Religious Emphasis Week Features Faculty Speakers---Starts Monday

Chapel Periods, Three Evening Talks Offered

Religious Emphasis Week will begin next Monday, November 3, in chapel, with Roy F. Ray as the first speaker. Services will continue throughout the week, including Sunday evening with Dr. Lewis T. Corlett as the concluding speaker. Chapel periods will be devoted to talks by faculty members and three evening services will be offered: Wednesday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings.

A schedule of the speakers follows:

- Monday Chapel—Roy F. Ray.
- Tuesday Chapel—L. Wesley Johnson.
- Wednesday Chapel—A. J. Finkbeiner.
- Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.—Guy Sharp.
- Thursday Chapel—F. C. Sutherland.
- Friday Chapel—M. A. Wilson.
- Saturday, p. m.—Harold J. Hart.
- Sunday, 11:00 a. m.—John E. Riley.
- Sunday, 7:30 p. m.—Lewis T. Corlett.

Lewis' Offers

Inspirational Talks

Last week, N.N.C. played hostess to Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Lewis Nazarene evangelists from the British Isles.

The couple arrived on the campus Wednesday, Oct. 22, and remained until the following Monday, Oct. 27.

Mrs. Lewis gave the story of her conversion and sanctification Wednesday night in prayer meeting, while her husband talked on travel and British food conditions in the chapel service, Thursday morning. Both spoke in various Nazarene churches over the week-end.

Mrs. Lewis was born in Tasmania, Australia. She received her religious training at the Theological Institute in Melbourne.

In 1934, Mrs. Lewis made her way to Europe as a candidate for the World Evangelization Crusade. It was during this time she was called to evangelistic work.

Council Currents

A special assembly in the near future, probably in the gym for yell team tryouts was suggested in a recent meeting, and it was decided to elect on the basis of teams, rather than by individuals. It was felt that this method would enable individuals to work better as a team.

As several discrepancies have been noted in the ASE constitution, a committee was appointed to make recommendations for revision.

Discussion of proper representation on the student council by special students not assigned to any one of the four college classes has been in progress for several meetings, with plenty of points pro and con. Graduates, Bible certificate students and other specials are not fully represented under the present setup and a solution to the problem is being sought.

SLA-ADP To Combine In Literary Effort

The SLA and LSP Athletic-Literary Societies will present their combined literary program Friday evening, November 7, Mrs. Jeanne Vail and Miss Pauline Hilty, the program chairmen of the societies disclosed.

The theme of the program has not been disclosed. It will be a variety program consisting of speech and musical numbers.

Don Farrand is the president of the SLA's and Jack Hawthorne is the LSP president. The SLA sponsors are Professors Finkbeiner, Kauffman and Taylor; and the LSP sponsors are Dean Hart, Professor Knighton and Miss Ruth Long.

This is the first of two literary programs presented by combined efforts of the societies. Another such program will be presented on November 21 by the ADP and Olympian Societies. The program winning first place will receive points which will be divided between the two societies. The program taking second place will receive points which will also be divided. These points will be added to the total number of points for each society for the semester.

Girls--Guys Frolic at Stag Parties

Telephone calls and knocks at dormitory doors were heard last week at all hours of the days as the Faculty women and girls of the college received an invitation to the "Come as you are party", sponsored by the A.W.S. This explains the weird looking girls seen going to Morrison Dining Hall on Friday night, October 17th, clad in housecoats, pajamas, and pincurls.

Incidental music was played by Eunice Lintz as pajama-clad girls arrived. Jeanne Vail, chairman of the entertainment committee for the affair, was spokesman.

A comical skit, special musical numbers, a chalk drawing and group songs were featured as the evening's entertainment. Dorothy Davis and Delores Lovett won prizes for the most unique costumes.

