Tenors: Edward Lancaster, president, Calgary, Alberta; Bob Mills, Kennewick, Wash.; Ramon Vanderpool, Nampa, Idaho; Richard Lindbloom, Nampa, Idaho; Merle

New Student Publication To Appear Here Soon

A new student handbook is being published and will soon be released by the Student Council as an official publication of Associated Students of Northwest Nazarene College to be issued to student body members.

As a means of adequate information for students concerning important phases of school life and student activities and a token of remembrance of these features, the new book is expected to be seed for another traditional publication of the growing student body of N. N. C. (first issue of NNC Crusader also being initiated this semester).

Need for the book has been long felt, and endeavors for an actual publication of this type were started three years ago. The publication is expected to prove beneficial for new and prospective students in acquainting them with the school before they attend.

An attractive cover and contents filled with illustrations drawn by Elizabeth Dickens, together with other surprises to be disclosed in a very few days make the book something for which we may look forward.

SPRING is in the air—in spite of the snow that started to fall Monday. Next Saturday will usher in the occurrence of the vernal equinox, nature's change of seasons.

Days will become longer, seeds will sprout, cocoons will come to life, gray trees will be green trees, birds will build nests, blossoms will bud, grass will grow, and young men's fancies will turn to things more "springey" attractive than books.

Just watch how faithfully and accurately spring brings in her welcome attributes after a winter of snow, colds, and disinterest toward femininity.

STANDING FAITHFUL

In the midst of world turmoil and chaos, when nations are rising against nation and ancient kingdoms are crumbling, when men are wondering as to the outcome and the future, the world needs young people who are able to carry on the work of the great Kingdom of God. This is no time for half-hearted Christians, but it is a day when only those who are firm in the faith and who have a definite knowledge of God's presence in their hearts, when only those who are willing to stand any test are going to be overcomers.

Rev. Griffith, in the week-end convention held at the college March 4-8, stressed the necessity for a pure religion and for hearts and lives that were fully, unreservedly given over to God. His messages were freighted with the sincerity, tenderness and love which characterizes his life and were received by the students as definite and timely truths, God-sent for a time of serious need.

Who knows but in the days ahead many young people will stand faithful to the cause of Christ who would not have had the strength to do so before these messages were brought. —M. L. S.

Religiously Speaking

Parker Maxey

"Ye are the salt of the earth; but if the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men." Mat. 5:13.

We have often heard the expression, "What you do speaks so loudly I cannot hear what you say." Perhaps, however, it would better be stated "What you do not do speaks so loudly I cannot hear what you say." Why does Christ so unmercifully condemn denatured salt? What harm can it do anyway? It is not poison to cause any dread. In its denatured state it is a neutral harmless thing which can bring no ruin to anyone. Yet in this example Christ pointed us to the picture of an intolerable. The question is not, What harm can I do? but rather What good can I do? This is the test on which the Master insisted. Self-satisfied negativeness in the eyes of Christ reduced the glorious possibilities of usefulness to insipidity. Christ could no more endure denatured personalities than denatured salt.

By courtesy of Rev. Ross Price we reproduce the following poem:

SERMONS WE SEE

I'd rather see a sermon than hear one any day,
I'd rather one should walk with me than merely tell the way,
The eye's a better pupil, and more willing than the ear,

Fine counsel is confusing, but example's always clear,
And the best of all the preachers are the men who live their creeds.

For to see good put in action is what everybody needs.

I can soon learn to do, if you'll let me see it done,
And I can watch your hands in action, but your tongue too fast may run,

And the lectures you deliver may be very wise and true;
But I'd rather get my lessons by observing what you do;

For I may misunderstand you, and the high advice you give,
But there's no misunderstanding how you act and how you live.
When I see a deed of kindness I am eager to be kind;

When a weaker brother stumbles, and a strong man stays behind
Just to see if he can help him, then the wish grows strong in me.

To become as big and thoughtful as I know that friend to be.
And all travelers can witness that the best of guides today
Is not the one who tells them, but the one who shows the way.

