Annual Fall Revival Begins Oct. 7; Rev. Ted Martin To Be Evangelist

Sunday, Oct. 7, has been set as the date of the annual Fall Revival. Evangelist for the week-long campaign will be The Rev. Ted Martin of Toronto, Canada. Rev. Martin is district superintendent of the Ontario District of the Church of the Nazarene.

Evangelist Martin is a graduate of N. N. C. and has done graduate work at Pacific School of Religion. He has served 17 years as a pastor at various churches in the U. S. and Canada.

Services will be held each evening at 7:30 p. m. and at 11:00 a. m. on Sunday in College church. In addition to these services, he will speak each morning during the chapel which will also be conducted in College Church for that week. Wally and Alline Swann will have charge of the music for the campaign.

A. W. S. Schedules Annual "Sister" Tea

According to Mary A. Galloway, president of the Associated Women Students of N. N. C., the female populous of the college can anticipate a year of interesting, varied activity.

The council met last week and formulated plans for the entire year. The first event will be the Big-Little Sister tea scheduled for October 3.

Other traditional activities sponsored by the group include the colorful pajama party, eventful Sadie Hawkins day, the annual Christmas party, Heart Sister week and the A. W. S. picnic.

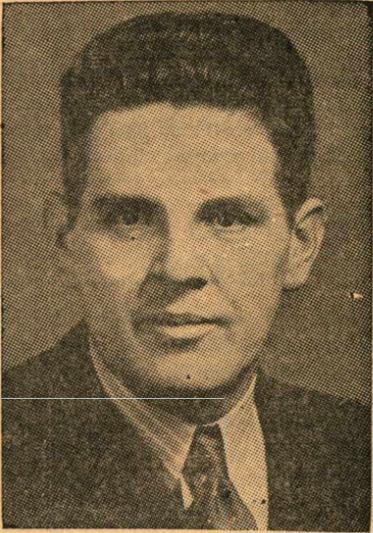

Officers elected to serve this school year include Mary A. Galloway, president, with Earlene Tapley acting as vice-president. Secretarial duties fall to Beverly B. Kitchin. Virginia Walton will handle the finances and Mona Gowan the publicity.

Vaneta Maybury is co-program chairman and Lois Rice, chaplain. Two vacancies on the council, consisting of program chairman and representative from the Hi School, will be filled at an early date.

Art Enrollment Is Down; 2 Exhibits Planned for Year

"Enrollment of Art students is down approximately 10% from last year," says Prof. A. S. Finkbeiner. "This decrease in enrollment may be due to the fact that the department is under a new curriculum this year requiring a 30-hour major instead of the 24 required last year," he continued.

Plans are now under way for two exhibits from the department this semester. Each exhibit is to be one week in length and will include work from the entire art department. The first is the week prior to Christmas vacation and the second the last week of this semester.

National Assembly Is Next Thursday

Youthful American Vagabond John Nichols will be featured in the National School Assemblies program scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 4, at 8:00 P. M. The Vagabond will present the story of his travels throughout the Western Hemisphere to the student body.

Nichols, pictured in LIFE magazine standing on his head before all 48 state capitol buildings, has, he asserts, followed the principle, "When in Rome, do as the Romans" in his travels. His latest wanderings led him on a hike the full length of Cuba, from Havana to Santiago.

Summer Months See Campus Improved

"N. N. C. plans to keep the buildings and grounds of the campus in the best possible condition," says the Administration. During the summer months much work has been done in an attempt to improve the general appearance of the institution.

The two half-blocks of land just south of Morrison Hall have been leveled and seeded in lawn. It will improve the appearance around the building and will reduce the cost of janitor service in the building.

The roofs on Morrison, Chapman and Emerson Halls and the R. T. Williams Library have been repaired and re-covered. The spring rains revealed breaks in all of the roofs, thus necessitating the repair.

New shelves had to be placed in the east reading room to accommodate the increase in the number of books and magazines in the library. Additional magazine shelves were also placed in the basement of the building. On the second story an entirely new floor had to be laid over most of the floor space which had deteriorated since the original installation.

Floors have been painted or treated in most of the buildings and extensive redecorating has been done in the Fine Arts building, Chapman Hall, Morrison Hall, the Coffee Shop, and the Administration building.

