Tip-Off Celebration Planned

Candidates for Queen

These are the girls elected by the student body as the royal court, Saturday night one of these girls will be crowned Tip Off Queen.

Alumnus in Charge of Festivities; Students Relax From Exams

Plans for the Tip-Off and arrangements for the entertaining of the Pasadena hoop squad are being completed by the respective committees. Ken Salston is to be master of ceremonies, and Jerry Johnson will handle the announcing connected with the Tip-Off ceremonies. Thursday night's game will be Polio Benefit night, and the Nampa Junior Chamber of Commerce is handling the half-time entertainment. Friday night in the college gym Pasadena's pep band will be in charge of entertainment during the game. Saturday, Tip-Off night is in charge of the student alumni Tip-Off committee.

Programs at the game are being printed by the CRUSADER, and will be sold by the Girls' Sport Club for ten cents. The programs are on finished paper with an orange insignia on black print.

Entertainment of the Pasadena team is in charge of a Student Council appointed committee, Betty Edes in charge. Their plans include a trip to Bogus Basin.

Plans for Friday night's game in the college gym include the presentation of the Pasadena Pep Band. The gym will be decorated with the colors of both schools by our yell squad. Former Pasadena students here will act as yell leaders for the Southwesterners.

Says..

Welcome, Pasadena

Upon a wee cottage nestling among the pines of the Pacific coast, there hangs a quaint sign with the words: "Welcome Inn." We here at N. N. C. believe that we are as hospitable as the West Coasters; so, opening our doors wide open, we exclaim: "Well, come in, Pasadena! Throw your coat in a corner; hang your hat on the flagpole; stick your feet under our table."

Yes, dear boys, we aim to make your stay here pleasant as possible, hoping at the same time to massacre you with the basketball. One word of admonition: Please don't take all the best girls away from us.

We present-day students at N. N. C. count it a great honor to be able to act as your host in this first appearance of your wholesome faces on our campus. We especially urge you to partake of the spiritual means available. Don't hesitate to make your wants known. Well, good luck—you will need it.

Speech Tournament Held in February

The Spencerian Speech Club, under the leadership of Jack Hawthorne, will sponsor an inter-society speech tournament to be held February 9-10-11.

Divisions of the contest include Bible reading, Shakespearean interpretation, impromptu speaking, humorous reading, oratory, and extemporaneous speaking.

Prizes will be awarded for the best speakers in each division with a sweepstakes award going to the individual speaker receiving the greatest number of points.

All prospective members of the ministry are urged to enter the contest.

Additional information will be published at a later date, and society declamation managers are urged to solicit entrants as soon as possible and turn their names in to Joanne Burkhart or Jack Hawthorne.

instruments and a few short humorous readings he intersperses a few selections through his concert.

Mr. Gray is a member of the Gray family who have been known as the Gray Family Entertainers. The family represents a complete orchestra and dramatic company on Lyceum and Chautauqua circuits. At present one member of the family is a member of Fred Waring's band.

A specially built marimba will be featured in chapel Tuesday, February 3 by Erman Gray, well-known marimba artist.

The marimba is one of the largest of its kind built and was especially designed for Mr. Gray. It is finished in mahogany and trimmed in gold. It has been said that it has a tone quality unexcelled by any instrument of its kind in the

Dr. Corlett to Give Lectures at E.N.C.

Dr. L. T. Corlett has announced that he will be giving the Gould lectures at Eastern Nazarene College from February 9-13 and will also hold the college revival February 13-22.

The Gould lectures were founded by J. Glenn Gould in honor of his father and mother who were active pioneers in the Church of the Nazarene. The purpose of the lectures is to perpetuate the doctrine of Christian perfection which the Rev. and Mrs. John Gould so nobly upheld.

This is the fourth in the lecture series. The first group was given by J. Glenn Gould, the sponsor of the lectures; the second by Dr. H. Orton Wiley, president of Pasadena College; the third by Dr. J. B. Chapman, our late general superintendent; and the fourth in the series will be given by Dr. Corlett.

