Philharmonic choral group presents the Messiah.

College Church Will Be Scene Of Messiah Presentation Sun.

Armed Services Take Nine NNC Students

Nine students who were registered for school this year have left for some branch of the service. Of these, six were freshmen and three were juniors.

Gene Kiel, Vern Fuller, Devert Herman and Elwin Selz, four freshmen, dropped with intentions of joining the Air Force. Gordon Mitchell and Chan Hammagren, both freshmen, have completed induction process for the Navy. Glen Wardlow, a junior, has reported for Naval induction and Bill Deems and George Botts have their call back into service, having been in the reserve.

Williamson Captures Poetry Reading Title

Winning top honors in the poetry reading division of the Speech contest was Naomi Williamson of the Oly society, who read "Patterns". Barbara Gish, Oly, and Imogene Harris, SLA, tied for second, with the selections "The Highwayman" and "Maud Muller" and third place went to George Pfenninger, SLA, reading "The Village Blacksmith".

The Philharmonic Choral Society of the Northwest Nazarene College School of Music will present Handel's Messiah Sunday, December 10, in the College Church of the Nazarene. There will be two performances this year; the first one at 2:45 Sunday afternoon and the other one at 8:15 in the evening.

The 200-voice chorus, directed by Charles Ross, is made up of students, faculty members and townspeople. Featured soloists include Carol Sharp, soprano; Delores Lovett, contralto; Richard Lindbloom, tenor; and Marvin Bloomquist, bass. With the exception of Mr. Lindbloom, who is an alumnus of NNC, the soloists are members of the music school. The accompanists will be Elaine Carlson, organist, and Lucille Wilson, pianist.

Mr. Ross is well-known in the Boise valley for his outstanding performances both as a soloist and a choir director. Before coming to the Northwest, he was a resident of California where he was a private voice teacher and director of music at Pomona Presbyterian church. He has appeared in performances at the Los Angeles Hollywood Bowl and has studied with John C. Wilcox and Harold Hurlbut. Mr. Ross has been on the NNC staff since 1948.

Fine Arts Program To Be Presented Tonight in College Auditorium

Program numbers for the faculty Fine Arts program of the year have been announced by the School of Music. The program will begin tonight at 8:15 in the college chapel.

Featured during the evening will be Ivalee Bolerjack, pianist; Warren Franklin, baritone; Dorothy Long, artist; James DeCoursey, violinist, and Archie Jesse, baritone horn soloist.

Miss Bolerjack will play Tocatta from Bach's Sixth Partita; the finale from Chopin's Sonata in B minor and Jeux d'eau by Ravel.

Warren Franklin will sing an operatic aria by Verdi, "Il Lacerato Spirito", "I Will Sing New Songs of Gladness" from Dvorak's Biblical songs and "Some Rival Has Stolen My Love Away", by Broadwood. He will be accompanied by Double E. Hill.

Dorothy Long will present a representative number from the Art Department. Archie Jesse, band director, will play Fantasy Brilliante by Urban and will be accompanied by Elaine Carlson.

Mr. DeCoursey will play the first movement of the Beethoven Sonata No. 5; Minuetto by Mozart, and Liebesfreud by Kriesler. His accompanist will be Lucille Wilson.

NNC Band Prominent In Various Activities

Heading the Samaritan hospital parade and providing entertainment at basketball games and pep rallies are a few of the activities taken part in by the N. N. C. band.

Director-baritonist Archie Jessee reports that the attendance has been good and that spirit is fine. He added that there is room for new members, especially woodwind players and he urged those interested to turn out to a practice. Sessions are held Mondays at 4:00 p. m. and on Thursdays at 6:30 in the chapel.

Jessee points to the shortage of music as holding his musicians back. Support of the band has been good and some new music has been allotted to alleviate the deficiency in music supplies. One piece, "Billy Sunday's Favorite Selections, has been ordered in preparation for a sacred concert.

Thelma Thompson is chairman of the committee in charge of refreshments and games, with Edith Anderson and Ella Harris assisting. Rose Voget is responsible for invitations.