Faculty Presents Fine Arts Program

The College Fine Arts department introduced faculty members in a recital presented Friday night, October 24, in the Chapel. The program opened with Miss Elaine Carlson at the organ. The Art department featured chalk drawings by Dorothy and Ruth Long and A. J. Finkbeiner who was accompanied by Charlotte Edgar.

Vocal numbers by Roger Taylor, tenor, and J. Raymond Knighton, Jr., baritone, a reading by Elizabeth McGraw, and a violin solo by Alice Kauffman were followed by two piano numbers by Iva-lee Bolerjack.

Night of Terror Set As Ghosts Stalk Campus

Scribe Describes

Hallow'en Horrors

We are about to celebrate a holiday which is older than Christianity itself. According to an ancient belief, more evil spirit are abroad on October 31 than usual, and only strict vigilance and a bonfire can keep them away, but there have been some modern changes as shown by this incident.

Scene: A large house surrounded by trees and bathed in silver moonlight. On one side is a large creaky windmill, and above is a cloudless sky, cloudless except for a streak of gray that partially blots out the moon.

As two boys, dressed in sheets and masks, entered the yard, the gate creaked and an owl hooted. A figure flashed across the moon, screamed, and was gone. (A witch on a broom, no doubt.) Something brushed one of the boy's leg and he jumped. It was just a cat, so they knocked on the door, said, "Trick or treat," saw part of a long slender, blue-steel, muzzle gleam in the moonlight, and scrambled away to the tune of buckshot.

The moral? Must there be a moral? Well, don't say, "Trick or treat" Hallow'en night or you may be treated for lead poisoning the next.

The hooting of owls and the moaning of spooks will mingle this Friday evening as the annual Hallow'en party will get under way in the gym. Jerry Johnson is chairman of the entertainment committee and promises a night of fright and frolic.

Abe (Squeak) Bennett will be the master of ceremonies for the program in the gym which will include several novel skits by groups and individual numbers.

Pepsi-Cola Offers Graduate Fellowships

Twenty-six new graduate fellowships, each of which will pay full tuition and $750 a year for three years are being offered to college seniors this year for the first time by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board.

Details of the plan were announced recently and are as follows: Any college student who will receive a bachelor's degree during the school year 1947-48 from a college or university in the United States may apply for one of the new fellowships; the fellowships may be used at any accredited graduate or professional school in the United States or Canada and in any field of study which will lead to a higher degree; six winners will be chosen by selection committees of professors from each of four geographic regions; and two Negro winners will be selected from Negro colleges.

Seniors who wish to apply for one of these fellowships may obtain application forms by writing to the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board, 532 Emerson St., Palo Alto, California.

Completed applications with official transcripts of credits and other required information must be received by the Board not later than January 1, 1948. Winners will be announced March 15.

Boy's Quartettes Chosen October 20

Two quartets have been chosen to travel this season. The members of one are: Bob Anderson, Clarence Peterson, Dick Friesen, and Ervin Edgar; Allen Sturgis, Bud Booker, Dick Ruman, and James Wolstenholm make up the other.

The male talent of N.N.C. met Monday night, October 20, to match voices and blend and see who could produce the best combinations for singing and traveling.

An hour and a half of work concluded with several tired voices eight happy men, many more disappointed men who vowed, each to himself to try again next year, and an elated but weary team of professors.

L. Wesley Johnson is scheduled to bring his company of witches to the affair and warned "We advise anyone with heart trouble to leave during the witches (faculty) skit. The ghosts will really walk!"

The student council has also prepared a cadaver to be presented for an autopsy by the assembled goblins.

Pasha D. Farrand will be on hand with his "triple whammy" hypnosis act and hopes that some brave freshman who has survived the recent torture of the sophomore initiation will offer himself as a subject for experimentation. Advance information via the graveyard telegraph assures us that in the past ten years over 40 per cent of the Pasha's victims have returned to normal life.

Chief Spook Knighton and his "Spook-O-diers" will be on hand with appropriate music to fit the occasion.

