C. I. Sociology Head Addresses I. R. C.

Dr. Theodore Hanon, head of the department of sociology at the College of Idaho, addressed the International Relations club on January 18. Dr. Hanon, who was born in Austria, has earned, among other degrees, his B. D., Ph. D., and J. D. He has served on the faculties of some of our largest universities and he has wide experience in the field of social work.

"Communism is a misnomer," said Dr. Hanon. "The aim of Marxian Socialism in Russia is to destroy civilization and religion. They are in one camp—we are in another. There can be no two masters."

Dr. Hanon pointed out that there is no justice in Russia. Personal crimes are treated leniently, but political offenses are punished very severely, usually with death.

Stalin is pitting the Evangelical church against the Orthodox and he expects the two to battle against each other and fight to their own death, the speaker stated. Just before the Germans reached Moscow during the last war, Stalin ordered the Orthodox churches opened. This was hailed by the world as a revival of religion in Russia, but this has been short-lived; for the Russian unbelievers preach against God. Dr. Hanon remarked that this is dividing the people and causing them to fight among themselves.

The new economic policy has been up in Russia the past few years and as a result, competitive plans have been put into effect. Russia has had three five-year plans and is now in her fourth. "Capitalism is the scientific way of handling economy. The evil in capitalism is not of the system, but of man," Dr. Hanon said.

"Russia is a young, powerful giant who wants what others have, but doesn't know how to get it," Dr. Hanon believes that the present drive in China will culminate in a Communist China. India will be next in line, he said. As this comes about, the reaction in our own country will become more apparent. "America can be taken over by Communism," Dr. Hanon stated. "We are helpless. Prayer and education are our only remaining hopes."

Art Sale Slated For Feb. 11-16

Sponsored by Beta Chi Alpha, an art sale is to be held February 11-16 at Hale's Furniture and Appliance store. Proceeds from the sale are to go to the Art club and will be used for the purpose of bringing outside speakers to the campus.

The Nampa Floral Co. is assisting in decorations for the event, and with a theme of Valentine's day, all pictures for sale will be miniatures. Three classes of these will be featured, oils, pastel, and watercolor.

Professor Finkbeiner says, "Many thanks are due to Hale's courtesy for the use of their floor space and help in advertising, and also to Nampa Floral for their floral pieces."

English Club To Present Program

Bette Harding, president of the English club, announced that the regular monthly meeting of the club will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Chapman recreation hall. After a business meeting, to be presided over by the president, a program is to be offered in which a discussion of modern literature, book reviews of such books as "The Big Fisherman," and modern poetry has been arranged. The meeting will close with refreshments.

Heart Sister Week Feb. 9-14

The traditional Heart Sister week sponsored by the Associated Women Students is scheduled to begin Wednesday, February 9, and will culminate in a Valentine party on Monday evening, February 14.

Names will be drawn for secret Heart Sisters on the preceding Tuesday, stated Joanne Burkhart, president of the A. W. S. After the five-day period during which good deeds are done for Heart Sisters, the names will be revealed at the Valentine party.

Committee heads appointed for the annual affair include Dory Anderson, decorations and publicity; Norma Lee Chapman, refreshments; and A. W. S. council members, program.

All women students are invited to participate in Heart Sister week, and further announcement regarding arrangements will be made in chapel and by poster.

Students Enter Nat'l Fed. of Music Clubs Meet

Six students from the school of music of Northwest Nazarene college are entering the National Federation of Music Clubs Student Musicians contest at Idaho Falls, February 5. The purpose of the auditions is to promote good music and inspiration for artistic achievement.

Outstanding students from the state of Idaho will be auditioned and the winner will go to the district auditions, which will probably be held at Salt Lake City. Students representing N. N. C. are Lyndal Pullen, Marchia Bridenstine, and Pat Bolerjack, (students of Alline Swann); Eunice Lintz, (student of Charles Ross); Carol Sharp, (student of J. Raymond Knighton); and Beulah Vore, (student of Ivalee Bolerjack).

REV. CHANDLER CHAPEL SPEAKER

The Sophomore class, with Pat Morris in charge, presented a missionary chapel service Thursday with the Rev. Chandler as guest speaker. A special song, "Oh Tell Me His Name Again," was sung by Dorothy Davis.