One good man teaches many; men believe what they behold;
One deed of kindness noticed is worth forty that are told.

Who stands with men of honor learns to hold his honor dear,
For right living speaks a language which to everyone is clear.

Though an able speaker charms me with his eloquence, I say,
I'd rather see a sermon than to hear one any day.

OUR TIMES

by John Sutherland

AN OPEN LETTER TO MR. HITLER

To Adolph Hitler:
When you marched into the Ruhr district of France, Mr. Hitler, we were surprised. When you marched into Warsaw, we were startled. When you marched into Paris, we were beginning to get scared.

Not that we didn't still have the "big pond" between ourselves and your army, but because it looked like we might become not the sole "arsenal of democracy," but the sole democracy. Japan controlled two thirds of the population of China; Russia was your ally; Great Britain maintained a precarious defensive position in the North Sea. And your armies seemed invincible.

But, Mr. Hitler, that picture has changed. Your vaunted "eagles" of the Third Reich have had their wings clipped by the Russian bear. You have had to purge your high command and go yourself with that "inner call" to the front. And it is not hard to picture the scene in Berlin, Munich, Hamburg or Frankfurt. Not the stream of victorious soldiers, fresh from Greece, Dunkirk, Poland or Norway, but rather a ragged line of wounded men for the eastern front.

Mr. Hitler, your men are not invincible. Your war machine is not supreme. Libya, Moscow, Leningrad, Rostov have demonstrated that. Your philosophy that "might makes right" has failed to pass the pragmatic test of time. That is why we take courage. That is why we know that right can triumph, that the freedom we won in blood can be defended by blood.

We have always had faith, Mr. Hitler, that right would prevail. But the continued success of your armies put a curtain between us and that faith. That curtain is torn now—split by the bayonet of a Russian peasant.

So go ahead, Mr. Hitler, win your battles and count your victories by tens and twenties. We are no longer drugged with sense of German military supremacy. We believe, now, that your days are numbered proportional to our production schedule.

Right, Mr. Hitler, shall prevail.

Christian Workers

"How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth." Isaiah 52:7"

The outposts furnish outlets for the talents and zeal of members of the Christian Workers Band. Student preachers, musicians, and Sunday School teachers help in the work of these small outlying churches.

MORE CORN

As Morgenthau would say to the taxpayers: "Hi-gh." Ain't that good? Er is it? Hey, have you noticed that Spring is in the air? (I sprang into the air once.)

I overheard Farmer talking to Elaine the other day and he was getting pretty serious. (I suppose I shouldn't be listenin'. I knewed if I doed it, I'd get a whippin',—n I doed it!!) Well, he says, 'Honey, would you consent to live in a tree-house?' (Sorta getin' back to his pre-historic inclinations, I guess). Elaine replied so sweetly, "I'd just as leaf."

Two freshmen girls were talking over at the Kampus Korner the other day and I heard one say: "Back in my hometown I was called the 'Belle of the Town.'" The other said: "That's nothing. Before I came to college I was called the 'Neck of the Woods.'"

Did you kids know that Laura Long, Mary Flathers, Gordon Brown, and Hugh McDowell are so bow-legged that when you see them running down the street, they look just like egg-beaters!

Neilsen says that people in Minnesota do wear shoes!!! 'Magine that. Her roommate McDonald, also from Minnesota, says they caught her as she crossed the state line and put shoes on her! Betcha' they can't compare with my "Wolverine shell horsehides"!

Due to the programs arranged for the past two weeks, I'm sorry I have no "dope" to give you on the Romantic era of the day.

Hey, ain't we gonna be some lonesome kids with Fritch gone. Maybe Ruth Speer could give you some information on a certain $100 bet—I could, but t'would only lead to blood-shed, 'er wood-shed, 'er sompthin', I ain't proud.

I understand Johnson is workin' his way thru college, sellin' burnt out light globes, for use during a black-out! Honestly, Johnson, won't you ever learn?

Have you ever noticed Doc Ellyson whistling? I can whistle,, too. If you heard me, you'd think I was Whistler's Mother-in-law."

