NNC Harriers Prime For Meet

Cross country men ran through increasingly stiff workouts last week as Coach LaMont Lee put the finishing touches on his Crusader harrier squad, which will journey to Pocatello next Saturday to take part in the annual Idaho State Invitational. Most of the top intermountain colleges and universities will be represented at the meet, won last year by I. S. C.

Recent time trials revealed a great deal of power in the Crusader squad when Cook, Burkhart, Sutherland, and Lais all turned in exceptional times. Red-headed Clinton Cook topped the list in all trials, but the competition given him by Burkhart was terrific, with the freshman from Washington only a second behind at the finish. Paul Sutherland, three-year varsity letterman, was tops in his heat as he edged Jim Lais over the four mile course. Although Sutherland's time was not equal to that of Cook or Burkhart, he was never pressed and finished strong.

Rounding out the first five in time trials was Rod Newman, another promising first-year man. Coach Lee has not yet revealed his traveling squad but Cook, Burkhart, Sutherland, Lais and Newman seem assured of berths with Ed McDowell, Chan Hammagren, Art Sullivan, Keith Leamon and Glen Wardlaw battling for the remaining positions.

EIGHT SENIORS, THREE JUNIORS WIN NOMINATION TO WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

Eleven upper classmen, Dean Galloway, Howard Titterington, Paul Kunkel, Carol Sharp, Tom Kelly, Dorothy Davis, Jeanne Kirkpatrick, Arnie Zimbelman, Paul Sutherland, Mary Alyce Galloway and Chester Galloway were recently elected by the student body to represent NNC in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities for 1950-51.

Eight are Seniors

The first eight named are seniors and the other three are juniors. They were chosen from a list of twenty names submitted to the student body by a nominating committee composed of the student council and members of the administration.

Factors considered for election were scholarship, leadership and participation in extra curricular activities, citizenship, service to the school, promise of future usefulness to business and society and Christian character and influence.

Galloway Is Religion Major

A religion major, Dean Galloway climaxes a long list of executive positions held during his college career by wielding the gavel as student body president this year. He also serves as pastor of the New Plymouth Nazarene church. He has been president of the Oly society, business manager of the Crusader, and student council representative. For the last two years he has been selected as the outstanding lineman in intramural football, and has been prominent in society athletics.

Howard Titterington transferred last year from Cascade college of Portland and is a business major. He is vice president of the student body, was an officer in the ADP society last year and has been prominent in athletics and music. He was a member of the A Capella choir and of the varsity baseball nine.

President of his sophomore class and of the SLAs last year, Chester Galloway of Kalama, Washington, now serves the junior class as student council representative. He has been prominent in athletics during the past two years as a member of the varsity basketball squad and of the SLA athletic teams, and is a history-philosophy major.

Oasis Editor Chosen

Paul Kunkel of Hoisington, Kan., was editor of the school annual, the Oasis, last year. In addition to other duties he is student body treasurer and president of the Philosophy club. He is a philosophy major.

Tow Kelly was editor of the Crusader last year and has been publicity director for the Sunday School during the past three years. He is a religious education major and plans to be a Sunday School evangelist following his graduation.

1950 Oasis Wins First Class Rating; Honor Is the First Won Since 1947

First class honor rating has been awarded to the 1950 Oasis by the National Scholastic Press Association. The yearbook, edited by Paul Kunkel, is the first Oasis to win this honor since the 1947 book.

In the critical judging made by this nation-wide yearbook organization, all technical points are considered. Among the points of year book content which were judged upon were: Photography, literary style, design, theme, piece layout, and complete coverage of the college year. The 1950 Oasis was especially praised for its theme. The book was dedicated to Professor Sutherland.

Miss Washburn was the sponsor. Staff members included Pete Burkhart, business manager, and Gene Hove, literary editor.

Jim Galloway, 1951 Oasis editor, will also enter this year's book in the National Scholastic competition.

Dr. Culver Hostess At Afternoon Tea

Dr. Thelma Culver recently entertained members of the F. T. A. and several critic teachers at a tea given in her home.

A centerpiece of autumn flowers effected a fall atmosphere at the tea table presided over by Miss Loa Mockler and Miss Daphne Wells. Doughnuts, cider and tea were served.

Miss Norma Kastella, in charge of arrangements, was assisted by Miss Ethel Allison, FTA co-sponsor, and Miss Helen Wilson, College High School critic teacher.

