Joanne Burkhart Crowned Tip-Off Queen in Annual Ceremonies

Joanne Burkhart was crowned tip-off queen for 1949 last Tuesday by Student Body President Ken Sulston, preceding the basketball clash between NNC and Pacific college.

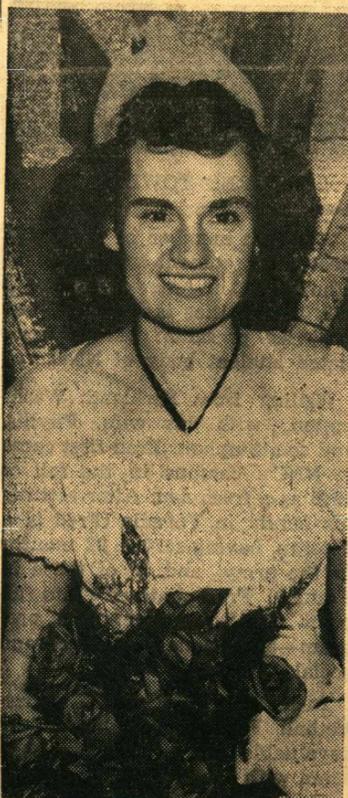

Miss Burkhart, a senior, has served as president of the AWS this year and is prominent in other campus activities. She was chosen by the student body in an election held two weeks previous.

To celebrate her coronation the Crusaders ran roughshod over the visiting Quakers 66-34 in one of the most lopsided games ever staged in Central auditorium.

Following the game a reception in honor of the queen was held in Morrison hall with members of the varsity squad, cheerleaders and school officials as guests.

Those assisting in the coronation and handling of arrangements included the Men's club, which had charge of the throne, the AWS which had charge of the reception and half-time entertainment and the NNC pep band which provided the processional music.

Culver to Serve As Visiting Prof

"In order to broaden the contacts of the college, and to increase my own personal contacts, I will teach as a visiting professor in the College of Idaho," Dr. Culver, dean of NNC, announced today.

Dr. Culver said that she would be teaching history of education and Idaho school problems on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 7:55 a. m. and 8:50 a. m. Dr. Williams, president of C of I., requested Dr. Culver to teach as a visiting professor.

Debaters Bring High Honors

Northwest Nazarene college debaters placed in three events at the annual Linfield college debate tournament which was held February 24-26 on the Linfield campus at McMinnville, Oregon.

Ken Sulston tied for second place in one-man debate and won third in men's extemporaneous speaking division. Norma Kastella and Patricia Morris won third in junior women's debate. Norma was also entered in the finals for afterdinner speaking.

The tournament this year was one of the largest in the history of the Linfield college tournaments with 148 team entered in debate representing colleges and universities from west coast states. This was the 19th anniversary for such a tournament, and plans are underway for a 20th anniversary celebration at next year's meet. The event offers some of the keenest competition of any college debate or speech tournament in the western states area.

Representing NNC were Miss Morris, Miss Kastella, Mr. Sul-

Debate Tournaments Are Not Born After Depression Periods

Before 1929 most debate teams who wished to debate with other schools had to travel from one school to another, holding, perhaps, only a few debates during each week of travel away from their home school.

This was not only expensive to the traveling team, but since neutral judges were desired for these debates, the home school usually had to pay considerable sums to employ neutral judges for such debates.

The tournament at Linfield college at McMinnville, Oregon, is one of the oldest tournaments held regularly in this country. It was started in 1930 by Professor R. D. Maheffey, who is still the director of the tournament.

Northwest Nazarene college has sent participants to this tournament for about the past 15 years. Many of these teams have won distinguished mention in tournament results, and several times they have won the cup for first place in their respective divisions. These cups are on display in our trophy case.

Many of the high school and college teachers in the west were former participants in this tournament when they were students. This makes the annual tournament at Linfield now a sort of reunion for these teachers as well as an exciting and highly educational experience for the present day students who participate in it.