Rev. Chandler, a missionary from Korea and a representative of the American Sunday School Union, brought a message which contained steps to be considered in accepting a call to Christian service. He threw out a challenge to all who name the Name of Christ to be faithful stewards in spreading the gospel of Christ.

Dr. E. O. Chalfant To Present Miller Lectures

Dr. E. O. Chalfant, district superintendent of the Chicago-Central district, will be the special speaker this year for the Miller lectures which are to be held February 7-11. Dr. Chalfant is the father of Morris Chalfant, former student of N. N. C., who is now a missionary to Eastern Transvaal, South Africa.

Dr. Chalfant comes to deliver the Miller lectures which are sponsored by the late General Superintendent Dr. H. V. Miller and his wife. During the past years some of the finest speakers have delivered these lectures. Last year Dr. Paul Rees, pastor of the Mission Covenant church at Minneapolis, Minn., was the special speaker.

Besides speaking in the regular morning chapel services, Dr. Chalfant will also speak each morning at 7:55.

Letters Received From Johannes Lalleman, Our Foster Child

Johannes Lalleman

Editor's Note: These are two letters received from our foster child, Johannes Lalleman, who has been adopted by the N. N. C. student body for the project this year.

November 11, 1949.

My Dear Foster Parents:

I thank you very much for the parcel I received. It contained six big and three smaller pieces of soap and a tablet of suet. My grandmother, with whom I and my 15-year-old sister live, thanked you very much. We have lived two and one-half years together and we like it. On the 29 January it will be four years that mother starved and three weeks later my father. He died after a bombardment. He was a fireman, died in an explosion of a VII. My three little brothers went to an orphanage and I might come to my grandmother from mother's side; happily my brothers are with relations, too, now. My grandfather, too, starved from hunger 14 weeks after my parents. We are five, my grandmother and daughter, Aunt Mae, Uncle Wout, my sister, Rieh, and I and we loved each other. We are supported by the committee for the victims of war. I am going to a pastry cook's school and I like it. Every day I have to travel 42 km. I leave at 6 o'clock in the morning by omnibus, and come back at 6:30 in the evening.

Den Helder lives at the seaside at the end of the canal through North Holland. And I love to play at the seaside. I am also a scout-boy. My kind regards, from my relations, too.

Yours sincerely,
J. LALLEMAN.

My Dear Foster Parents:

At first many thanks for the card you sent me on my birthday. All of us thought it very beautiful and I also had a pretty day. This week I also got the money-order. Therewith I send the strip of it. I bought a very fine book for the money, I can use for my study. Very soon it is Santa Claus. Then the little children put their shoes before the hearth and sing Santa Claus songs. And the following morning they find a present in their shoes; at least, when they have been sweet for the whole year. Then they call very loudly: "Many thanks, Santa Claus!" At present it is rather cold weather. Every morning there is a fog and we have much retardation with the bus to the town where I go at school. Soon we hope to be able to skate. Is this also the use in your country? Now I shall finish with the kindest love regards from my grandmother, sister and your foster-child.

Mangum Hall Holds Open House

By LILLIAN DOERKSEN

The event for which the entire hospital staff had planned for so long became a reality on Friday, January 28, when the doors to Mangum hall were thrown open to the more than 350 visitors. The student nurses who were all in uniform, acted as guides for the visitors, taking a tour of all dormitory rooms, the kitchen and the Nolte educational unit. All visitors were served at the silver tea held in the parlor in conjunction with the occasion. The proceeds of the tea, amounting to $75, will go towards furnishings for the parlor.

The much needed dormitory has had a remarkably speedy erection. The work on the building was begun the first week in May, 1948, and the first nurses were moved into the home on September 8.

At present there are 41 students and several staff members residing there. All students' rooms have been furnished with new Simmons steel furniture which was the envy of many who made the excursion Friday.

The success of Friday's festivities was made possible through the cooperation of the entire staff and student body. Final plans were under the direction of Miss Agnes Miller, director of nursing education.

Assisting at the tea were Mrs. Albert Neuschwanger, Mrs. L. R. Sturtevant, Mrs. E. D. Hunsaker, Mrs. J. R. Mangum, Mrs. John Riley, Mrs. Gerald Wesche, Mrs. H. A. Funk, Mrs. Henry Wesche, Mrs. Joseph Saltzer, Mrs. Melza Brown, Mrs. John Friesen and Mrs. Harold Volk.