Special guests included Dr. and Mrs. L. T. Corlett, Mrs. Leslie Parrott, Miss Gwilet Larsen and Mrs. Mabel Billick, Nampa Junior High teacher.

Revival Effort Closes Sunday Night; Dr. Young Places Emphasis On Prayer

LSP-Oly Play Cast Begins Production

The Barretts of Wimpole 'Street' A three-act comedy, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", written by Rudolf Besier, will be presented November 23 by the LSP-Oly societies.

Built around the romance of Robert Browning, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" relates how he won the crippled poetess, Elizabeth Barrett despite the opposition of her father.

Other Members Cast

Other members of the cast include Dan Jackson as Dr. Chambers, Barbara Gish as Wilson, Connie Jo Nelson as Bella Hedley, Wes Peterson as Henry Bevan, Ercil Bowman as Dr. Ford-Waterlow, and Rod Newman as Captain Surtees Cook.

The Barrett children include Raynette Pool as Henrietta, Ruth Allen as Arabel, Al Fisher as Octavius, Art Sullivan as Septimus, George Mowry as Alfred, Robert Calkins as Charles, Myron Finkbiener as Henry and Don Christianson as George.

Allene Lund, program chairman of the Olys and Petey Montgomery, program chairman of the LSPs will direct the play.

Mainwaring, Robins To Be IRC Speakers

NNC's International Relations club will present Bernard Mainwaring, editor of the Idaho Free Press, and regarded as one of the outstanding political authorities in the northwest.

Mr. Mainwaring will deliver his address next Friday at 7:30 preceding a miscellaneous art recital which will begin at 8:15.

Elections for delegates to the regional conference of the IRC will be held following Mr. Mainwaring's speech. The conference will be held Nov. 17 and 18 at the College of Puget Sound in Tacoma, Wash.

Dr. Corlett Leaves On Inspection Tour

Dr. L. T. Corlett, NNC president, will leave Sunday evening for a three-day inspection tour of colleges in Utah. He is a member of a committee of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher schools, which will visit Westminster college in Salt Lake City and Snow college at Ephraim, Utah.

Dr. Corlett will return Wednesday and the following Sunday will leave for Calgary, Canada, for a five-day holiness convention at the Calgary Nazarene church. While there he plans to visit Canadian Nazarene college at Red Deer, Alberta.

Revival services with Dr. Samuel Young, general superintendent of the Church, as speaker, have been continuing through this week at college church. The twice-daily services will continue through Sunday.

Dr. Riley, college church pastor, urged for an increased interest in early morning prayer, and Dr. Young requested that 100 persons volunteer to pray 30 minutes each day from twelve to five in the afternoon.

Dr. Young, in speaking of the nature and manifestations of sin, said, "Sin is dodging the issue. The very nature of sin is such that it wants to come up; the purpose of the Holy Spirit is to show sin up."

"You can't play with sin, for it is nothing to play with... Sinners at the altar confess what everybody knows, but the thing that is really bothering him is kept to the last," concluded Dr. Young.

Chapman Gets Change in Deans

Chapman Hall underwent a change of deans last week when heavy teaching duties forced Dr. Ford to give up his position.

Replacing Dr. Ford as dean of Chapman will be Howard Titterington, senior student and vice-president of the student body. Howard, who is married, is a transfer student, coming to NNC last year from Cascade college.

With the announcement of the change in deans, Dr. Corlett also announced the introduction of a new system at Chapman hall. Rules are to be tightened slightly according to Dr. Corlett. With the innovation of the new rules, however, all existing demerits are to be cancelled and a more methodical system for use of laundry and kitchen privileges is to be put into effect.

Yell Leader Tryouts Set for Next Week

Election of yell leaders for the Crusader basketball squad will be held some time next week, Dean Galloway, ASB president, has announced. Definite date of the tryouts will be set by the student council next Tuesday.

Among candidates who are planning to turn out are Jeanne Conrey, Gerry Proudfit, Rosie Lyons, and Claudetta Martin, George Mowry, Dick Ramsey and Naomi Williamson, Ivan Weatherby, Ron Johnson, Rosalind and Raynette Pool, Barbara Larsen and Eunice Broadbent.

The yell leaders will try out by teams but will be voted on individually with the four polling the highest number of votes winning the positions.

Other action of the student council included the appointing of a student Rotarian each month. The upper classman chosen for the honor will attend the Rotary club luncheon each Wednesday as guest of the organization.

