

Dr. Paul Petticord Slated to Speak For Annual Miller Lecture Series

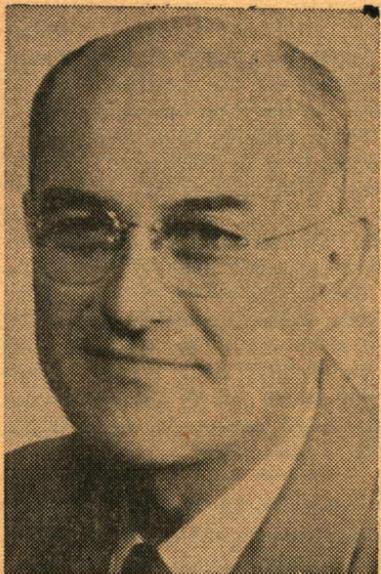

Coming to N. N. C. soon as lecturer for the Miller series is Dr. Paul P. Petticord of Portland, Ore. The lectures will be given at the chapel hour each morning, March 31 through April 4. He will also speak to the ministerial students every morning at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Petticord has been a minister in the Evangelical United Brethren Church for 25 years during which time he has served as a pastor, a conference superintendent, and a director of Christian education. Also, with his ministry go positions by election to many conference and denominational boards. At present, Dr. Petticord is beginning his 7th year as the president of the Western Evangelical Seminary, an interdenominational graduate school of theology at Jennings Lodge, Ore.

His interdenominational contacts have been with the National Association of Evangelicals, the Oriental Missionary Society, Youth for Christ International, the National Holiness Association, and many other organizations of a distinctly evangelical nature. He is the present chairman of the Commission on Evangelism of the National Association of Evangelicals, and is chairman of the Board of the Oriental Missionary Society.

His travels in the interest of the cause of Christ, through his own denominational and through interdenominational groups, have taken him into all sections of the United States, much of Canada, and across 14 countries of Europe.

In addition to the administrative duties of his office as president of the Western Evangelical Seminary, and his responsibilities in interdenominational groups, Dr. Petticord's heart is warm in the service of evangelism, and he holds a great number of union and single church campaigns during the year, in addition to as many camp meetings as his schedule will allow.

His entire ministry, in the pastorate and through all other duties, has been basically evangelistic, with the result that many people find God under his preaching. His wife, who assists him in his evangelistic work, will accompany Dr. Petticord.

Music Dept. Plans For Chadbourne Lecture Clinic Series All Next Week

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Chadbourne from the Chadbourne Conservatory of New York will hold a series of clinics here on the N. N. C. campus March 24-29. They are the foremost exponents of the Stanley principles of vocal production. Lectures will be given on the vocal techniques of breathing, attack of tone, phonation, and open singing. Actual demonstrations of these techniques will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Chadbourne.

Features Songs and Arias

Songs and arias will illustrate the application of these techniques regarding registration, pharyngeal resonance, pitch and sustaining of the tone as well as interpretation.

"I feel that this is an opportunity for all singers and teachers in the Boise Valley," said Prof. Chas. Ross of the music department. The Chadbournes are enroute to the University of Washington and Sacramento where similar clinics will be held.

Mrs. C. to Sing

Mrs. Chadbourne will give a song and aria recital to the college next Tuesday evening, at 8:15 in the chapel. The program will include Gluck's "O del mio dolce ardor," Ceaclatti's "Le violette," Respighi's "Nebbie," and "Pace, mio dio," "La Forza del destino" by Verdi. Also Brahms' "Die Mainacht," Schumann's "Mondnacht and Widmung," and Puccini's "Un bel di vedremo" (Madame Butterfly). Concluding numbers in the program will be "The Holy City," by Adama; "Do Not Go My Love," by Hagemann; "Where My Caravan Has Rested," by Lohr; and Tosti's "Good-bye."

