Chapman To Open Doors To Public; Commemorates Chapel Completion

Chapman Hall is scheduling its third annual open house for Sunday, November 18 from 3 to 5 p. m. The public is invited to attend this formal tour of the dormitory in commemoration of the completion of "Christ's Chapel," a student prayer room.

The prayer room is located on the second floor of Chapman and was finished two years ago. Selby Gartner, an architectural drawing major, designed the chapel and was responsible for most of its construction.

Financed By Dorm

The finances were provided mainly by donations from residents of the Chapman Hall dormitory with the initial $60 coming from a fellow who sold his radio to begin construction on the prayer room.

Final cost of "Christ's Chapel," estimated at $1,100 includes such major items as genuine Philippine mahogany pews and a $275 rug for the floor. The main purpose of the chapel is to provide a place for meditation and private devotions.

Chapman Hall, named after the past general superintendent, Dr. J.

B. Chapman, was first opened to public inspection two years ago.

Dean C. E. Taylor is head resident of the dormitory with Ray Tate and Bob Burkhart assisting him as student deans.

The Dorm Council, under the guidance of Jim Lais, will be in charge of conducting the tour of the dorm.

Kampus Kalendar

Tonight—Music Recital in the Chapel (8 p. m.).

Nov. 10—CHS vs. New Meadows football, here (2 p. m.).

Nov. 12—Bench List posted.

Nov. 12-16 — Society Speech contest (afternoons).

Nov. 14—Faculty meeting.

Nov. 16-17 — Society play, "Great Expectations".

Nov. 18—Formal Open House, Chapman Hall (3-5 p. m.).

In Memoriam

Clinton Eugene Cook
Born: January 21, 1931.
Died: October 26, 1951.
Lived well, died well.

By Chester Galloway

Clinton was born at Princeton, Idaho, where he attended school until 1945 when he and his parents moved to Boulder, Colorado. He graduated from high school there and came to N. N. C. where he was a member of the junior class and the inter-collegiate track squad.

Clinton was converted as a child, later received his call to preach, and came to N. N. C. to prepare to fulfill that call.

He was active in scholastic and athletic activities. We saw in him one who had a goal for his life, and one who worked diligently toward that goal.

His broad, friendly smile always brightened the campus. His straightforward and frank, yet cheerful words and Christian spirit helped us to do more toward making life worthwhile.

Clinton always enjoyed a race of any kind. As a child he used to race his friend to see who could be first to give his testimony when an occasion presented itself. As an athlete, he accepted the facts of life as the rules of the game and made the most of them without asking favors or allowances. He was prepared to meet the circumstances of life. He left us with obligations to none, without fear, and without a sign of pain.

As a Christian athlete he leaves within our hearts his testimony. If he could have spoken to us he would probably have calmly and cheerfully said, "I have run a good race, I have finished my course; I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge shall give me . . ." II Timothy 4:7,8.

All Senior Group Elected Who's Who

Results of elections for "Who's Who" in American Colleges and Universities" for 1951-52 reveal 11 seniors representing the NNC student body. Marvin Bloomquist, Gordon Belzer, James Carkhuff, Dan Jackson, Daphne McGregory, Marian Johnson, Joe Wright, Millard Reynolds and Clifford Cowley were chosen in the recent election, and Chester and Mary Alyce Gallo-way are automatically members of the group by virtue of their election last year when they were juniors.

Eighteen names were submitted to the student body by a nominating committee composed of the student council and administration. Of this number, nine were elected to be considered and approved for final publication.

Qualifications considered for election are scholarship, leadership and participation in extra-curricular activities, citizenship, service to the school, promise of future usefulness to business and society, and Christian character and influence.

A complete list of the activities and accomplishments of the new "Who's Who" members will be presented in a later issue.

Yoda, Marks, Rapp Student Delegates To Annual IRC Convention in Portland

Terry Yoda, Ruth Marks, Fred Rapp, student delegates, and Miss Ethel Allison, faculty advisor, represented N. N. C. in the annual International Relations Convention last week.

