

Seminar On 'Christian Living In A Confused World' To Be Held In Conjunction With Preaching Mission

Annual student preaching mission will begin Monday morning, May 7 and will continue in chapel services throughout the week with students bringing the messages.

In addition to the regular chapel time, the preaching mission will include Wednesday night prayer meeting and services on Saturday and Sunday evening.

Speakers for the week's services will be Walt Lanman, Monday; Paul Kunkel, Tuesday; Wally Rose, Wednesday morning; Sanford Wagg, Wednesday night; Weston Tucker, Thursday; Bill Griffin, Friday; Gene Hovee, Saturday night and Dean Galloway, Sunday night.

Seminar Planned

In conjunction with student preaching mission, a new venture is being launched, under the supervision of the Student Council, the purpose of which is to give students an opportunity to discuss and ask questions on certain vital themes and problems.

Discussion groups will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, May 7, 8, and 9. There will be two discussion groups each afternoon under the general heading of "Christian Living in a Confused World." One division includes "Questions Students are Asking" and the following will be discussed on the respective days:

"What Is Christianity's Answer to Communism?"

"Why Does Not Religion Modernize to Cope with the Changing World?"

"Do Students of N. N. C. Have Proper Christian Attitudes?"

Students to Discuss

Three faculty members will introduce the subject with brief discussions and then the students will be given opportunity to give their viewpoints or ask questions of the faculty members or fellow students.

The second discussion group will center about Courtship and Marriage with the three subjects on the respective days:

"Dating and Courtship."

"Choosing a Life Companion."

"Happy Marriages and Christian Homes."

Three faculty members will be assigned to each one of these discussion groups. They will introduce the subject and the students will enter into a general discussion.

Further Announcement Later

Further announcements will be made regarding the particular faculty members for each panel discussion and also the place. The discussion groups will meet at the same hour each afternoon—4:00 to 5:00.

The committee planning it is composed of Chet Galloway and Harry Williamson, co-chairmen; Howard Titterington, Nicki Taylor, Arnie Zimbelman, Wallace Rose and Jean Kirkpatrick. Lilburn Wesche will be in charge of publicity and the faculty sponsors are Lamont Lee and Elwood Sanner.

Combined SLA-LSP Groups To Present 'George Washington Slept Here' Tonite

Roger Marks and Faye Strunk will handle the leading roles in the three-act comedy, "George Washington Slept Here" which will be presented tonight and tomorrow night by the combined LSP and SLA societies. Marks, SLA play director, took over the leading role Tuesday when it was discovered that Lyle Starkey would be unable to participate this weekend.

He is cast as Newton Fuller, a bewildered city man who has purchased a broken-down house in the country with hopes of turning it into a mansion. Miss Strunk plays the role of his wife, Annabelle, a realist who sees the hopelessness of the situation and tries to convince her husband of the futility of keeping the house.

Mr. Kimber, the nonchalant, slightly daffy caretaker of the house, is played by Sam Long. Madge, the young and beautiful daughter, is played by Imogene Harris and her boy friend, Steve, is portrayed by Dick Ivester.

Cast Listed

Rod Hoyle is cast as Raymond, the mischievous nephew who is always getting into trouble. Uncle Stanley, the supposedly rich uncle who turns out to be a pauper, is portrayed by Ron Johnson.

Mr. Prescott, the haughty and irritated owner of the neighboring estate, is played by Lilburn Wesche. JoAnn Boyd is cast as the surly maid, Marilyn McGraw plays Mrs. Douglas, the confused but friendly neighbor, and Petey Montgomery is the over-dramatic actress.

Others in the cast are Etta Mae Pickens as Katie, Jim Mowry as Clayton, Merl Iles as Leggett, Bev Woodbeck as Sue, Jessie Rice as Miss Wilcox, and Charles Zickefoose as Tommy.

LSP director for the play is Meryle Burkhart. Following tonight's performance a cast party will be held.

Galloway New ASB Prexy; Jackson, Cowley Also Win; Secretary And Sergeant-At-Arms To Be Chosen Today

Chet Galloway, a junior from Kalama, Wash., was elected by popular vote to fill the position of student body president for 1951-52. Galloway gained the post by edging past Dan Jackson in balloting held last week.

