'HUNGRY FOR HOPE' FMB BREAKFAST THEME

"Hungry for Hope" was the theme of the F. M. B. breakfast held recently in Morrison Dining Hall. "We have the bread of life for which a hungry world is longing," observed Mrs. Ira B. Taylor, as she spoke to the group.

Mrs. Paul Schmelzenbach has also been a speaker at one of the recent F. M. B. meetings. She emphasized the persistent and constant care which a Christian should feel for others. Several illustrations of her own experiences in the mission field carried her point out further.

"Great faith inspires great service."

"What we need is some men with helpful spirits to solve the problems of today instead of making problems for the coming generations."

Lilburn Wesche New Crusader Head; Jim Galloway To Put Out Oasis

Dean Galloway was chosen by the Associated Student Body to serve as ASB prexy for next year. Galloway defeated Howard Titterington by a narrow margin in final balloting held last Tuesday, to win the post. In other final elections, Jim Galloway was elected to the editorship of the college annual, the Oasis, and Lilburn Wesche was chosen as editor of the Crusader.

Primary balloting on secondary student council positions will be held today, and the final voting will take place Monday with the two candidates polling the highest number of total votes gaining entrance to the finals.

In accepting the office, Galloway expressed his appreciation to his opponents for the fine spirit of sportsmanship shown throughout the election, and stressed the need of the cooperation of the entire student body next year.

Prior to his election the new prexy had served as freshman class vice president, sophomore class president, philharmonic treasurer and president of the Olympian society. He served briefly as business manager of the Crusader and has been prominent in intramural athletics.

Galloway and Titterington advanced to the finals by defeating Jack Burke and Paul Kunkel in the presidential primaries.

Jim Galloway, new Oasis editor, was president of the LSPs during the past semester and is the present assistant editor of the yearbook. Lilburn Wesche has been Crusader sports editor for the past two years, junior varsity basketball coach and publicity director of varsity athletics.

"SOLITUDE"

As I shut my light
From worldly ways and sight,
I behold God standing loftily—
"See Me."
As I close my lips,
To check from evil slips,
I hear God softly whispering—
"Come Sing."
As I stop my ears,
From all earthly fears,
I hear God sighing woefully—
"For me."
As I lie in bed,
And as I rest my head,
I feel His wisdom fill me through—
"Be true."

Much Ado About Mangum

By Marilyn Perkins

Much of the ado currently being created by student nurses centers about places other than Mangum Hall.

The home of Miss Frances Urschel, freshman class sponsor, was the scene of one of Miss Urschel's favorite ideas—a party to plan a party. Following a lively volleyball game, the class went indoors for more games, refreshments and a class meeting at which they made plans for two more outings to be worked into the busy schedule of this month.

Nampa's city auction yard was the setting for much activity at the seniors' annual rummage sale. Finding themselves at the close of the day with well over $100 profit and a large assortment of clothes still unsold, the big business tycoons decided to stage a second sale at the same place tomorrow.

Misericordia Hall was the second choice selection for the recent district nurses meeting. Originally promising to be the first weiner roast of the 1950 picnicing season, the meeting was later called indoors because of rain.

San Francisco and Boise, though farther away from Mangum Hall, are nevertheless scenes of activity which will be of considerable interest to nurses during the month of May. At Boise will be held a three-day convention of the Idaho Nurses Association, the sessions of one day being especially for student nurses.

Also this month will be the biennial convention of the American Nurses Association at San Francisco. Mary Jane Moore, one of Samaritan's senior students, has been elected to represent the school of nursing at the A. N. A. convention.

("Excuse me" means "May I leave?") ... Of course, you may want to leave if you knock someone down! ... nothing can be more or most unique, level, or perfect; it can be more nearly so, however ... If we don't, they say we are too serious.

If we clip things from other papers, we are too lazy to write them ourselves; if we don't, we are stuck on our staff and stuff.

Open Book—Open Mind

Why not be realistic and allow open-book tests? The 20th century and its great offspring, the atomic age, should make educators cognizant of the deficiencies of the old-style tests.

Webster's Collegiate Dictionary defines test: "Any series of questions or exercises or other means of measuring skill, knowledge, intelligence, capacities, or aptitudes of an individual or group."

The 20th century is the era of the reference book. It is difficult to believe a student could assimilate all the subject material in a single course, let alone in all the courses of four years at the university. What should be taught is how to make swift decisions. There are so many things that slip out of a student's mind when a course is finished. If the ability to reason and use judgment has been well-grounded, the student will be able to discern rapidly.

After graduation, the student has to re-learn many things. In new situations, the college graduate is constantly groping for answers to fit changing conditions.