Approximately 100 students from 15 colleges in the Pacific Northwest attended the convention in Portland. Host colleges were Marylhurst, Portland University, and Lewis and Clark College. All business meetings were held at the First Presbyterian Church. A banquet was held on the campus of Lewis and Clark college and Marylhurst was the scene of the traditional Friday evening party.

Students Discuss

Fred Rapp contributed to the discussion centered on National Defense. Ruth Marks represented the local club in discussing the European problems of today.

Of special interest to Terry Yoda, NNC student from Japan, was the discussion on the Far Eastern problem "Should Red China Be Admitted to the United Nations?"

Mr. Yoda tells of one Chinese student who stood and asked, "Why is the United States and Great Britain trying to do something for China? China for the Chinese! Korea for the Koreans." He also in-

Curtain To Rise On LSP-ADP Play One Week From Tonite, November 16

One week from tonight the curtain will rise on the first of the society plays to be presented this semester. Next Friday's three-act production, "Great Expectations," was dramatized from Charles Dickens' novel by Marian L. Johnson and will be presented by the combined ADP-LSP Societies. The production will be repeated on Saturday night. Lois Herron and Pat Wilkes are co-directors of the production.

Lauren Sanders stars as Pip, a young man of great expectations, who loses his heart to beautiful but proud and haughty Estella, portrayed by Beverly Woodbeck.

Pip stays with his nagging sister, Mrs. Joe Gargery, played by Carol Johnson and Estella is the ward of a wealthy old spinster, Miss Havisham, dramatized by Edna Cramer.

The play takes place in England in the early 19th century. The setting of the opening scene is in the graveyard of a deserted country church. The scene varies from this site to an apartment in London for the final moments of the play.

Cast Listed

Phil Peterson is cast as Herbert, a boy about Pip's age, with whom he rooms in London; Russell Miller plays the part of the escaped convict who is later known as Magwitch; Mr. Jaggars, an attorney, is played by Gordon Renschler; Esther Rinker takes the part of Bid- dy, the niece of Mr. Mopsle, a clerk in the church who turns actor, portrayed by Doug Peterson.

Maurice Palmquist plays the role of Joe Gargery, a blacksmith with whom Pip lives; Roy Puckett plays the part of Raymond, one of Miss Havisham's clinging cousins; his "over-affectionate" wife, Camilla, is played by Marie Lindsley Rinehard; Melvin Palmquist takes the part of the officer, a soldier from the prison ship; Clara, Herbert's friend, is dramatized by Joyce Harper.

The SLA-Oly play entitled, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come", will be presented a week later on November 23 and 24. The societies presenting the winning play this semester will receive 1,000 points toward the faculty loving cup.

"Rally for Rileys" Slogan for Sunday, Announces Harper

"Rally for Rileys" is the slogan for the Sunday School rally next Sunday, which will honor the seventh anniversary of Dr. John E. Riley as pastor of College Church. Sunday School Superintendent Edward Harper announced Sunday that Sunday School attendance goal is set at 850.

The rally is planned as a complete surprise to Dr. Riley who will return Sunday morning from Bethany, Oklahoma. He delivered the Aycock lecture messages to the student body of Bethany Peniel College there this week.

Supt. Harper says, "Remember the 'Rally for Rileys' and be out to Sunday School on time next Sunday."

Jr. Class Has Film In Thursday Chapel

"Go Forth," a missionary film sponsored by the junior class, was shown during chapel Thursday. Each class is responsible for presenting at least one missionary chapel service throughout the year.

The story was about a returning veteran, who could not be content to stay at home, although his father, a prominent doctor, and his fiance urged him to settle down. He felt definitely called to become a medical missionary, and wanted to return to China, where he had previously seen the great need. The story climaxed when he convinced his father and fiance that the work in China was more important than starting a practice here.

