Wesley Young Becomes Editor of '43 Crusader

Rickard Resigns Chief Position

Wesley Young, prominent sophomore, was named this week by the student council as new Crusader editor to replace La Verne Rickard who resigned last week. Rickard, a senior, stated in regard to his resignation, "My schedule for the coming semester is too crowded to allow me time for the Crusader editorship. I really regret leaving the position as I have enjoyed my work with the paper and the staff."

Mr. Young, who will begin work immediately as new editor, has been outstanding in school activities for the past two years. A member of the Spencerian speech club, he holds the position of Debate manager, and debates on the varsity squad. His other activities include co-associate editor of the Oasis, member of the A Cappella choir, and a Crusader columnist last semester.

New staff appointments have not yet been announced by the new editor, but he states, "There are several places open on the new staff for anyone who is interested in journalism and newspaper work. Those interested may see me some time this week."

Ath.-Lit. Council Ann. Point System

The first semester cup will be given on the following basis:

The closed night program is judged on attendance. Each society meets in its designated place and has a program or party for the members of the society. The society which has the highest percentage present based on the total society membership is the winner. The points awarded are: 300 points for first place, 200 points for second place, 125 points for third place, and 75 points for fourth place.

The contest program is a night program given by each society during the semester. The program usually consists of a three-act play and two or three special numbers. The points awarded for the contest programs are: 1000 for first place, 700 for second place, 500 for third place, and 300 for fourth place.

The special feature program is a talent program. The first of this series of programs consists of ladies' solos, string numbers, humorous readings, and orations. The second is a Chapel program consisting of men's solos, wind instru-

Young Appointed N.N.C. Caretaker

Announcement was made last week of the appointment of J. O. Young as caretaker and superintendent of student work at NNC. Mr. Young is well known by the faculty and the student body, having previously taught here in the academy several years ago, as well as formerly acting as caretaker of the school.

Mr. Young also installed the heating system now in use, and is thus well acquainted with the job for which he has been chosen.

Penny Circulation Will Help Win War

The Treasury Dept. at Washington D. C., urges everyone to place into circulation all small coins. Due to the critical shortage in this country of certain metals that are now acutely needed for cartridges, ships, airplanes, the big guns, and other vital war equipment it is imperative that we put the idle coins back into circulation, not that they be returned to the mint or elsewhere for melting. For every coin hidden away, the mint must make another to replace it.

Let's do our part, NNC students; convert your small coins into War Saving Stamps, or even into coins of a larger denomination, of which there is an ample supply.

Army Calls For Mountain Troops

Those who wish to volunteer before induction can still do so, no longer by enlistment, but by voluntary induction through their draft boards. The National Ski Association can still recommend special assignments, in advance, for men whose applications are approved.

Candidates need not be skiers or mountaineers. Applications of any young men who are merely first-class raw material will be considered.

Of course men who have lived and worked in the mountains, such as rock climbers, trappers, packers, guides, prospectors, timber cruisers, are preferred, or good skiers who are physically fit for rigorous mountain training, but these are no longer available, in the numbers required. In brief, the requirements are primarily an ardent desire to serve in the mountain forces, and the physical fitness obviously needed.

Anyone wishing information for procedure to join the Mountain Troops, see Dr. L. T. Corlett, or write to the National Ski Patrol System, 415 Lexington Avenue, New York.

Pre-Medical Students To Take Examination

Pre-medical students will soon have ratings for deferment. They will take a medical aptitude test given by the Army and Navy January 22. Originally, the test was given to third year pre-med. students; but, because of the national emergency, freshmen and sophomores will also take it.

Corlett and Siefarth Attend General Board

President L. T. Corlett and Business Manager Glen Siefarth left Monday for Kansas City, Mo. where they will attend the general board meeting of the Nazarene church. In conjunction with the board meeting, a district superintendent's conference will be held.

Mr. Siefarth plans to be away a week, while Dr. Corlett will be gone for about ten days. In his absence, Professor Mallalieu Wilson will take charge of college affairs.