Next year is the twentieth tournament to be held at Linfield, and it will undoubtedly be a very special occasion with the largest attendance in its history.

This year there were 148 debate teams in it, of which Northwest Nazarene college sent three. Next year we hope to have at least twice that many teams, and if we can win the same proportion of honors that we did this year, it will be very gratifying.

Student Council Plans Activities

Ken Sulston, ASB president, today announced that plans were rapidly forming for many annual activities which are arranged each year by the student council. These activities are participated in by all students.

First activity on the agenda is Campus day, which is expected this year to be held during the first or second week of April. During mid-April the annual election of the student body president will be held. Other plans are going forward for the all-school picnic, but nothing definite has as yet been said.

Tonight discussions is supposed to end on the second semester budget appropriation and it will be taken before the student body as a whole for approval, then it will be voted on.

MUSIC GROUP TO SING

The Musicales group, a choral group from Boise, will present a program for college students on Tuesday, March 15, at 8:15 p. m. Included in the program will be representations from early and modern times. Admission will be free.

Mrs. Patricia Bolerjack Wins Top Honors At Regional Contest

MRS. PAT BOLERJACK

Patricia Bolerjack, pianist and junior in the school of music at NNC tied for first place in Salt Lake City last week-end in the National Federation of Music Clubs' regional contest. Mrs. Bolerjack won the Idaho state contest the latter part of February, which entitled her to enter the recent regional contest.

The judges at Salt Lake were local ones, and the contestant who tied with Mrs. Bolerjack is a student at Utah university, so NNC should be more than proud for showing Mrs. Bolerjack made.

Feb. 20, she was featured on radio station KDSH on the "Idaho Colleges on the Air" program. She will be presented here in recital in the chapel Tuesday evening, April 19.

Mrs. Bolerjack is a pupil of Al-line Swann and has studied in Oklahoma City prior to enrolling here at NNC.

In an interview with Mrs. Pat Bolerjack after her return from the contest, the question was asked: "To what do you attribute your successes in these contests." She replied, "Definitely a good teacher and also lots of hard work." The question, "How many years have you been studying?" brought the response: "eleven years of steady, hard-working practice."

Music Contest To Start Today

Preliminaries for the society music contest are being held today in the music hall. Judges for the preliminaries include members of the music faculty, and the program chairmen and music directors of each society.

The six sections entered in the contest are: Piano solo, organ solo, ladies' vocal solo, men's vocal solo, instrumental ensemble, and orchestral instrumental solo. The judges will pick one from each society in each section enter the finals, which will be held March 15, 16 and 18 in the chapel.

Outside judges will judge for the finals. Participation points will be given for tryouts in the preliminaries.

Scriblerus Club Meets Thurs. Nite

Scriblerus club, formerly known as the English club, will have its first meeting tomorrow night at 7:30, under its new cognomen. The program will feature each member reading a copy of his favorite poem when his name is read off.

Miss Dooley will be master of ceremonies and will preside over games and literary quizzes. Miss Bette Harding will open the meeting with a business session which will discuss plans for honoring seniors in the club with a party.

Refreshments will be served after the close of the meeting.

Beulah Tolson Gives Recital Friday

Beulah Tolson will be presented in her senior piano recital Friday evening, March 11, in the college chapel. She is a student of Ivalee Bolerjack. Mrs. Tolson will be assisted by Eunice Lintz, contralto, student of Charles Ross.

Mrs. Tolson has chosen selections by Mozart, Chopin, Rachmaninoff, and Debussy for her program. The second piano parts will be played by Miss Bolerjack. Miss Lintz will sing two Italian arias, the "Habenera" from "Carmen" and a group of English songs.

Missionary Prog. Given by Students

The junior and senior classes, respectively, presided over the last two missionary chapel services.

The junior class, with President Don Farrand in charge, presented an informative program, featuring Japan.

The speakers were Pete Burkhart and Dave Alexander, both of whom spent some time in that country while serving in the armed forces.