Many gifts and floral offerings were presented to the home by the friends of the hospital for the occasion.

LIBRARIANS TAKE TIME OUT

The hard-working librarians took time out Thursday night when they gathered at the home of Mrs. Elmer Bittleston, head librarian, for a pie feed.

The group enjoyed playing games and eating "plenty of pie topped with delicious whipped cream."

Frosh Relax

The freshman class donned warm heavy clothes and slung the ice skates over their shoulders as they hurried out to meet the bus which took them to Lake Lowell for a skating party Thursday night, January 27.

At 10 o'clock they returned to the Beanery for eats. The freshmen report that the skating was fine.

ON "TAKING THINGS FOR GRANTED"

By ALVIN H. KAUFFMAN

One of man's deadliest diseases and one of the adversary's most successful devices is the tendency to "take things for granted." For this reason it is fitting that at the beginning of a new semester we examine ourselves to prevent our falling prey to its subtle danger.

The common phrase which is the symptom of "taking things for granted" is "I'll get by somehow." With these magic words we repel conscience and caution alike. If questioned as to how they plan to make it through, the undiligent's reply is heard, "Oh, I'll make it all right. I always have, you know." The tragic thing about it is that disaster lies ahead.

Some have been bold enough to take this attitude toward the most important of life's questions—their soul's salvation. So far, perhaps, the mercy of God may have prevented the disaster which is impending, but sooner or later it will come when salvation is taken for granted.

Others have taken for granted that a constant devotional life, and a ready testimony were not necessary to maintain a Christian experience. They have already found that it doesn't pay to take Christ for granted.

Still others, perhaps, have found that they have displayed this attitude in their studies. Oh, they didn't mean it that way. But somehow the "I'll get by" attitude seemed to get the upper hand. Studying was postponed, until tomorrow? Perhaps care was not exercised regarding absences from class. The consequences may already have been felt in this realm just as they are bound to be felt in any realm of life where things are taken for granted.

But, is there no remedy for this disease which is so subtle and so inexorable in its penalty? I am glad to say that there is.

First, make a contract with God that beginning now, this new semester, we will wake up to the fact that we will try not to "get by," but to "go through."

Then make a contract with ourselves that we will plan our time next semester—plan our lives so that we know what we have on hand to meet what is required of us.

Finally and constantly we must carry the attitude of "taking things seriously" into all aspects of our lives. For when we take things seriously, then we ourselves will not be taken for granted.

WHAT IS N. N. C.?

By DOROTHY EDWARDS

N. N. C. is enthusiasm! It is the symbol of youth. It is an inward drive that is constantly bounding forward—forward to greater knowledge, to becoming a more well-rounded citizen, to becoming a more faithful and obedient servant to Christ. This ever-present enthusiasm manifests itself again and again as the cheering throng of students rise to their feet, urging the basketball boys on to victory. Or, we see it again as soprano, alto, bass, and tenor alike sing, on or off key, the verses of the school song. It is the jubilant shouts of the freshmen as they find the flag the sophomores so painstakingly hide. It is the burst of laughter down the hall or the hustle and bustle of the business office. It is the hungry mob at the beanery, or the milling around the mailboxes. It is the fudge parties and noisy radios in the dorms. It is the mad dash when the school paper is out. It is the pure joy of living.

N. N. C. is determination—the determination to be a success. Determination is present in the steady plodding on toward the goal—the goal of having an education, of making a place in the world. We see it as students file in, one by one, to secure work. We see it as married ones juggle household expenses and rack their brains to make ends meet. Determination is illustrated as students pour from the Ad building with a load of books under their arms. It is the long line of vets in the bookstore, securing their supplies from Uncle Sam. It is the constant undertow of anxiety for the world affairs—Russia, our social problems, the draft. Determination is manifested in the administration's plea for prayer to meet our financial obligations, or Prof. Ray's entreaty for 100 per cent Sunday school attendance. It is the spirit that asys, "Overcome all obstacles and reach the goal for which you are striving."

N. N. C. is the spirit of worship. It is the lined altars of students seeking forgiveness. It is the Wednesday night prayer meetings with 30 or 40 people waiting to testify. It is the Sunday evening song service with hundreds singing praises. It is the dorm prayer meetings or family worship after the evening meal. It is the word of prayer before the athletic games and

THE LOWDOWN

From THE EDITOR

Today we begin classes for the second semester and no doubt many are already groaning at the prospects. But one word of encouragement, "cheer up, the worst is yet to come."