Other plans include a gift exchange among guests, consisting of non-expensive presents to be traded.

Lettermen's Club Selects 12 Nominees For Tip-Off Queen and Princesses

Business Club Views Typewriter Equipm't

A dozen Business Club members accompanied by Mrs. Rose Voget and Prof. Hays Johnson, were the guests of the Idaho Typewriter Exchange in Boise last night.

The machines demonstrated were Ditto, Victor Adding machines, Friden Calculators and Dictaphones.

Those present were Bill Harris, Earl Embree, George McUne, Joy Burke, Ken Nybakken, Bill Dykes, Lois Becker, Rosie Lyon, Don Messman, Norma Montgomery, Joyce Harris and Earlene Tapley.

Japanese Minister FMB Guest Speaker

Chester Galloway, student of N. N. C., was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Foreign Missionary Band yesterday.

Mr. Galloway spoke concerning Japan, and to help illustrate his talk he showed moving pictures which he had taken while he was in Japan a short time after the war.

Last week, Rev. Mitamasau, a Presbyterian minister for 20 years in Japan, was the guest speaker. Rev. Mitamasau showed some films concerning the work in Japan, and also sang several songs in his native tongue.

Twelve of NNC's fair young maidens were chosen by the N Club this week as nominees for the 1951 Tip-Off Queen and her Princesses. The Queen will be chosen from the upper classes and will have two attendants from the upper division and two from the lower classes.

Those chosen for the honor by the lettermen's club were: Seniors—Meryle Burkhart, Jeannie Kirkpatrick, and Connie Jo Nelson; Juniors, Merilu Anderson, Mary Alyce Galloway and Faye Strunk; Sophomores, Naomi Williamson, Jeanne Conrey and Pat Wilkes, and Freshmen, Betty Beuge, Ruth Jensen and Estelle Schroeder.

Members of the student body will vote for three upper division girls and two lower division girls sometime in January. The highest upperclass girl will be declared Queen and the next two will be her attendants along with the two highest from the lower division.

The identity of the queen will not be known until the night of the game when, just prior to entering the auditorium, she will be handed a bouquet of roses signifying the honor.

Other business conducted by the N club at their recent meeting included the forming of committees to investigate the awarding of non-athletic letters and for drawing up a constitution.

National Assemblies To Present Soloist In Special Chapel Program Wednesday

Albert Wilcox, baritone soloist, will represent the National School Assembly programs here Wednesday, December 13.

Mr. Wilcox has appeared in concerts, operas, moving pictures, television, and radio, and in 1949 he was the national winner of the Atwater-Kent Auditions award. Traveling with him is his accompanist, Harvey Hinshaw, who is an accomplished concert pianist.

Marimbas Slated

On January 8, at 8 p. m., another National Assembly program—the Wheelers Melo-Marimbas—will be presented. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, Miss Emma Kasch, and two giant marimbas compose this group of five.

Many types of music will be featured in this program, including popular numbers and different classical compositions. One of the hi-lights of the performance will be Miss Kasch playing the well-known "Flight of the Bumble Bee" in 42 seconds.

Science Wonders Coming

James Pitton's Science Wonders, another National Assembly program, will be here on February 23. Mr. Pitton, sometimes called The Chemistry Wizard, will trace the story of the atomic bomb; give facts about the Atomic Energy project; and will give several other demonstrations.

Other National Assembly programs of the future are Maurice Koukel, violinist, who will be heard in March; and the Mississippi Jubilee Singers, a colored quartet, which will be here in April.

Christian Living Stressed By Speakers Throughout Faculty Preaching Mission

Faculty Preaching Mission was held last week with members of the faculty bringing the messages in each chapel service. Dr. Corlett sounded the keynote Monday morning in chapel when he spoke of the two houses, one built on the rock and the other built on the sand.

In drawing comparisons to human lives, he stressed the importance of building our lives upon the solid rock so that we may have resources to draw upon in the time of trouble. This emphasis was carried on by Prof. Lee in his Tuesday morning message when he said "Christians must be able to take it."