They discussed the needs of Japan, spiritually, physically and economically and emphasized the fact that if her people are to be won to Christianity, help must be given now, and in a practical way which will alleviate the suffering.

The senior class, in charge of Emma Jean DeVries, featured a Chinese setting, in the form of a pantomime entitled, "The Conversion of Mrs. Kim." It proved the infinite value of Christian missions.

Those taking part were: Milton Gardiner, Alice Johnson and Fairy Hawthorne as narrators; Geneva Schramm and Ruth Angel as missionaries; Doris Anderson, Mary Wesche, Dave Bloom, Marian York, Helen Rambo, Ken Potter and Clarence Barrows as Chinese natives.

DONATION MADE

Mrs. Belle Shaw, a junior history major, recently donated $50 to the library to be used in purchasing maps for the social science department.

The library committee reports that a nice assortment of 18 maps has been purchased with the money contributed by Mrs. Shaw.

PREPARE FOR THE REVIVAL

Editor's Note—The following editorial is taken from the Houghton Star of Houghton College, Houghton, N. Y. As we look forward to our coming revival we have the same hopes and ambitions as are expressed in this editorial by a faculty member of Houghton College.

United prayer, concentrated effort, setting aside of legitimate enterprise, "stirring up the gift that is in thee" as Paul told Timothy; all of this is our program. Houghton is preparing for revival.

A secular school would not do it; cut lesson assignments to give students time to attend meetings, but we are not a secular school. Our first business in life is to glorify God, to give Him the pre-eminence.

Scholastic standards are kept on a high level, but we have found that students do better work when they are properly adjusted to the Maker. Spiritual training is even more important than intellectual development. Eternal destinies are often determined by students in college. Our business is to make it possible for these decisions to be made in the highest possible atmosphere of warm prayer fellowship.

Many a youth in the valley of decision has come to the place of absolute surrender to the will of God for his life, in a Houghton revival. Often a student from a home that is not Christian has felt the pull of God on his life, and in answer to that pull has turned from sin to serve the living God.

There have been gracious visitations of the Spirit of God on our campus in answer to the prayer that accompanied revival. It is a means that God has blessed. Every Christian should certainly keep God first, always, and in everything, but revival seasons are times of special preparation for a visitation from God.

I stood one day on the Pall Mall in London. Before me the wide street was covered with fresh clean sawdust. Windows were trimmed, stores decorated, people, young and aged, thronged the curb in expectancy. Suddenly everyone broke into singing. The king was passing on his way to open parliament. The enthusiasm of the crowd swept me in. I did not know the strains they were singing of "God Save the King," but I found myself lustily joining in with "My Country 'Tis of Thee" which has the same tune.

Actually the king lived in Buckingham palace right in the heart of London, but these loyal subjects were out to do him honor on this special occasion.

At our earnest invitation the King is coming to Houghton for a special occasion. Let us turn out to let Him know we love Him and do Him honor.—Mrs. S. I. McMillen, Instructor in Biblical Literature.

SUCCESS EVALUATED

This world of cut-throat competition and dog-eat-dog in which we find ourselves today sees us sending cheers up to the person who has triumphed and won in the battle of rivalry.

It is the man who has won the most power over his fellowmen, the man who has obtained large numbers of possessions, the man who has the greatest notoriety that we pay homage to, and stand admiring his successes.

To the man who has triumphed over his fellowmen, whether it is a success of athletics, grades, money, position or possession, goes the world acclaim.

But how many have risen only by pushing a fellow man down? Is the person who has won the "A" the one to be admired when he refuses to aid the friend with the "D"? Is the person who has won the advantage at the other person's expense the one to extol? Is it the man who has won who needs encouragement?

Not to be the apple of the crowd's eye, not to be the object of flashy newspaper copy, but just to be a person who has done his very best and has seen the other man walk off with the prize and win the goal is deserving of admiration.

To try one's best and miss the mark, to give all and receive nothing, and still face life with cheerfulness, kindness and optimism is a triumph. To rejoice in another's success and be happy in knowing that he has done his best is the real sign of victory.