Education Majors Receive Placements

Forty-three percent of those in classes of the past year at Northwest Nazarene College who qualified for certification in Idaho have accepted teaching positions in Boise Valley. Two are teaching in Oregon and Washington and three others are continuing their education in advanced courses elsewhere.

Placements from this class are: Viola Ahlborn, Cloverdale school; Marilyn Hoidal, Fruitland; Lola Myers and Julia Webb, Melba; Marie Johnson, Sunnyside; Ralph Warfield, Meridian; Gilbert Lind, Lone Star; Janette Dean, Ustick; Stanford Wagg, Roswell; Ronald Weatherford, Nampa; Bob Woodward, Boise.

This percentage is an increase over recent years. Of the graduate and certificate students of the last three years about 34 per cent have been absorbed in teaching positions in and around this community.

At Northwest Nazarene College students may major in either elementary or secondary education or they may simply qualify for certification along with other majors. Teachers, especially elementary teachers, are still scarce. The door of this profession is open to young people with capacity and an urge to serve.

Speech Club Plans Tourneys for Year

"Resolved, That the Federal Government Should Adopt a Permanent Program of Wage and Price Control", is to be the topic of debate that will be discussed this year by NNC's speech organization, the Spencerian club.

Led by their debate manager, George Pfenninger, a debating team will attend numerous tournaments throughout this next school year.

November 19th marks the date of the first tournament, in which the debate team will compete. It is the Western Speech Association tournament at San Jose, California. Others will be held in Spokane, Wash.; Moscow, Idaho; McMinnville, Ore.; Missoula, Mont., with the last on the campus of N. N. C. here in Nampa.

Annual Motorcade Will Visit Campus

October 5 at 4:00 p. m. has been set as the time for the arrival of the second annual Northwest District Motorcade.

Heading the caravan is the Rev. Crawford Vanderpool, who will be accompanied by the 155 members of the visiting group.

Meeting the motorcade on Highway 30 will be a N. N. C. student caravan. Cars participating will group at the college prior to their leaving.

Included in the plans for the entertainment of the group is the College High-Greenleaf football contest scheduled for 8 p. m. at Bulldog stadium.

Formals, Bowties To Keynote Student-Faculty Reception Tonite

Tonight at 8:00 p. m. marks the first formal social event of the school year as students and faculty gather in Morrison dining hall for the annual Student-Faculty reception. Formals and bowties will keynote the occasion as new students and old are formally presented to their faculty.

First on the evening's program will be the presentation of the students to the faculty members as the student couples enter during the processional. The main program, arranged by Mrs. Marian Johnson, will follow.

Master of Ceremonies Dan Jackson will introduce the speakers and special numbers for the evening. Student body president, Chet Galloway, will give the toast to the faculty with the response returned by a member of the faculty. The theme for this year's reception is being kept secret until program time.

Enrollment Totaled; Freshmen Largest

Total college enrollment for the year, up to September 24, has been released from the registrar's office. The freshmen, with 143, are the school's largest class, though not equaling last year's 209.

Official records show a drop from last year's enrollment with a count of 512 as compared with 612 for the 1950-51 scholastic year.

High school enrollment totals 96 with 34 signed in the junior high, giving a grand total for all departments of 642. This represents a 9% decrease from last year's figures.

Classes Meet For Year's Elections

Class meetings and elections were held during the chapel period last Monday. Senior class officers elected were: Millard Reynolds, president; Butch Bloomquist, student council representative; Marian Johnson, secretary; Art Sullivan, treasurer; and Daphne McGregory, program chairman. Faculty sponsors are Double E. Hill and Dr. Ford.

Junior class elections resulted in Ray MacGregory as president, Melvin Laws as student council representative, Earlene Tapley as secretary, and Prof. C. E. Taylor as faculty sponsor.

Dick Ivester was chosen to head the Sophomores with Roger Weber as vice president. New secretary is Jessie Rice and Ron Johnson is the student council representative.

Freshmen will be headed by Dick Erdman with Johnnie Olson as vice prexy, Lillian George as secretary and David Taylor as the student council member.