Did you hear about the big explosion up town last night.— Oh, it was terrible! Awful. Such a catastrophe!! It hurts me to tell it.—THE WIND BLEW UP THE STREET!!!

I've gotta scam now. Please pardon me, but I gotta go wind my Yo-Yo.

P. S. Being a "Blonde Bomber" doesn't have anything to do with a "Flying Fortress."

Library Rustlings

Library Rustlings— Staningd Hed Drought—a storm christened Maria—strains of Beethoven's Third Symphony—a coughing spasm transmitted half way around the world—car chains—a date broken by death. A tree fell—and irritated Mr. Reynolds 25 seconds' time, a dying girl couldn't talk to her mother, one man lost his job, and an unwanted divorce became a reality in Reno.

For something vivid and unique, read Storm in the March Reader's Digest, the story with a storm as its hero.

"While you converse with lords and dukes, I have their betters here — my books;

Fixed in an elbow-chair at ease, I choose companions as I please. I'd rather have a single shelf Than all my friends, except yourself;

For, after all that can be said, Our best acquaintances are the dead."

—Sheridan.

Gideon Organizes House Committee

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" and vice-versa, is the theme of the new Gideon Hall house committee, which is composed of Parker Maxey, chairman, Crawford Vanderpool, Gilbert Wyatt, and Merl Bozarth. A growing need for a house committee for the purpose of settling certain issues that came outside the powers of the deans has been the feeling of Gideon Hall boys the past semester. Four boys from strategic points in the dormitory aid in keeping noise to a minimum during study hours.

Dear Editor:

The student body of Northwest Nazarene College is to be congratulated for the new bi-weekly "newsie" paper, the "N. N. C. Crusader" which has just made its appearance on the college campus.

As a means for stirring up interest in oncoming revivals, conventions, musical recitals, and other activities, this paper will be the best medium possible. As a means of advertising our college far and wide, the "N. N. C. Crusader" is a perfect arrangement.

Yours for N. N. C.,
D. I. Vanderpool.

Co-eds Talk of Easter Fashions

Although we will look to the New York for our fashions this spring instead of Paris, we find a wide variety of styles—each as charming and fresh looking as the breath of spring itself. Take for example skirts — full, slim, draped, peg - top, tiers, pleated, peplum and tunics will be considered good. But take heed, gals, skirts for daytime will be slightly longer this year; it's the style, you know.

Making her appearance on Easter Sunday will be Meryl Flathers who will wear a black and white sheer dress and black doll hat trimmed with white flowers. Dorothy Lowman's latest purchase is a good looking powder-blue reversible "topper" with detachable hood.

For spring and Easter outfits, Bell Huff will wear a turquoise rayon-marquisite with black accessories: Gale McDonald chose powder-blue dress and black sandals and large black hat; Marjorie Axelson will wear a white eyelet dress with navy accessories.

Definitely taking to bright and vivid colors this spring, Lorraine

Music Department Gives Concert

Beginning a new feature in the Music Department of Northwest Nazarene College was the concert Thursday afternoon in the Chapel. Sponsored by Professor Ella Leona Gale, the concert was for the purpose of giving music students an opportunity to appear before the public.

Those participating were Hester Williams, organ; Richard Lindbloom, tenor; Lynn Mills, piano; Verda Muir, clarinet; Winona Hodson, vocal; Jessie Schiethe, organ; Alverna Ricketts, soprano, Miss Gale and Mrs. Fraser, piano-organ duet; and Women's Glee Club.

Similar programs are to be presented each month under the auspices of the instructors of the Music Department.

Jensen has added to her wardrobe a red and white long-waisted jersey dress with full gathered skirt.

As for coats, Cleora Adams will wear a pretty tan fitted polo, and Elaine Flathers has a new soft yellow fitted coat with a pleated back. Rumor has it that Neilson also is sporting a new spring coat around here.

Wait a minute, I haven't told you what I have for Easter. I'm wearing a new pair of soft fluffy shoe strings and my last year's outfit.