The first part of the party will take place in the Hadley Hall of Terror, and all spooks (students) will report there in full masquerade costumes at a time to be announced in chapel. From there they will go to the gym, where booths are being constructed by various campus organizations. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes.

Water Cooler, Books Added

A new water cooler is the latest addition to the College's equipment obtained from the Federal Works Agency. This is just one item of many war surplus articles obtained free of charge from the government under a new and temporary law giving such materials to any college with veterans enrolled that can show necessity. A school bus, truck, desks, chairs, etc., are among the many valuable articles that L. Wesley Johnson, business manager, has been able to appropriate for the college. From Washington, D. C., comes a most outstanding contribution to our library. It is the addition of from two to three thousand volumes for reference work. A large number of these are technical books used during the war.

Church Men Meet

Using as his theme the prison conditions of the state of Idaho, Governor C. A. Robins presented a timely topic to the men of the College Church last Tuesday evening in Morrison Hall dining room, at the Men's Fellowship Dinner. Later in the evening, the floor was thrown open for questions.

Others

by Helen G. Wilson

When William Booth, the hero of the slums, cast about for a motto for his ragged, redeemed "army" he chose the word "Others". The choice seemed incongruous to some who could not reconcile the vicarious nature of the word with the bedraggled, helpless condition of his followers. But Booth knew better than his critics the magic that lay in the term he had selected. He realized that abandonment of self is the key to the riches of grace in the gutter as well as in the palace. William Booth's choice was vindicated. His army of converted drunkards, thieves, and human flotsam invaded the world with the gospel for "Others". However, Booth proclaimed no new doctrine when he laid such emphasis upon this motto. Centuries ago our Lord Jesus Christ urged the negation of self and the adoption of others when He said, "He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it."

There is a marvelous potency in the Scripture quoted above. Have you been discouraged this week? Do you find yourself wondering whether or not the Christian life is worth the sacrifices you feel called upon to make? Do you question your own experience at times? Do not cast away your confidence at such times but take courage in the fact that these feelings have been common to Christians down throughout the ages. Days of darkness come to every life. Perhaps it is good for us that they do come for they make us stop and take inventory when the business of life is pressing in upon us from every side.

It is not discouragement, itself, that defeats us, it is the manner in which we receive it. The dark clouds cannot deluge us unless we choose to put ourselves at their mercy. Make "OTHERS" your battle-cry when the enemy is like a flood. When you can't pray for yourself, pray for someone else! When you don't feel like reading the Bible and can't seem to get anything out of it when you do read just go down the hall to the room of that newly converted friend of yours and read some of the old, familiar (to you) chapters to him. Perhaps his heart will be needing such help at that exact time and the blessing he receives will overflow into your own heart. When a long, weary day stretches ahead and you feel a "blue mood" moving in upon you, get out and do something for others.

Choose "OTHERS" for the guiding motto of your life. When you are in doubt as to the wisdom of some action you are contemplating apply the acid test—how will it affect others? Maybe I can do this thing and derive much pleasure from it . . . but what will it do to others? When you are considering the matter of a life's occupation weigh the ultimate effect upon others. Determine where you can best invest your life for the good of others.

Wonder if Howard Gardner carried a G. I. shovel in his hunting pack with which to "dig in" for protection from some roaming grizzly while he was lost in the woods on a recent big game hunting expedition. One thing the alert ex-sergeant must have failed to take along was his trusty compass. No doubt he had provided himself with a left-over box or two of "K" rations that stayed off starvation during the two long days and nights. Whatever he ate, it probably gave him nightmares that carried him back to far-off Leyte.

A V.A. officer will be here the second week in November to accept claims of veteran students who fail to receive subsistence checks due November 1. Those who experience delays will be from unavoidable causes, V. A. officials claim.

Approximately 900 Idaho veterans are now learning to fly under the G. I. Bill.

Last week we were especially favored by having Rev. and Mrs. Lewis from Scotland on the campus. We were all stirred by the messages that were brought to us.