The sin is not in missing the goal; the sin is in not trying.—"The Graphic," George Pepperdine College, Los Angeles.

THE LOWDOWN

From THE EDITOR

*Lately our attention has been drawn to the subject of Communism. In one week we had two speakers on the subject, both who seemed to be quite well informed on the subject.

It seems to me that it is time that we as Christian students look at this thing squarely. As the Rev. Taylorson said, "Communism is the enemy of all religion, not only Christianity, but all religion."

If that is true, and it seems to be, then Communism is something we should be concerned about.

In the first place Communism takes away freedom. Stories we hear from behind the Iron curtain show that this is true. If Communism would take control in America, we would all lose our freedom.

Communism is a personal threat to each individual person. Instead of allowing him to be a person, it makes him just a part of a vast machine when individuality is lost personal freedom is lost.

We at NNC may think that we are entirely immune from this evil simply because we are in a Christian college. This, however, is not true. Each person must fight this evil the same as any other evil. This philosophy is getting stronger every day in our country and if we are not careful we may be tempted to accept some of the "better ideas" of Communism.

If you accept a portion of an ideology you must follow it to its conclusion, which will mean loss of freedom. If you accept Communism as a political setup, you must also accept its ideas concerning religion, personal and political freedom, etc. We cannot accept any theory or philosophy which puts anything ahead of our Christ. As Christians let us hold up our banner to the world that they may see that Christ is the answer to Communism. While we are opposing Communism let us remember that we must not stoop to their methods, but fight an honorable battle.

Bugle Notes

By RICHARD J. DICKSON

On February 27 the Veterans for Christ were privileged to hold services at Glenns Ferry where Leonard Galavan is pastor. Leonard is a former student of NNC. The Veterans' quartet with James Bruner as pianist, and Jack Hawthorne and Paul Gray as preachers made the trip. The services of the day were crowned with a great closing altar service which added to the many blessings already experienced.

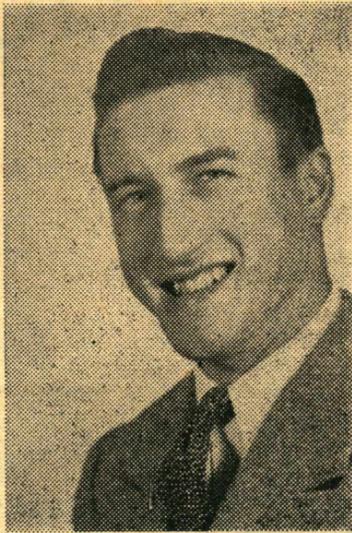

The Church of the Nazarene at Prineville, Oregon, has given the Veterans for Christ a call for all-day services on Easter Sunday. The pastor of the Prineville Church of the Nazarene is another former NNC student, Elmer Curtis. If you desire to make this trip or any other trip for the Veterans for Christ this spring, you must contact Frank Divers immediately.

The hearts of all of us were saddened by the death of little Dorothy Ann Trott, daughter of one of our associate members, Lloyd Trott. May God's richest blessings be upon this family during this time of sorrow.

Two staffers had just come off second best in an argument with the editor.

First: "We've got to use psychology on that guy."
 Second: "Yeah, CHILD psychology."

Who's Who

FRED FOWLER

The fifth member of the group elected by student acclaim to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities is Fred E. Fowler, vice president of the associated student body of NNC.

Hailing from Kirkland, Washington, with his wife, Phyllis, and son, Stephan, Fred first came to NNC's campus in the fall of 1946 as a freshman. After settling his family in Vetville (Fred is a veteran, having served 22 months in the army, and 16 of those in France) Fred entered into all parts of NNC's diversified program—educational, athletic and social.

In his very first season of basketball Fred proved himself an invaluable aid to Coach Lee's team with that long shot of his.

Fred has also had his share of administrative offices among the students. He proved an able president of the sophomore class in '47-'48, and also helps keep the Olympian society on the map as president of that organization. This year he is the "Big Boss" of the N club.