Under the Spotlight

DOROTHY JEAN LOWMAN

"A friendly, cheerful person who has lots of pep and enthusiasm"—that's Dorothy Lowman, secretary of the freshman class. Dorothy, who comes from Wichita, Kansas, graduated last year from the Wichita High School East with a class of 733 students. In high school she belonged to the pep club and school bands, as well as being a member of the National Honor Society.

Coming to N. N. C. because her brother Frank was here, she at once made a place for herself as a leader of the freshman class. She is also a photographer on the Oasis staff and a member of the college band.

"Putting my hair up and getting ready for bed in the dark are my main pet peeves." Dot heartily proclaimed when being interviewed. Reading while eating olives, roller skating, and photography are a few of her pastimes. Weiner roasts men to her a good time.

Because she aims to be a high school mathematics teacher, she is taking a "math" major in college.

Absent Minded Oscar

The time worn association of absent-mindedness with the pedagogy has apparently suffered but little from ravages of time and microscopic scrutiny of a fact-seeking generation. At any rate if pre-occupation is, as is sometimes claimed, the outstanding characteristic in all gifted teachers, Professor Reed well deserves a niche in the roster of successful college professors.

The facts:

At a recent eight o'clock session of the class in applied psychology, Prof. Reed arrived just before the second bell with a harried expression on his face and an appearance that bespoke not of a six o'clock arising. Before checking the roll, he acted in a peculiar fashion; he seemed to be gazing absordedly at his feet. An expression of unbelief was superseded by a look that might, to the careful observer, indicate shaken confidence. Finally his face broke into a sheepish grin. "Did you ever hear of the absent-minded professor?" he said. "Well take a look." Thereupon he hoisted his trousers legs several inches.

His shoes did not match!

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

WISPS OF WISDOM

Doris Marie Culver came rushing into Glee Club late from Home Ec. Monday. All she said was "Waffles!" That was enough.

Donna Williams reported in English II that her brother looked in the mirror a lot. Miss Settle asked, "Why do boys look in the mirror?" Donna said, "My brother has a girl. Wonder if that's why Virgil always looks so neat.

Academy girls are "blazing the trail" in intra-mural basketball this semester. Ramona Vanderpool made 19 points for the S. L. A.s Tuesday, and Phyllis Roberts made 15 points Monday for the Olympians. Wanetta Jennings did her bit for the A. D. P.s, too.

Thirty Students Are Exempt Friday

If you saw the bright and shining faces of the thirty Academy students who were exempt from exams Friday, you perhaps wondered just what was the cause of this unseemly exhilaration. It was only that everybody wondered how it all happened. Perhaps some were even a little stunned.

The following are the intelligentsia, who managed to escape the eagle eye of instructors:

Opal Bond, Lois Brown, Doris Marie Culver, Emerson Elmore, Gladys Franklin, Corrinne Griffith, Esther Hammer, Ramona Isgrigg, Wanetta Jennings, Virginia Kirley, Elizabeth Kisse, John Kisse, Robert Lee, Richard Lindbloom.

Rev. Siefarth's Health Forces Him to Resign

Rev. Glenn W. Siefarth, Business Manager of Northwest Nazarene College, presented his resignation to Dr. Russell V. DeLong requesting to be relieved of his office April 1. The request was the result of physical illness which had been caused by overwork and strain for the last two or three years in carrying the financial responsibility of Northwest Nazarene College. Mr. Siefarth's physician insisted that it was necessary to be relieved of his burdens as soon as possible in order that he might rest or assume a position with less nervous strain. Dr. DeLong requested that he, if possible, remain until the close of the current college year. The resignation was presented to the Board of Regents and accepted with deepest regrets to take effect June 1, 1942.

Mr. Siefarth has been Business Manager for the past 5 years and has witnessed the trebling of financial assets. Credit is due him for erection of Morrison Hall and its furnishings and present building of the college library. Every year

Rev. Griffith Closes Meetings

Climaxing the five-day revival services recently held by Rev. Glenn Griffith in the college chapel was the sermon given last Sunday evening. Telling of his experiences as a soldier in the first World war, Rev. Griffith made a comparison between them and the experiences of his spiritual life. The vivid word pictures he drew will long be remembered by all who heard him.