The importance of using what talents and abilities we do have was shown by Prof. Hansen in Wednesday chapel. Thursday, Prof. Sutherland gave effective illustrations regarding the futility of harboring groundless fears and letting them stampede us into acting foolishly.

Prof. Wilson, following the same line of thought, stressed the need for reserves of character. He also said that times of trouble are good times to turn to God.

Saturday evening, Prof. Finkbier reinforced and correlated the other messages when he pointed out that much of man's failures result from his loss of prospective. He summed up the preceding messages by saying, "We have been too long in one place."

A fitting climax was added to the series of messages by Prof. Sanner when he spoke of eternal life which, he said, "is the outcome of sanctification."

Society Plays in Hands of Judges; Difficult Decision To Be Forthcoming

Once more the society plays are events of the past and the only thing left to speculate about is the decision of the judges. Perhaps they aren't to be envied. Most everyone we've heard talking seems to appreciate the fact that they weren't asked to judge this year. Of course, that fact gives us all free license to criticize the decision when it is known.

Mabury, Rest of Cast Overcome Poor Plot

By Merl Iles

Vaneta Mabury's excellent portrayal of Elizabeth Barrett was lauded by those who attended the performance of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", a three-act play produced by the LSP-Oly societies.

Despite the disadvantage of an extremely poor plot, Miss Mabury, who played the part of a crippled poetess, delighted the audience with her performance.

Ron Johnson proved an excellent choice for the part of Elizabeth's demanding father and Dick Edwards appeared right at home as the passionate lover, Robert Browning.

Spice was added to the evening's entertainment by Al Fisher as the dim-witted brother, and Connie Jo Nelson as Elizabeth's flighty cousin. Playing the part of the obstinate sister was Raynette Pool; Ruth Allen capably portrayed the conservative sister and Barbara Gish was the maid.

The play was directed by Allene Lund and Petey Montgomery.

Micawber Terms Play "Magnificent"

By Daphne Wells

Well, let's talk about "David Copperfield". As Mr. Micawber would say, "The magnificent power of the drama has held me in the throes of laughter since last the stage curtains fled back into their places; in short—I haven't stopped laughing yet." Who played windy Mr. Micawber, you ask? Why don't you remember—George Pfenninger.

And then there was Mr. Dick. If it hadn't been for him, Dickens certainly would have had a difficult time coercing Miss Trotwood to do the right thing by David. Glenn Wardlaw played the part of the kite flying Mr. Dick. We suppose you all know that he left right after the play to go into the service. The best of luck to him.

Roger Marks was probably the most despised man in the house on Thursday and Friday night. His portrayal of the 'umble Uriah Heep was a credit to his acting ability, for which, we have heard, Roger has won honors in the state of Wyoming.

SUB ROSA

It hasn't taken too much sleuthing this week to scare up the latest gossip (please pardon the expression, administrative council!). Anybody with two eyes can see that Mel and Marge are completely "gone" on each other. February is the rumored date for the big event. Congratulations from us to you!

From Chapman hall comes the news flash that Dick and Dot eloped during a recent "business" trip to Walla Walla. Did the trio sing well without you, Dot, when you were eloping?

Paul Finkbiener and Dick Ivester did a fine job of bringing David Copperfield to life. We aren't sure that Linda's "David" is Dickens' "David", but we'll let it go at that. Jane Murdstone, the proud and out-spoken persecutor of the Copperfields, was played by Faye Strunk. This is the first time Faye has appeared in a society play and we hope to see more of her.

Jean Kirkpatrick, who was Aunt Betsey Trotwood, was perhaps the most experienced actress in the production. She displayed her usual efficiency in handling this type of role, but we know a number of people who would like to see her in some other role than the severe, tight-lipped old maid.