Fred plans to complete his work for his A. B. degree with major in religion in '49-'50 ("I hope," says Fred). Just exactly what his future plans include even Fred is not sure of, but perhaps he will enter the ministry upon graduation.

To your long list of accomplishments and honors, Fred, we add: "He is a worthy member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Low End

By NORMA KASTELLA

I don't know if anyone is interested in the debate tournament at Linfield or not, but several amusing things happened in it. I also did after-dinner speaking on a most interesting subject, "The American Male." I thought I'd pass along to you girls a few things I learned. Man has only two faults, everything he does and everything he says. Man can be compared to a kerosene lamp: he's dull, gets polished (brush-off), is turned down, and goes out nights. Male can be compared with mail, when you receive packages they are usually of three types: prizes, surprise, and consolation prizes.

I suppose you've heard about the sign on Jeanne Johnson's door, "No parking between signs." Well, she thinks she has a priority on it but other residents of Hadley don't agree for the sign mysteriously appears on other doors.

Then there's Violet Sharmer and Shirley Dickenson who hide under beds to scare people. One night they waited an hour and a half and someone gave them away.—"Lost, one friend."

Some of us get spring fever this time of year and take long bike rides which, in my opinion, is O. K., but when the assistant dean of Hadley rides her bike around the dorm at midnight, that's too much.

We were all very happy to hear that Joanne Burkhart was elected tip-off queen but when Dave and Pete start charging a quarter just so people may touch their arms and feel royal blood, well that's going too far.

Betty Griffith has been practicing daily on her guitar. I know because I went up to her room one day and said, "What are you playing?" She looked hurt and said, "Can't you tell, that's 'You Are My Sunshine.'" I couldn't bear any more and walk-

Urwin Appointed Student Body Treas.

Meeting in regular session on Monday, February 28, the CHS student council appointed Max Urwin, freshman, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Jay Dean as student body treasurer. A statement from Del Cherrington, student president, reveals that Max was chosen out of our nominees for his honesty, capability and industry.

"It is a great honor," said Max when interviewed. "I really don't think that I deserve it." He went to Central school last year.

DRAMATICS CLASS

With the presentation of "An Apple for Teacher" on March 14 the dramatics class will launch the first in a series of one-act plays to be produced this semester. June Knapp is acting as student director of "An Apple for Teacher," which is based on what happens when a good-looking principal and a pretty, young teacher meet! Bob Hamlin, Madonna Pullen, Margaret Crowe and Marjorie James have the leading roles in this play.

Although the other two one-act plays have been selected, their casts have not as yet been chosen. "The Farnsworth Nose" is about a freshman girl who falls for a football hero. Complications appear in the form of a disapproving mother and a conniving old grandpa. "Submerged," the re-

The afternoon featured short skits and other entertainment from each of the chapters. Lura Solts, representing the CHS chapter, gave a reading entitled "Naughty Zell."

FHA girls report that these district meetings are very interesting and worthwhile. Some have stated that they enjoy especially the opportunity of meeting other FHA members from over the state.

Local Hi-Y Reps. Attend Conference

Bob Hamlin and Chester Wells represented the local Hi-Y at the Southwest Idaho District Pre-legislative conference held in the Strahorn library on the College of Idaho campus, February 25. The main purpose of the conference is to acquaint Idaho youth with their state government and its workings.

In an open letter to the 50 representatives at the conference, Governor C. A. Robins said, "This is a program which I cannot commend too highly, for its effect will be of benefit to Idaho for years to come."

Besides listening to outstanding speakers from Southwest Idaho cities, the group made plans for a "model legislature" which is to meet in Boise on April 1-2. Dave Shaver of Caldwell was elected speaker of the house and Gerald English of Parma was chosen clerk of the senate.

Bob and Chester report that they found the conference highly interesting and that are already at work on bills to be sent to the model legislature.

The Inquiring Reporter

With the appointment by the student council of a committee to play for assemblies for the remainder of the year, your reporter interviewed various persons around College high in an effort to discover their suggestions for high school assemblies.