Proclaiming that "God has called us to preach Jesus Christ. That's what I want to do during this meeting," Rev. Griffith delivered messages which proved to be of spiritual benefit to both students and faculty. Especially helpful was the message on "True Holiness—a Practical Experience." Pointers on Christian service were given on Saturday evening in his talk to called ministers and Christian workers.

Many testimonies were given telling of the blessings and help received during the meeting. Following are some of the students' testimonies: MARVIN SHELBY—"I would like to testify that there is only one way to find real joy; and I am on that road this morning." MARJORY WILLIAMSON—"I dug clear through to the bottom and settled the question. He sanctified me."

under his administration all bills have been paid in full. He will be leaving behind him a five-year record which is unexcelled and unsurpassed by any previous business administration in the history of any Nazarene institution.

LSPs Clinch B. Ball Championship in Hard Battle

In a hard fought battle Tuesday the L. S. P.s nosed out the touted A. D. P.s by one point to win the society basketball championship.

Three societies predicted that it couldn't be done, but five fearless men decided that it could and that they were the logical ones to do it.

At the end of the first half the score stood at 11 to 7 in favor of the yellow and purple. With only two minutes to go the L. S. P.s unexpectedly evened the tally. Then the excitement really began in earnest. Elmore Vail, stalwart L. S. P., left the fray via the foul route. With 50 seconds left Laverne Rickard dropped in a free shot to give the L. S. P.s a precarious one point lead. The battle waxed hotter and hotter, but that one free shot determined the final outcome. Final score: 17-16.

Box score:

DeLong Resigns

Regents adopted the following resolution of regret at the termination of Dr. DeLong's Presidency.

"Be it resolved that we commend Dr. DeLong for the manner in which he has administered the affairs of the office in the matter of any and all disciplinary measures he has invoked relative to student regulations.

"And be it further resolved that we commend Dr. DeLong:

"First, for the superior type of spirituality his administration has fostered and maintained among the student body during his entire administration of the college.

"Second, for the high scholastic standards he has striven for and attained during the course of his administration including the complete accreditation of the college through its membership in the Association of American Colleges and for the fact that his outstanding educational qualifications and ability have merited for him a place on the official staff of the Northwest Association of Colleges.

"Third, we commend him for his incomparable efficiency in the administration of the college in lifting its physical assets in 1935 from $135,000 to the current assets in 1942 of $332,000.

Kay Koivisto, freshman, was elected secretary of the athletic-literary council for second semester, succeeding Mildred McDowell.

OLY's Top LSP's; SLA's Upset ADP's

Spring volley ball feud began Wednesday afternoon with a double header, after losing the first game 15-14, the Olympians came back to win the two following 15-9, 15-7 from the L. S. P.s.

S. L. A.s, endeavoring to wipe away their defeats in basketball, started strongly in the volley ball tournament to defeat the A. D. P.s.

Volley ball played by determined teams provides more entertainment and excitement than one would think. You are thinking, of course, that it compares not so well with intercollegiate basketball, but let us not look at the matter in that light. You have heard the radio advertisement of the manufacturers of Postum.

They no longer advocate Postum as a substitute for coffee. They say instead that the two are distinct and should be thought of as two entirely different beverages. The moral is, come out and support your society team in the volley ball tournament.

Let's Play

—by Kae

Spring is sprung; the grass is riz, and bicycles and tennis rackets are taking their place in the shn (when there is one). Track shoes have been getting a little workout lately, too. Another sign of spring—roller skates.

Basketball has taken place of volley ball for girls; vice versa for the boys. L. S. P. and Oly girls started the season with a bang, Oly's leading by a wide margin most of the game, winning, however, with only one point. Laddie proved she could guard two forwards at once, and sometimes three. S. L. A.'s played a nice game defeating the A. D. P.'s, who lost their second game to the L. S. P.'s.