We would like to take this opportunity to welcome all new students and old students who have returned. We enjoy having new friends come and hope to get acquainted quite soon. One thing to remember—go out of your way to make friends and they will be glad to meet you half-way. If any new students are interested in joining the staff of the CRUSADER do not be afraid to come around and make your wishes known. We are always ready for new ideas and new timber to work on.

Last Sunday I noticed that the Sunday school attendance was down. In fact it has not been up to par all through the year thus far. The college department has been especially deficient, for which we ought to be ashamed. When college young people are unable to get up in time for Sunday school it is not more education they need; it is more vitamins. They need to be aroused both physically and spiritually. Our Sunday school is one of the most important departments of the church and yet so many fail to take advantage of the great opportunities it offers. Not only do we receive religious training which we all need, but Sunday school helps us to increase in religious fervor and helps us to become evangelistically minded. If we do not take the trouble to go to Sunday school how can we ever expect to get others to go, even to church. It is our responsibility as Christian young people to attend Sunday school REGULARLY. In fact, it is much more than a responsibility, it is a privilege. Let us remember the heritage we have and take advantage of it.

Sponsored by the Christian Workers Band, Jerry Johnson, together with the boys' quartet which consists of Paul Kunkel, Paul Swartz, Gordon Belzar and Jim Christensen will travel to Seneca, Ore., to conduct the Youth for Christ rally on Saturday, February 5, and to hold services on Sunday, February 6, in the Church of the Nazarene.

On Tuesday, February 1, the boys' quartet which consists of Don Farrand, Quincey Angers, Butch Bloomquist and Ray Hastings provided the special music for the revival which was held at Melba.

Hooray! Semester Exams Come to End

Groans and sighs resounded throughout the entire college last week and those who rarely settled down to study were found guilty of burning the "mid-night oil."

Tired eyes and weighted-down brains characterized the "studious students" as they walked slowly into the administration building bent over textbooks, taking advantage of the last three minutes, before they would relieve heavy heads and prove that "readin', ritin', and rithmetic" had been laboriously learned.

Minutes crawled by and relentless teachers assured the hard-working students that there were "eight pages more."

Cramped hands and splitting heads were the result of hours of those "tedious tests," but finally the last bell rang and hundreds of human beings were mighty happy that those awful semester exams were over at last.

Bugle Notes

By RICHARD J. DICKSON

A very successful meeting of the Veterans for Christ was held last Monday evening in Chapman hall parlor. Reorganization for the coming year was discussed. Several business matters pertaining to the status of the Poole-Mosteller Chapter of the Christian War Veterans of America, in its relation to the national organization were referred to.

It was unanimously decided that a new policy for the expansion of the organization be considered in a special business meeting to be held on February 8 in Chapman hall. The meeting will affect all those who have dropped from the active roll, and all new members who desire to participate in the activities of the organization this semester.

Along with the out of town work, the organization has been asked to furnish preachers and singers for the new "Faith Mission," in Nampa. This fine work in Nampa will provide a place for those of the organization who are unable to leave home on week-ends a place to participate in religious services. We pray that the Lord will richly bless Albert Melville and Albert Ruff for their time and sacrifices which have led to the establishment of this work. Thank God for the others who have seen the need for a mission in Nampa, and provided for its location in such strategic surroundings.

A new use has been found for tongue depressors. It is reported the nurses were using them for knives, forks, and spoons last Friday and Saturday when somebody borrowed their silverware. Where there's a will there's a way.

prayer before each class session. It is the a capella choir singing until goose pimples pop out all over you. It's the "Not of our own do we bring Thee Lord, but that which is Thine"—as the Rev. Riley asks for blessing on the offering. It is every little thing that belongs to worship and the freedom of religion.

Yes, N. N. C. is all of these things, and more. It represents the home, the church, and the school. Beneath its roofs the old and young, rich and poor alike, meet with enthusiasm, determination, and in the attitude of worship, to learn how to become better men and women, and to be able to face whatever the future may hold.