The subject of Dr. Corlett's lectures is "The Harmony of God's Operation in the Plan of Salvation as Related to Christian Perfection."

On February 8, Dr. Corlett will preach at the Malden Church of the Nazarene. Dr. E. E. Martin, the pastor, is a former district superintendent of the Oregon-Pacific district, and a member of the board of regents of Northwest Nazarene College for many years.

We are told that Mr. Gray is a master of classics, but does not limit himself to that style of music. He has a four-mallet technique and will be playing such numbers as "The Bells of St. Maries" and other well-known selections.

Mr. Gray also plays the saxophone and the clarinet. With these

A Cappella Choir Presents Concert

The a cappella choir, under the direction of Professor Roger Taylor, presented a concert of sacred music and readings at the Franklin Community Church, Sunday morning, January 18.

Included in the musical selections were "Jesus Priceless Treasure," a Bach choral; "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," arranged by Fred Waring; "My God and I," "Goin' Home;" "Hear Dem Bells," and several other inspirational pieces.

Readings, "I Met the Master," author unknown, and "Hymn," a Negro dialect poem by Paul Dunbar, were read by Howard Zimmerman.

Transportation was by the college school bus.

Librarian Geneva Mumau announced that the library department has received approximately $500 worth of war surplus books

Future Teachers Hold Meeting

The Future Teachers of America will hold a student panel discussion on the work and importance of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization at 4 p. m., Wednesday, January 28 in room 11 of the Administration building.

UNESCO is one of the outstanding divisions of the United Nations organization, and is vitally connected with future plans for education on a world-wide basis.

Myrtle Hayes, president, extends an invitation to all interested to be present, and urges as many faculty members as possible to attend the meeting.

One aspect Christianity that doesn't always receive proper emphasis is the almost incalculable good it does for those who practice its virtues. Many people have the false idea that religion is a sort of burden. Shakespeare did a superb job of expressing the blessing of religion when he wrote, "The quality of mercy is not strained. It droppeth as the gentle rain upon the place beneath. It is twice-blest. It blesseth him that gives and him that takes."

Shakespeare and wise men throughout the ages recognized the wonderful practicality of religion in the lives of men. Virtue has as its rewards such real and lasting dividends as peace of mind and bodily health. Vice, on the other hand, usually pays off in enslavement, torment or disease.

Anyone who is interested in breaking bad habits but doesn't feel equal to the task ought to find an incentive in the rich rewards that accompany virtue as compared with the highly dubious profits that are reaped by vice.—(The Aquin, St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn.)

WHY I BELIEVE IN OUR NAZARENE COLLEGES

There are many reasons why I believe in our Nazarene colleges, and ten of the more important ones are listed below:

1. I believe in Christian education.
2. Our colleges teach holiness.
3. Our professors and most of our students have the experience of holiness and live it.
4. Our schools seek to combat the dangerous errors which arise from secularism and materialism.
5. They emphasize that moral character is the true basis for all spiritual and social progress.
6. Our teachers give careful attention to the individual student rather than the group.
7. Our teachers are concerned first, with helping young people to find the Christian way of life and then, to become skilled in the physical means of livelihood.
8. Our schools seek to develop all the powers of the student, not merely the intellect or just a few special skills.
9. They seek to build strong and well-integrated personalities who in turn will help build a stable Christian world.
10. Our colleges are the best place to prepare our youth for service in our church, both as ministers and as laymen.

aries and main game. The honor guard, composed of 16 athletes, will form an aisle the length of the gym floor to the throne situated at the east end of the floor. Just before the princesses come on the floor the queen will be presented a bouquet of red roses, and she will enter last after a trumpet fanfare, escorted by a member of the N-Club and the president of the N-Club, who will crown her. The crown, which is being prepared by the A. W. S. to be used every year, will be carried on a pillow by page boy, Jimmy Kauffman.

The queen will mount her throne and Fred Fowler, president of the N-Club, will crown her, after which she and her princesses will retire to her reserved section to rule over the remainder of the evening's entertainment.