When asked for some of his "brilliant advice" on what to do when his physical notice was in the mail box, he came out with this famous quip: "Do? Do? Why, I'd join the Navy, that's what I'd do!" And bless his heart, he did it! We'll miss him and the approximately 20 other fellows who have answered the call of Uncle Sam. Some of the rest of you fellows better develop arthritis quick, or the gals around here will be in a sad state of affairs before long.

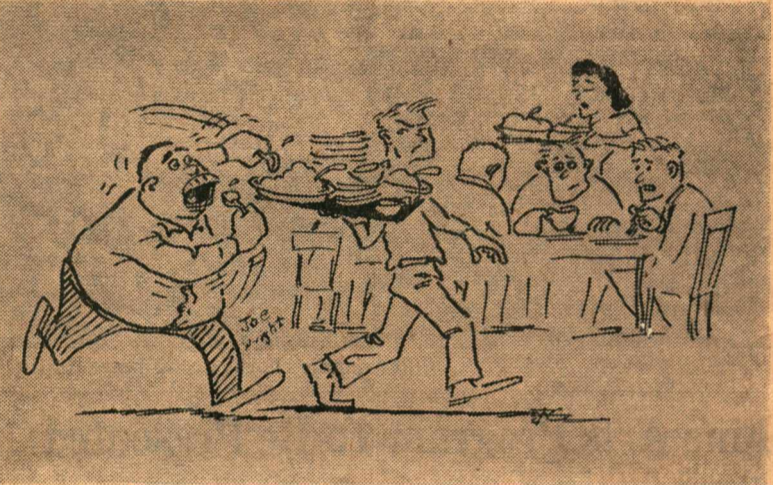

ROSIE (not lyin').

Etiquette

1. Proper procedure for seating in the dining hall: Girl steps to left of chair; boy steps behind chair and seats girl.
2. Boy should sit to right of girl.
3. Boy should always walk on street side when with girl; two boys with girl—girl should be in middle; two girls with boy—boy should walk on outside.
4. Never applaud after a religious song.
5. Never whistle or scream after any program. If you enjoyed the program, applaud heartily.

Art Department Adds Equipment

NNC's progressing Art Department has recently added a kiln to its equipment which makes it possible to offer for the first time a course in ceramic sculpturing. The kiln is a contribution from the art club and the course, ceramic sculpturing, is one of four courses to be offered next semester under Prof. Finkbiener, which are not offered this semester. Besides Interior Decorating, Art History, Structural Drawing and Ceramic Sculpturing to be taught by Prof. Finkbiener, there will also be a course offered in Costume Designing and one in Art Methods. Both are to be instructed by Dorothy Long.

This year there are 32 courses being offered in art. They cover a wide field and are under the instruction of A. J. Finebiener, head of the department; Dorothy Long, Ruth Long and Audrey Spurbeck.

To those of us who are not familiar with the possibilities in art as a career, the art department might go by unnoticed, but over 20 art majors and a large number of other enrollments can't be wrong about the importance of art. Vocational opportunities in commercial art and teaching are better than ever before. If you are interested in art, why not look into the possibilities of taking an art course next semester?

Advice To The Lovelorn

with Dr. Q. Pidselper

Dear Mr. Q. Pidselper:

A glance at the calendar portrays the feeling that only a short time remains in this interval of spanning days stretching from one joyous holiday season to another, IN SHORT, Christmas is near!

I desire to present to my best girl a small token of my esteem, a remembrance of my gratitude, a symbol of my love, a souvenir of our association, IN SHORT, a Christmas present.

However, I am in the throes of an acute situation resulting entirely from an extreme case of intense financial embarrassment, IN SHORT, I'm broke! How can I ever come to a full realization of a satisfactory fulfillment of the desire which is now uppermost on my scale of intellectual problems? IN SHORT, how can I give my girl a Christmas present?

Sincerely yours,

I. O. Johnson.

My Dear Friend:

For your specific problem I recommend a plan which has been successfully used by countless millions of young men throughout the world—make a gift!