Time did not permit completing the elections so the remainder of the office holders will be elected at a future date.

Dr. Lewis T. Corlett, president of the college, will present the main address of the evening in accordance with past tradition. Also on the evening's schedule are a piano arrangement by Joy Tink and a quartet number by the Crusader Male Quartet, composed of Bob Johnson, Butch Bloomquist, Quincy Angier and John Bullock.

Additional committee chairmen for the event are Charlene Smith, in charge of decorations; Marilyn McGraw, in charge of refreshments; Virginia Walton, in charge of publicity; Vaneta Maybury, in charge of serving and Jim Hurd, who heads the clean-up team.

J. Carkhuff Pres. Of Crusader Choir

Mrs. Alline Swann states that the choir, which has in former years been known as the A Cappella choir, will go out under the new name, "Crusader Choir". The change is due to the instrumental accompaniment which the choir will receive.

Last Friday, at the first meeting of the year, officers for the new Crusader Choir were elected. President for this year is Jim Carkhuff, vice president, Faye Strunk, and secretary, Estelle Schroeder. Robe manager is Ivan Weatherby, with Jim Hurd in charge of the risers and Doug Peterson was elected as librarian.

Increase in the educational budget of the churches in the Northwest zone was recommended by the Board of Regents of N. N. C. in a meeting held Wednesday, Sept. 19. The board voted on an increase of from two to three dollars per capita.

Dr. B. V. Seals, re-elected chairman of the board, stated the board's praise of the Administration for its fine Christian leadership, of Mr. L. Wesley Johnson and his work as business manager, and of the student body for its high moral character.

Vice-chairman of the board for the new year is Dr. E. E. Zachary of Spokane. The Rev. Melza Brown of Nampa was elected secretary, with The Rev. Alvin McQuay of Billings, chosen treasurer.

The new five-man board of directors includes, in addition to the above-named, Mr. Roy Olmstead and The Rev. J. A. McNatt, both of Nampa. Finance committee appointees are Mr. L. Wesley Johnson, Nampa; Dr. Seals, Dr. Zachary, Mr. Gordon Olson, Eugene.

Buildings and grounds committee members are Rev. Paul Alexander, Winona, Minn.; Mr. Olmstead, Rev. Crawford Vanderpool, Opportunity, Wash.; Rev. Albert Neuschwanger, Nampa and Rev. Larry Bone, of Portland.

KNOW "WHO'S WHO"

YOU, as a member of the student body, will soon have the privilege of helping to elevate a few of your fellow-students to national honor.

YOUR voting nominates the candidates from our college for membership in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges," an organization of students from colleges and universities throughout this nation.

Students are chosen for their outstanding abilities and achievements in the fields of Scholarship, Leadership and Citizenship. Students who become life-members of the organization have the privilege of receiving recommendation and records from the organization upon request. Higher scholastic honor than this is rarely, if ever, attained by a college student.

YOUR school spirit and sense of fair play challenges you to elect, for N. N. C.'s quota, the nine candidates who rate highest in scholarship, in leadership and cooperation in educational and extra-curricular activities, in general citizenship, and in their promise of future usefulness.

Let each of YOU accept YOUR personal responsibility by voting for the ones most qualified for this honor.

The Deans Speak

By Dean Mack

Morrison and Hadley Hall, the girls' dormitories on the campus, are now in full swing. We realize that college is not all class-room activity, but that there is the dormitory life which is the home life during the year. Here in the dormitories the girls are made to feel that this is their home, a place where strain is removed, and younger ones as well as seniors share their happy or not-so-happy times together.

Dormitories came to life early in September. During the first week a few girls came in—putting into life utilities which had been dormant. Then the rush started. All hours both night and day, girls were coming in with trunks, boxes, and luggage (all but the kitchen sink). Pop Mack, who is supposed to be called College Church assistant pastor, spent much time struggling with trunks and boxes and fulfilling many "man" calls.

With all of this continuing, growing pains became more evident. Not all girls at first were happy as to their room arrangement—some had to give up chosen rooms—some had to be shifted to other quarters. After awhile, however, things smoothed out and now everyone is quite happy.