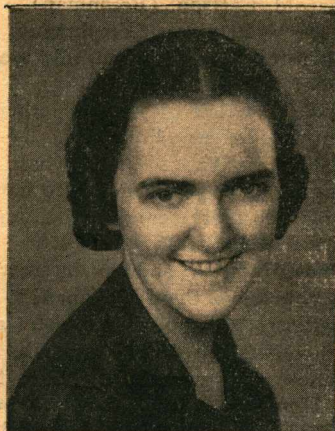

Ath.-Lit. Societies Pool Stage Props.

Something new has been added. We now have a place for the equipment that belongs to the Literary Societies. Since the school had no place to keep these stage properties, Erwin Edgar, Abe Bennett, Ray Mahoney and LaMont Lee neatly arranged and catalogued all properties. The flats have been arranged according to size, and there is a large show-case for costumes. More equipment is to be ordered.

Abe Bennett is the property manager and all equipment must be checked out through him.

There has been a great need for this new store room, since the school has been paying nearly $150 a year to replace destroyed stage properties.

FRASER RETURNS TO NNA FACULTY

Doryce Frasier

Mrs. Doryce Frasier, former academy instructor will once again join the NNA faculty when she assumes the position of English teacher for the coming semester. She has been filling another teaching position during the past year, but is expected to arrive in Nampa soon.

Professor W. W. Meyers, will teach a heavy mathematics schedule in the academy during the next semester.

Students Make and Break New Year's Resolutions

Perhaps New years are very handy things besides just helping old Father Time along.

In N.N.C.'s scrappy heap of New Year resolutions was found this very choice one by Art Motram, "Resolved: Not to let the girls interfere with my studies." And quite coincidentally a certain freshman girl makes this one: "To break Art Motram's resolution."

Special delivery for Helen Yeend: Ramon Vanderpool has decided to put studies ahead of his education. Don't be so drastic Ramon!

Speaking of studies, those term papers brought a few kids to the realization that Confucius say is right, "Reducing semester's work of week's work reduces sleeping hours to time spent in class." At least that is true for the "normal" student, isn't it Mrs. Young.

Flash bulletin for girls! Cold weather has changed Chuck Ax's mind about the advantages of clipping his unruly locks so close to his pretty pink scalp in the winter. Who knows? Perhaps his New Year's resolution will bring a new and more abundant coiffure next year. Anyway, we can dream, can't we? (P.S.: The "pink" was deliberately premeditated. Is that dye rainproof, Chuck?)

Bobby Spencer popped up with one a little different—not to go out for cokes any more in her pyjamas.

Marjorie Elmore resolved to make straight A's next semester.

Oasis Staff Continues Work on '43 Book

Now that the rush of Christmas holidays is over, work is once more progressing nicely on the Oasis for this year. Again cameras are clicking to get those certain pictures which make the oasis a most cherished possession.

For the past two weeks the editor, Lewis Roberts, has been conferring with the printers and engravers and, from all indications, the 1943 Oasis will be bigger and better than ever before.

Hemple and Carlson Play Leading Roles

"After Wimpole Street," a comedy drama, will be produced in the college auditorium, January 8, at 7:45 p. m. The play is being directed by Arthur Bates, Olympian program chairman.

The play is based on the lives of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning. Following their marriage they moved to Florence, Italy to escape the parental tyranny of Edward Barrett. The plot is laid in Florence, Italy.

Committee chairmen for stage decorations are Faith Johnson and Lillie Mathews; for costumes, Marguerite Spencer; and stage manager, Gilbert Wyatt.

However, she was careful to see her. "After all, what's the use of to it that no one really believed trying to kid myself? I might as well make one I know I can't keep, because I'd break it anyway."

Someone made a resolution to get up for breakfast. But last week there were some who came to breakfast who had stayed up for breakfast.

Joe Yoder's resolution—yep, you guessed it—is to stick to his one and only in the new year.