Society Speech Contests To Be Held Next Week

Next week has been set as the time for the annual society speech contests run-offs. Divisions this year are debate, humorous reading, and Shakespearian dialogue.

Each society may enter as many contestants as they wish in the humorous reading and Shakespearian divisions but only one debate team per society is allowed. Points will be awarded for first, second, third and fourth places in each event.

Debate competition will be completed during the week but only contest preliminaries in the other two events will be judged.

Finalists in the humorous reading and Shakespearian dialogue will compete in a chapel program scheduled for December 7, when the judges will choose the winners.

Mrs. Hudson Heads Preacher's Wives

Mrs. Leah Hudson has been selected to lead the Shepherdess class for this next semester. A brief organizational meeting was held before the class got underway. Mrs. Paul and Mrs. John Flowers are in charge of advertising and announcements.

"The Preparation of a Minister's Wife" was the topic for the evening, with Mrs. Riley doing the speaking. There was a get-acquainted time in which the group caught up on all the summer news of girls who have graduated and are working. Brief notes were received from former members — Mrs. Paul Beaver, Mrs. Jack Hawthorne, Mrs. Alvin House and Mrs. Ralph Hull.

December 3 is the date set for the next meeting to be held in the Seminar room of the library.

Student Recital Tonite in Chapel

Student talent will be featured in recital tonight at 8:00 o'clock. The recital will be sponsored by the Music Club in the chapel. Included in the program will be piano, vocal, and instrumental numbers by Marian Johnson, Ila Mae Van Notrick, Delores Lovett, Virginia Walton and others.

The public is invited to the first evening student recital of the year.

Cooperation! Where Is It?

What's happened to our spirit of cooperation? Where is the attitude of consistent "working-togetherism" which has typified our college from its earliest stages? Are we too busy to cooperate? I doubt it! Cooperation may involve nothing more than stating a very definite and legitimate reason for why you are unable to do the task that is asked of you. A true spirit of cooperation demands the best that is in a person at all times and in every given instance.

Cooperation means participation but its true meaning goes far deeper than that. It means dependability, durability and character. Look about you. Who are the students that you would pick as the ones most likely to be successful and fruitful in later life? Certainly not the ones whom you know to be undependable and who cannot be expected to cooperate.

Right now, every day, you are building your character and molding your future. "What you are, you are becoming." You absolutely cannot be slothful and mishap in your ways and expect no after-effects.

Few things try a group leader's patience more than individuals of that group who cannot be depended on; individuals who promise things and then, not because they intend to, but because of habits which they have built up through the years, fail to get the job accomplished. And it seems that it never occurs to this individual to inform the promised person in advance if he is unable to carry out the mission.

Many of you are innocent of any failing along this line. Your cooperation is something to talk about and believe me, it is talked about. I'll agree that human faults and failings are noticed and talked about sooner and more often than desirable character traits, but a cooperative spirit will go unnoticed only as long as no pressing need for help and cooperation is present.

Remember too that dependability in the secular or scholastic realm will also be carried over into the spiritual realm. A person who is willing and ready to cooperate in little things will be made "ruler over much." The same holds true of failure along these lines. A person who is undependable in responsibilities outside the church will be exactly the same when it comes to issues of spiritual value. A split personality cannot exist in a normal person.

You cannot conscientiously rationalize and cover up your character weakness by imagining that you would really "come through" if you could only be given an important enough job. Human nature just doesn't operate that way.

It is never too late to make changes in our character but the later it gets the more one is forced to hurry and 75 per cent of all mistakes may be attributed to haste. Why invite future unrest and unhappiness by delaying the formation of attitudes and habits which will build the kind of character we desire now and will need for the future.

Why not begin to cultivate the cooperative side of your character today?

Let's cooperate!

Many Eyes Blinded By Loud Colors As Women Award Prizes for Best Pajamas

Stag Nite Sees Sweaters, Bouts, Beards, Bruises

Hail ye kings of the be-sweatered and be-whiskered, Gurth White and Mel Laws. These mighty monarchs reigned during the hectic two hours of the annual Stag Night.