Elected to serve as publication editors for next year were Joyce Harris and Howard Miller. Miss Harris will edit the college yearbook, the Oasis, and Miller will head the campus newspaper, the Crusader.

365 Votes Cast

Three hundred sixty five ballots were cast in the finals with Galloway gaining 202 votes against 163 for Jackson. His 39-vote majority was one of the closest margins in recent presidential campaigns.

The closest election in the history of the school was recorded in the fight for Oasis editorship. Miss Harris polled 183 votes and Roger Marks received 182. Miller held a decided majority over his opponent, Charles Zickenfoose, in the race for Crusader editor.

Win Easily in Primaries

In the primaries, Galloway and Jackson gained clear cut wins over Lloyd Hubbard and Joe Wright. There were no primaries for the editors.

President-elect Galloway is president of the SLA society and the N club, and class representative to the student council.

Elected to Who's Who

He previously served as president of his freshman and sophomore classes and president, athletic director and treasurer of his society. He was elected to Who's Who in American colleges and universities last fall and majors in Education and Philosophy.

Miller is a sophomore and is majoring in education. He hails from Mollalla, Ore., and is a member of the ADP society. He has been prominent in society athletics and dramatics and is news editor of the Crusader.

All-School Picnic Set for Tuesday

Next Tuesday has been designated as the day for the annual all-school picnic by the student council. The scene of this year's outing will be near Smith's Ferry, Idaho.

Committees for the picnic were appointed by the council this week. Jim Hurd and Bill Osterhout were placed in charge of transportation; Carl Bryson and Joe Wright will be in charge of food; recreation will be supervised by Dan Wright, George Mowry and Connie Mitchell and Evelyn Gray is in charge of the program. The Timothy club will conduct the devotional period.

Jr.-Sr. Banquet Plans Set; Theme Is Secret

Plans have been completed for the annual Junior-Senior banquet which is scheduled for next Friday night in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Boise.

In accordance with past tradition, however, neither the theme nor principal speaker for the occasion will be revealed prior to the banquet.

Chairmen of committees for the planning of the banquet include Daphne Wells, Lois Herron, Janette Pease, Paul Sutherland and Bill Osterhout.

Sanner To Speak At Sr. Investiture

Prof. Elwood Sanner will present the annual investiture address to the seniors, May 7, when the Senior Investiture service is held in the chapel.

Dr. Lewis T. Corlett will formally introduce the senior class and officially recognize them as graduating seniors.

Dan Jackson was named ASB vice president for 1951-52 and Cliff Cowley won the treasurer's position following primary balloting for secondary offices held Wednesday.

Jackson and Cowley gained sufficient majorities over all their opposition to make final elections for those two offices unnecessary.

The other two officers, secretary and sergeant-at-arms, will be voted on today.

Candidates for secretary are Daphne Wells and Pat Wilkes. Sergeant-at-arms nominees are Ed Manley and Leon Doane.

In the vice-prexy race, Jackson rolled up a decided majority over Lloyd Hubbard and Millard Reynolds.

Jackson is president of the General Missionary society and the Junior class and was former president of the Foreign Missions band. He has also been assistant dean of Chapman Hall for the past two years.

Cowley was far ahead of his nearest competitor, Loyd Smith, in the race for guardian of the treasury. Ray Bolerjack and Merl Iles were the other candidates.

The newly elected treasurer has been vice president of the LSP society and was treasurer of the Athletic-Literary council last semester.

In the closest primary race, Miss Wells and Miss Wilkes edged past Delores Lovett to gain entrance into the finals.

Doane and Manley entered the finals by defeating Darrell Reisch in the race for sergeant-at-arms.

Parrott Is Speaker At State PTA Meet

Dean of Students Les Parrott was the guest speaker at the annual State P. T. A. convention yesterday evening. The convention, held at Lincoln Grade School auditorium in Nampa, was attended by 500 delegates and friends from the entire state.

No Complaints On "The Hasty Heart" As Everybody Manages to Get in Act

By Daphne Wells

"Everybody's trying to get into the act." We've all heard someone drawl out that line more or less complainingly. But we've no complaints about everyone's getting into the act in "The Hasty Heart". Funnier than anything we've seen for quite awhile, "The Hasty Heart" still packed quite a punch. Perhaps some of you were reminded of brothers and friends in the Far East who might some time be in just the situation of the men in the ward. Such a collection as Yank, Tommy, Kiwi, Locky, Digger and the Barsuto is probably not an unusual occurrence in some of our hospitals in Japan today.