R. H. Tolbert . . . "Resolved: To turn in my tracks, view my mistakes, and profit thereby."

Here's a very tricky resolution, for the more you think about it the more you see in it. "To let my love of life become a life of love" is the resolution chosen from Miss Bower's 365 daily ones.

Frances Esser resolves to be a morale builder in '43. She's not the only one, is she, Charlotte?

Warren Franklin began '43 by swearing twice: (1) To read at least one chapter from the Bible every day and (2) to keep up with his studies.

After all is said and done, we're glad there were a few exceptions, just for the novelty of it, to Wesley Young's practical resolution, "I hereby resolve not to make any more resolutions; they are too hard to keep."

COMMITTEE RELEASES NNC CONSTITUTION

Printed in this issue of the Crusader is a copy of the constitution of the Associated Students of Northwest Nazarene College, as recently revised by a committee consisting of Wesley Young, Chairman, Dewitt McAbee, Wilbur Rogers, and Lowell Ellis.

Following a thorough study of the matter, several changes were made by the committee along with recommendations for other changes.

"We hope that each member of the student body will save a copy of the constitution, and read it through carefully," stated La Mont Lee, student body president, this week. "Members of the committee are to be commended for their hard work on this," he added.

PRESERVE OUR GOD-GIVEN HERITAGE

Last week while talking to a group of students, we were discussing the privileges that were ours in attending a Christian college in the age which we are living. A by-stander was heard to say in a cynical tone, "What's Christian about this school?" We were stunned, but, sorry to say, not very much surprised.

In every student body of a Christian college is a group who are not willing to conform to rules and its code of ethics. The subtle suggestions of this group will cause more harm to the young Christian than any other factor.

God has honored us by permitting a college to rise up to stand out in such a perilous age as a lighthouse to warn wayward souls. Let us not dim the glow of Christian fire in this time of crisis by an unwitting word. We must be careful in all that we do to preserve our God-given heritage, and remember to strive for the goal that our founders had in mind. Let's seek first the Kingdom of God in our every word and action.

Spiritual Echoes

By EDGAR KINCAID

Keeping America Powerful

Powerlines—a symbol of America's industrial strength, and the source of much of it—present a tremendous challenge. All over America wherever you may go, there are powerlines. If one of these power lines is broken a "trouble-killer" is rushed out immediately to find the cause of the break. As quickly as possible he fixes it so that industry and even life will continue. Thus America sees the need of keeping in contact with the source of her great power.

As Christians we have a great power on whom we are dependent for our Spiritual strength. He sheds light on our pathway; he gives us warmth through His love; we can do all things through Him who strengthens us. However for us to have this strength demands constant vigil. All too many times a break is made and is carelessly allowed to remain severed. Then like Sampson, when the crisis comes and we need our strength most, we find it is gone. Faith is the powerline to heaven, established on God's Word and maintained by prayer. Unless we keep in contact with the source of our power we will find we are destitute of our essential dynamic.

This is not only the requisite of the individual Christian, but it is the only hope of the nation once called "Christian America." We have a powerful Army, Navy, and Air Fleet. Our general is one who has powerful leadership abilities. Our allies also contribute much strength. Yet power and victory lies in the fact that is printed on every American coin, 'In God we Trust.' "If God be for us, who can be against us?" Still our nation can only be as strong as the individuals which make it. Thus we as individuals of this country must be endowed with power from on high if we would truly make America a powerful nation.

MY HIGH RESOLVE

Genuine honesty is triune in nature—mental, social and spiritual. Mental: Open mindedness subject to the truth regardless of where it comes from. Social: Honesty with our fellow-man, discharging our obligation to society. Spiritual: Honest with God and our conscience. Any type of philosophy regarding honesty which does not recognize these three characteristics is incomplete.