The doings, made conspicuous by the absence of females in any form, consisted of everything from boxing and wrestling to beard contests and balloon stomping. Howard Smith, the Leamon Drop Kid, began the evening by doing just that. In another slam-bang bout, Skip Wilcox T-KO'd Bounding Bill Miller.

Just to make things interesting, a contest was held to find out who could swallow the most root beer in one gulp. Of course, it wasn't really root beer. It was MgSO<sub>4</sub>·7H<sub>2</sub>O, better known as Epsom Salts.

In the way of wrestling, Dan Wright, alias Big Toad, and Dicky Johnson, better known as Little Toad, soundly trounced each other. The referee, George Pfenninger, called it a draw. He was then soundly trounced by Big Toad and Little Toad.

In other features, Vernon Kisse kept his balloon unstomped upon longer than anyone else and Steve Wilson's face won the award for being the youngest thing there with whiskers.

Among the most amazing feats accomplished were those by gymnast Wayne Lockner on the high bar.

Musical talent included western duets by Ron Beech and Rod Newman and melodic solos by L. Wesley Johnson. Quincy Angier also sang and T. C. Leckie pounded out a few numbers on the piano.

Credit should be given where credit is due, so the fine policing job done by Sergeant-at-Arms Dave Streby is hereby acknowledged. Proof that he was on the job can be had by checking with Beardless Roger Wright, who now has his arm in a sling.

After the storm was over, the disgruntled losers and the happy winners washed down sugar cookies with cider and then went home to shave.

REVIVAL ALL THE TIME

By David Taylor

There is a tendency to let the presence of an evangelist and the pressure of advertising bring a revival. There are those who feel that the only time to think and work for revival is when there is a special campaign.

But should a revival spirit prevail just when there is a special worker? Should the flood tides of salvation only when there is advertising and the pressure of a meeting? No! There ought to be revival in all our services in all our churches all the time.

The secret of having a continuous revival is wrapped up in the word "faithfulness." If we will be as faithful as we ought to be, there will be a revival.

There ought to be faithfulness in prayer. Prayer cannot be emphasized too much. We can never stress the power of prayer to too great an extent. We need to keep a prayer burden and fall to our knees in order to keep the showers of revival falling down upon us.

Following this there is the matter of faithfulness to church services. The person who is careless in regard to his church attendance and who seldom will attend a prayer meeting is more of a hindrance to revival than a help. If we expect revival we will have to be faithful to the church.

Then, let's be faithful to the needs of men. We ought never to forget that those unsaved men and women around us are headed for eternal damnation without God and without hope. We need to be continually conscious of the needs of those with whom we live, work and play, and strive to live in such a way that those needs might be met because of our lives.

We can have a continuous revival if we will but pay the price. Let us be faithful and see God come in salvation to hearts in all our churches all the time.

Ima Harris and Sally Tibbets. A ten o'clock snack of hot dogs and pop was served to the girls by Elna Funk, Lois Tracy and Flora-dell McKay. Devotions around the fireplace, led by Mrs. Alvin Aller, closed the traditional all-girl party.

THE BIG SPLASH

Along came a spider (Art Sullivan) and sat down beside her, and frightened Miss Muffet (Sally Tibbetts) away.

And who wouldn't have been frightened by the things that were seen at the party to celebrate Halloween?

Men dressed like women and in men's garb, their wives; we were all having the time of our lives. There were plenty of couples--some old and some new, can't remember them all but here's just a few: Joy Tink and Harold Stickney, Marilyn McGraw and Ray Tate--Pat Wilkes had Dick Johnson for her little date.

There was Jo Ann Gause and boyfriend Paul Wright, and, of course, the girls footed the bill for the night.

When Juniors go out windows, it's that time of year when the sneak of the seniors is here,

You should see our professors--Carlson and Hanson by name, taking corners on two wheels--oh, my! what a shame.