Gladys Fred: "We need more assemblies with more interesting programs."

Donna Maxwell: "More music and an organized program."

Curt Beukelman: "How about having some skits? We should have assemblies during school hours only. We need variety in the program."

Bonnie Painter: "We need a longer time for assemblies."

Flora Little: "More students should take part."

Ellen Sutherland: "How about having some film?"

Well, there they are! The people have spoken. And now your Gallup-ing Ghost turns all these suggestions over to the committee with lots of good wishes for some successful assemblies.

Freshman Sunday School Contest

Miss Washburn's and Mr. Berkeley's freshman Sunday school classes have started a contest within a contest to make things a little bit more interesting. They are not only working on attendance between the two classes, which have been averaging 17 each, but they are also seeing which can raise the most money for the building fund. The losing class will furnish a party for the winners.

Looking Around

By ROMA MITCHELL

Thanks for the compliment, fellows! We really appreciate your gesture of chivalry.

Next week the girls are entering for the first time a tournament similar to the Mills-Cunningham tournament for the boys. Lilburn Wesche, Bud Hibbard and Harold Long presented the school with a trophy which is to be handed down from year to year to the winning society.

The two favored teams this year are the SLA's and ADP's; of course you never can tell, there might be an upset. At least the LSP's and Oly's are going to give them a run for their money.

But our appreciation goes to the three fellows who made such a tournament possible. It's going to be a lot of fun and who knows, the Oly's might win!

Dean: "This kissing going on under my nose has got to stop."

SLA's Stretch Streak As ADP's Challenge

Standings:

	W	L
SLA	5	0
ADP	3	1
LSP	2	4
Oly	0	5

The ADP's stayed in the race for basketball honors as they chalked up two triumphs over the Oly's, 28-16, and LSP's, 17-16. Pat Johnson bucketed 14 points in the first game and 15 in the second to lead the challengers. Kononen with 10 was best for the Oly's while Hutchinson and Stiverson tied for LSP honors with 8 each.

The LSP's dumped the Oly's permanently into the cellar by edging past with a 14-11 verdict. Hutchinson with 7 points led the winners, while Cavendar and Mitchell led the losers with 5 and 4, respectively.

SPORTS

First Annual Girls' Tournament Opens With SLA's Favored to Win

First round:

ADP	18	Oly	10
SLA	33	LSP	22

For the first time in modern history NNC will have a girls' basketball tournament staged on the campus. The affair, known as the Long-Hibbard-Wesche playoff will be similar to the boys' tournament with single elimination semifinals staged yesterday and the consolation and final rounds slated for tomorrow afternoon.

Past performances point to the SLA's, piloted by Millie Becker, as the favorites. The ADP's are rated as the most likely team to upset them but the loss of Brenita Dean from their lineup may seriously cripple their chances.

On their showings thus far neither the LSP's nor Oly's are given much chance to come through, although both have shown flashes of power during the season and if they should hit a hot streak could easily give the dope bucket a kicking around.

The trophy, donated by three of the campus' most stalwart young athletes, will be presented each year to the winning sextet until one society wins the playoff three times in succession whereupon they will gain permanent possession of the award.

It has not as yet been clearly established whether the trophy was donated out of a spirit of generosity or from a frustrated desire to play girls' basketball with this means being the closest they can get to the sport.

Trojans Revenge Grid Loss With 66-23 Win

By thoroughly trouncing New Meadows, the only team to defeat them in football, the College High Trojans wound up a very successful basketball season.

The last game was the high point of the year as the first string raced to a 30-6 first quarter score. Coach Elmore Vail sent in the subs after that in an effort to keep the score down. However, the visitors could fare no

SLA's Take Trophy From LSP's 39-25

Chet Galloway and Wayne Likens doused the hopes of the LSP's for winning permanent possession of the Mills-Cunningham trophy as the SLA's took the championship title by rapping out a 39-25 triumph.

