A Cappella Choir On Annual Spring Tour

The a cappella choir, directed by Roger Taylor, left for its annual spring tour last Friday, April 23.

The choir went first to Pomeroy, then Pullman, Moscow, Lewiston, and Spokane. From there they traveled to Montana, stopping at Helena, Butte, and Billings. Thursday they will be in Casper, Wyoming, then go on to Riverton, Idaho Falls, Pocatello and Buhl.

They will return home either late Sunday night or sometime on Monday, May 3.

Professor James McGraw is traveling with the choir and speaking to promote interest in the school.

Perkins to Head Oasis; Gebhart Chief of Crusader

Expressing appreciation to student voters, the three winning candidates for the top offices of the student body emerged victorious after votes were counted last Friday night. Elected for ASB president for 1948-49 was Ken Sulston, while Lloyd Gebhart polled a majority to capture the office of Crusader editor and Floyd Perkins will take over the position of Oasis editor for the coming year.

Six-foot-two Ken Sulston stated: "It's a great honor. I feel that whoever takes over next year will have a terrific job filling the shoes of the present administration. I appreciate the expression of confidence given me by the students last Friday at the polls. During the coming year our first purpose is to seek first things first in all phases of student life. Continued cooperation between student activities and the administration will be carried out!"

Academy Noted

Sulston especially noted the athletic achievements of the academy in regular competition and pledged himself "to full support of academy athletics as well as scholastic endeavors," expressing a desire to see NNA take "its rightful place among the other high schools of the valley."

Lloyd Gebhart, Crusader editor for the next year, has been active on the staff this year as managing editor and expressed his feelings: "I was pleased with the honor of being elected to the office of Crusader editor and I trust your confidence will not be in vain. I've enjoyed working with the staff this year and I hope we shall be able to put out a first class paper next year. Any suggestions will be appreciated and all those interested in being on the staff next year, please contact me this spring."

Floyd Perkins will fill the shoes of out-going Oasis Editor Ramon Vanderpool and said: "First of all I wish to thank the student body for their confidence. As I look forward to editing the 1948-49 Oasis it is with anticipation, but not without some degree of inhibition. My anxieties shall all be dispelled June 1, 1949, when the annuals are in the hands of the waiting students. I see in the processes of expediting the task many weary hours of toil but not drudgery. It will not be drudgery, because I am sure there will be harmony and cooperation among all the persons involved."

Artists Travel On

A bus load of approximately 40 students from the art department, under the sponsorship of Professor A. J. Finkbeiner, will leave tomorrow noon for Donalley, Idaho, to sketch "Dragon Rock." En route, they will sketch Black Canyon dam, stopping at Sweet, Idaho, to pick up Mrs. Goodman, a member of Albert Loeber's congregation there, who is also an artist.

Aeolians Complete Northwestern Tour

The Aeolian choir of N. N. C. toured the northwest states April 2-14, holding services and presenting concerts in 14 churches in Washington and Oregon.

Churches visited were Walla Walla, Zillah, Grandview, Yakima, Tacoma, Oak Harbor, Seattle, Bremerton, Kelso, Camas, Salem, Portland, Roseburg, and Medford. Some of the highlights of the trip were Deception pass near Oak Harbor, the ferry trip from Seattle to Bremerton and back, the Snoqualmie pass and a little breath-taking excursion into the ditch on the first day out. This caused a little excitement but no harm was done with the exception of a few punctured ear drums when Pat Johnson screamed.

Ramon Vanderpool did a very efficient job of guiding the bus on the 2,000-mile tour and with Prof. J. Raymond Knighton and the Rev. L. Wesley Johnson (and his jokes) the choir had a very enjoyable trip, beside the spiritual blessing they received from the fellowship with Christian people.

Burkhart Is Elected 48-49 AWS Prexy

The A. W. S. held its annual election for the new year at the close of chapel, Tuesday, April 20. Officers elected were: Joanne Burkhart, president; Jeanne Vail, vice president; Naomi Taylor, secretary-treasurer; Lillian Nutt, program chairman; Carol Sharp, assistant program chairman; Delores Bloomquist, personality chairman, and Elizabeth Hammond, chaplain.