Brogue Convincing

But now back to the play. Ercil Bowman must have some Scotch blood hidden back of that name. That brogue was pretty convincing, Ercil, and so was the bagpipe and the kilt. By the way, some people have been wondering if there ever were any pictures taken; they'll like one of that outfit.

There was a lot of action and humor in the play which appealed strongly to the ordinarily straight-laced N. N. C. students. We enjoyed the human touches—Yank's friendly persistence to help Lochy, Kiwi's big feet, and the antics of that crazy little Englishman.

Love Theme Tender

Pat Wilkes played the part of the nurse commendably as she rubbed backs, administered medicine, and worried about her patients in general. The love theme which centered around Margaret and Lochy was tender and tragic; for even though Lochy found himself before it was too late, the fact still remained that he didn't have too much time to live.

It was a play we'll remember a long time. Perhaps we'll forget the acting and the characters, but we'll be forever striving to heal the wounds of the world in the ward of friendship and humanity.

Thots O' Gold

By Dick Friesen

A smile is strong—it can lift some of life's heaviest loads. Behind every good deed directed to humanity, is effort; behing effort is motivation.

Blind is the one who says, "there is no motivation to smile". If he could but X-ray people's hard-shelled countenances and bring to vision the sorrow, pain, dejection, and inner conflict which has driven them to gloom, certainly he would be sufficiently motivated to pass on a smile. Men and women are feverishly searching for a ready, sincere smile to lighten their load of life.

It's easy to independently strut down the street, disinterested in matters foreign to business and self and fail to notice those outside our circle of friends.

Selfishness, I fear, is the chief smile-prohibitor. Forget self for awhile and think of others. Inside, under painted lines of stern gloom, people are begging for a smile. Don't withhold it from them.

A smile not only helps to lift your neighbor's load, but it also helps lighten your own, by the very act of unselfish effort that you put forth.

What a wonderful world this would be if everyone would smile.

MANGUM MUSINGS...

By Marilyn Perkins

Greetings from Mangum across Kurtz Park!

Recently Mangum Hall had its Student Body election, choosing officers for the next six months. Somebody did some pretty sharp campaigning and the race for president between Louise Corey and LeRae Hoyle was a close one with Hoyle winning out by a narrow margin. Other members of the council elected are: Vice-president, Julia Kellum; recording secretary, Betty Marsh; corresponding secretary, Ruth Wolestenholm; treasurer, Elva Overholt; Milestone business manager, Betty Marsh.

The senior class is headed by President Lois Santo. Other officers include: Vice president, Shirley Powers; secretary, Irene Satter and student representative, Louise Corey.

President of the Junior class is Vivian Somerville, with Esther Herzog as vice president; Ona Collette, secretary and Soonie Lee, student body representative.

Newly-elected president of the freshman class is Mary Swartz. Her "fellow conspirators" are: V. President, June Yates; secretary, Eileen Christianson and student representative, Pat Hetsler.

We congratulate the Junior class on its splendid ability in raising money! At the rummage sale on Saturday, over $100 was made. And by the way, if you think all the doctors have gotten new cars lately, they haven't; it's the Juniors with their super-duper washing and polishing jobs. The reason for all this, so we are told, is the coming Junior-Senior banquet to be held sometime in May.

REST IN PEACE

An official day of rest has been declared for the specific purpose of allowing NNC seniors and sophomores to recuperate from the "day of tests" which follow the next day of rest.

The disheartened, excluded freshmen and juniors are at present weeping their eyes out because they will have nothing to do while the sophs and seniors are making themselves miserable. Both groups have the Crusader's warmest, heart-felt sympathy.

Watered Stock

Who says NNC hasn't untold wealth? The lawn is quite adequately sprinkled with gold to spare. 'Tis too bad, though, that the chemistry department hasn't found a use for dandelions. The best suggestion so far is to put them up as silage to feed the flies next fall. Got any better ideas?

Sob Story

The weeping willow by the library has been in hysterics since it learned of the all-school picnic. Incidentally, the student council has asked for the full cooperation of the student body concerning this event. The business office would like to lose as many students as possible, providing they have their bills paid. There will be an ambulance service for those with unpaid bills only.