Therefore I make it MY HIGH RESOLVE to be an honest man. Mentally honest—I will accept truth regardless of what source it may come from and keep my mind open for truth. Socially honest—I will meet my obligations to my fellow man and discharge my duty to society in general. Spiritually honest—I will be honest with God and myself; in so doing I will walk in the light that God shines upon my pathway and will live with a conscience void of offense toward God and toward man. By so doing I will live happily with god, with others, and with myself. —R. C. Lewis.

"Victory in '43"

The last sentence has been written, the final footnote added, and time has closed the page of history titled "Nineteen Forty Two" for the last time. It has been an eventful year, crammed with suffering and warfare. The flames of war have spread until they envelope almost the entire world in one raging crackling, destructive inferno. Men have fought, bled, and died by the millions; women and children have felt the cold hand of starvation sweep through their lands; innocent men by the thousands have gone blindfolded to meet the crackling rifles of the firing squads; squads; along with peaceful snow, and the gentle rain, tons of bombs have come from the skies to spread horror and sudden death. Nineteen forty-two has been a terrible and a fateful year—yet today, as we look toward 1943 we can feel hopeful for the cause 'of liberty and justice.

We have withstood the test. Hitler and Tojo have thrown the crack divisions of their armies against us. They have gained territory, it is true, but today they stand no nearer victory than they did a year ago and they have expended the best of their resources. We have still to reach the peak of our strength. Nineteen forty-three lies ahead of us as a year of hardships; of patiently digging the enemy out of his foxholes; and throwing him back from his conquests; of mobilizing our resources for total war; and, possibly, of victory.

Dialogue Features Views of Tolbott Eckel

Scene: Morrison hall dining room.

Time: Friday noon, January 1, 1943.

Characters: Talbott Eckle (the young man who spoke in chapel Thursday, December 31, 1942. He loves the Japanese people and dreads the thought of fighting them, but he loves America and what it stands for more.)

Miriam Eastley (Junior).

Harold Carlson (Freshman).

Harvey Peterson (Freshman).

Talbott: "Say, Miriam, did you come from the farm?"

Miriam: "Well, I lived there about half of my life."

Talbott: "That's just what I thought. (pause) I'm going to have a Japanese meal tonight with Japanese friends."

Harold: (with sudden interest), Did you know them in Japan?"

Talbott: "Oh no, I met them at the presentation of the Messiah. A Japanese girl was sitting next to me. Heretofore I had been talking in English, but when they took the collection she said, "Oh, I haven't any money." In Japanese I said "Oh that's all right. You don't have to have any money." If ever I saw a person act like she were shocked with electricity, she did. She reared up in her seat, turned and looked at me as if she could hardly believe her ears."

Miriam: "So—she invited you to dinner."

Talbott: "That's right."

Harvey: "Say, did you have to go to a Japanese school and learn their history and language?"

Talbott: "No, they had a special school for Americans."

Harvey: "Were there many Japanese attending it?"

Talbott: "Oh, two or three. (Takes a bite of food). Do you know that I've been more thankful

I see you're coming back for another serving of corn—Help yourself, but it seems that we are getting enough left overs without this . . . It is great to start out the new year right and some of the kids sure did!! Take, for instance, Elzer Lloyd and Fern Arnett, Mildred Peolke and Floyd Pounds, and Nancy Gardner and Gene Labrusohr . . . Axie was telling the "Chem" class that "reducing sugars" means "girls on diets." Now Axie, let's not get personal.

Potential Pilot Shot Down by Dan Cupid

Private Bob Woodworth, former vice president of the Student Body and editor of The Crusader, informed the press that Miss Shirley Hage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Hage of Saint Paul, Minn., had announced their engagement.

Miss Hage is a student of the University of Minnesota majoring in sociology, and is active in Christian work there on the campus. Pvt. Woodworth is now completing his Civilian Pilot Training at NNC., pending his advanced studies in the Army air corps.

Senior Personalities

Wilbur Rogers

Quiet and unassuming, possessed of a grave dignity accompanied by a subtle sense of humor, all of these qualities portray Wilbur Rogers, one of our senior personalities of the week.