April 29 has been set by the A. W. S. council as official "Print Dress" day. Every girl is to wear a print dress that day. A picnic to Julia Davis park, Boise, is scheduled in the near future.

Course Offerings To Hinge on Student Preference: Culver

Tentative registration will be conducted in chapel on May 6, Dean Thelma B. Culver announced this week. Dr. Culver stated that students will be able to make known their preferences and needs in various courses for the coming year on that date.

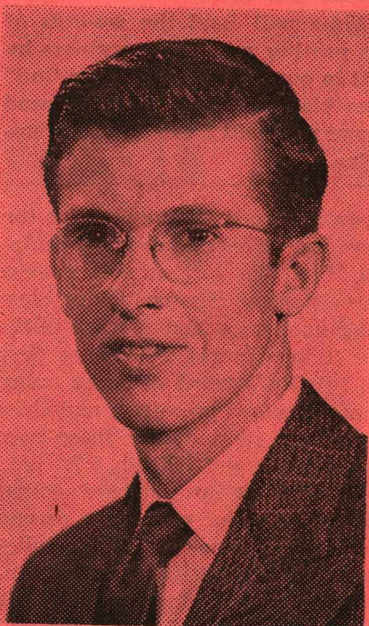

Dr. Culver emphasized that courses offered next year would depend in a large measure upon what preferences are expressed by students in this questionnaire.

Tragedy Strikes As Bill Hart Dies in Cycle Wreck

Bill Hart

Editor's Note: The following tribute to Bill Hart was written by Peter Burkhart.

"William Stanley Hart, born March 8, 1924, at Walla Walla, Washington . . ." is how the obituary started. But to us here on the campus it read, "Bill Hart, friend, comrade, boy friend and Christian brother, born . . ."

Bill came to N. N. C. second semester, 1947, after four years in the navy. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hart, Jr., and a brother, Jerald, of Walla Walla where the Harts are wheat farmers.

His life here on the campus is one that none of us will soon forget. Bill lived with us one semester in old Gideon, and when we moved across the street to the newly erected Chapman Hall, Bill decided to room in a single room, which he occupied just down the hall from the dean's apartment. The room is not occupied now but his memory still lingers on in Chapman leaving a sweet savor in our halls. His "by jolly," playful pat on the shoulder, and friendly laugh will not soon be forgotten.

Bill didn't confine his friendships to just a few or remain in his single room but made it a personal interest to make as many friends on the campus as he could. Most every door in the dorm had been touched by Bill's friendly rap, and was opened by fellows who all considered Bill a good friend.

As our memories go back over the tragic week-end it is with a feeling of pride as we think of the heart-sprung compliments that were paid to Bill here at the memorial service and again at the flower-robbed funeral in his home church at Walla Walla. A feeling of pride that we were privileged

Semper Fidelis

By HELEN GRACE WILSON

Along with many of you I attended the memorial service for Bill Hart. I left the chapel that day with mingled feelings. There was joy . . . at the knowledge that Bill is with Jesus; there was peace . . . in realizing that God is our refuge and our strength; there was sorrow . . . in the comprehension of our loss. But above all these came a theme-note which began ringing in my ears that afternoon and which has continued to resound ever since. That theme is FAITHFULNESS.

Faculty and students alike spoke of their high regard for Bill and the whole of their remarks formed into one dominant witness: HE WAS FAITHFUL.

He was faithful to his Lord. He testified in prayer meeting. He attended the special prayer meeting in the student council room. Others were too busy but Bill put aside his other activities and went. Why? He was faithful to the souls of boys in Chapman Hall. When the Lord needed a man He could count on Bill Hart! He was faithful to his family. He was thoughtful of his mother . . . he wrote home . . . he was proud of the family church.

He was faithful to his work. His name did not appear on bench reports as the result of idleness and neglect.

Such men as Bill Hart translate our college motto into something more than words on the chapel wall. By their faithfulness to the spirit of N. N. C. they make her message vital and her influence world-wide.

Someone has said, "God doesn't call anyone to be a big success; He just asks you to be faithful." Bill Hart's answer was YES and we are all richer because of it.