The information given up about the conditions over there was especially interesting. We were all made to feel a little more keenly, the need of the people in Europe. All of us should be moved to action. How grateful we should be for the privileges we enjoy.

Having the privileges we do, and seeing the need of others, it is up to us to do something about it. Wouldn't it be a good project for us to get the names and addresses of some of our Nazarenes and send them something, either through the agency of CARE or by our own means?

If we would not only talk but do something about it, things would be accomplished. It would also be a means of drawing people more firmly together under the common cause. Our Nazarenes need our help.

The Pepsi-Cola fellowship mentioned elsewhere in the paper are a unique form of advertising. We have no figures on the worth of the publicity which the Pepsi-Cola company gets in this way, but we can dimly realize what the scholarships mean to the various students who are worthy enough to receive them. Education is one thing that is negotiable, yet cannot be stolen from the individual. It can be wasted, it is true, but only if the person wishes to waste it. It is a golden treasure that is a means to an end, rather than an end in itself.

The Pepsi-Cola company no doubt has intentions of receiving dollar for dollar value for their outlay, but the value received by the recipients of the education cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

Whatever it means, the Soviet seems to have adopted a more co-operative attitude in the UNO. If, as it has been pointed out, a barking dog never bites, perhaps our national leaders will be wise to watch the Russian bear if he begins to purr, or whatever bears do when they aren't growling.

Real Christian leadership doesn't condone graft! "seeketh not its own", and operates more efficiently than any dictatorship ever contrived. Christians operate for others, as Miss Wilson in the adjoining column points out, and with that type of an attitude, here would be no serious differences; harmony would be the order of the day, and brotherly love the pass-word.

Perhaps you have wondered why we have issued six pages in the CRUSADER this week instead of the customary four. There are several, one of which being we were lucky enough to receive some unexpected advertising, which would pay the extra cost; another is that several items were practically "begging" to be included in the issue and had been on hand for several weeks, and inclusion of them, along with other news necessitated more room. The extra page, naturally, meant more work on the part of the staff. The thanks of the editors go to those who rushed information and last minute copy to us without complaint. Thanks a million!

Our World

by Howard Zimmerman

"Our generation knows, as no generation before it has ever known, that peace must be made."

—Archibald MacLeish.

This is our sentiment, but it appears that the machinery of peace is grinding so slowly.

AT LAKE SUCCESS, NEW YORK

The "Balkan Watchdog" policy balloting by the UN members indicated last week that the U. S. may be victorious in her stand against Russian opposition. The opposition is led by "Comrade" Vishinsky. He asked the Assembly to reverse its 57 nation decision, that the U. S. be allowed a "watchdog" guard in Greece, on the basis that it was unfair to Russian activities in that country.

Russia and the U. S. headed for a clash recently over the prickly Korean issue. Both are unwilling to allow the other free reign in the country.

India and the Soviet Ukraine are still deadlocked over a seat in The U. N. Security Council.

Die-hard "Andrei" still insists on calling some Americans "War-Mongers". The trouble is, he can't prove it. Gromyko, Russian deputy Foreign-Minister, added to the Vishinsky proposal that "the U. S. respects neither the charter nor the principles of the United Nations." So far the U. S. has not replied.

Russian puppet Yugoslavia caught the "Bear" spirit lately and accused the U. N. Assembly of planning to destroy the co-operation of the group toward Russia. This may have grown out of a little "pep" talk Vishinsky gave "the boys" from Czechoslovakia, Poland, and Yugoslavia at J. Piermont Morgan's Long Island mansion for getting too close to Wall Street in their dealings. He urged them all to be free in thought and action so long as it conformed to the Russian Policy.

GENERALLY ABROAD

DeGaulle's Anti-Red party was leading the election in France by a sizable margin.

Insurgent and government troops clashed in Grecian civil war.

Throwing off the yoke of Communism, the Greeks seized all Communist and coalition literature in Greece.