A miniature "cedar" chest would perhaps be nice. All that is required is a small discarded picture frame, a picture of yourself, a knife and a tree. First, with the use of the knife, hew the tree into a horizontal position, taking care to severely slash the first and third fingers of the left hand in the procedure.

Next, carve out a block of well-seasoned wood about 6 by 10 inches in size and hollow the center to form a box-like structure. Third, fashion a crude lid for the affair. In the center of this cover mount the framed picture of yourself.

The picture itself can be used by you as a book mark, while the box will constitute a handy first aid kit to be used in caring for your mutilated fingers.

Constructively yours,

Prof. Q. Pidselper

CRUSADERS BATTLE BRONCOS MONDAY AND TUESDAY; SPLIT OPENING SERIES WITH E. O. C. E. MOUNTAINEERS

It will be the Broncos of Boise Junior college that invade the territory of the Crusaders next Monday night at Central auditorium. Game time is set for 8:00, with the preliminary encounter starting at 7:00 o'clock.

For the still football-conscious Broncos this will be the curtain raiser to their hoop season. Returning from last year will be Larry Bennett, Dick Martin and Earl Williams.

Newcomers are C. W. Totten, all-state man from Coeur d'Alene, and Lowell Kolbaba, high scoring center from last year's Ontario high school team.

Gone from last year's squad are such stalwarts as Joe Dietrich, Al Hubinger and Dick Reed.

Leading the Crusaders will be high scoring Merl Iles, along with Carlyle Dean, Millard Reynolds, Woody Beukelman and Ralph Unger. In addition, Bud Baska, out with the flu during the Eastern Oregon series, will be suited up and ready for action.

In their opening three games the Big Orange has allowed 60 points per game while scoring 66 themselves.

Strong reserve strength has helped the NNC squad in all three contests, something which has been lacking in the past.

The Bonco tussle will be the last home tilt for the Crusaders before the Christmas holidays. However, the two quintets will clash in Boise Tuesday in the final pre-holiday encounter for the locals.

Crusaders Thump Elks 76-58 in Warmup

Journeying to Gooding, Idaho last Saturday night, the NNC Crusaders found the situation to their liking as they thumped the respectable Gooding Elks five by the score of 76-58.

With Reynolds and Iles scoring at will on the fast break and Dean netting rebounds, the Crusaders rolled up a 15-point bulge by the end of the half.

Reynolds was high man for the Crusaders with 19, followed by Iles with 17.

SLAs WIN AGAIN

Led by Whitey Bullock, the SLAs scored their second triumph in a row by beating the society doormat Oly team, 28-19.

Bullock scored 11 points for the winners, Newman and Beech six each for the losers.

The NNC Crusaders capped a day of alumni festivities by coming from behind to defeat an aggressive clan from Eastern Oregon by a 52-49 score.

The Crusaders held a 24-19 advantage at half-time but saw it wither away soon after the intermission and at one time were behind by a 42-36 margin. With about five minutes remaining, the Crusaders staged a blistering rally that saw Ralph Unger, Woody Beukelman and Carlyle Dean pour in baskets to go into the lead and never relinquish it.

Both teams got off to slow starts with the score being at the 14-minute mark, 12-6, Crusaders being in front. A last minute flurry of baskets by both teams brought the tally up to a more normal pace by half-time.

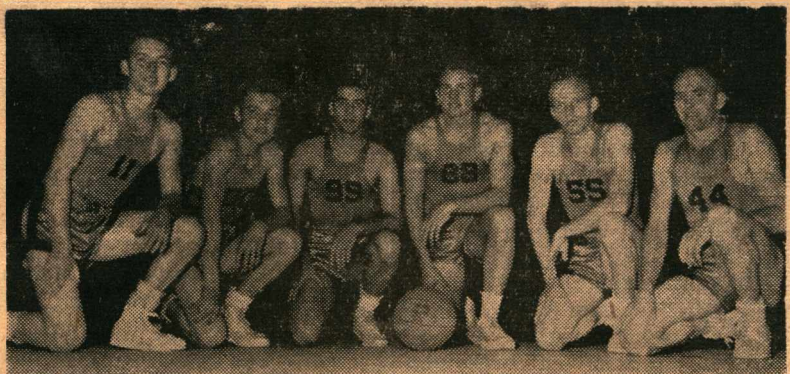

Carlyle Dean led all scorers with 19 points, six field goals and seven out of eleven from the free-throw line. He played a sterling game under both backboards and was the main factor in the opening victory over Eastern Oregon.