Now Bill has gone home to heaven and we are left behind until the call comes for us. And when that call does come we, too, shall be judged by our faithfulness. Some of us will fill places of large responsibility but most will live ordinary lives. We will not be asked to die at the stake or to suffer persecution. Our opportunities for faithfulness to Christ will lie in such ordinary things as prayer meetings, Sunday School, missionary meetings . . . and Christ says: "Be thou faithful . . ."

In his missionary lectures Brother Wiman emphasized the thought of victory here for conquest over there. The challenge for each one of us lies right here at N. N. C. How faithful are we being to the cause of Christ here and now?

The poet puts it this way:

By my tasks of every day,
By the little words I say,
By the friendships which I make,
By the roads my footsteps take,
My allegiance I proclaim—
My allegiance to a Name—
Prove my right His Cross to wear,
Cross and name of Christ to bear.

Vets Views In The News

as seen by
Willis Walker

Our hearts have been sadly grieved by the tragic death of one of our fellow-veterans, Bill Hart, who was loved and respected by all who knew him. This untimely incident brings each of us face to face with the stern reality that life is uncertain and death is sure. But the fact that Bill lived a victorious Christian life and was ready to go, comforts each of our hearts and makes us realize more than ever that we need to keep our hearts in tune with God.

To prevent overpayments of subsistence allowances, VA urges ex-G-I students and their schools to notify VA as soon as a veteran breaks off or completes his program. A veteran student in training under the G-I bill is not entitled to subsistence allowances after the date he interrupts or completes his training. In some cases, veterans stop their training and receive additional payments before VA is notified of their change in status. All such overpayments must be refunded to the government.

Chapel Talks

By VERNICE VROMAN

"I want to apologize for my accent for we all have one," began Mr. Berg, our first Australian Nazarene. Through prayer and Christian faith a church in Sydney has been established and "God is working wonderfully well."

Fairie Chism gave us an inspiring glimpse of what missionary life in Swaziland, Africa, can really be if one is yielded wholly to the Lord who is mighty to keep.

Carpenter Help Needed on Church

In an interview with the Rev. Riley we received a lot of news which will catch us all up on how the new church is progressing.

A lot of skilled and unskilled carpenter help is needed at this particular time. Window frames have been finished, and work is rapidly going ahead on forms. Got a hammer? Come on over, a place can be found for you.

In a report on the financial condition, Rev. Riley made mention of the fact that May 1 is due date for pledges of last year. The goal of $70,000 is in sight, but let's not discontinue praying and paying until it is made. Last Wednesday night was set aside for prayer and fasting and Wednesday night, April 28, is also being set aside for the purpose of the building fund program.

Wednesday night, April 28, after prayer meeting, is the annual reports and election of the Nazarene Young People's society.

'Not Somehow, But Triumphantly' Given As Banquet Theme

The juniors honored the seniors at the annual banquet Friday, April 16, at 8 p. m., in the Crystal ball room of the Hotel Boise. The theme of the evening was "Not Somehow, but Triumphantly." The speaker of the evening was the Rev. J. L. Anderson, professor at the College of Idaho. His advice to the juniors and seniors was to take four things along through life: a star, a song, a friend, and a book.

The Rev. L. W. Johnson led in (Continued in Column 5)

Says..

The Student Council is surely sticking its neck out every once in awhile. But like the turtle, if they don't, they do not get very far. We try to hold to the constitution to the letter, but at times circumstances make it virtually impossible to do so. Bear with us, criticize us (constructively), and pray for us—and we will eventually emerge victoriously from the maze of confusing legality.

We are not making excuses; we are thankful for complex situations because they give us material about which to write.

The student body picnic committee, headed by Jim Ranum, Gordon Helliwell, and all other leaders of the minor organizations, is at work ironing out the problems of transportation, menu, recreation, location, fellowship, and cleanup.

Seriously and thoughtfully, our problems melt away when we wait to have a friend, who was not only our friend, but a friend of everyone.

At the memorial service in the chapel, conducted by Dr. Corlett, the student body paid its tribute to Bill, sorrowfully but with the comforting thought that as the Rev. J. Paul Downey expressed it in his funeral message: "I view this parting not as a 'good-bye,' but just as a 'good afternoon'."

Prof. Taylor opened the memorial service with his solo, "We'll Understand It Better;" Jim Hess read an obituary, and tributes were paid to Bill by Pete Burkhardt, Jerry Johnson, and Student Body President Merrill Bennett, each being assured in their own hearts that Bill wouldn't have wanted us to mourn his going; rather to revel in his safe landing, and to be sure of our own preparation to meet him at the Eastern Gate.