The Bawl Game

The tears shed at the baseball diamond are from the dust and not from our failure to get enough runs. Before I get struck out (or beaten into that same condition) I will avoid an error by sliding in home. You could have done the same by reading the ads instead of this article.

Crusaders in 4-Way Meet Tomorrow at CI

Having safely taken their first big hurdle, the NNC cindermen were beginning to have visions of the first undefeated season in the school's history. Three meets stood in their way—a four-way at C. of I. tomorrow, the St. Martin's relays and finally the C. of I. invitational. Heavy favorites to take the four-way, the Crusaders could establish themselves as the region's best with a victory at St. Martin's. The only in-state competition remaining to challenge the Crusaders appears to be Idaho State of Pocatello.

Johnson Hurls Olys To Win Over SLAs

Behind the neat one-hit pitching of Volney Johnson, the Olys opened the society softball season by drubbing the SLAs 7-0.

The Olys got their initial tally in the first inning and then broke up what appeared to be a close contest with six more in the seventh.

Vince Sealy's second inning single off the shortstop's glove was the only hit off the Oly right-hander.

Unbeaten Thinclads Win Fourth Straight

Sparked by Reynolds and Sullivan the unbeaten Crusaders of NNC chalked up their fourth cinder victory last Saturday. Depth and power told the story as NNC's overall strength proved too much for a "two-man team" from Northern Idaho.

Five schools entered the invitational meet but the real battle was between NNC and Northern Idaho. Chadwick and Wisdom of NICE more than lived up to their press notices but even Chadwick's 26-point output failed to match Crusader team strength.

Close during its early moments, the meet developed into a runaway with NNC leading at the finish 91½ to 69 for Northern Idaho. Eastern Oregon was third with 27½ points, while BJC made 21 and C. of I. 13.

Crusader Baseball Crew Will Seek 3rd Win Monday When Broncos Play Here

With victory number two down in the record books, NNC's diamond crew will go out after their third win of the season next Monday when they host Boise Junior College at Rodeo Park.

Carlyle Dean, winner of one and loser of two, will be the probable starter on the mound for Pop Frazier's Crusaders. The Broncos will lead with either their undefeated ace, Larry Jackson or Bill Howard who holds a 6-4 verdict over the NNC crew.

The remainder of the lineup will probably find Bill Richards at first, Herbie Geller at second, hard-hitting Millard Reynolds at short, Woody Beukelman on third, Jim Lais, Ralph Unger and Ron Weatherford in the outfield and Skip Wilcox behind the plate.

Reynolds Leads Hitters

Reynolds has been the big gun in the Crusader offensive with an amazing batting average of .519 and 12 runs batted in. Among his 14 base hits are two home runs and a triple.

Ralph Unger, out during the beginning of the season, returned to action in the last game and blasted out a double and three singles in six trips. His presence in the lineup has proven a boon to the squad, both at the plate and in the field.

Weatherford in Slump

Meanwhile the inability of Ron Weatherford to hit has had the Crusader coaching staff in a dither. Weatherford, a consistent .300 hitter during the past three years, owned a weak .174 mark through last Monday's game. He showed signs of snapping out of his slump in that contest, however, as he rapped in three tallies with two hits in four trips to the plate.

If Weatherford can find his batting eye and Reynolds and Unger keep blasting the ball, the orange and black figure on being exceedingly tough during the remainder of the season.

Freshmen Look Good

Two freshmen, Herb Geller and Jim Lais, have proven that they can bear their share of the load at bat and Catcher Skip Wilcox has shown defensive improvement with each game. Dick Ivester, injured in the first game with BJC, is expected to be ready for action soon, and should strengthen the backstopping department.

In the pitching department, big Jim Mowry has proven himself practically unhittable over a few innings and may develop into the club's top reliever.

Dean and Clary Olson have displayed flashes of brilliance in starting roles, while Reynolds can be counted on to hurl occasionally if necessary. Freshman Rod Newman also looked good in his one appearance on the mound this year.

Bronco Racquetees Nip NNC Netmen 4-2

Boise Junior College's tennis team chalked up a 4-2 decision over NNC's racquet swingers last Tuesday in the first net meet of the year for both teams.

The Bronco netters took three singles and one doubles event while the Crusaders salvaged a win in each department.

The two teams meet again May 3 in Boise.