The seniors got away safely--limburger cheese and all, but they're not so smart--I'll be a senior some fall.

A very happy girl was one little lass, who is a member of the sophomore class,

That's Gerry Proudfit -- her boyfriend was here, but he's gone home to stay--the poor dear.

Which reminds me, she won a first prize! At the PJ party, her colorful pajamas almost blinded our eyes.

Virginia Walton was first with the most unique, there were plenty of girls whose pj's were sleek,

But Mary Mattson's were the prettiest I saw, (they didn't give a booby prize or I'd have won by far.

Seniors Receive A Stinking Send-Off To Annual Sneak

The Seniors were welcomed back by the "Off-Beat" five-piece Junior band in Morrison Dining Hall Saturday night. George Pfenninger, acting as master of ceremonies, interviewed seniors on the "Welcome Travelers" program. The Seniors interviewed were presented with Miss Carlson's limburger cheese sandwiches and Dr. Hanson's lard. Music was presented in the Mowry Manner and also a vocal number by Bruce Koerner. The climax came when juniors and seniors, once again friends, sat down to a chili and ice cream feed.

The seniors were escorted out of town last Thursday at 3:00 a. m. by members of the junior class. Previous arrangements had been made by the thoughtful juniors to give the unsuspecting seniors a more pleasant journey, namely, limburger cheese on the radiator and steering wheel with lard on the windows. Even the police were interested in giving them a warm send-off, stopping Bob Johnson and a few others (oh the Juniors were very considerate).

As a matter of fact the juniors were far better prepared and knew more about when and where the seniors were going than they did.

Miss Carlson is still wondering if Bob Wilkes found Lois Herron. The juniors saw her along with the rest of the senior girls reflected in the mirror of the dining hall. Earlene Tapley almost joined the seniors when Marian Johnson opened the car door for her. Milton Goodminson came running out from under the bushes only to find it was Jim Lais, who was very willing to pick him up. We can't understand why Milton took off so fast. Inci-

CRUSADERS BRACE FOR TOUGH SLATE

Crusader Five Get Braced for Tough Basketball Season

NNC's varsity cagers settled down to serious business this week as they readied themselves for one of the toughest slates in the history of the school.

Their season opens Dec. 3 at Dakota Wesleyan and will be followed in rapid succession by tilts with Huron, Yankton and Augustana. The away-from-home four games will be part of the Crusaders' first extended road trip of the year.

Monty Lee's lads return home for their local lid-lifter Dec. 13 and 15 when they tangle with their traditional rival, Pasadena Nazarene College.

Three regulars from last season will be the mainstays of this year's five. Captain Millard Reynolds, Merl Iles and Carlyle Dean, all seniors, are the only regulars back.

Sophomore Myron Finkbeiner appears headed for one of the starting guard spots while the vacant forward berth seems to be a wide-open race.

Bud Baska, still dogged by the old injury jinx, has the inside track if he can keep out of the hospital long enough to practice.

Forward Skip Wilcox is another who has looked good in drills along

Muscle-Men (?)—Check This

Howard Smith TKO'd Keith Leaman in the second round of last Friday's bout, sponsored by the Sons of Samson and staged during the annual Stag Night festivities.

Fellows interested in boxing, wrestling and gymnastics are urged to turn out for Sons of Samson Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 9:00 o'clock in the gym.

Wayne Lockner of Denver, Colorado, is president of the group, which has tentatively scheduled several exhibitions for the near future.

Other officers are: Art Jacobs, vice president, from Walla Walla, Wash., and Dick Erdman, secretary-treasurer, from Tacoma, Wash.

FLASH

All cheerleader aspirants are advised to turn their names in to ASB Prexy Chet Galloway before Nov. 17. Cheerleaders will tryout in teams but will be voted on as individuals.

Tryouts will be held on Jam-boree night, Nov. 22.

ADPs Thump LSPs

The ADPs had little difficulty in notching another triumph as they tripped the LSPs, 26-0.