The half-time entertainment on that evening will be in charge of the alumni association. It is whispered about that they plan to crown the belle of their school days. A section of the gym will be reserved for home coming alumni.

When the final whistle is blown the queen and her court will take their positions on the floor where the queen will present the Crusader plaque to the captain of the winning team, and the Crusader's dirty jersey to the captain of the losing team.

After the game the queen, her court, the two teams, faculty dignitaries, publicity agents, and the active committees will form in Morrison hall dining hall for an after-game party under the direction of the A. W. S. At the same time all home coming alumni will meet in the recreation hall of Chapman hall to renew old acquaintances under the direction of the alumni association.

Tip-Off committees include: Dr. W. O. Young, alumnus; Bob Spordeder, N-Club; Marjorie Herron, A. W. S.; Pete Burkhardt, Men's club, and Monty Lee, faculty adviser. Pasadena's entertainment: Betty Edes, Student Council; Ronnie Weatherford, N-Club; and Butch Neubauer, Men's club. Alumni entertainment: Dr. W. O. Young and Miss Wanda Davis. Throne, Howard Zimmerman, Men's club. Programs, prepared by the CRUSADER, Harry Heigh-ton, editor.

Philosophy Club

Dr. Robert J. Dixon was the guest speaker at the last meeting of the Philosophy club. Dr. Dixon, former professor of philosophy of E. N. C. and P. C., is now engaged in evangelistic work.

Dr. Dixon spoke on "The One, and the Many," followed by a discussion and questions. His talk was recorded on the wire recorder for future use of the club. Honorary membership to the N. N. C. Philosophy club was extended to Dr. Dixon.

Future plans of the club include Dean Mathews of B. J. C. who will speak in the spring.

Athlete's Foot

by Peter Burkhardt

With basketball season in full swing everybody is finding time to desert Shakespeare and Plato to enjoy one of the best parts of our school year.

January 31 will be the pinnacle of the whole sports year. Pasadena is coming with blood in their eyes, the Crusader plaque will be presented for the first time, the dirty shirt will be deposited with the loser, and highlight of highlights the tip-off queen will be crowned by the president of the N-Club.

Elaborate coronation ceremonies are being planned by the joint alumni-student committee, which was appointed by the Student Council.

Now that our short season of ice skating is in progress, why couldn't the school bus be employed to transport skaters to and from dry lake? They could even charge each passenger a small fee for expenses. It is about ten miles out to dry lake and most of us paupers couldn't afford to hire a taxi to take us out, so why couldn't the school bus take a group out every evening.

The girls' sports club have really been proving themselves at the games by always being on hand to handle the doors at the gym. The Sportswomen will also handle the sale of the souvenir programs at the Pasadena games.

Johnson Stresses Business Honesty

"Every city the size of Nampa could well have a group of Christian businessmen who would speak out and lend their influence and show that it pays to be honest," said Mr. L. Wesley Johnson, speaking to a group of nearly 25 business students and sponsors on Friday afternoon, January 9. The three main requirements for good business are capabilities, training, and honesty, but he stressed honesty as the most important. After his address, officers for a business club were elected, including the following: President, Gordon Helliwell; Vice-President, Rudy Klundt; Treasurer, William Barrett; Secretary, Afton Smith; and Corresponding Secretary, Betty Chappell.

WASHINGTON—(ACP)—College enrollment for the 1947-48 school year reached the record total of 2,338,226, almost a million more than the pre-war peak of 1940 and 260,131 more than 2,000 ago, the Federal Security Agency has announced. Included are 1,122,738 World War II veterans, of whom 24,091 are women.

Miss Nina Gemmill, who served twenty-five years at the China Inland Mission, spoke at a Mission Band service January 15. She spoke about the urgent needs of the people, some of her war experiences, and also some of the types of work done on the field. She explained what she believed a call consisted of. A good group attended and everyone is advised to keep posted about the coming services of the Mission Band.