Coming here from Camas, Wash., "because NNC turns out better equipped, more well rounded ministers than any other school I know," Wilbur has been a student of which the college may well be proud.

He has been an honor student for six semesters now, and his other activities have included president of the Christian Worker's band, vice president of International Relations Club, a loyal SLA, a participant in both dramatics and debate, and as he puts it, "a survivor of three years of dormitory life at NNC."

Centering his interests around people and international affairs, his philosophy of life is contained in the statement, "You can't lead until you have learned to follow." Whenever a discussion on religion or philosophy is started anywhere on the campus, someone is sure to say, "Get Rogers; he ought to be

Alberta Vredevelt

Alberta Vredevelt, feminine half of this week's spotlight section, is not often heard from in NNC's halls, but she has a smile that plays a pleasing accompaniment to her words.

Alberta's home is in Seattle, Wash., and with the exception of one year at Seattle Pacific College, she has received all her college education at NNC.

Miss Vredevelt has taken an active part in Women's Glee club, Philharmonic, ADP, freshman octette, French club and Future Teacher's of America. She likes travelling, Fibber McGee, and opera music, but dislikes fish and small children.

She plans to take graduate work at the University of Washington, preparatory to teaching Social Science in high school. "I came to NNC because I felt that here I could get a well rounded education in a Christian atmosphere."

RECOMENDATIONS OF THE CONSTITUTION COMMITTEE

I. We recommend that Section 2, Article III, ELECTIONS, providing for the filing of all records of Student Body Elections in a permanent form by the Secretary of the Student Body be strictly observed: This duty has been badly neglected in the past, and is essential to the carrying out of Section 6, ARTICLE III, regarding the filling of vacancies in student body offices.

II. The point system for limiting the offices which any student may hold at one time, given in Article IV of the By Laws, Sec. 4, has not been enforced. The observance of this point system is essential to the best interests of scholarship. We recommend and urge strongly that this point system be rigidly enforced.

III. We recommend that a provision be added to the Constitution providing for the recall of any officer of the Associated Students who does not abide by the Constitution. In the past there have been times when the provisions of the Constitution have been neglected or set aside. At the present time the Associated Students have no way of being assured that the officer they elect will abide by the Constitution.

ATHLETICS

By Leupp

Most of the students here at NNC are acquainted with the members of the varsity basketball roster, but in order to acquaint the student body with the "fellows" in a greater measure, we include a short sketch of each of the ten players comprising the Crusader Varsity.

MORRIS CHALFANT

Truly a popular figure and an outstanding athlete is the Crusader captain for this season, Morris Chalfant. "Chal" went to Olivet college in his freshman year, Bethany-Peniel college his sophomore year and NNC his junior and senior years. Morry is majoring in Theology, preparing for the field of ministry and will graduate this spring.

WHIT BARTLOW

"Whit" Bartlow, playing his first year of college ball, graduated from Pomeroy, Wash., high school with the class of '42. Bartlow played two years on the high school varsity, concluding his high school basketball career by being voted the "outstanding player of the team." "Whit" is studying mathematics and physics for an A. B. degree but intends to take up farming as a life's work.

ELLS BARTLOW

"Ells" Bartlow, a big handsome 18 year old, came to NNC from

Pomeroy, Wash., where he completed his "prep" work in '42. "Ells" played three years on the high school varsity, being one of the outstanding players every year. Bartlow is interested in becoming a mechanical engineer, but due to the uncertainty of the nation's future status, is doing his part by enlisting in the Naval Reserve now to make the conditions of the world certain in the years to come.

DEAN CAMPBELL

Dean is playing his second year of ball for NNC, being one of the four lettermen to return to the squad this season. Dean's home is in Snoqualmie, Wash., where he played two years on the first five of his high school team, graduating with the class of '41. Campbell is majoring in mathematics and is ultimately interested in becoming an engineer, but for the present his eyes are on his country, being a member of the Air Corps Reserve.