LSPs Murder Olys

The defending champion LSPs rolled at will against an undermanned Oly quintet last week as they ran up a 51-10 score.

SLAs Eke Out Win

The vaunted SLA five narrowly escaped the defeat at the hands of the ADPs last week as they managed to win by a score of 31-29. A last minute rally that netted the purple and gold eight points fell short by the margin of one field goal.

Lloyd Hubbard led the victors with 12 points while Titterington garnered nine for the losers.

The Oly and SLA girls remained undefeated in girls society basketball by winning their openers. The Olys romped over the LSPs 28-16 and the SLAs edged the ADPs, 21-15. Lois Williamson paced the victorious attack by scoring nineteen points. Jo Sanders trailed her with seven. Jo Ann Hutchison with 12 tallies and Ardyce Manley with four dominated the scoring for the losers. Merilu Anderson led the SLAs in their win with eight markers, however, Genny Frazier of the ADPs took top honors with 10 points.

NNC Debate Teams Enter Tournaments

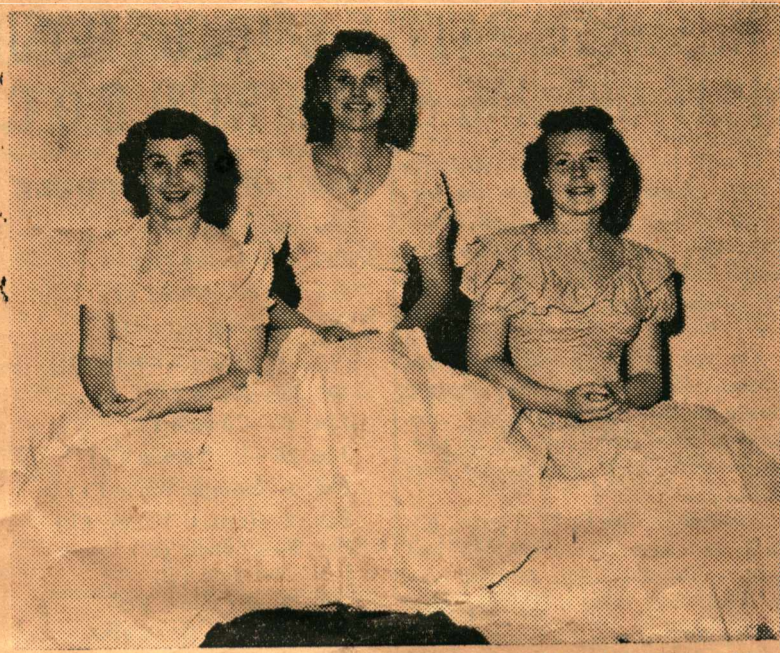

NNC debate teams have recently traveled to Los Angeles, California and Lewiston, Idaho to participate in regional speech conferences.

Teams entering competition at Graham and Pepperdine colleges in Los Angeles were: Bob Burke and Jack Burke, senior men's division; Dave Draper and Melvyn Palmquist, junior men's division; and George Pfenninger, who entered in the one-man debate section. Draper and Palmquist carried away two wins out of four debates; George Pfenninger won two out of five, and Bob Burke reached the semi-finals in impromptu speaking.

Prof. Wilson, debate coach, accompanied the debaters and assisted in judging at the meet.

Delmar Cook and Dave Draper represented NNC in the junior men's division of debate at the contest held Dec. 1 and 2 at the Northern Idaho College of Education, winning over two of the five teams they met.

"A large number of colleges were represented at both tournaments, and competition was stiff", the debaters reported.