Chapman Hall enters into the picture (wonder why?). But the boys seem to be interested in dormitory life, too. Quite a few fellows show up from time to time, according to schedules and as rules permit. The parlors are now open to couples during S. P. hours. As to the permanent parlor policy it will be determined by the actions of those couples who use it this year.

Now that excitement of beginning is past there will be the steady routine of college life. But the fine attitude of all dormitory girls makes me confident to predict that the year will be a most happy and harmonious one.

By Dean Taylor

One of the outstanding privileges of college life is that of residing in a campus dormitory and participating in Christian comradeship with fellow residents. In the dormitories of NNC one may develop properly into the full stature of a genuine Christian lady or gentleman.

It is here that good qualities of leadership are cultivated and refined; it is here that one realizes distinctly the value and importance of sincere cooperation; it is here that one learns to discard childish tendencies as new adjustments are made and responsibilities are accepted. Certainly no better opportunity can be afforded one for the development of every area of personality than in the dormitory of a holiness school.

In the way of spiritual activity, regular dorm prayer meetings will be held consistently during the week. On the rotation basis, every Christian resident will have the opportunity to lead one of these prayer meetings. The Hall will also work in close liason with the Christian Workers Band so that the ministerial students and those who sing

with Ducky Drear

Listen, my children and you shall hear of the midsummer-night's dream of Ducky Drear;

I dreamed I was standing on the bank of that well-known pool, that's known to us all as the married-folks' school.

I dived down so fast I couldn't tell whom I met, but it looked like Carlyle Dean and his sweet Janette.

As I came to the top my breath came in hard, and there laughing at me was Marie Lindsley-Rinard. I started searching (in vain) for someone who was single (with married folk somehow, I hate to mingle).

I spied Bev Bailey, for company still itchin', but it seems she is now Mrs. Lewis Kitchin.

I swam around for awhile (still no one to talk with) and the next couple was Charlene Olsen and husband, Keith Smith.

I knew then I was out of my element and category, cause there hand in hand came Daphne Wells and Ray MacGregory.

And another Wells soon came into sight, Chester Wells and Marion Bradfield who took the fatal step one night.

And following them Pauline Hastings and Dan Jackson, Norma Montgomery and Donald Mesman—

And more Donalds there were yet to come—Ethel and Don Fuller, Don Fowler and Naomi Duncan. It seemed that dark place was no spot for me — another married couple—Elfrieda Moline and Delmar Free,

And I saw one more couple before I left in a huff—that was Loa Mockler and Marion Woodruff. Well, my alarm finally jingled and I woke from that horror, and found that it was time for another school year.

Just to think of it makes my nerves jump and tingle, oh, well, at the end of the school year I'll probably still be single.

Well, couples will come and couples will go, and I've got to be splashin' along—and play will have greater opportunity to develop their talents.

I have been deeply impressed by the wonderful spirit of cooperation which characterizes the residents of our dormitories this year. These are indeed golden days for each of our students. As we keep Christ the center of each hall, we can all anticipate a great year together and affirm that "life can be beautiful"—even in a college dormitory.

"Do you have a criminal lawyer in this town?" asked the young lawyer seeking a locality in which to establish himself.

"Well," answered the native, "we think so, but we ain't been able to prove it."

Convict: "How long you in for?"
New Cellmate: "Ninety - nine years."

Convict: "I'll take the bunk near the door, I get out in 75 years."

President's Message

By Dr. Lewis T. Corlett

Each school year at N. N. C. is a time of enjoyment and enrichment of character. The administration welcomes each student to this program. We are thankful to God and to the people for the splendid enrollment that we have this year. We are rejoicing over the marvelous spirit that prevails in classroom and public service.

In the midst of chaos and war, this is a haven of peace. This year each one of you can find the secret of successful Christian living and of useful service. God is answering prayer for us and we invite you to get the most out of the school activities.

The student who participates in the general activities of the college is the one who gets the greatest benefits. Education is more than classroom learning; it is the developing of a spirit of cooperation in group relationships and institutional objectives. Personally, I invite each one of you new students to take an active part in the extra curricular program as you will find it very helpful in all phases of development. I challenge every one of you to make this the best year spiritually that N. N. C. has ever known.