Miss Bertha Dooley To Retire From Teaching Staff After 35 Years of Continuous Service

After thirty-five successive years of teaching, Miss Bertha Dooley will retire at the end of this semester. Formal announcement came last week during a dinner given in honor of the veteran teacher. Faculty members, administrative personnel and the Board of Regents were in attendance.

Miss Dooley began her teaching career in the elementary school of N. N. C. in 1917 and has taught continuously since that time. She is now teaching Greek and Literature.

Kooloff Speaks

Mrs. Margaret Parsons Kooloff, now of Winters, California, was the principal speaker at the dinner. Mrs. Kooloff began her second grade schooling under the direction of Miss Dooley, received her Latin instruction in College High from her and was an English major under the teacher's guidance during her college days. She later served on the N. N. C. faculty with her.

An Informal Snap of BERTHA DOOLEY

Dr. Thelma Culver, Dean of the College, gave the toast from the faculty, lauding the tiny instructor as "the little woman behind the great men." The tribute from the Board of Regents was given by Mr. Gordon Olsen of Eugene, Oregon. Mr. Olsen was a student of Miss Dooley's during the year 1930.

Faculty members presented the veteran teacher with a set of six commentaries by Mathew Henry; Volume V of which is autographed by members of the teaching staff. A mahogany wall shelf was given to her by the Board of Regents.

Dr. Corlett served as Master of Ceremonies and Eugene Southwell furnished dinner music. The faculty social committee, consisting of Rose Voget, Edith Anderson, Naomi Bolerjack, Dorothy Long, Gwilet Larson and Ruth Mack, arranged the dinner.

Miss Dooley is the third member of the N. N. C. staff to retire. Professor May E. Bower retired in 1946 after 18 years service and Joseph E. Janosky retired last year after teaching at N. N. C. 14 years. Miss Dooley received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Whitman College and her Master's degree from the University of Washington.

Regents Meet, Choose Taylor Dean; 9 Teachers Not To Return Next Fall

Members of NNC's Board of Regents approved some changes and additions in the new 1952-53 scholastic catalogs which were released by the registrar's office this week. Prof. Charles Edward Taylor was elected Dean of Students for the next school year, filling a post which has been vacant this year. Taylor is now dean of men and head resident of Chapman Hall.

Leaves of Absence Granted

Two professors will be on a leave of absence next year. They are Prof. Calvin Emerson, chemistry instructor and Hayes Johnson, head of the Business Department. Mr. Johnson will do graduate work at the University of Minnesota. Miss Bertha Dooley, instructor of Greek and Literature, will retire at the end of this semester.

In addition to these three, Mrs. Edith Anderson, Home Economics instructor, Miss Naomi Bolerjack and Miss Audrey Spurbek, art teacher, will not return next fall. Miss Ivalee Bolerjack has been granted another one year leave of absence to study music at the University of Oklahoma.

C. H. S. Loses Teacher

One College High teacher will also be missing next fall. He is Mr. Lawrence Lancaster, teacher of the seventh grade. The seventh grade will be discontinued next term because of low enrollment. At the end of next school year the eighth grade will also be discontinued.

Changes in financial arrangements include an increase in overload charges from $10.50 to $11.50, with the normal load limit extended to 17½ hours instead of the present 17.

Because of the rising costs of fuel, room rent in the dormitories will be raised $5.00 per semester. This will include the $2.50 laundry fee, which is now being paid by boarding students.

New Student Loan Fund

Also new next year is a Student Loan Fund set up as a memorial for Dr. H. V. Miller. It is provided by an anonymous fellow-minister and close friend of the late Dr. Miller.

Much time was given to the consideration of the financial status of N. N. C. by the board. They expressed their appreciation for the fine work which the administration is doing in handling the College program. The Board voted to request the district to ask the General Assembly for a raise in the general budget to an equivalent of $3 per member for this zone.

Improvements Voted

Campus improvements voted by the board include a fire escape for Morrison Hall and the seeding of the area around the High School and the new Home Economics building into lawn.