Sunday School Is a Sport

By TOM KELLY

Are you a good sport? Do you attend faithfully all the basketball, football, softball, and other games? Do you like to ice skate on the new rink? Do you find it fun to ride a bicycle or knock a little pill around the campus with a stick? Or maybe you go in for ping pong, tennis, badminton, or one of many others.

Sunday school is also a sport, but just as in the above named sports, you have more fun by taking active participation. It's fun to sit on the sidelines and watch the boys play, but it's more fun to get into it yourself, isn't it? Whether you're an amateur or professional, good or bad, you still enjoy doing something more than sitting on the sidelines and watching.

Sunday school can be the same way. If you attend Sunday school regularly, come prayed up, with a studied lesson, having God's Word right by your side, then you also are taking part in an enjoyable sport. You also are receiving something from taking part in the discussion, speaking when you have a burning message on your heart, or drinking in the wonderful truths of the Bible as they are taught. Just as you take part in doing other sports, why not try it and find the blessing that you may receive from attending Sunday school regularly.

Eureka! A New Dish

A new dish has been discovered over at the Eatin' Palace. A name hasn't been made up yet, but here's what gives: Take an onion, preferably large, cut into rings, dip in buttermilk, roll in flour, and then pop into the deep fryer for a few brief moments. Warning, do not let burn! Guaranteed to drive away boy friends, girl friends, etc., and so forth—just in case you want to. 'Nuf said.

Red Hots Boil Out Ice Men

Wesche's Red Hot Hotshots edged out Elmore's Cooled-off Ice Men 53-47 Monday night in the first semester all-star game. Wesche's boys were forced to come from a one-point halftime deficit to win. Halftime score was 21-20.

With a last quarter rally they surged into a lead that they never gave up. Farrand led scoring with 20 points, as well as playing a fine job on the backboard. Fowler trailed him with 13 points, while Vail led the losers with 12 points.

In the preliminary event Becker's all-star girls edged out Cox all-stars 30-20 in a not too close game. Becker led scores for winners, while Mitchell and Edwards helped with their flagrant foul-

Dick: "Yes, Mairzy Doats, Doazy Doats, and Little Lambay Divey."

Dramatics Class

Those who like dramatics will have a chance to take a course in that subject second semester. Speech class is to be changed to dramatics for second semester and Prof. Hilliard will be the teacher. Poems and orations are to be given the first few weeks of the course and then the class will swing into plays; one-act plays will be worked on first with the best one taken to the state one-act play contest. At the end of the course a three-act play will be given for commencement.

Pep Club

The Pep club has been divided into four groups, each with a goal to raise $15 by selling candy, gum, etc., at ball games. This division was made to arouse interest and allow more members to participate.

The names and leaders of the four groups are: Palettes, Verna Everist; Pepteens, Donna Olmstead; Triettes, "Wittsy" Mason; Peettes, Jo Anne Hutchinson.

Home Ec Club

Last year the F. H. A. adopted the homemaking school in Limburg, Germany, as a special project. This year they are continuing to support the school. Many letters of appreciation have been received for last year's boxes which supplied over 100 girls with homemaking materials.

The German girls are sending a box to the local F. H. A. girls as a token of their good will. Of course, the girls are wondering what will be in the box.

Anyone who is interested in corresponding with these German students may receive addresses from Mrs. Fred.

Practice Teachers

During this past semester the students of College high have been privileged to have several cadet teachers from the college secondary education department.

The Misses Juanita Mink, Doris Cameron, and Pat Davis as well as Mrs. Lyman Neubauer taught in the various classes while Miss Helen Rambo and Kenneth Potter taught history.

Miss Wilson: "Name three collective nouns."

Doug Holly: "Vacuum cleaner, fly paper, and waste paper basket."

In today's issue we have printed essays on the subject: "The Ideal High School Girl" and "The Ideal High School Boy." Each member of the English 4 class has written an essay on one of the two subjects. The class then picked out the best of each group and we present them to you as "the ideals of the English 4 class."

"The Ideal High School Girl"

She is a combination of personality, popularity, and responsibility. To be popular she must, above all, have a pleasing personality and be friendly at all times with anyone. She doesn't hold grudges, and is quick to forgive. She is clean and dresses attractively—any girl, rich or poor, can dress nicely if she only wants to. She keeps her hair nice at all times when in public. She is responsible in that she accepts duties and jobs as an obligation to her community or school. She never shirks work and she gets good grades in school. As a date, she is always on time; or, in my way of thinking, maybe a little late. If a girl acts nonchalant, not too much but a little bit, she'll keep her men longer. Eager beavers aren't too popular and never will be. Still on the subject of dates, she keeps her standards high, is a good conversationalist, and is willing to offer suggestions as to a better time.