BOB DENNIS

Bob is a transfer from Pasadena college, coming to NNC this year as a sophomore and playing his first year of intercollegiate ball. Bob graduated from high school at Roswell, New Mexico where he lettered in basketball two years. Dennis is studying mathematics with a definite purpose of becoming an architectural engineer.

ELMORE VAIL

Elmore is quite well known to the students for he has been a figure on the campus for some time, taking his preparatory work here at NNA. Vail played on the first five of the academy team one year, being captain and high scorer last year. "Elm" is studying secondary education with an interest in high school teaching and coaching.

LAMONT LEE

Everyone here at NNC knows "Monty" for he is our congenial, greatly admired student body president. Lee played two years of prep ball at Wyndmere, N. D., and one year of college ball at the North Dakota State School of Science. "Dad," as he is known by the fellows on the basketball floor, also played varsity ball here at NNC last season. Lee will graduate this year and is contemplating going to USC for graduate work in Theology as a prerequisite to becoming a chaplain in Uncle Sam's Navy.

BOB SMITH

Bob transferred to NNC this year as a sophomore from the University of Idaho. His home is at Moscow where he was an outstanding high school player for two years, graduating in '41. Bob is studying a general course for an A.B. degree.

ERNIE SIEFARTH

Ernie took his preparatory work here at NNA, playing three years on the first five. He was the captain his sophomore year and proved to be a great asset to the team each year. Siefarth is playing his second year of college ball for NNC, being one of the lettermen of last year's squad. Physics and math are his major subjects of a pre-aviation course.

(Leupp by Rick)
TOM LEUPP

Tom Leupp, a quiet business man, is playing his second year for NNC. Leupp played three years on the high school varsity, his final year at Ritzville, Wash., where he graduated in 1940. Tom, a junior, attended Whitman college last year, playing for the City League. Preparing for the field of the ministry, he is majoring in Theology.

Oly's Overwhelm LSP In Girls, Boys Games

In a rough basketball game the Olympian girls overwhelmed the LSP girls 31-14. The unique feature of the game was that each team had only five players instead of the customary six.

The half-time score was 13-7 in favor of the victors. Lois Williamson and Phyllis Roberts led the scoring for the Olys with 17 and 14; while Gwendolyn Jennings scored six for the LSP's.

In a game that had very small resemblance to basketball and a larger one to football and wrestling "with no holds barred" the Olympian boys remained undefeated, trimming the LSP's 49-34.

Lamont Lee scored 15 points for the Olympians while Elmore Vail, Bob Lee, and Bob Smith each scored 9 points for the LSP's.

Crusaders Down Medics 48-36

The N.N.C. Crusaders definitely played the best they have thus far this season by defeating the Gowen Field Medics 48-36, in a fast hard-fought game that saw the Nampa team forge ahead early in the first half, lose their lead in the opening minutes of the second period, and then by a splendid comeback, move out in front by a decisive margin.

Mid-way in the first half the score was 15-4 in favor of the Crusaders, the scoring being done primarily by Dennis who hit the basket in orderly fashion for 6 of the 15.

Morris Chalfant, Crusader captain and star forward, opened his barrage of scoring in the second half, taking scoring honors for the contest with 20. Mozochi with 12 and Shenkin with 10 led the scoring for the visitors.

Monty Lee, towering center of the college five, played a fine defensive game, controlling a good percent of the backboard play and also holding Kolkmeier, star center for the Medics, to only two field goals.

Bob Hemple, former junior varsity player, saw considerable action at a guard spot in the Crusader lineup, playing good ball both offensively and defensively.