Too often this is a direct result of learning by rote. Examinations should test the student's ability to make rapid decisions, because that is what the working world demands.

Open-book quizzes will naturally be difficult. They should provide ample opportunity for each person to judge the correct procedure to attain desired results. The quizzes would test how the student used information, not how much he knew before coming to class. But one of the greatest achievements, as far as the professors would be concerned, would be the reduced evil of cheating.

Here would be one type of test that would give ample opportunity to grade the thought process of the individual. Sloppy thinking and methods of study would be penalized under the new system even more than now.

Open-book tests would provide students a chance to interpret and explain as contrasted with the present muddled condition of memory work and fictitious knowledge.—Dale W. Fields, Daily Kansan, University of Kansas.

ADP - LSP 'Harriet' Reviewed

By Daphne Wells

A new tradition has been established at N. N. C. At last, the society plays will be performed two evenings to full houses instead of one evening to a jam-packed, stuffy auditorium filled with craning people eager to catch the next word, if they can. "Harriet" was, by common assent, one of the best society plays to be given here in several years, and it was a worthy play to inaugurate our new tradition.

The play was very well chosen and apparently the enthusiasm with which the cast performed was contagious, for most of the audience was completely unaware of the three-hour length of the drama.

Petey Montgomery portrayed Harriet as only she could and the audience loved it. Handling a difficult role of about 500 lines, she never allowed her audience to become restless during the more-than-average length of some of her speeches.

Calvin Stowe, played by Arnie Zimbleman, was naturally a smaller planet in this universe of stars, but he wheeled about quite as successfully.

Gene Hovee and Jean Kirkpatrick, as the most prominent Beecher kin of Harriet's later life, played their characters extremely well. (Oh yes, Lilburn insists that he was very good also. Some think the beard gave him a resemblance to the dusty pictures of Abe Lincoln, but he is sure it was a Montey Wooley effect.)

Probably the unsung hero of the play was Mickey Sanders, who stepped into the role of Freddie the night before the first performance, learned his lines later that night, and carried on like the good Englishman we hope he is.

Marie Lindsley, Helen Hibbard, and Loree Sanders are to be commended for their surrender to black grease paint and hair dye. The rolling eyes and southern accents seemed to be quite authentic, and we know that in at least one case, they are.

Lois Herron as Mrs. Hobbs, Beverly Woodbeck and Georgia Malpass as the twins, and Pete Burkhart as Mr. Tuttle, contributed a great deal of humor and relieved some very tense moments.

Surely every member of the cast should be congratulated on an excellent production of a fine play. Evelyn Herron and Pauline Hastings, co-directors, must have worked many long hours directing rehearsals, searching for costumes and angling for furniture for the set. Congratulations to them also for directing one of the best plays produced here in a long while.

Crusader Cindermen Get Third Crack At ISC In C. of I. Meet Saturday

NNC's cinder squad will get its third crack at its nemesis, Idaho State College tomorrow night when both schools enter the College of Idaho invitational track meet at Caldwell. Eight colleges will participate in the meet which is scheduled for 8:00 o'clock. Preliminary heats in the hurdles and dashes will be run off in the afternoon.

ISC's Bengals have had a hex on the Crusaders in their first two meetings this year. At Pocatello the Crusaders wound up in third place behind the second-place Bengals, and two weeks ago in the NNC invitational meet the ISC lads copped first while the locals took runner-up honors.

Although the feud between the Bengals and Crusaders will highlight the meet inasmuch as the two squads are rated as co-favorites, Northern Idaho may prove to be a dangerous contender. The Loggers came in third in the NNC invitational and boast one of the top cinder burners in the state in Don Wisdom, a freshman sprinter who chalked up 16 1/4 points in the Nampa meet.

Pacing the Crusaders will be Doug Powers, who totaled eight points in his last meet. He will enter the hurdles and the 440 and may run in the mile relay.

In the NNC invitational meet the Crusaders rolled up 42 3/4 points for second place. ISC with 54 1/2 captured first place, North Idaho took third with 31 1/2 and Eastern Oregon placed fourth with 20 tallies.

For the Crusaders Powers took first in the 220 low hurdles and Hubert Herron won top honors in the javelin. Second place ribbons went to Reynolds in the 100-yard dash, Cook in the mile, Sullivan in the 440 and Powers in the broad jmp. Far-rand tied for second in the high hurdles.

Finishing third were Paul Sutherland in the mile and 2 mile, Far-rand in the pole vault, Kenneda in the shot and Reynolds in the broad jump. Hills tied for third in the high jump.