Work on the laying of brick veneering on the new Home Economics building will begin April 1. Inside work will be completed this summer for occupancy in the fall.

Student Caravan To Arrive Thurs.

Approximately 200 High School juniors and seniors from the Oregon Pacific district will arrive in Nampa next Thursday evening. Rev. W. D. McGraw, district superintendent, and Rev. Larry Bone, district N. Y. P. S. president, will supervise the caravan.

Cots, mattresses, pillows and blankets will be loaned without charge by the Morrison-Knudson company of Boise to help with the housing of the group. Rooms will be furnished by the Samaritan Hospital for some of the group. Most of the students will be staying in the dormitories and in homes of church members.

Students coming on the Motorcade, a counterpart of the Northwest district Motorcade, will be shown around the school and given a small pre-taste of college life.

"East Side" Voices Are Heard On Campus As SLAs, ADPs Present "Jiminy Cricket"

Voices of "them East side kids" have been heard around the campus this week. They originated when the ADP-SLA comedy, "Jiminy Cricket," was presented last Friday and Saturday evenings.

Howard Smith's excellent portrayal of James Cricket, the newsboy, has been the center of comments.

Mary Stroud lived up to her usual efficiency and reputation in acting by taking the role of the wealthy and "quick-witted" Mrs. Whitesides. Her domineering, busy husband was Bob Pfenninger.

Pat Wilkes did a fine job acting the part of the young, flighty and disillusioned daughter, Irene, who was assisted in her part by the very suave, smiling Calvin Roberts, played by Marvin Bloomquist.

R. Schmollhopper Report Revealed

A recent poll taken by Rudolph Schmollhopper among the students of N. N. C. revealed some very interesting statistics. Over 98% of all students receiving report cards last semester received grades ranging from A to F. The desire or lack of desire to receive the semester results showed a distinct correlation to the quality of their grade.

Of those receiving report cards, 95% swore to do better. The remaining 5% included those whose G. P. A. couldn't be raised for one of two main reasons; first, already 4.00 pt. G. P. A. or, second, 80 I. Q.

Of the 95%, 92% still have high ideals and plan to really work this semester. The remaining 3% have already given up for various reasons such as track, tennis or Morrison parlor.

This may be broken down even further. Of the 92%, 43% are still really working to raise their G. P. A. and make this a successful semester while the rest are resting.

Schmollhopper concludes from the foregoing that less than half of our student body is really studying. From his wealth of personal experience Rudy says that the hail fellow well met asking for a responsible job upon graduating should rather wave his dirty sox than his C, D, F transcript.

As an additional sidelight on the Schmollhopper survey it was discovered that over 99% of all automobile accidents involve cars and that an overwhelming majority of all divorces are caused by marriage. Schmollhopper may be contacted for car insurance and mutual marriage benefits at his office on Lake Lowell Boulevard.

Eyes Blinded

Adding spice to the performance and creating a need for dark glasses in the audience was Gullford Fitz with his pawnshop attire and his "across-the-tracks" dialect.

The desperation of Dennis, the Whiteside butler, played by Douglas Peterson, and the run-around given him by the maid, Esther Rinker, delighted the audience and stimulated the action of the 3-act play.

Blaine, the "wild and wooly" son of the Whitesides, was taken by Russell Miller. Liz, Mag and Bess Clancy were the three hungry girls from the East Side. These parts were played by Joan Gause, Virginia Walton and Rosie Lyon.

Directors for the production were Lauren Sanders, ADP, and Faye Iles, SLA.

'Be Kind to Profs Week' Hints Given

This is "Interknashional Be Kind to Professors Week." In conjunction with it we'd like to suggest a few "don'ts" to students.

Don't sleep during exams. The chairs are awfully hard and might give you a stiff back.

Dont' take off your shoes in class unless your mother has darned your socks recently.

Don't hold hands with your "true love" in class. It makes life difficult for the seven people sitting between you.

