NORTHWEST NAZARENE COLLEGE, NAMPA, IDAHO

Friday, November 28, 1952

SEVEN RECEIVE WHO'S WHO RECOGNITION

Miller, Herron, Lais, McGregory, Tapley, Sanders And Tate

Because of their scholastic and extra-curricular contributions to Northwest Nazarene College, seven seniors have been chosen for recognition in the annual publication, "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

These seniors are Howard Miller, Lois Herron, James Lais, Raymond McGregory, Earlene Tapley, Lauren Sanders and Raymond Tate.

Besides the published write-up of their personal activities in college, these seniors will be presented with certificates of recognition and will be entitled to the benefits of the Student's Placement Service, which the publishers sponsor for students who need assistance in procuring positions after their graduation.

Howard Miller, this year's Associated Student Body president, comes from Molalla, Ore. Last year he served as editor of the NNC Crusader and is a business major. Howard has also served as ADP president, is a member of the Business Club, International Relations Club, Circle K and Zeta Kappa Ro. Previously he was a member of the Art and Camera Club, Christian Worker's Band and sang in Philharmonic.

AWS President Chosen

A Nampa resident, Lois Herron is president of the Associated Women Students, an LSP and is working for an AB in English. She holds membership in Gamma Nu Gamma and is also president of Scriblerus. Last summer Lois traveled with the Harmonette Trio. She has also served as program chairman of the LSP society, personality chairman of the AWS and social chairman of Scriblerus. Last year Lois was assistant dean of Morrison Hall and served on the Dormitory Council.

ASB vice president, James Lais, is a philosophy major who transferred to NNC in his sophomore year. Jim also comes from Molalla, Ore., and is an SLA. He served as president of Circle K, president of the SLA society, sang in Philharmonic and is a member of Student Council and the N Club.

Raymond McGregory is from Grand Junction, Colo., and is a business major. Ray served as president of his junior class and is now president of the Business Club and treasurer of the senior class. He is a member of the SLA society.

Crusader Editor Selected

Editor of the NNC Crusader, Earlene Tapley, comes from Sallisaw, Okla. and is an ADP. Previously she served as program chairman and vice president of the Associated Women Students, assistant dean of Morrison Hall; program chairman of the Home Economics and Business Club. Earlene is a business major and is now secretary to the Dean of the College. She also was a member of the Oasis staff two years and served as a member of the Dormitory Council and the Judicial Board.

Lauren Sanders, an ADP from Omaha, Neb. is taking a B. Mus. in theory. Among his other activities he has been ADP president, president of the senior class, a

Rev. K. W. Knox Gives Address Thanksgiving Day

Rev. Kenneth W. Knox, pastor of the Christian Church of Nampa, spoke to students and faculty at the formal Thanksgiving Dinner held yesterday in Morrison Dining Hall. Joe Keen acted as master of ceremonies for the program which included a reading given by Lyle Starkey and a soprano solo by Estelle Schroeder. Assisting with the dinner music was an ensemble composed of Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Kauffman and Betty Miralles. Louise Simmons also contributed with piano renditions.

The theme, "And Be Thankful Unto Him," was carried out with sampler motifs on the programs and the mirror above the fireplace.

Waitresses for the dinner appeared in pilgrim costumes. This theme was also carried out in the fireside scene. Mannequins dressed as pilgrim women were standing near a spinning wheel and cradle in front of the fireplace.

Committees were headed by Lois Herron, Virginia Walton, Mary Mattson and Elna Funk, members of the Associated Women Student's Council. Members of the committees were Bonnie Painter, Donna Holmes, Jo Clocksene, Doris Holmes, Bertie Graham, Carol Newgard, Donna Nine and Ethel Scammon. The sponsors, Mrs. Eugene Stowe and Mrs. John Riley also

Study On Personnel Service To Be Made

Chapel services on Tuesday, Dec. 2 will be devoted to a cooperative study on student problems and personnel services. All students will be asked to participate in a serious student-opinion survey to assist in evaluating the current guidance and personnel services programs on our campus. A staff opinion survey is being conducted in conjunction with the student survey.

There are several other colleges engaged in the program along with NNC. These include The College of Idaho, George Fox College, Ricks College, Rocky Mountain College, Westminster College and Seattle Pacific College. The results of the entire study will be available for each college.

Data received in this project will be instrumental in establishing a better and more efficient program of personnel guidance and adjustment procedures on the campus. Dean of Students Ed Taylor states, "Each student who assists in this survey will be making a contribution to the setting up of a better long range program of personnel services."