The results: Betebenner (B) over Sutherland (N) 6-3, 6-4; Harvey (B) over Galloway (N) 4-6, 6-0, 6-3; Mowry (N) over Hattabaugh (B) 6-2, 6-3; Hall (B) over Finkbeiner (N) 6-3, 2-6, 6-0.

Gale and Titterington (N) over Ertell and Hattabaugh (B), 6-1, 6-2; Betebenner and Hall (B) over Sutherland and Finkbeiner (N) 6-3, 6-3.

Horsehidrs Drub Bronco Nine 16-8

Boise Junior college became the second victim of the Crusaders last Monday as the NNC baseball crew blasted out a 16-8 decision at Veteran's Field in Boise.

Millard Reynolds and Ralph Unger led the 21-hit attack against three BJC hurlers with four hits each. Reynolds also batted in five runs.

The Crusaders shoved across one run in the first and four in the top of the second. BJC broke the ice in the last of the second with a lone tally but five more NNC scores in the third iced the game.

NNC added another pair in the fourth for a 12-1 lead. The Broncos staged their only rally of the game in the fourth when they combined four hits, a walk and two errors for five runs.

Olson Relieves

Clary Olson relieved Carlyle Dean at the start of the fifth and yielded single tallies in the fifth and sixth. Jim Mowry came on in the ninth and finished the game with gusto by striking out the side.

In the top of the sixth, NNC added insult to injury by shoving across four more scores. Singles by Richards, Lais, Geller, Wright and Woody Beukelman provided the tallies.

Neither team could score in the final three frames.

BJC 8, NNC 7

Prior to last Monday's tilt, the Broncs visited Nampa for the first time this season and nipped the Crusaders, 8-7.

NNC started scoring with two in the third and two more in the fourth as Reynolds homered with one on. But the Broncs came back with one in the fourth, another in

In girl's softball the Olys continued their winning ways by soundly crushing all their opposition.

Rally Falls Short

Two more tallies in the ninth by BJC proved the difference as the Broncos cut off a belated ninth inning threat one run short.

Trailing 8-5 in the last of the ninth, Wilcox reached first when he was hit by a pitched ball. With two gone, Newman walked, both runners advanced on a wild pitch and Lais plated the pair with a whistling single to center. Mullins made a terrific bankhanded stab of Geller's looping bid for a Texas leaguer to end the game.

Coyotes Win Two

C. of I. hung two decisions on the Crusaders by scores of 10-7 and 5-1. Reynolds' three-run homer in the eighth sparked a late threat in the first loss. In the other tilt Jim Mowry kept the Coyotes silenced until the fifth when three walks, two singles and a wild pitch plated four runs and cost him the game.

Veneta Johnston Tells of Argentina

"Argentina is in every sense a modern country," said Mrs. Veneta Maxey Johnston, during her recent visit to General Missionary Society of the College.

"It is not too difficult to adapt your life to theirs, particularly if you like to do things their way," continued Mrs. Johnston.

Mrs. Johnston brought a "mate" or tiny silver tea mug used as sort of a communal tea cup in Argentina. She stated that it has been a gift to the family on their return to the states because they enjoyed the Argentinian custom of sipping the "mate". "It amounts to acceptance by the people of Argentina to be given one of these—particularly so beautiful a one," continued Mrs. Johnston.

Burial Custom Strange
"The hardest custom that I have found to understand is the Argentinian burial service," stated Mrs. Johnston. "It seems as if it is so hard for the family, since all of the burial rites except the burial are conducted by the family or in the family home." Mrs. Johnston continued that she did not think that she would ever understand their customs surrounding the burial of a loved one.

Mrs. Johnston, a graduate of NNC, has just completed five years of mission service and returned from Argentina. The Johnstons will have one year furlough before returning to the field.

Eloise Shute, president of the Home Economics club, has announced a style review sponsored by the Home Ec club. It will be held May 18. Garments made in Home Ec classes at the college as well as men's clothing from the stores downtown will be modeled.

Committees have been appointed to make arrangements for the program which will be open to the public.

It was also announced that several amendments to the constitution of the Home Ec club have been passed. They modify the procedure of election of officers for that organization.

Election of officers for the coming year will take place at the Home Ec banquet to be held May 8. The banquet will be in honor of graduation majors of the department, Miss Shute asserted.