Don't take notes on a typewriter. This is terribly distracting to the students trying to sleep.

And, above all, remember: Professors are just like people.

Seen' Things . . .

C. King entertaining "Queen" Oldencamp; slight decrease in parlor attendance due to criticism; Wesche seeing more and more of Esther; Paul W. workin' like a cat on a tin roof over those radio programs; R. Kirkpatrick scurrying around after announcers; Jacobs parked in front of Morrison; What? blue moon, yet? B. Cole with a different car; Morrison's demerit system being treated with respect; Poodles and mangy horsetails; A. Anderson sporting a '38 Chev.; Prof. Kauffman's lights going on at 4:00 a. m. every day, Dr. soon, we hope; track men plowing snow; play cast members still modeling small dark patches under the eyes.

Nice Eh? It takes only a few minutes to find in others the faults we can't discover in ourselves in a lifetime.

DEVOTIONAL THOTS ON . . .

The Secret of Fellowship

By David Taylor

In the first chapter of the first epistle of John we read these words: ". . . if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ His Son cleanseth us from all sin . . ."

One of the marvelous truths of the Christian experience is that we can have personal and real fellowship with Christ, the Son of God. To be able to walk with Christ and to be able to talk with Him as we go about our everyday duties is a blessed and happy privilege.

To many people there is no life to their experiences. There is no real satisfaction. The reason lying in the fact that they have failed to learn the secret of a daily fellowship with Jesus. When Christ is personal living for God is a pleasure.

The major secret of having this heartfelt relationship is found in the verse that we quoted. The basic foundation in building the framework of divine fellowship must be an attitude and practice of complete and practical obedience and yieldedness to God's desires and purposes. We must walk in faithful obedience to God. We must "walk in the light" that God sheds across our pathways if we expect to have real fellowship with Him.

Do you have perfect fellowship with Christ? Or is your Christian experience just giving a dry testimony, praying a memorized prayer, and being a church member? It's your wonderful privilege to have day by day communion with Jesus. Let Christ be your companion.

Actors and Actresses Perfectly Cast In Oly - LSP Comedy, "The Perfect Idiot"

Mary Wing as "Linda Barnard" and Quincy Angier as "Daniel Tennyson" gave an outstanding performance in the hilarious, side-splitting comedy, "The Perfect Idiot," presented by the Oly and LSP societies. Miss Wing and Mr. Angier in the lead roles displayed remarkable acting abilities portrayed against the background of a well-selected supporting cast.

The ushers weren't too busy picking the laughing audience up out of the aisles, but we thought that they were going to be when Lilburn Wesche in the role of "Walter P. Latherby," soap manufacturer, became "hypnotized" into thinking he was a rabbit. Wesche did an excellent job of playing the part of a high-strung, domineering, but not too bright, executive.

"Athlete" Stars

"Aloysius (Puff) Witomski," star athlete, became a real person in our lives through the excellent acting of little Dicky Johnson. He looked at home on the stage throughout the entire play.

"Margaret and Roger Tennyson," parents of "Dan" and "Jackie," were played by Lois Herron and Myron Finkbeiner who quite well kept in stride with the fine acting done by the rest of the cast. Gerry Proudfit in the role of "Rhodara," Ronald Johnson as the high school principal, and Carol Newgard as a teacher, all showed up very nicely even though they had lesser roles with which to work.

Gordon Renschler and the other members of his "gang," including Esther Leinweber and Bobbie Welch, were very proficient in holding up the parts of the play which demanded their services.

Jennie Ray as a reporter, Eugene Southwell as a cop, and Sam Scammon as a daffy psychiatrist all did their share in making "The Perfect Idiot" one of the funniest plays ever to have been presented in NNC's auditorium.

A savings account is that part of a man's income which the government takes after permitting him to pay for the bare necessities of life. Remember to smile. The face is more legible than an open book. You can read the face at a distance and get it all at a glance. The book compels you to thumb the leaves.