Aided in decorations. Special mention should be given to Mrs. Manley, Mrs. Erwin and Mrs. Odie who made the costumes for the waitresses. Misses Ruth and Dorothy Long assisted in the art work connected with the banquet.

Fifteenth Presentation of Handel's Messiah Scheduled for December 7

This year marks the fifteenth presentation of Handel's Oratorio, "The Messiah," by the Philharmonic Choral Society of Northwest Nazarene College. The program will begin at 8:15, December 7 in College Church.

Under the direction of Prof. L. W. Bulgin, the group includes not only student personnel but singing groups from the community.

Soloists selected for this year's performance are Estelle Schroeder, soprano; Arlene Samuelson, contralto; Quincy Angier, tenor and Marvin Bloomquist, bass.

Accompanying the group will be Mrs. Allene Swann, organist; Mrs. Ruby Sanner, pianist and a string ensemble composed of Mrs. Alice Kauffman, Velta Jones, Betty Miralles, Prof. Warren Franklin, William Vimont, Mrs. Betty Allison and Melvin Lacock.

Book Drive Contest With P. C. Shows N. N. C. Is Behind

According to the committee in charge of the Australian Book Drive, NNC is lagging far behind Pasadena College in the campaign to equip a library in Australia.

Word received from P. C. indicates they have already received 1000 books. NNC has donated less than 50 books.

Boxes are in each dorm, the library and Administration building. Crusader readers are urged to dig out those used text books to join in the drive to "Beat P. C." The AWS, Men's Club and Student Council are in charge of the local campaign.

C. H. S. To Sponsor Christmas Festival

Friday evening, Dec. 5, at eight o'clock, the College Chapel will be the scene of the Christmas Festival sponsored by the music groups of College High School. The program will be of a diversified nature featuring numbers by groups from the campus and community. Music by the High School Mixed Chorus, College High Girls' double sextet, ensembles from the high school band, the Cherub and Junior Choirs of College Church, the Crusader Choir and the College Male Chorus will be featured at this holiday festival. As a part of the program the audience will participate in a Community Carol Sing.

Eight To Attend Joint Radio-Press Conference Dec. 5-6

Northwest Nazarene College will be represented in the first Northwest Region press and radio conference to be held at Washington State College, Dec. 5-6.

Delegates to attend are: Howard Miller, ASB president; Jim Lais, vice president; Joe Keen, editor of the Oasis; manager of KROK, Paul Wright; Earlene Tapley, editor of the Crusader; Crusader Business Manager Herb Myers; Don Mesman, business manager of the Oasis, and Ron Beech, business manager of KROK.

The purpose of the conference, which is sponsored by the National Student Association, in conjunction with a Student Body Presidents' conference, is to forward coordination between student government, student press and radio.

Tentative discussion topics are financing and production of yearbooks, newspaper relations to administration, student politics in college communication and college political broadcasting and programming to the student.

Views of An Anonymous Critique Writer On the Recent "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde"

"The play's the thing." I hope that Hamlet's statement may be taken out of context once more to serve the purpose of this poor struggling "critic." For I am not an apt critic, having had little experience analyzing drama as it is produced. However, I was very flattered when the editor of the Crusader asked me to write a critique of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Having observed the development of various activities on your campus for several years, I feel my observations may interest you.

My first overwhelming impression was that NNC students have not lost their ability to make do with facilities which students in most other colleges and universities would laugh at and never think of using. The cast of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" need not be told that their stage facilities were limited. The stage in the auditorium was built, I imagine, without the thought of a dramatic production in mind, and it is, therefore, an exceedingly small stage. Any play cast is to be lauded for their courage in attempting a production under such a handicap.

The audience was another very distinct handicap to the cast for perfectly natural reasons. The audience was not unsympathetic but there was no genuine participation in the thought and motive of the action on stage. This is necessary to a "best" production. The reason for this, I assume, was that the players are well known on the campus; and thus, moments which normally would have been silent with tragic truth were lost in merriment.

Of the players, Mr. Ferguson, very naturally, was most outstanding. He carried the burden of action as well as the responsibility for inspiring the audience with sympathy for his position. He has a fine voice, which, with more training, could be an unusual stage voice. My only anxiety for him was that his wife put a little more meat on his bones; for, of course such a handsome man must be married.

The young man who played Mr. Hyde has an unusually plastic face. My guess is that he makes a hobby of character imitation. He succeeded very well in inspiring the audience with horror, a moment at a time. The next moment, everyone was dissolved in laughter.