We are facing some critical financial problems, but God is able and if we keep the spiritual atmosphere up, God can answer prayer for us in every area; so let us together make this the greatest year of spiritual development and enrichment for all of us.

DEVOTIONAL THOTS ON . . .

By David Taylor

"The effectual, fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." (James 5:16).

Jesus Christ placed a great emphasis on prayer. Many times He strongly urged His followers to pray. When Christ was agonizing in the Garden of Gethsemane He said to His disciples, ". . . pray, lest ye enter into temptation." The reason Christ so many times stressed prayer was because He knew the power that comes from prayer. Today, many years later, prayer is power. When the weakest saint falls to his knees in supplication to God he unleashes all the power of heaven on his behalf.

Many of us throughout this year will encounter manifold temptations. The devil will meet us at nearly every corner and bring us face to face with temptation. But no one needs to fall. Overcoming power can be found in the secret place of prayer. There is power to meet every temptation if we will but pray.

Trials undoubtedly will face some this year. Possibly sickness will come. There may be serious financial loss that a few will be called upon to face. Whatever the trial may be God is able to see us through. Prayer brings victory and drives the clouds away. Pray when trials come.

May everyone covet before God at the start of this school year that first things will be kept first. Let us not get so busy with secondary things that we fail to pray. Without prayer one finds defeat. With prayer one finds victory. Prayer is power!

Policeman: "How did the accident happen?"

Carl: "My wife fell asleep in the back seat."

Vacancies Seen In Basketball Lineup

The biggest question mark in recent years is noted in NNC's sports outlook for the coming season. A survey of lettermen who have returned reveals numerous vacancies in all of NNC's four inter-collegiate sports.

In basketball, Coach Monte Lee will have to replace five letter-winners, three of them starters. Only regulars back are Millard Reynolds and Carlyle Dean. Other veterans include forwards Skip Wilcox and Lloyd Hubbard and guards Myron Finkbeiner and Curt Beukelman.

Toughest job will be to fill vacancies left by Merl Iles, Ralph Unger and Woody Beukelman.

In addition to newcomers, several junior varsity lads may step up. Outstanding candidates from the Jayvees include George Fritch, Clarence Olson and Herb Geller.

Track and baseball, although still a long way off, were hit hard by graduation. Millard Reynolds, the one man track team, will form the nucleus of NNC's potent cinder squad. Other lettermen include Jim Frazier, Roger Marks, Jim Lais, Bob Burkhart, Carlyle Dean, Bill Miller and Bruce Koerner.

On the diamond, Reynolds, who belted the ball for better than a .400 average with Nampa's semi-pro Clippers this summer, will be the key man. Veterans include catchers Skip Wilcox, Lauren Sanders and Dick Ivester; infielders Bill Richards, Curt Beukelman and Herb Geller; outfielder Jim Lais, and pitchers Carlyle Dean and Rod Newman.

Tennis, NNC's newest sport, was the hardest hit. The shoes of Player - Coach Francis Sutherland will be hard to fill. Returnees include Myron Finkbeiner, George Mowry and Merv Gale.

Our opinions become fixed at the point where we stop thinking.

PEP CLUB

Pep club officers for the year are Gladys Fred, president; Jo Hutchinson, vice president; Jo Ann Gause, secretary; Eleanor Gustin, treasurer; Joyce Harper, program chairman; Geraldine Wright, selling chairman, and Neva Thompson and June Loveall, social chairmen.

YELL LEADERS

Leading the C. H. S. cheering section this year will be Lorrie Mack, from Portland, Oregon; Phyllis Green from Arcata, Calif., and Velma Pool who attended C. H. S. last year.

SCHOOL PARTY

"Let's Get Acquainted" was the theme of the first all-High School party held in Morrison dining hall Thursday evening, Sept. 27. Phil Cole was general chairman for the event which featured class competition in percentage of attendance present.

SENIORS

Thirty seniors opened their year at College High with a class breakfast at the Dewey Palace hotel on Wednesday, Sept. 19.

JUNIORS

SOPHOMORE-FRESHMAN

FACULTY STRENGTHENED

Mrs. Olive Sharp, commercial teacher, came to College High from the Nampa Business College where she has been an instructor.