Crusaders Open Track Season Here April 12 With Annual Six-Way Meet

Faced by Captain Art Sullivan, NNC's track aspirants opened pre-season training this week for a rugged five-meet slate.

Coach Monty Lee indicated that prospects were excellent for another strong track squad. Several members of last year's powerful club are back, along with some top prospects.

The Crusader cindermen open their schedule April 12 with the annual NNC invitational in Bulldog Bowl. Schools participating in that meet will include Eastern Oregon, Weber, Idaho State, College of Idaho and Boise J. C.

Other meets slated include the Idaho State invitational on April 19, Eastern Oregon April 26, the St. Martin's relays on May 3 and the College of Idaho invitational on May 10.

Candidates for the Crusader club who have been looking good so far include Sullivan in the broad jump, high jump and hurdles; Jim Frazier in the 220 and 440; Julian Hagood in the hurdles; Gordon Beeson in the 880 and mile; Wayne Aller, broad jump, 220 and pole vault; Bob Willard, Harold Hughes, Harold Stickney, Myron Finkbeiner and Howard Slemmer in the mile.

Other squad members are Roger Marks in the two-mile; Harold Beggs, dashes; Dick Powers and Bruce Koerner in the 880; Kenny Derkatz and Bob Burkhart, distances; Lyle Starkey and Arlan Anderson, dashes; Chuck Mylander, high jump and broad jump, Wayne Lockner in the pole vault.

ADPs, Olys Hold Volleyball Leads

ADPs ARE CHAMPIONS

Combining good ball control and teamwork the ADP volleyball squad downed the Oly team this week to gain their sixth straight win and cop the volleyball championship. The purple and gold squeezed by the Olys in the first match 15-13 but were overpowered in the second 15-1. Working steadily in the third set, the ADPs overcame a 10-7 Oly lead and went on to win 15-12.

Determined to escape the cellar, the LSPs, after losing the first match 15-9 to the SLAs, won the remaining two matches, 15-12, 15-11. The win moved the blue and white into a tie for third place with the SLAs.

With but one match for each team remaining in boy's volleyball, the field narrowed to two contenders, namely the ADPs and Olys. The Olys displayed their power by downing the SLAs 15-8, 15-10 and dropping the winless LSPs, 15-4, 15-6. By defeating the SLAs 15-8, 15-11 and battering the LSPs 15-8, 15-6, the ADPs kept their record perfect.

The big match came when the Olys met the ADPs. The red and white took the first game 15-8 and looked like certain victors when they rolled up a 12-8 lead in the second game. But the Oly subs were unable to hold the ADP squad and the purple and gold went on to win 17-15. In the final game the Olys again got off to a 12-8 lead but the ADPs caught fire at that point and took the game and the match, 15-13.

To gain their first win of the season the SLAs capitalized on the short-handedness of the LSPs and downed them 15-10, 15-6.

Millard Reynolds Out of Sports Picture For the Year; Holds NNC Sports Record

Spring sports suffered a severe blow when Millard Reynolds, veteran ten letter winner at NNC, was advised by physicians to refrain from all sports activity for the remainder of the year.

Reynolds, a senior, has already chalked up the most impressive record ever attained by an athlete at NNC.

He has earned ten letters as a member of the Crusader basketball, baseball and track squads and has captained all three teams at least once. In addition, the Kelso, Wash. flash has been director of intramural sports on the campus.

Leading hitter on the Crusader baseball squad for the past two seasons, Reynolds was a member of last year's semi-pro state runners-up and batted over 450 for both the Crusaders in 16 games and the Nampa Clippers in 40 games last summer.

In track he was the top scorer last season, running up the dashes, pole vaulting, broad-jumping and the javelin throw.

As captain of the basketball five the well-built sharpshooter was second in scoring, bucketing over 300 points during the past season and over 1000 during his four years as a basketball performer.