There aren't very many girls like this, neither are there boys who would meet the requirements fully. We're plenty satisfied with the ones we've got; I guess beggars can't be choosers!

"The Ideal High School Boy"

I think that the ideal boy or girl is impossible of achievement but we can all dream. My ideal boy should be nice-looking but since we can't govern our appearance I'll amend it to say that he should be clean-cut. He should be well-groomed always and keep his cords as clean as possible. He should have a pleasing personality. I don't like the "smarty" type. I'd like him to be tall and to have nice manners. He doesn't exactly have to have a car but it would be nice if he or his folks could afford it. I'd want him to prepare for his future—to be ambitious and want to make something of himself. He doesn't have to aim at the presidency of the United States or to be a great hero but he should want nice things and be willing to fight for them. I might add that I like dark hair and eyes. My ideal should have a nice smile and pretty eyes. I don't want a flirtatious fellow but one who is true and faithful. I don't want the type that can be henpecked but I'd admire him for sticking up for his own rights. Of course, he should be a good Christian and he COULD be a preacher.

H. L. Party

"Thank you, Miss Wilson. I had a swell time at the party!" This is typical of the comments made by various members of the H. L. club after their January meeting in the Morrison hall dining room. Since Miss Wilson was unable to attend the party Miss Pat Davis acted as mistress of ceremonies. A devotional period was followed by movies shown through the courtesy of Marcus Cook and delicious apple pie a la mode.

According to Miss Wilson a business meeting will be held soon to plan for the February meeting which will feature a Valentine box, heart-buddies and an original playlet, "Give Me Thy Heart."

Looking Around

By ROMA MITCHELL

A scream! A silence! A thud! Hisa Hormichi fell down while ice skating. But it is surprising, we really have some talent in our group. At least those from North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Idaho know how to skate.

Featuring: Millie Becker. The most outstanding girl athlete on the campus, Mille Becker, has made a name for herself in every sport. Sweeping high point honors in basketball, it was almost impossible to stop her. In volleyball, if you got in the way of her "spike" you were in danger of being maimed. In softball her quick thinking saved many a situation.

Not only she athletic, Millie can sing. We've had a chance to hear and enjoy her several times at dinner devotions.

Millie has brought many honors to the SLA's. As girls' athletic director, she has organized her teams and they've all made good.

But '49 is another year. Wonder who's going to win this time? It's going to be hard to tell with so many of the girls going home. But there is always the prospect of new talent, second semester.

Ice Skating Season Opens With Thud

A sudden scream pierces the air, then a sliding noise, followed by a thud. But don't be alarmed, it is only some inexperienced Californian trying to ice skate for the first time. He grimly climbs to his feet and tries again. Whoosh! History repeats itself!

In spite of skinned knees and bruises, everyone is enjoying the opportunity to ice skate on the flooded area south of the College Coffee Shop. Instead of saying, "Hi," the common greeting has

Crusaders Lose Throughout Week

Monty Lee's Crusaders continued down the rock road of defeat as they lost three more games to run their losing streak to eight straight, last week.

C. of I. gained revenge for a previous loss by walloping the orange-clad cakkers 54-38 at Caldwell. N. N. C. kept within 8 to 10 points of the visitors until the last 10 minutes when they tired quickly. Halftime margin was 25-17 for the Coyotes.

Big Carlyle Dean set the scoring pace for the losers with 10 points while Faylor led C. of I. with 9.

B. J. C. took two victories in as many nights from the local lads by scores of 48-44 and 50-33. The first game was nip and tuck most of the way with the score changing hands numerous times. The loss of Cramer on fouls with eight minutes left crippled N. N. C.'s efforts considerably.

Hubinger paced the winners with 11 points followed by Dietrich and Grader with 10 each. But it remained for Cramer to take scoring honors as he bucketed 18 tallies.

The second match between the two clubs was a complete reversal of the opener. N. N. C., far off in their shooting, was literally stamped into the floor by the Broncos. At halftime B. J. C. led 23-11 with Jamison's long shot the only field goal registered by the Crusaders.