The game was much closer than the final score indicated as the two teams battled at even odds until late in the final half when the SLA's suddenly found the range and pulled beyond gunshot of the fading losers.

The LSP's held a narrow 14-10 half-time lead but could not stop a second half drive that cost them the cup. Galloway with 14 and Likens with 10 took scoring honors. Hopkins and Vail with eight and seven led the losers.

Whitey Johnson caged 15 points to lead the Oly's to a close 32-31 triumph over the ADP's in the consolation tilt. The losers held a 15-12 intermission margin.

In the semi-finals the SLA's trampled the ADP's, holding a 38-16 lead at half-time, and the LSP's were forced to overcome a seven-point lead to down the Oly's 46-40 in an overtime tilt. Half-time score was 20-16 for the Oly's and the score was knotted at 40 all at the end of the regulation time.

Tub Thumping

By LILBURN WESCHE

With basketball done for another year except for the girls' tourney and a possible independent tournament later on, and with spring in the air, young peoples' fancies turn to—track and baseball, at least some of them do.

Track, which has been on the upswing at NNC, is probably one of the most promising sports in school. Among those who last year brought home quite a bit of bacon to the local kennel and are planning to repeat their performance as the following:

Doug Powers, who runs like a man possessed—with ability. Last year he proved to be about the fastest hurdler in the state and so far hasn't given any indication of changing the situation.

Tiny Bellamy who runs so many different races both on and off the track that we have failed to keep up with them, will have to suffice with the encouraging words that he is hard to beat in whatever he runs.

Paul Sutherland, small, but determined, who runs in the distances for the Crusaders.

Skipping over some others we have: Don Farrand, Francis Sutherland and several promising newcomers, including Elmer Thomas, a transfer from C. of I., Loren Sanders, Mike Williamson and some whose names we don't recall. Anyhow, it all points to a good track year at NNC which, considering the lack of equipment, is definitely an accomplishment.

Baseball prospects also appear on the high road with experience at most positions and several high school stars out to move the lettermen from their spots.

Catchers include the veteran Earl Barnum with two rookies in Lloyd Hubbard and Glen Embree. On the mound are holdovers Carlyle Dean and Tiny Bellamy. Around the infield Whitey Johnson returns to the initial sack, Woody Beukelman is back at second, Millard Reynolds, the lad who turned down pro offers before coming here, holds down shortstop, and Dave Burkhart and Elmore Vail a rebuck to fight it out for the hot corner.

Ralph Unger is the only returning outfielder but several new candidates have looked good in the outer garden. They include Hubert Hendrix, Kenny Hills and Harold Long, as well as several others.

Varsity Drops Finale To Snap Win Streak

NNC's Crusaders saw daylight long enough to produce a five-game victory streak before they slipped under water again in the final tilt of the year by dropping a dull contest with Southern Idaho, 46-40.

The orange-clad cagers apparently recuperated from their long losing streak when they raced to three triumphs over SICE and a pair of verdicts over Pacific college.

But their winning ways went by the board Saturday as a stale band of Crusaders rolled over and played dead for the mediocre Southern Idaho Panthers. NNC held a seven-point, 23-16 margin at halftime and hung onto their lead until the fading moments of play when Albion's Keith Amende caught on fire to pour three quick field goals through the hoop and erase NNC's victory chances.

Amende took top scoring honors with 14 points, most of them in the last half. Carlyle Dean and John Cramer tied for NNC by caging 10 each.

In the first game of the final Southern Idaho series the Crusaders rolled to an easy 54-32 win. Big Carlyle Dean meshed 15 tallies to lead the evening's scorers. Reynolds followed with 8 points.

The Crusaders snapped their 15 game losing streak by trouncing Southern Idaho twice, at Albion, by scores of 53-47 and 72-57.

Joanne Burkhart was crowned tip-off queen in the annual tip-off series as the orange and black completely annihilated Pacific 64-28 and 66-32.

Jay Dean and Myron Finkbiener led the attack with 15 points each. Beukelman with 10 trailed them in the scoring column.