His loss will be felt keenly by the baseball club where he handled the shortstop berth with perfection, and alternated as a twirler.

Mansfield Speaks In Chapel Period

Mr. Glen Mansfield, extension secretary of the Washington State Board Against Discrimination in Employment, spoke to the students and faculty of N. N. C. last week.

"Some of our nation's practices fall far short of our national ideals," said the state official during his 30-minute talk. Speaking during the regular chapel hour, he explained the work of the State Board Against Discrimination in Employment.

"The job of the state board is to bring these present employment practices in the state of Washington up to the level of our national standards and ideals," said Mansfield. While he was here he interviewed students interested in this type of work and spoke to the I. R. C. Club, telling of his visit to the United Nations convention.

Woodwork has been refinished, the hall and the office have been painted and the rugs cleaned. When asked about this pre-campus day splurge, Leighton commented, "The girls just wanted to get everything

T. Charrey Speaks To Business Club; 39 Guests Attend

Mr. Thomas Charrey, supervisor of the State Merit System Council, spoke to a group of about 70 students at the recent Business Club meeting. He spoke on the requirements of state jobs which come under the merit system and explained the examination system for state employment.

Students from the Nampa Business College and from the Business Department of Nampa High were guests of the college clubbers. Approximately 30 representatives from the Business College and one of their instructors, Mrs. Jewel Wilson, were present. Nine delegates from Nampa High attended.

Club Prexy Officiates
Business Club President Don Messman officiated throughout the evening's activities. The arrangements for the program were under the directorship of Ray Tate, club program chairman.

Door prizes for the evening went to Deola Thurmain and Merlyn Butler, both students at the Business College and Evelyn Prewitt. Refreshments of cookies, cocoa, and coffee were served by the refreshment committee.

Shorthand Students Reach 60-Word Goal

Four first-year shorthand students have attained a speed of sixty words per minute for five minutes with 95 per cent accuracy. Those writing at this speed were Joyce Harper, Esther Leinweber, Bonnie McGraw and Della Mae Reed. Mrs. Rose Voget is the instructor of the class.

Two dictaphones have been rented by the College for use in training students in the techniques of machine transcription and dictation. The sets are valued at $600 each and those enrolled must complete 36 hours of transcription.

P. B. X. training is also being given this year in cooperation with Samaritan Hospital. Each student must complete 12 hours of instruction and training given by the switchboard operator of the hospital.

Also on the agenda are twelve new Royal typewriters which will be installed in the commercial department of the College next fall, according to Mr. L. Wesley Johnson, business manager. The old machines will be sold to the public.

Delegates To International Relations Convention Return; Reports Are Made

Delegates to the International Relations Convention held on the campus of Washington State College returned to Nampa Sunday. Those journeying to the Pullman meeting from N. N. C. were Chester Galloway, Melvin Laws, Terry Yoda and Howard Miller.

These four participated in the discussion sessions and attended speeches and lectures along with 150 delegates from colleges and universities throughout the Pacific Northwest. The theme for the convention was "the promotion of a better understanding between students from American colleges and those of the other countries of the world." Approximately 15 countries were represented at the gathering.

Friday evening the group from here attended the International Banquet. The menu included dishes from many different continents and countries. The speaker for the banquet was Donald B. Cooke, Chief of the Youth Activities Branch, Department of State, Washington, D. C. The theme of his speech was "The Two-Way Street," signifying the cooperation needed between countries to reach a relationship of mutual understanding.

"First, we need an exchange of people to achieve this purpose," said Cook. "Second, we need an exchange of ideas between countries of the world and third, we need cooperation between the governments and the people of these countries before we will achieve international understanding."

These delegates from N. N. C. attended Sunday School and church in Baker, Oregon, Sunday. Student body president, Chester Galloway's brother is pastoring the Baker Church of the Nazarene. The brother, Rev. Dean Galloway, was student body president of N. N. C. last year.