"Man Hunt"

By Dave Cook

"Never underestimate the power of a woman"—a trite but apparently true statement judging from all indications left in the aftermath of Sadie Hawkins day. When it comes to aggressiveness, the so-called weaker sex has it! If you don't want to take my word for it just ask the man who owns one (gal) as a result of that chase.

I am forced to admit that all of the girls weren't aggressive outwardly (some of them were very cunning) but basically the motives were the same and ultimately the outcome was the same. This is not serious enough to worry about, however, because it is a well-known fact that the female is most dangerous in any other species too. From this we may conclude that this is merely the surfacing of latent activities and is very normal when compared to the actions of other less civilized animals (Gullibility of the male will not be discussed here.)

Seriously though, everyone was hearted cooperation of both the pleasantly surprised by the whole boys and the girls which made the day such an outstanding success. We are all looking forward to Sadie Hawkins day next year—remember that girls!!

Wide-Awake Home Ec Dept. Moves To Top With New Teachers, Courses

Positions in seven different fields are open to graduates of N. C.'s Home Economics Department, which has been expanded this year under the direction of Mrs. Florence D. Aller.

Job openings are in the fields of dietetics, designing, radio programs, extension work, teaching and salesladies in dress shops. It is also invaluable for girls who are planning to make marriage their career.

Improvements Made

The Home Economics Department is located in the rear of the Speech hall over the heating plant. Among improvements made this summer were the addition of a waiting room and two new offices for Mrs. Aller and Mrs. Paul Anderson. The rooms now being used were varnished, painted, and re-decorated and work will begin soon on the old Grammar School building, which is being remodeled to be used as the future Home Ec building.

Mrs. Florence D. Aller, who received her master's degree from Oregon State college at Corvallis, is this year's director of the department. Mrs. Aller taught in the department at Corvallis from 1947 through 1949 before coming to NNC. Assisting her in the department this year is Mrs. Paul Anderson, a graduate of NNC, where she received an A. B. in Home Economics.

Miss Eloise Shute, a senior Home Ec major this year is instructing classes for the College High school.

Courses Listed

Courses offered this semester in the departments are: Introduction to Home Ec, Beginning and Advanced Foods, Textiles, Family Relationships and Child Development. Designing, Interior Decoration, and Costume Designing are being taught by the Art department, and Nutrition and Dietetics is taught by Samaritan hospital.

The department plans to offer clothing and tailoring as well as foods next semester if the schedule permits. A new course offered this year is an additional semester in Child Development, making it a two-semester course instead of the former one semester. Family Relationships has formerly been offered only one semester, but is now being taught every semester.

The Home Economics courses are not limited to Home Ec majors, but are open to anyone desiring to take them.

The Home Economics club represents the department in extra-curricular activities. The club recently purchased a crystal punch bowl set for the department and has been selling candies in the dorms one night each week.

Advice To The Lovelorn

with Dr. Q. Pidselper

Dear Dr. Q. Pidselper:

I'm at my wits end! I'm new at college and very inexperienced in the ways of college life. You see, I think I'm rather shy around girls. At home my mother always arranged for my dates and then accompanied us, sitting between the girl and I. That worked fine but now there is no one to replace her. Several times I have decided to ask for a date, but always at the moment I meet the girl of my choice my face turns fiery red and something clamps tightly against my larynx, clinging with a "death-like" grip and relaxing only enough to allow those famous last words, "Nice day, isn't it? So long."—to creep out.

As if this isn't enough, I now find myself "on the bench" because of my class in "Family Relationship". Please try to take my mother's place and tell me what I can do.

Hopefully yours,
A Bashful Freshman.

My Dear Bewildered Friend:

Although your request that I take the place of your mother is a bit unusual I readily accept the responsibility. You must first overcome your allergy to girls by becoming more immune to them. This can best be accomplished by frequent small doses of conversation with the subjects themselves, taken at various intervals throughout the day. It is important to chew the content

Thots 'O Gold

By Dick Friesen

Temptation to the Christian is as common as his physical environment, as ever present as the air he breathes, and as essential as the fire through which gold is purified and made useful. There is no fact of which a young Christian should be so mindful as this. He has accepted Christ as his Savior; this does not eliminate temptation but rather illuminates it. Temptation becomes keen and vivid because of his desire to resist it. If the hearts of we students were uncovered to our vision we would perceive that temptations common to us are also common to others. Temptation is not a peculiar thing as some think, but rather a normal element in Christian development. The fact that temptation is common to all Christians is comforting. However not nearly as encouraging as the fact that all temptation is to be conquered. "With every temptation He will make a way to escape that ye may be able to bear it." The escape is provided by God in His faithfulness. If we are honest in our pursuit of the way of escape, God will show it to us, but if we desire to yield to the temptation more than we desire the way of escape we need rather to seek the way of salvation.