N. N. C. made a bid for the game early in the second half when they rallied to within five points at 32-27. But the Broncos quickly galloped away and were never headed.

Coley led the invaders with 13 points and Dean topped the Cru-

Society	W	L	Pct.
LSP	6	0	1.000
SLA	4	2	.666
Oly	2	4	.333
ADP	0	6	.000

As the semester ends we find that the LSP's have kept up the torrid pace set in their first game and are in the lead in the first two rounds of basketball. They have taken six straight games without a loss.

Close behind the LSP's are the SLA's who in their struggle for the lead have lost only to the LSP's.

The teams have run true to form. The Olys were able to win from the ADP's while the ever-fighting ADP's couldn't seem to get going, and ended with no wins.

saders with 12 tallies. Cramer was held to six free throws, the first time in his college career that he has been without a field goal.

Trojans Win 7th In 8 Games

The Trojans made it win No. 7 in eight games January 18, by drubbing Jordan Valley by a comfortable 47-25 margin. Curt Beukelman and Jay Dean sparked the winners with 15 and 14 points.

January 25 College high's cagers trounced the highly-touted Boise junior varsity at Boise, 45-32. Beukelman again set the pace with 14 tallies followed by Clarence Olsen with 11.

The CHS remaining schedule follows subject to possible revision:

Feb. 4—Greenleaf, there.

Feb. 11—Jordan Valley, here.

Feb. 22—Boise JV, here.

J-V's Take B. J. C. 36-31 and 38-32

Tiny Bellamy's jay-vees moved back into the win column last week at the expense of the BJC junior varsity by scores of 36-31 and 38-32.

N. N. C. overcame a three-point deficit with three minutes to play to win the first tilt at Boise. The two teams were tied at 16 all at half-time. Hubbard and Alexander with eight and seven points led the winners.

In the second battle the local squad led all the way, holding a 22-11 half-time advantage and leading at one time in the second period by 32-18. The jayvees staved off a late rally to coast to the triumph. Hendrix bucketed eight points to lead Bellamy's crew.

Tub Thumping

By LILBURN WESCHE

Due to the severe prosecution, sarcasm and ridicule directed towards the title of this column by certain campul illiterates, we herewith devote a portion of this valuable space to present a definition of the word tub-thumping.

Tub-thumping is in essence "the thumping of tubs," Schliermacher. This may sound egregious to those who can read but to the more valetudinarianistic members of society it seems pointedly logical.

A tub can be defined in several ways, but it is usually a big round thing and thus, could be anything from a tin pan to a human being.

Nevertheless there were certain ulterior motives in selecting this name. First, it is original, nobody will deny that. Second, tub-thumping is synonymous with drum-beating and a drum-beater is—one who beats drums.

To summarize, it is a crazy name, isn't it?

Comparatively unnoticed during the past few years, Elmore Vail's College High Trojans have breezed into the top spot among Southwestern Idaho high schools.

The Trojans own one of the best won and lost records over a three-year span in the state, largely due to the painstaking coaching of Elmore Vail and the brilliant playing of Jay Dean.

Jay, who prefers to go by the less assuming name of Flash Gordon, has racked up so many points that even Steve Wilson has lost count, besides being one of the best backboard men in the valley. He usually gets about half of all the rebounds that come off the boards in each game. In fact he could probably make any team in the state despite being only a sophomore.

If College high is declared eligible for the state tournament within the next two years look for a big shiny trophy in the trophy case, thanks largely to a great coach and a top-notch athlete.

ICE SKATING SEASON OPENS

recently become "Know where I can borrow some ice skates?"

Our star couple on the skating "pond" seems to be Hisa Horuichi and Don Farrand. The long and short of it outdo themselves with their spectacular (?) antics. You can tell that Ken Somerville hails from Minnesota by his skillful leaps and graceful glides. Woody Beukelman and Ed Hammer also receive envious glances from those who spend the majority of time sprawled on the ice—such as Roma Mitchell, Doris Starks, or Fred Fowler.

With the advent of the skating pond, hockey is running a close second to basketball, at least according to the self-made stars, Wayne Johnson, Clarence Petersen and Don Bozarth.

Although spring will bring relief from the cold weather, our new-born ice skaters will be reluctant to see the ice melt and to bid adieu to this new phase of our college life.