Olympian boys gave those "Greens" a run for their money Friday. S. L. A.'s won, though. They are pretty good—just ask them. S'long

LSP's Defeat ADP's 38-10 For 2nd Loss

Losers of the two games, played earlier in the week, entered combat Friday. L. S. P. girls showed good team work and easily defeated the A. D. P.s. High scores were made by Edna Baergen, 20 points, and Faye Swearinger, 13. Margaret Howard scored 7 of the 10 points for A. D. P.s.

Stop! Look! Listen!

Have you felt it or smelt it? Well, neither have I, but let us all be optimistic. Spring is coming. With it will come green grass, leaves, sunshine and spring sports. Baseball, track and tennis will be musts. The regular program of baseball games, a tennis tournament, society track meet and a host of minor sports has already been announced.

Rumor has it that some of the fellows are talking of an all-school track team to compete in local meets. Why Not! There seems to be a wealth of track material running around loose in the male populace of the campus. We would like to see the men in orange and black back in the track meets of the valley. There is no reason why they shouldn't make themselves both seen and heard this spring.

Annual Tour Cancelled
The choir will not make its annual two-weeks' trip to the coast this year due to shortage of gas and tires and the increased expense incidental to such a trip. Also, the poor condition of Prof. DeLong's health made it seem advisable not to make the trip this year. However, plans are being made for several week-end choir trips during the balance of the school year.

SLA'S Shade OLY's In Volleyball Friday

Winners of the initial clashes in volleyball, to wit, the OLYs and SLAs, met Friday evening. An interesting contest took place. The first game ended in favor of the SLAs 15-13. In the second game the OLYs fought their way back to win by a score of 15-12. Third and deciding fracas was long and closely contested. Driving ability of Mangum and Chalfant on the side of the SLAs finally tipped the scales in their favor.

Volley ball, as has been intimated before is a fine sport. Crowds at the games are increasing. Volley ball has been known to be a deciding factor in winning of the cup.

S. C. Committees

In a recent meeting of the Student Council of N. N. C., Hugh McDowell, chairman, organized the group into committees to effectuate increasing business matters which have arisen. Chairmen of the committees are C. Vanderpool, finance; P. Mangum, general; and R. Woodworth, student activities. At present the committees are working on the new student handbook, second semester apportionments of student body fees, campus day, picnic day, activity points and letters, and other items brought before the council in the form of petitions or suggestions.

NEWS NIBBLES

Rev George Franklin will be the new faculty adviser of the Student Council, since the resignation of Professor Aller.

Glen Fritch, college junior, left early Monday morning for his home in Minnesota where he plans to remain a short time before he is inducted into the United States air corps.

Mr. Earl C. Tunnell, graduate of N. N. C., and second lieutenant in the army air corps, visited the campus Sunday, while en route to Salt Lake City, where he is to be stationed.

OLY	2	0

Unknowingly, an error, occurred in League Standings of the last Crusader placing V. Vail in second place of high points in intramural basketball. That position should have gone to Ken Webb, A. D. P.

Der editor,

I am coming to school dis morning, minding nobodies beezeness but mine own, ven der Crusador noospaper am being handed to me. Now as I am ein citizen ob der world, I notcherly read dese tings mit pleazur. All am going fine, I am tinkung, until I travel to der page number two. Und mine eyes are looking at dot collum—More Korn, by Axle sometime er oder. I am tinkung dat dis am a vera funny peace ob reading until, vot do I see, but mine own name. Dis Axle dinglepoop am saying dot I am ein nincompoop fur going mit some folldame—vich, notcherly am not der trooth, dot iss—der whole trooth. Yust becuz I go mit dis vooman vun nite, vy must it be un object for der publick roomahtiz—dos iss—I mean der publick consumpshun. vat vill Maria tink ven she reads dis in der home town. Und so I varn dis Axle drizzlepuss, dot if I see mine name printed vunce more in dot monner, den I shall raise cane and not becuz der is ein short stuff ob der sugar eithur.