Lauren Sanders intercepted an LSP aerial and dashed 20 yards for the initial touchdown.

Curt Beukelman flipped a touchdown pass to Joe Wright for the second score and hit Dan Wright for the extra point.

Beukelman tallied the final score late in the game on a pass from Paul Wright.

with Lloyd Hubbard, a senior letterman and Lauren Sanders, a junior transfer.

George Fitch, moved up from last year's junior varsity should prove a strengthening factor, along with Paul Anderson, a freshman and Bill Robertson, another transfer.

Olys Trip ADPs

Building up an overwhelming first half lead the Olys hung on to nip their nearest competitors, the ADPs, 26-13.

Wilcox tossed a scoring aerial to Paul Anderson for the initial Oly tally. Finkbeiner caught another Wilcox pass for the extra point.

Speedy Millard Reynolds, mainstay of the winners, raced 20 yards for the second tally. Another Reynolds run added the point after TD.

The losers came surging back late in the game to close the gap. Sanders hit Joe Wright in the end zone for the first ADP marker, then hit Paul Wright for the extra point.

The final touchdown came in the fourth frame when Sanders hit another Wright, this time it was Dan, to make the final score read 26-13.

With a four-win, one-loss record the powerful SLA team is well on its way in the struggle for first place. Their only defeat of the season came last week when a determined and victorious ADP team defeated them 41-33. This victory put the ADPs in second place and also a chance for the title.

In third place are the LSPs who for the first time this year have suffered defeat. Holding down a firm grip on fourth place are the Olys with a no-win, five-loss count.

Powerful New Meadows Here For CHS Finale Tomorrow; Cascade Falls

College High's weakened but determined Trojans conclude their eight-man grid season tomorrow when they host unbeaten New Meadows in Bulldog Bowl. Game time is set for 2:00 p. m. with radio station KROK carrying a transcribed re-broadcast of the tilt tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock.

The Trojans, who last week vanquished Cascade 47-13 for their fifth win in six games, will be facing what is probably their toughest foe of the season. The visitors trimmed Greenleaf 26-13 while CHS split with the Grizzlies, losing 7-13 and winning 8-7.

Loss of several regulars will seriously hamper the local attack. Linemen Ed Manley and Floyd Johnson are both doubtful starters, while two other regulars will not suit up at all.

Likely starters for Elmore Vail's lads are Bud Bold, John Stockett and Lorris Benedick in the backfield, with Duane Olson and Clarence Kinzler at ends; Cecil Thompson at center and Leon Doane and Don Holloway at guards.

SUCKERS, READ THIS

So you're willing to admit that you're a sucker! Congratulations! This message is no doubt meant for you.

All big, healthy, and dumb football players should sign up for the annual "scalp - lifters ball", better known as the Turkey Bowl.

Participants for NNC's only tackle grid game of the year should sign up in the hall of the Ad building or contact either Millard Reynolds or LaMont Lee within the next week.

This one admonition. LaMont Lee will play. Naturally this puts the other side at a definite advantage. However, do not be discouraged. Remember a good word, just like a good kick, in the right place might do wonders to (1) your gym grade or (2) LaMont.

LSPs Drub SLAs 22-6

Starting off scoring with a safety, the LSPs found the win column for the first time this year by bumping off the SLAs 22-6.

John Helman tossed to Arlan Anderson for the first LSP touchdown. Helman then added the extra point by hitting Vern Belzer for the PAT.

Helman's pass to Kissee accounted for the second score for the victors.

Anderson ran back an interception 50 yards for the final six-pointer then accounted for the extra point by taking in a pass from Helman.

The SLAs broke into the scoring column on a long pass from Bill Miller to rangy Chet Galloway late in the game.

Cross-Country Men Leave for ISC Meet

Coach L. Carleton Lee's cross-country crew journey to Pocatello tomorrow where they will participate in the annual Idaho State cross-country invitational meet.