If temptation is common to man, and God is faithful to provide a way of escape (as the scripture confirms), how may we then find the way of escape?

Matt. 26:41 — "Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation." We might say, watch and pray that we might enter into the provided way of escape. How faithful God is to make a provision whereby we can be conquerors. There's victory in Jesus. How? By daily communion with Him in private devotions, a free testimony, and an honest heart, seeking after spiritual truth.

of each conversation thoroughly, taking care, however, to swallow only a small portion of the total dosage.

Continue treatments until conversation with girls becomes just as natural and affectionate as conversation with your pet dog or cat and I firmly believe that you will find that your worries have vanished completely.

In closing let me emphasize the fact that girls are very important to you as a future husband. This fact was proven by a recent nationwide survey which found that over 99% of the wives in the United States were formerly girls.

Wishing you a speedy and complete recovery, I remain
Professor Q. Pidselper.

I'm sorry Basil, but you'll still have to see Mr. Johnson before I can give you credit.

SUB ROSA

Two weeks gone by again and I'll have to tell you that I am disappointed in the lack of human interest material available on this campus. Even Sadie Hawkins eve failed to bring out the usual "unusual" combinations, or else my bifocals need changing! We did overhear the other evening, though, Slim confiding that he was going on a diet because Barb thought he was a little on the plump side.

Miss Wilson is taking her devotions extra seriously this week. The other morning she got up at 4:30 to investigate some noise, and then decided to put in her washing as long as she was up. The kids left for play practice along about six, and she thought prayer meeting time had been changed so over to the church she rushed a half-hour early! She says it was a wonderful feeling though to be alone all that time for private devotions. Wouldn't it be wonderful if more of us would try that, especially during this week of special revival effort?

Bill Osterhout, we were watching while you put up that poor excuse for a flight from Sadie (Evelyn) Hawkins. You ought to take lessons from Eugene Southwell—that boy knows what it means to be really cornered!

We sincerely hope you have recovered from those dreadful wounds you displayed over in Sutherland, Dick Ivester. We didn't realize that one boy (oops, excuse me, MAN) could take such a beating and survive.

Well, as the undertaker said, I must be shoveling on!

OLYs Smash To Four Straight Victories Look Like Shoo-Ins For Championship

Oly	4	1	0
ADP	3	1	0
LSP	1	2	1
SLA	0	4	1

With the grid season in the final week of play, the Olys are leading the loop with four wins against one setback. Close behind in the standings are the ADPs with three wins and one defeat. Another win for the Olys will give them undisputed possession of first place, since the game is against the second place ADPs.

Olys Line the Best

The Olys have shown thus far this season a very potent grid nine, a team that has scored at least three times each game. Leading the red and white attack has been Millard Reynolds, passer par excellence, assisted ably on the receiving end by Skip Wilcox and Myron Finkbiener. The Oly line has been the best in the loop, with such stalwarts as D. Galloway, Hellen-ga, and G. Mowry leading the way.

The SLAs have a better team than the standings indicate. Two of their defeats and one tie resulted in fourth quarter touchdowns by the opponents. In the first LSP game the SLAs were holding a 13-7 lead midway in the final quarter when that lightning-fast Douglas Powers intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards unmolested for the tying six points.

Olys Roll On

The SLAs were soundly trounced by the Olys in their first meeting, the score being 25-0. The Reynolds-Wilcox pass combination couldn't be stopped as they scored three of the four touchdowns.

The Olys' next victims were the ADPs. The Reynolds to Wilcox and Reynolds to Finkbiener pass combinations were too much for the purple and gold as they lost by 0-19 margin.

By handily beating the LSPs, 19-0, the Olys evened the score with the blue and white. Earlier the LSPs had beaten the loop leaders on a forfeit.

The following game proved to be the closest contest of the season. It found the ADPs coming from behind to eke out a close 7-6 verdict. Carlyle Dean tossed to Dave Burkhardt for the winning touchdown and extra point. The latter made an almost impossible catch on the TD pass that covered some 20 yards.