Boosting the Holy Roman Catholic Church in this country, Rome lately found the Vatican the only strong opposition to the spread of the Communist Party in Italy.

EUROPEAN SITUATION DARK

Pulling the pale of gloom closer over western Europe, the British House of Lords is about to go by the board on King George's recommendation. The far reaching effects of this upon the English people are many.

In France the Reds have attack Senator Bridges on the ground that aid to France depend upon how firm the French were with the Communists.

WESTERN HEMISPHERE CONSOLIDATES

Bringing the Western Hemisphere into closer alliance, the governments of Brazil and Chile have broken diplomatic relations with the U.S.R.S. The United States is to act as representative to Russia for Brazil. The statement was made that Brazil may break relations with all of the Russian satellite nations.

REDS OUSTED IN U. S.

Movie and theatre critics in the United States recently have been looking into the un-American activities going on in those industries. The Senate Un-American Activities Committee is pushing to completion a roster of those suspected of Communist allegiance. Heading the Movie-Town group of investigators is Mr. Warner of Warner Brothers', Inc.

The Communist Party was given a further black eye when the CIO Labor Union convention voted to put the heat on all left wing activities in the United States and okeyed our Foreign Policy.

DOMESTIC SCENE GRAVE

Here at home grain, bread, and shoes took an up-sweep on the stock markets, and prices in general continue to rise. Food is being conserved in an effort to spare large quantities for European relief. Bakeries may have to cut down on all sorts of breads and pastries.

On the labor front, Phillip Murray and William Green have recently been re-elected to head their respective unions the CIO, and the AFL. Both pledge support of the American Foreign Policy.

In Washington President H. Truman called a special meeting of congressional leaders to discuss aid to Europe. This followed charges that the report by food conservation expert Krug was only nibbling at Europe's needs. Senator Claude Pepper believes that twenty billion will not be near enough.

Official Washington sources report that Russia may now have information enough to produce Atomic Bombs, but that it will take at least until 1951 before they can produce them in any measure to compare with the United States. On the other hand Jimmy Barnes, retired government official, favors our making more and better Atomic Bombs for our own use in case of an emergency.

RIGHT HERE IN IDAHO

Senator Glen Taylor of Idaho is now taking a tour of the nation on horseback in opposition to the present foreign policy. He is urging a policy of peace, which he feels is not being pursued at the present time in the UN organization.

Half of Oasis Shots Completed to Date

Up to date approximately 300 individual pictures have been taken for the 1948 Oasis. This amounts to nearly half of the total pictures to be taken.

Ramon Vanderpool, editor of the Oasis, has requested that the students be prompt in having their pictures taken to enable the staff to meet their deadlines.

Students who have not already paid for their pictures can pay at the time of shooting or they can make arrangements for payment when they come to have the picture taken.

The girls are requested to wear dark suits or a dark dress, and the boys are to wear dark suits, white shirts and a four-in-hand tie. No sweaters or jackets are to be worn.

Coin Operated

Six new heavy-duty automatic, coin-operated Bendix washers are to be installed by the Boise Washer Co., immediately. Three are for Chapman Hall, two for Morrison and one for Hadley. "Put in 25 cents and come back in 45 minutes," says L. Wesley Johnson, business manager, who, incidentally, has donated the use of his own to the occupants of the new red duplexes. Additional machines will be installed for those preferring to do their own laundry.

An additional twenty-five cents deposit is required for keys. There is only one person or family to a box.

Pedagogues

Meet in Boise

"Education Moves Ahead in Idaho" was the theme of the IEA Convention at Boise, October 14. Two high points of the morning program were a panel discussion on teacher welfare and an address by Gerald Wallace, IEA president. Mr. Wallace presented a 12-point program for this year. Among his points were emphasis on teacher improvement and professional code of ethics, federal aid without federal control, more money for higher institutions of learning, strengthening State Dept. of Education, supporting UNESCO, and improvement of classroom instruction. In the afternoon, Dr. Selke of Missoula, Montana, discussed lessons in the negative that America can learn from education in other countries of the world.