Prof. Roy Knight, Spanish and Choir, comes to College High from George Fox College at Newberg, Oregon.

Lawrence Lancaster, former instructor at Nampa Junior high school, is teaching junior high subjects and mechanical drawing in College High.

Year Begins With Acquaintance Party

Cookies and soft drinks marked the end of the annual Get-Acquainted party and the beginning of another school year. Those attending the party in the gym were given name and address tags to help in their identification and divided into five groups for the playing of games.

Student Body President Chet Galloway, in charge of the evening's activities, was assisted by Freda Worth, chairman of refreshment committee and Dick Ivester, Connie Mitchell, Gordy Belzer, Pat Wilkes and Bob Burkhart, group leaders.

Variety Program Displays Talent

Student musicians were featured in the annual Talent Night program recently. Vocal numbers included solos by Mrs. Eunice Bullock and Butch Bloomquist, a ladies' trio by Ginny Poplin, Pat Roberson and Donna Jean Maxwell, and a male quartet made up of Bob Johnson, Butch Bloomquist, Quincy Angier and John Bullock.

Special numbers consisted of a number on the vibraharp by June Loveall, accompanied by Pat Bohannon; a violin number by Velta Jones; a piano solo by T. C. Leckie and a number on the organ by Mrs. Alline Swann, accompanied by Mrs. Marion Johnson.

Also on the program was a chalk drawing presented by Prof. A. J. Finkbeiner, head of the Art department. Mrs. Marian Johnson was program announcer for the evening.

The Place to Meet Your Fellow Students

Tub Thumping

By Lilburn Wesche

Maestro Monty Lee wrung out his well-soaked crying towel a couple of days ago and, between wails, sobs, tears and an occasional bel-low, proceeded to unfold one of the saddest stories he has spun in a long time. Our ears rang with alarm, and sympathy welled within as he recited to us the lengthening "list of the lost" as far as his basketball warriors are concerned.

"I don't mind when my boys graduate," he wailed, "because, after all, the law of averages says that after so many years a guy's gotta either leave or join the maintenance crew, but when they just don't come back . . ." An outburst of tears echoed through the halls of the Canyon county jail (it's escape proof) where LaMont was sitting out another parking meter fine.

Monty pulled out a handkerchief, wiped the tears away and for the fourteenth time that day played his favorite popular recording, "The old gray hairs—they ain't where they used to be."

Decision of Iles, a junior, to remain out of school leaves a vacancy which will be difficult to fill. Iles was probably NNC's most outstanding cager since John Cramer, and with only a handful of lettermen back, fill-

Lettermen's Club To Meet Wednesday

A meeting of all last year's lettermen will be held for the purpose of designing appropriate welcoming ceremonies for those earning a letter last year in basketball, baseball and track. ing his spot may prove almost impossible.

SPORT GLANCES

College High, according to pre-season indications, may have the best eight-man grid team in Southwestern Idaho. Watch for Elmore's boys to really roll, especially after a couple of games' experience.

The SLA boys, with Vince Seely and Carl Bryson to do the hurling, look like the team to beat in softball. Slowballer Russ Miller might hurl the ADPs into contention while the Olys once again will possess the top hitters. As for girls softball, we quit trying to pick that winner many seasons ago—it's too dangerous.

Dr. DuBois Talks In Initial Chapel

Dr. DuBois, general secretary of the N. Y. P. S., spoke in the first scheduled chapel service of the year. "Remember Your Name" was the subject of his speech presented to the students and faculty of N. N. C.

Traditional emphasis on home states and home countries of the attending students preceded Dr. DuBois' speech in this first assembly.

Terry Yoda Speaks To Mission Band

Foreign Missions Band held their first meeting of the year in the basement of College Church. The meeting began with the election of officers, followed by Terry Yoda, the speaker of the afternoon.

President for this year is Bob Burkhart and vice president is Bob Calkins. Secretary-treasurer, June Loveall, is also the new pianist. Connie Mitchell is in charge of the publicity.

Summer Vacation Spent in School

Advanced courses of study were undertaken by a number of N. N. C.'s faculty members during the summer months.