The Crusaders will be returning to the scene of last year's record-shattering performance by Captain Bob Burkhart.

By C. H. S. Journalism Class—Velma Pool, Editor

SPEECH CLUB ELECTION

At a meeting of the charter members of the newly-organized Speech club the following officers were elected: Phil Cole, president; Curt Lyle, vice president; Gladys Fred, secretary, Kenneth Muir, treasurer.

Phillip Cole and Curtis Lyle, candidates for the presidency, gave speeches before the vote was taken.

The new president immediately appointed several committees to facilitate the complete organization of the group. A constitution committee will be headed by Bob Harmon, while Ken Muir is chairman of a group assigned to select names for the new club.

The first all-club project will be the presentation of a special play at Christmas.

Miss Wilson will serve as faculty sponsor for the club.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Dozens of costumes and masks were seen at the annual all-school Halloween party held in the school gym.

Among the couples from CHS who could be distinguished in their ghoulish garbs were: Elaine Zeller dressed as a gentleman with Kenny Muir her very proper lady, and Sharon Finkbeiner and Charlie Howard who also made quite a pair.

Prizes were awarded for couples, individuals, and groups. CHS was represented in this group award by Joan Hutchinson dressed as a little girl seated in the family circle in a covered wagon.

STAKE FRY

Shrieking students, roaring bonfire flames and a sizzling St. Teresa dummy inaugurated something new in the annals of College High pep rallies on Thursday, Nov. 1.

The school band was present to furnish lively music which was interspersed with talks by Coach Vail and Football Co-Captain Bud Bold. Phil Cole delivered the eulogy to the toasted dummy.

A rousing yell session, led by the Three Cheers, topped the evening's entertainment and students and friends went home praising the ingenuity of the planners of College High's first annual "Stake Fry."

Business Clubbers View Three Films

Approximately 30 members of Business Club met last week in the Business Club met last week in their regular monthly meeting. The program consisted of three educational films, two of which were concerned with the development of the telephone and courtesy in using the phone. Also "Tale of Two Cities" was shown, depicting the results of the atomic bombings in Japan.

Door prizes were won by Howard Johnson, Joy Tink and Paul Wright. The president, Don Mesman, reported the project of the club this year will be the setting up of a testing program for employees of NNC in coordination with the Business Office.

H. Stickney Pres. Of College Band

Recently elected band officers are: Harold Stickney, president; George Mowry, vice president; Ruth Moses and Pearl Wilcox, secretary-treasurer and promoters; Richard Johnson and Ivan Weatherby, property managers; Eugene Nakada and Charles Mylander, librarian and assistant librarian. Prof. Johnson and the band presented a skit in chapel last week, which attempted to let the student body know the need for clarinet players.

Johnson to Make Tour For School

Mr. L. Wesley Johnson, college business manager, left Wednesday for Ashland, Oregon on a business trip in the interest of the school. From there he will travel to a speaking engagement in Camas, Wash.

From Camas he will continue to the Northwest District's Preachers' convention in Walla Walla, Wash., where he will speak in behalf of Northwest Nazarene college.

Edson Deal Speaks In Recent Chapel

Edson Deal, lieutenant governor of Idaho, spoke to the student body on Patriotism in Wednesday morning's chapel service.

Mr. Deal, who owns an insurance business here in Nampa, has spoken at various school functions in the past. Last spring he was guest speaker at the Junior-Senior banquet held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Boise Hotel.

His message dealt chiefly with the part which the American student plays in the keeping of our patriotic standards.

CASHMERE

Combines With Zephyr And Nylon For Price-Wise Luxury!

Last word in autumn togger! Bud Berma's classic pullover is worthy of a millionaire, but priced for everyone! For luxury—40% softest imported cashmere. For lightweight warmth—45% Australian zephyr wool. For strength—15% wonder nylon. Full cut for easy comfort. Handsomely finished with hand-turned neck, double-ribbed cuffs and bottom.