Swann-Davidson Present Concert

The first of a series of music appreciation programs was presented in the chapel last Wednesday, October 22, by Alline Swann and Fern Nolte Davidson, duo-pianists.

Their first group, illustrating music in the classic style, consisted of Bach's Fugue in G Minor, arranged by Guy, Mayer, and Mozart's Duetto-Concertina arranged by Busoni.

The second group was three Preludes by George Gershwin, the modern day genius. The last number was the beautiful Polonaise in A-flat by Chopin.

OTHERS—a simple little motto and yet how complex! The claims of such a word are staggering in the application. The poet summarized the matter when he sang:

Lord, let me live from day to day
In such a self-forgetful way
That when I kneel to pray
My prayer shall be
FOR OTHERS.

Others, Lord,—yes, OTHERS
Make this my constant plea.
Oh, let me live for Others.
That I may live for Thee.

Ruth Angel, secretary; Leon Ross, treasurer; and Mary Ellen Peterson, program chairman.

Announcement of this year's project will be made in the near future. The society presents a program in chapel every Thursday morning and also is in charge of prayer and fasting hour on Thursday noons.

Faculty Office Hours

In connection with the schedule printed below, we have a few suggestions passed on to us by the Dean.

Faculty members are vitally interested in not only your academic welfare, but also your spiritual and personal welfare. For that reason, they urge you to take advantage of the hours during which they are available for conferences. It is necessary because of their extremely busy schedule that they hold to some sort of schedule, and they request that you follow that schedule as much as possible. A thoughtful attitude on the part of the student in observing office hours and in avoiding interrupting other conferences will help matters considerably. Faculty members can contribute toward efficiency by striving to KEEP their scheduled hours.

Crippled ADP's Garner 13-13 Tie

A fighting ADP nine minus five starters via the "bench" came from behind in the third quarter to earn a tie with a heavier OLY team 13-13.

In the first quarter the OLY's went right down the field in a series of short pass plays and scored as Westerberg fired ten yards aerial to Bruner standing in the end zone. Their attempted point after touchdown pass was incomplete.

Midway in the second period the OLY's, after an exchange of punts, passed and ran their way down to the 30 yard line of the ADP's where Whitey Johnson shot a twenty-five yard pass to V. Vail who went over untouched. A pass to Bruner was good for the extra point.

The ADP's came back in a hurry in the third quarter. On a "sleeper" play Bellamy heaved to Knowles for six points and fired one to Goehring for the extra point.

Then again the ADP's struck pay dirt. Bellamy had ripped off ground gains and thrown passes till they were on the OLY 15 yard line where he passed to Knowles for the tying point. A pass failed in the extra point attempt.

The ADP's had four first downs, the OLY's three.

LSP's Show Power; Crack SLA's 7-0

A powerful LSP team opened its season in the second game of a double header, October 14th, and beat a lighter SLA team, 7-0. Time and again the powerful LSP line charged through and broke up the running and passing attack of the SLA's.

The only score of the game came in the second quarter when E. Vail snagged a pass thrown by Powers in the end zone. Then Powers hit Hawthorne with a short pass for the extra point. The LSP's made five first downs to the SLA's two. The LSP's intercepted eight passes to two for the SLA's.

ADP-SLA in Deadlock

On the afternoon of October 17th the ADP's and SLA's battled to a 6-6 deadlock. The ADP's scored in the second period when Bellamy fired a twenty-five yard pass to Weatherford who caught the ball on the three yard line and raced over for the touchdown.

The SLA's scored in the fourth quarter on a short pass to Farrand. Each team made five first downs.

Athlete's Foot

by Peter Burkhardt

You have all heard of the high school four year letterman, who goes to college and finds that he can't keep up scholastically while starring on the first team.