Fourth place awards were taken by Hubbard in the 440, Marks in the mile and 2 mile and Kenneda in the discus. Reynolds tied for fourth in the pole vault.

SUTHERLAND WINS CHS GIRLS' TENNIS TOURNAY

Ellen Sutherland, college high student, won the girls tournament by defeating Naomi Volk. Dale Lilly and Curt Beukelman have yet to play the semi-finals and the winner of this tournament will play Bob Harmon for the championship.

Panthers Here in Twin Bill Monday: Bellamy, Olson Probable Mound Men

Southern Idaho's Panthers and NNC will re-open the home baseball season next Monday when they clash in a double-header, starting at 1:45. Bellamy and Olson are the probable mound choices for the Crusaders.

Larry Jackson's sturdy right arm cut off NNC's winning hopes last week as the young BJC fast-baller stopped the Crusaders twice in a row by scores of 3-2 and 8-6.

Prior to Jackson's pair of stop-pers the orange and black had ridden rough shod past the Broncs by scores of 14-9 and 7-2.

Clary Olson was the victim in the last encounter between the two nines as BJC touched him for eight runs in the first six innings. Bellamy replaced him on the mound in the seventh and pitched shut-out ball the remainder of the way.

A six-run blast in the seventh almost pulled the game out of the fire, however. Singles by Titterington and Beukelman, a double by Hendrix, three errors and a walk produced six tallies.

Titterington with three singles in four times at bat and Hendrix with a double and single in five tries, topped the Crusaders at the plate.

Jackson pitched the Broncs to their first win with a neat one-hitter as BJC took a 3-2 triumph. Hendrix's single in the eighth, which scored Weatherford from second, was the only safe blow off the Boise ace.

Bellamy yielded nine hits to the Broncs but sensational fielding by his mates pulled him out of numerous jams.

Clary Olson tossed a spectacular four-hitter at the Broncs to register his first win of the year as the Nampans chalked up a 7-2 decision. Olson was never in any real danger and his team mates slammed out 14 hits to provide him with a big working margin. Whitey Johnson, with three triples and Hendrix with three singles and three runs batted in, paced the bombardment.

STUDENT LOAN FUND

Dr. Corlett has announced that advertising plans are progressing rapidly since the institution of the Student Loan Fund last month. Posters and letters have been sent out to various parties on the educational zone.

Mr. Johnson spoke in the interest of the fund at several churches on his trip to Chicago and New York from which he returned Thursday morning.

In their first meeting with the Broncs, the Crusaders put on one of their biggest offensive displays in several years as they powered out a 14-9 lambasting.

Beukelman belted out two homers and Weatherford and Unger got one each to lead the way. Unger slammed out a triple and Sanders collected a double in the wild spree. Bellamy received credit for the win although he required relief in the eighth. BJC used four pitchers, with Howard being charged with the defeat.

CHAPMAN CHAPS BURN CHAPEL DEBT ON 'PAY-OFF' DAY HELD APRIL 30TH

Old bills and contracts from the Chapman Hall chapel were burned last Sunday afternoon on Chapman Hall steps after receiving an offering to pay the balance of the debts. Following dinner there was a march to the chapel and each one who passed by placed something in the offering plate. The balance due on the chapel was $118.74, and $118.80 was received.

From the chapel, the crowd adjourned to the front steps where they watched the old bills burned. On the bottom of the pile were placed the duplicate and triplicate copies of the contract of a $500 loan from Willis Colestock. The bills of materials were put on top of this and on these was placed the original of the contract. Selby Gartner, who did much of the work on the chapel, lit the match to the documents. While the papers were burning, a quartet composed of Quincy Angier, Butch Bloomquist, Kenny Hills and Earl Embree sang, "Let All the People Praise Thee."

The total cost of the chapel was something over $1100. This was paid by the fellows themselves. Plans are being made to furnish the chapel next year with a phonograph and records.

Ceremony at Chapman Sunday

REGISTRARS MEET

At the National Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admission Officers held at San Francisco Monday - Friday of last week, Professor Wilson represented N. N. C. There were 450 representatives from all over the United States in attendance at this meeting. Dr. Patterson, who was on the accrediting Commission when Bethany-Peniel was accredited, was also present.

Professor Wilson was on one section which was working on the problem of the assignment of classroom and laboratory space. U. S. C.'s problem was where to put 900 students in one classroom.

One day during the week the convention went to the University of Stanford for a session. On the way to the convention, Prof. Wilson visited the church at Vallejo, where he was once pastor. Ted Lancaster, former N. N. C. grad, is now pastor there.