The Rev. Riley paid perhaps the highest compliment to his life in his memorial to Bill by saying that he was humble in his worship, living, and speech, and without contradiction how he was proud of his God, parents, home and of N. N. C. Mary Schaeffer closed the service by singing "In the Garden."

The memorial service was solemnized by the large portrait of Bill prepared by Franklin Carr, which was given to his parents after being displayed at the funeral.

About twenty of Bill's friends, including Dr. Corlett, Rev. Riley, Dean Hart, and Merrill Bennett, went to Walla Walla for the funeral Tuesday afternoon. Six of Slonaker, Jim Hess, Delmar Cook, Kenny Grey, Ray Westerberg, and Pete Burkhardt, who were preceded by Rev. Downey, Dr. Hess, Dr. Corlett, Rev. Riley, and six honorary pallbearers bore the flag draped casket to the flower laden altar. Rev. Riley meaningfully interpreted Howard Zimmerman's poem in tribute from the boys of Chapman, Dr. Corlett read from Billy's well-used testament, and Rev. Downey preached the funeral service. Mary Schaeffer sang three selections by request of his parents, "In the Garden," "No Disappointment in Heaven," and "We'll Understand It Better."

The funeral message revealed Bill's preparedness, exhorted the living of the necessity of being prepared, recalled personal memories, and closed with the thought of it not being a "good-bye," but just a "good afternoon."

Finally may I pass on Bill's daily testimony to us, "The most important thing is a Christian experience, if we could only just get it across to these fellows how important it is to be ready." Truly we can say Bill applied this daily principle in his selection of friends and life.

Time will heal the wounds of his passing and the emptiness he left in our hearts, but "Dear God" may his exhortation to be prepared always remain fresh in our memories.

upon the Lord. Thank God for the privilege of casting every care upon Him. We just cannot realize the extent of His marvelous blessing upon us when we are faithful to our motto, "Seek ye first . . ." God's word contains many more precious promises; and right now I am reminded of these two: Isaiah 40:31, and I Peter 5:7.

Rationalization is used sometimes by some people to excuse the inconsistencies in their religious experience. It is not rationalization we need; it is PRAYER. "Take time to be holy."

Who's Who

Harry W. Heighton was born Aug. 4, 1920, at Butte, Mont. He has gone to school in various places but has remained under the Idaho system.

In high school, Harry took part in band, orchestra, pep band, and journalism and was business manager of the school paper. He graduated from Nampa high in 1938.

Harry worked at a telegraph company from 1938-1942, but entered N. N. C. in 1940. At the end of two years' hard work and study, he was taken into the United States army where he served three and one-half years as a member of the signal corps in the Pacific theater. Harry spent his time in radar maintenance, then was discharged and came back to N. N. C. in 1946.

Harry is an S. L. A., a member of the Student council and International Relations club, and is the editor of the Crusader this year by reason of which he is known as "Old H. H.," whose pet peeve is late copy.

Harry met Velma Bond, an N. N. C. student, and changed her last initial in August, 1947. He says his favorite girl is Velma, his favorite sport—a toss-up between football and basketball, and his favorite hobby, photography. He also has a private pilot's license.

Harry is majoring in English, with emphasis on journalism and he intends to teach but he would also like to do some writing.

"Tell them I deeply appreciate the example set by the faculty and students at N. N. C.," said the busy editor as he rushed off to tend to more pressing matters of the moment.

the invocation and the program consisted of a solo by Eunice Lintz, "My Rosary;" Ken Sulston, president of the junior class, gave the toast to the class of '48, with the senior response given by Ervin Edgar, class president; Joanne Burkhardt gave a reading; a toast to the president was given by Milton Gardiner, with the response from Dr. Corlett; there was a duet by Lillian Nutt and Paul Harris, "Indian Love Call;" the banquet address was given by Rev. Anderson and the Rev. Riley closed with the benediction.

Dinner music was furnished by Paul Kunkel, marimba; Betty Kitzmiller, violin, and Beulah Vore, piano.