Here are a few suggestions to follow that may help you to study during training.

Mathematics: Get the captain to call plays by giving the square root of the desired number. Try the mathematical method of finding distance between two points. Estimate the distance to the spot directly below the basket, square that number, add to the square of the heights of the basket, and that will equal the square of the distance you are from the basket. Of course you will need a special pocket to carry a slide rule in.

Geometry: Calculate the circumference of the ball and its relationship to the circumference of the hoop, then figure the percentage of the whole you can be off and still score.

Physics: Study Archimedes' principle of confined liquids during time out by filling two paper cups with water and pressing them together. Test the principle of inertia on the opposing team.

Language: Have the captain call signals in a foreign language, and voice your opinion of the umpire in Greek.

English: When up to bat repeat, "I will see, I see, I saw, I have seen," then switch to, "I will bat, I bat, I batted, I have batted."

Philosophy: Study Aristotle's "mean" that you should be temperate at all times) so you won't blow up in the referee's face.

Speech: While cheering practice articulation, and develop your resonators, using your stomach muscles as you relax your throat.

Chemistry: Imagine you are a little electron, and bounce along from atom to atom.

Art: If you sock the punching bag imagine you are painting and practice your stokes.

A certain team decided to use the scholastic vs. sports plan. Result: losing 16 out of 16 games played.

Oly's Tip SLA's 12-6

Newman caught two touchdown passes in the third period while Beukelman caught one for the SLA's. The OLY's capitalized on the breaks for their two scores. Beukelman sneaked around the safety man and took a beautiful pass from Hopkins for the lone tally of the SLA's.

LSP's Tie With Oly's

Two big and tough football teams met on the afternoon of the 20th and battled to a scoreless deadlock. The OLY's definitely should have had two points by virtue of a safety, but it was nullified.

The LSP's made six first downs to five for the OLY's. The former completed ten of twenty-four passes while the latter completed nine of twenty-four.

Breaks Help LSP's Win Close Game

This game could have gone either way. As it was the LSP's won 7-0. An ADP touchdown in the fourth quarter was nullified by the umpire.

On a series of pass plays the LSP's marched down to the goal line. Vail caught the touchdown pass and also the extra point pass. Dave Burkhardt was the hero of the game. He made a spectacular catch of a pass from Unger and was over the touchdown, but lo and behold if there wasn't a white handkerchief lying innocently on the ground where the play originated.

The game of football is an official's game.

CWVA Organizes; Dayton Commander

Veterans of the Poole-Mosteller chapter of the Christian War Veterans of America elected the following officers late last week: commander, Glen Dayton; vice commander, Alvin House; adjutant, Harry Gross; finance officer, Everett Nelson; and chaplain, Robert Register.

Weekly meetings are being held every Thursday evening at 6:30 in room 27 to acquaint veterans with the plans for the year and to unite all Christian servicemen and women in fellowship and devotion to the cause of winning souls.

VETS' WIVES

The organizaion meeting of Vets' Wives was held at Morrison Hall Parlor, October 16. Dorothy Smith was elected president; Grace McKay, vice-president and program chairman; Verna Iverson, secretary; Lillian Bozarth, treasurer; Phyllis Fowler, year book editor; and Maxine Vail, reporter.

Mrs. Ray Knighton, sponsor, gave a welcome to the new members, then led in group singing. Games and refreshments followed.

GIRLS' GLEE

At a recent session of the Girls' Glee Club it was decided that a Christmas program would be presented with the cooperation of the Men's Glee Club.

There are about twenty-three girls enrolled in the Glee Club this year.

AEOLIAN CHOIR

Last Saturday Prof. Knighton and his Aeolian choir journeyed to Lake Lowell for an outing. The group left at 5:00 p. m. in the N.N.C. school bus. Everyone enjoyed hot dogs and all the "trimins".