Olys Four in Row

Last Monday found the powerhouse Oly gang in usual form as they defeated the SLAs 19-7. Skip Wilcox snagged two touchdown passes thrown by the trusty right arm of Millard Reynolds. The latter scored the other TD on a running play. The fracas proved costly to the Olys in that they lost the services of their star lineman, D. Galloway, through a shoulder injury.

ADPs Show Strength

By scoring three touchdowns, the ADPs finally got their scoring machine rolling as they defeated the LSPs 19-6. The feature of the game, however, was Doug Powers' interception and run back of some 40 yards of an ADP pass to score the blue and white's only touchdown. Ralph Unger threw a TD pass to Curt Beukelman and two to Carlyle Dean for the ADP tallies.

Science Club Views Colored Pictures

Films and a demonstration of laboratory techniques by Carl Stiff were the main features of last week's Science Society meeting.

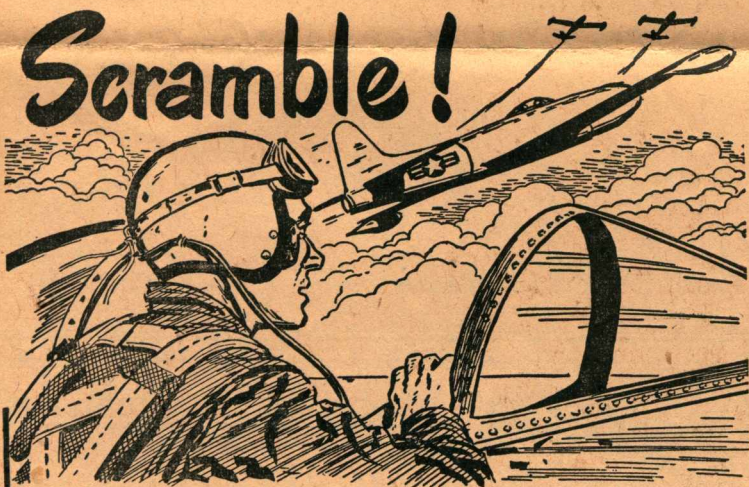

The films were: Crude Oil Distillation and The Gift of Green, a color film which explained the process of photosynthesis. The program was under the direction of Ericil Bowman, chairman of the chemistry division.

The next meeting is to be held on Thursday evening, November 30, at which time math-physics, biological and chemistry sections will be meeting to work out their various projects.

Scriblerus Chooses Discussion Theme

During this school year, one of the primary phases of the Scriblerus club meetings will be the discussion of American literature centering around the authors of Hawthorne's era.

Officers for this year are: President, Pauline Rinehart; vice-president and program chairman, Daphne Wells; secretary-treasurer, Lois Herron; and social chairman, Loa Mockler.

Varsity Continues Basketball Drills

NNC's varsity cage squad continued into the second week of practice with passing and dribbling drills being stressed by Coach LaMont Lee. In addition a part of each training session has been devoted to free-throw shooting, set shots, tip-ins and driving lay-ins.

The success of this year's Crusaders will depend largely on the play of the seven returning lettermen. The squad is definitely weak in reserve strength, and will probably remain in that condition until the freshmen on the squad have had enough game experience to acclimate themselves with college basketball.

The return of Bud Baska and Carlyle Dean this year will bolster the backboard strength of the team considerably.

Called up to the varsity from the freshman squad recently were Roger Wilcox, Myron Finkbiener, Devert Herman, Curt Beukelman and Loyd Hills.

Wilcox hails from Queen Anne high school in Seattle; Finkbiener performed for the state champion Nampa Bulldogs, Beukelman played for College High, Herman gained his high school experience at Sidney, Mont., and Hills moved up from the junior varsity last year.

SLA	4	1
LSP	3	2

ADP	0	5

All-around strength on the part of the SLA team has placed them on top in the girls volleyball league. The SLAs took first place by crushing all their opposition except the LSPs who defeated them 43-32 earlier in the season. Leading the team are Jessie Rice, Nerilu Anderson and Faye Carper who with her ace serve scored 24 points in last Friday's game with the LSPs, soundly defeating them, 54-19.

Tied for second place are the LSPs and Olys who have each won three and lost two. The Olys received their first defeats of the year when they were trimmed 30-26 by the SLAs and 36-26 by the LSPs. Heading the Oly team are Naomi Williamson, Lois Williamson and Jo Sanders. For the LSPs it's Connie Mitchell who, in a 36-26 decision over the ADPs, scored 14 points in one turn at serving and a total of 21 for the game.