The lineups:

N.N.C.	Gowen Medics
Dennis (6)	(10) Shenkin
Chalfant (20)	(12) Mozochi
Lee (6)	(4) Kolkmeier
Siefarth (3)	(4) Anderson
Smith (2)	(5) Hayes
W. Bartlow (2)	Girou
E. Bartlow (4)	Keevan
Vail (1)
Leupp (2)
Hemple (4)

Oly Boys Defeat SLA; SLA Girls Beat Olys

In a thrilling overtime game the Olympian boys defeated the SLA's 35-32. At the end of the regular playing time the score was 32-32, but Oren Hills dropped in 3 free throws in the overtime period to put the game away for the Olys.

Bob Dennis led the Oly scoring with 12 points, while Morris Chalfant contributed 17 for the SLA team. The Sigs led at the half time 14-11.

With Carleen Bates scoring 17 points the SLA girls defeated the Olympians 27-18 for their fifth consecutive victory.

Captain Phyllis Roberts led the Olympians with 13 points. The half time score was 14-10 in favor of the SLA team.

SLA Girls Take LSP's; ADP's Win from Oly's.

In the first game of a double header the SLA girls remained undefeated by winning 29 to 22 over a scrappy LSP team. Carleen Bates and Velma Vail led the SLA scoring with 15 and 13 points respectively. Alice Rimbey was high for the LSP with 8 points.

In the second game of the doubleheader ADP girls team eked out an 18-17 win over the Olympians. The ADP's had the game their own way the first three quarters but in the last quarter the Oly's made a real game of it. Lois Ewy of the ADP's and Lois Williamson of the Oly's each had points to top the scoring. Miriam Eastly of the ADP's was the best defensive player of the game.

Academy Activities

By Ilene Wine

The Eavesdropper—

Greetings, all of you studious studes! Have you broken your New Year's resolution yet? Whether you have or haven't here are some things to cast those roving eyes on: Those super duper "convict" haircuts several Academy boys are sporting, all of those "purty" lockets the girls are wearing, and we must remember the latest fad—those perky little soldier, sailor, and marine lapel gadgets.

The little guy with the bow and arrows still seems to be on the job. Anyway, that is the way Laura May Smith's and Cal Williamson's sudden "friendliness" appears to us. Another twosome that has been brought into the spotlight is that of Nadine Neil and Dale Ova.

Incidentally we stop to ask why Bernice Holland finds it necessary to steal a snooze in Upper Science? Could her interest in Eldon Snyder be the answer?

Why was a certain sophomore so embarrassed when she weighed at the depot recently? We also add

Marvin Shelby Paced the Junior Varsity With 11 Points in Defeating BJC Frosh 26-23

The NNC Crusaders lost their second game to Boise Junior College 41-39 when a closing rally by the Nampa quintet fell short of tying the county by a single basket.

It was a tough one for the local outfit to lose, for they had been nosed out by BJC earlier in the season 47-46, and had hoped to win, putting the teams on an even basis in their annual four game series. The Crusaders played fair ball but "lacked the necessary punch" at the time when it was really needed.

Bob Dennis, a former junior varsity star who has worked himself up to the varsity, played good ball at a forward spot teaming very nicely with Chalfant, and due to the fine passing of Chalfant and the "heads up playing" of Bib himself, the new forward scored 17 points.

Monty Lee continued his splendid backboard play, taking a good many of the rebounds on both backboards and putting the ball back in play by splendid passes.

The lack of potency of the Crusader's offensive play can be attributed to a certain extent to the poor play in the back court, but the encouraging aspect is that the boys seem to play better ball in each new conflict and the "fasn" can be assured that a smooth combination will develop before the season is over.

NNA Splits Double Header With Notus

The Academy second team led by Hills, high point man, was nosed out 18-17 by a fast, sharp-shooting quintet at Notus. This the first game of the season in which the second team has failed to capture top honors, but it can possibly be attributed to the difference in basketball courts.

The Academy first team defeated Notus in their third conference game 25-21—their second win of the conference. Lee was high point man with 12 points. Virgil Vail 2nd with 8 points. Zarley, Kissee, and Lee held almost undisputed control of the backboard which contributed greatly to the triumph.

In both games there was a noticeable absence of fouling.