MU UPSILON SIGMA ELECTS

After a short recital, Wednesday, October 22, the Mu Upsilon Sigma elected officers for the year. Ruth Cronrath was elected president; Double S. Hill, 1st vice president; Eunice Lintz, 2nd vice president; secretary, Lillian Nutt; treasurer, Fairy Emerson; plat-form manager, Arthur Alyea; social chairman, Marcia Bridenstine.

HOME EC CLUB

The initial meeting of the Home Economics Club elected the following officers: Olive Webb, president; Joanne Burkhart, vice-president; Ramona Vanderpool, program chairman; Irene Mitchell, treasurer; Lois Toedter, secretary, and Frances Gause, publicity chairman.

Four girls, Barbara Bayne, Betty Beer, Lola Carrel, and Irene Mitchell accompanied Mrs. Margaret Fred, instructor, to the Provine Home Economics Work Shop held in Logan, Utah, on October 17 and 18.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS BAND

Ten-Mile Heights, Red Top, and Maple Grove are the chief out-points served by the Christian Worker's Band this year, according to Kenneth Potter, president.

Various other stations are also under sponsorship of this band, which has as its aim to provide Christian service for students and to be an inspiration to N.Y.P. societies of surrounding churches.

Bob Sporleder is pastoring Ten-Mile Heights, Elwood Smith at Red Top, and Claire Kern is responsible for services at Maple Grove.

BUSINESS CLUB

The urgent need for better trained business leaders with Christian principles has been felt for some time by the rapidly growing business department. Plans are in progress for organizing a business club. A committee has been at work and a tentative constitution has been presented to the Administrative Council for approval.

PINS CHOSEN

Senior Class of the High School met recently to choose class pins, announcements and personal cards. The Pepsi Cola Scholarship test was also presented, and Norma Carter and Marilyn Perkins were elected by the class to take the test as representatives of C. H. S. this year.

Tentative plans are being made for the formation of a High School Pep Club and Home Economics Club in the near future. If carried through, the Home Economics Club will be a local chapter in the state and national organization of Future Homemakers of America.

RILEY SPEAKS

Rev. Riley spoke to the High School Youth Problem's class Wednesday, October 22. Practical bits of information were given on the doctrines and general rules of the church.

SOCIETY

Davis-Sporleder

Dorothy Davis and Bob Sporleder announced their engagement last Thursday evening at a group birthday party given in Morrison Hall dining room. About 35 guests attended the party which celebrated the birthdays of Max McLain, Carol Sharp, Bill Butler, Bob Sporleder and Clarence Peterson.

Tables were centered with candles and the mantel mirror was decorated with stars and a half moon of luminous paint. Near the close of the party the candles were blown out and Wesley Johnson entered with a half moon outlined with luminous paint and the words "Bob and Dot" illuminated in the center.

Miss Davis is a freshman in college this year and Mr. Sporleder is taking post-graduate work. Wedding plans have not been announced.

Prescription For A Weak Heart

Death is personified, (Shrilly)
Vacant-eyed and horrible,
Foam-flanked and terrible.
BOOM, steal the kiddies,
BOOM, kill the students,
BOOM, kill the teachers:

HOO, HOO, HOO. (Like the wind in the chimney)
Listen to the yell of Leapold's ghost
Dwelling in Hadley to be viewed by the host.
Hear the demons chuckle and yell,
Cutting out his liver down in the well.
Listen to the creepy proclamation,
By the way have you been frightened out of your wits lately?

Blown through the lairs of the campus-nation
Blown through Nampa's eerie town
Blown through the gym where the people clown:
"Be careful what you do.

Or Digger O'Dell, keeper of the corpses
And all the other
Keepers of the corpses
Digger O'Dell will undertake you!
Digger O'Dell will undertake you!
Digger O'Dell will undertake you!
(Last line whispered)

WHEN? Friday night 7:0. WHERE? Hadley, the House of Terror, and the gym. WHAT? Come, look, and shiver.
WHY?... Goose pimples and cider, etc.