Trailing in last place are the ADPs with five losses against no wins which gives them a definite cinch for fourth place.

tion. He hails from Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Mary Alyce Galloway has been prominent in the ADP society and is secretary of the student body. An English major, she is the wife of another Who's Who selectee, Chester Galloway.

A music major, Carol Sharp was a member of the King's Karolers, which represented the college during the summer. She is a member of the A Capella choir and was the leading soloist in last year's civic presentation of the "Messiah". An Olympian, she will graduate next summer with a Bachelor of Music degree.

Dorothy Davis has been a member of the A Capella choir, girls trio, King's Karolers, Philharmonic choir and other music groups. She has participated in several Oly plays and was program chairman of that society. She is a music major and comes from Nampa.

AWS Prexy Wins

Jeanne Kirkpatrick is president of the A. W. S., and an officer in the Scriblerus club. She is an English major and has been active in A Capella and other music organizations. She was a member of the King's Karolers last summer. Her home town is Walla Walla, Washington.

President of the Men's club last year, Arnie Zimbelman of Acampo, California, has been prominent in speech and dramatics, as a member of the ADP society, and has held several offices in that society. He is student council representative for the senior class.

Art Classes Conclude Autumn Field Tours

Members of NNC's Art classes have been taking the last field trips of the year this week as cold weather will prevent any further excursions until next spring.

One group visited Walter's Ferry where they sketched the old stagecoach depot and stable. Another group watched the operation of a modern blue-printing machine owned and operated by Marion Vail.

Sutherland, Rapp Cop Inter-Society Extemporaneous Speech Championship

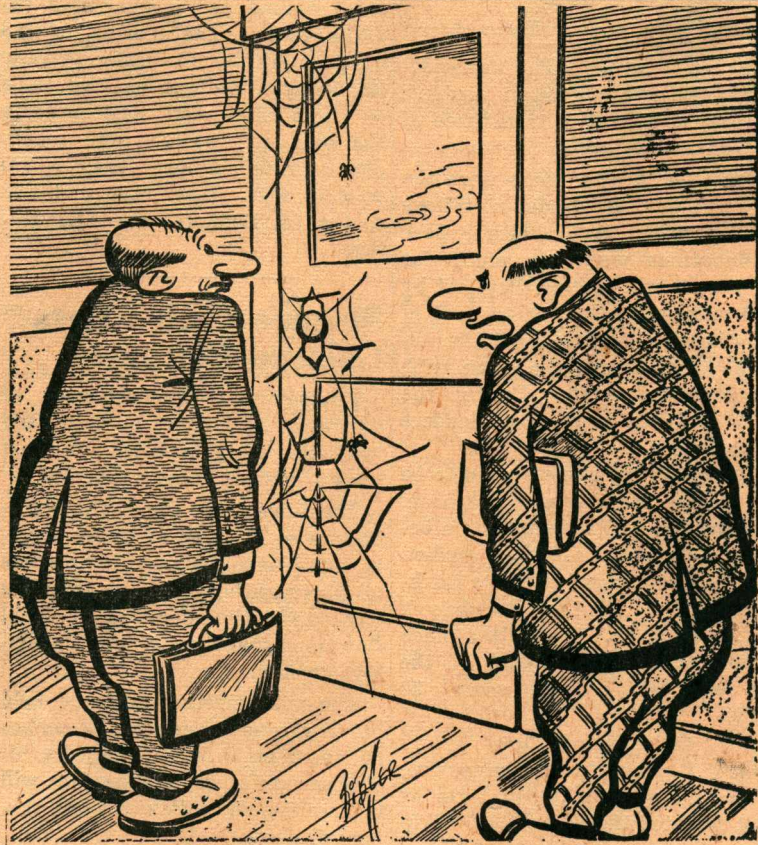

Paul Sutherland, SLA, and Carolemay Rapp, LSP, were named winners in the men's and women's divisions of inter-society extemporaneous speaking. The contest was held last week in the Speech Hall, with each society represented in at least one of the divisions.

Lettie Potts, SLA, copped second place in the women's extemporaneous speaking group. Placing second and third in the men's division were Delmar Cook, ADP, and Lyle Starkey, SLA, with Paul Beals, SLA, winning third.

Plans for a declamatory contest are now being made by officers of the Speech club. Sections for student competition will include Bible reading, Shakespeare dramatic declamations, non-original orations, poetry and three-minute radio speeches.