Frosh-Soph Picnic

Members of the freshman and sophomore classes enjoyed a picnic supper at Lake Lowell Friday evening, April 16.

While the upper classes feasted at the annual junior-senior banquet the lower classmen attempted to amuse themselves between rain showers. Games, including volley ball and softball, enlivened the evening's entertainment.

The size of the group exceeded all expectations thus limiting the food supply. Many of the approximately 200 picnickers were forced to eat from ice cream cartons while husbands and wives shared paper plates after the supply ran out.

Transportation was supplied by the school's bus and truck and several privately owned automobiles.

LSP-SLA Triumph In Softball

The LSP's and SLA's opened second semester softball with narrow triumphs over the ADP's and Oly's, respectively.

The LSP's built up an early lead and then withstood a late inning ADP rally to eke out a 9-7 triumph. Hopkins pitched five-hit ball for the winners while Thompson yielded seven safeties. Six ADP errors aided in providing the winning margin.

Out hit four to three the SLA's took advantage of seven Oly errors to take an 8-4 verdict. Behind airtight fielding, Likens had little trouble pitching his way to victory. The SLA's scored in every inning while the Oly's managed to score a pair of runs in each of the third and fifth rounds.

The SLA-ADP game scheduled for Thursday was halted in the last of the fourth because of a "temporary squall" that turned into a drowning rain. The SLA's held a 19-3 lead, including four homeruns when the game was called.

PING PONG RESULTS

The ADP's again took men's ping pong singles with Weatherford beating Woodruff, SLA, two straight sets, 21-10, 21-17 and 21-18, 21-19.

ADP Girls Defeat LSP Femmes First Game; SLA Down Olympians

The ADP's met and defeated the LSP's in the first game of the softball season, Monday, April 19. Pitching for the two teams were Pat Johnson, ADP, and Esther Cockerhan, LSP.

Tuesday, the SLA's downed the Oly's, 14-4, with the able pitching of Betty Kitzmiller. The Olympian pitcher was Roma Mitchell. Again the SLA's came out on top when they met the ADP's on Thursday. The game was a close one with the concluding score of 8-7.

The first week of softball was brought to a close by the second defeat of the Oly's by the LSP's, 13-5. Kononen and Hoidal pitched for their respective societies.

There seems to be a lack of interest in this spring sport. Come on, gals, you might have spring fever but let's still support our societies.

Trojans Shut Out Greenleaf by 13-0

The N. N. A. Trojans, sparked by the masterful one-hit pitching of Clarence Olson, shut out the Greenleaf academy Grizzlies last Thursday afternoon on the college diamond, 13-0.

Olson set the visitors down in one-two-three fashion in all but the second inning when Ralphs reached second on a hit and an error. Meanwhile his teammates were collecting hits in every inning.

Leading the attack was J. Dean, who drove in three runs with two timely blows. Finkbeiner and W. Johnson also drove out two hits apiece.

Olson had perfect control, issuing no walks and striking out eight opponents.

Defensively, the Trojans played heads-up ball, thanks to superior coaching job of Elmore Vail.

Errors, Fatal Sixth Brings Defeat To Crusaders Friday

Fielding miscues brought defeat to the Crusaders at B. J. C. last Friday, losing by a count of 8-2.

For five inning Bellamy hurled shut-out ball, allowing one hit, but then came the fateful sixth inning when the Broncos scored three runs on a walk and three errors. In their half of the fifth inning the Crusaders had pushed over two runs on a walk and two errors to put them ahead.

B. J. C. scored four more runs in the eighth when Miller tripled with the bases loaded, then was brought in by a single. The last run was the only earned run of the game.

The Crusaders garnered only three hits off Goebel, two by Weatherford and one by E. Beukelman.

SS Attendance Av. Shows Gain 47-48

Sunday, April 25, was the last Sunday in the fiscal year of College Church Sunday School. At that time a batch of figures were thrown together, and came out like this: Average Sunday school attendance, 1946-47, 527; average S. S. attendance, 1947-48, 640, a gain of 113. You were one that helped make this possible.

Believe it or not, but in 1944, during the school months, the Sunday school was struggling to make an average monthly attendance of 300.

The Sunday school has had a big hand in helping along the building fund of the new church. Last Sunday it finished paying off its $1,500 pledge.