Enrolled at the University of Idaho were Ruth Long, Dorothy

Long, Double E. Hill, Margaret Wilkes, Elaine Carlson and LaMont Lee.

Miss Naomi Bolerjack returned to the National University of Mexico; Mrs. Olive Briggs to the University of Washington; and Mrs. Rose Voget to Washington State college. Miss Audrey Spurbeck attended the Art Institute in Chicago.

Fresherees Start Year for Frosh

Prof. A. J. Finkbeiner officiated as the master of ceremonies for the annual Fresherees this fall. The program, held in the chapel, included choruses, prayer, and a contest between Washington and Oregon states. Two girls from Washington were pitted against two Oregonian fellows in an endeavor to reveal each one's knowledge of N. N. C.

Following the program the new students were served doughnuts and pineapple juice in the dining hall.

Oasis Staff Meets; Marks Year's Plans

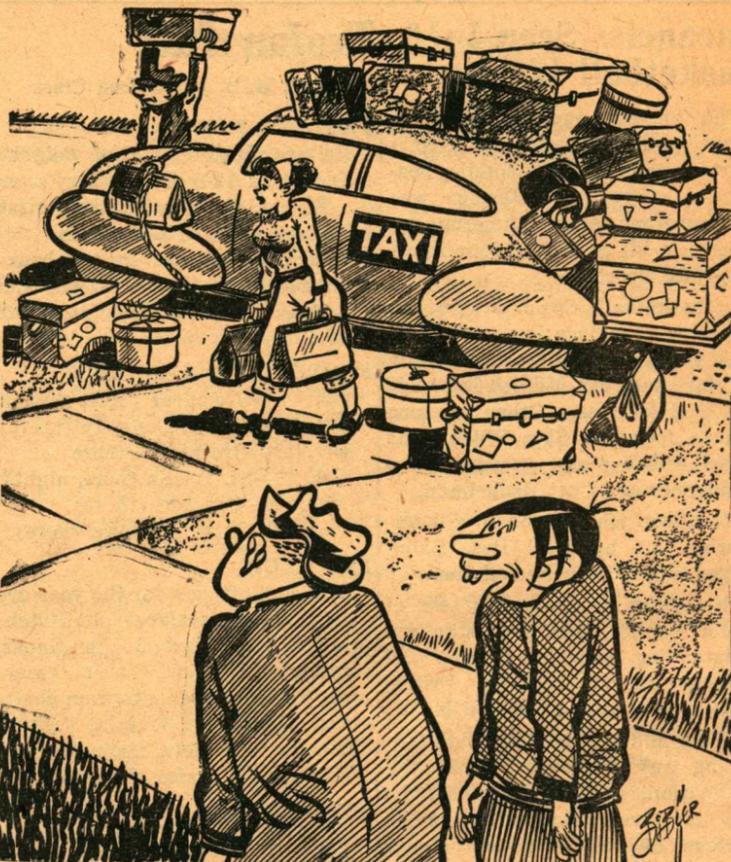

Editor Roger Marks chose his staff to assist him in the production of the '51-'52 Oasis. Assistant editor is Ivan Weatherby, business manager is Ray Bolerjack, and literary editor, Dave Cook. Arthur Sullivan was chosen as Art editor and Veneta Mabury as makeup editor.

Home Ec Club Chooses Officers

Under the direction of President Leah Goebel, the Home Economics club begins a year of activity tomorrow night. The Home Economics lab will be the scene of a Get-Acquainted party for all members and those interested in joining.

Other officers for this year are: Vice president, Mary A. Renschler; secretary, Doris Holmes; treasurer, Virginia Philips, and De Lois Travillion will act as program chairman with Donna Holmes taking the publicity job. Pat Robertson and Bonnie McGraw are sales chairmen.

C-3

INCLUDES CASE
AND FLASH UNIT

For brilliant color slides or sparkling black-and-white snaps... Argus C3 is America's all-time favorite. It has the features camera-fans want most: coupled range-finder to help avoid out-of-focus pictures, fast f:3.5 lens for all-weather picture-taking, plug-in flash for indoor snaps, and high speed 1/300 shutter for action pictures. More people want it... more people buy Argus C3 than any other fine 35mm. camera.

Complete with case and flash unit $69.50