Stevenson's novel is written from the practical, clearheaded standpoint of Mr. Utterson, the lawyer. Because it is thus implemented, the novel is convincing. Utterson's and Lanyon's lengthy remarks at the beginning of the play made for a very slow start; and the general impression of the play was that it was a horror story rather than anything resembling an allegory. This was certainly not the fault of the players, but the usual short-coming of a play taken from a novel.

Utterson and Lanyon did hold up their ends as good supporting actors. Bridget added a dash of humor which was badly needed at times. Sir Danvers Carew was consistently in character, even though his part was small. I believe he is the makings of a fine character actor.

This "critic" was rather disconcerted at the costuming of Miss Diana and Connie, the maid. While the men achieved some effect of severity and restraint these two feminine characters were distracting with their bags and hats and very modern dress. Stevenson wrote his novel before the turn of the century, and if the author of the play attempted to modernize set and costuming, he did a serious injustice to the atmosphere of the play.

But after all, it was an evening's very wholesome entertainment, and this "critic" enjoyed "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" as much as anyone.

The Faculty Speaks

By Mrs. Alvin Aller

The charge, "... be thou an example of the believer," given by Paul to the young man, Timothy, might well be applied to NNC students in the realm of music.

When we represent Christ in chapel services, over the air, in week-end revivals, at out-points, or in traveling over the zone, we should consider prayerfully our responsibility in choice of songs or instrumental numbers to be presented.

MRS. ALVIN ALLER

Music of the church today is being influenced by the modern trend in radio productions, resulting in a "boogie woogie," syncopated, half-gospel, half-jazz type of song that tickles the emotions of people. The use of jazzy songs in services cheapens our religion and grieves God. There are certain rhythmic effects that appeal, not to the spiritual, but to the sensual. Tapping of the feet indicates that rhythmic tendencies have been awakened.

Let us avoid exaggerated tempos and syncopated, off-beat music for church use. Rather let us choose songs with both tempo and accent appropriate to sacred music. When preceded by much prayer, the rendition of simple gospel music by Spirit-filled hearts can lead souls into the very presence of God. Billows of divine blessing flow.

Fortunately, around the college, we tend to use the well-written, theologically correct, musically excellent hymns and gospel songs of the church. However, the entertainment-loving public tempts our young people to resort to the use of light, trashy songs, or to present gospel songs in a "cute" or catchy manner. This tends to surprise, amuse, and please the fancy of certain types of people.

True hymns, in some congregations, are being supplanted by an excessive use of unrelated choruses, some of which are an insult to the intelligence of an adult group.

If our students and faculty members cater to these modern demands and follow the trends, how are the tastes of our people to be restored to the love of sacred hymns which, with the Bible, formed the basis for the faith of our forefathers?

When a good cause has been defeated, the only question that its advocates need ask is, "When do we fight again?" — Dr. Charles W. Eliot.

A wild goose never lays a tame egg.—English proverb.

Campaign for Debt Reduction Continues; Only $44,000 Needed to Erase Mortgage

Student Life In Germany Is Free

By Gunter Friedrichs
Editor, Der Kernfrage, Frankfurt University

A German student is completely free.

At Frankfurt university are studying about 5,000 students. There is no one living in dorms, fraternities or rooming houses. They all have their own rooms on rent, without any kind of regulations or restrictions.

And there is no student party inside and outside of the University without alcoholic drinks.

Students greet their professors in class by knocking with pencils on the desks. If they are not agreeing with their professor, they will demonstrate their contrary opinion by scraping with feet. Today, because most are wearing crepe-shoes, it is more popular to hiss by mouth.

Agreeing is expressed by knocking with pencils or by trampelling. It happens very often that one part of the class agrees, while the rest is hissing—in the same moment.

Now between high school in the U. S. A. in Germany there is a fundamental difference. The kids in Germany enter high school at the age of 10 and stay there for nine years. During this time they have to take:

Nine years English, six years Latin, four years a third language (French, Italian or Spanish), five years Chemistry, nine years Geography, six years Physics and nine years of mathematics. In addition, they must take sports, History, German, Religion, Music and Drawing.

About 45 percent of all German children are going through high school.

German universities expect that a student will do the most important part of his studies at home by reading books. Courses have only the functions of introductions. There are no textbooks.

The professor names a certain number of books. The student has to decide what he wants to read. By this way, it is possible that a German university student has about six months vacation during a year.

But a serious student has to study rather hard during this time.

Many students renounce certain classes if the professor is not outstanding. They will register for the class and prefer to read good books in the field at home.

There are no tests and examinations between the studies. After three to four years the student will pass a big and difficult examination to get the master degree.

He will apply for permission to take the examination if he has the feeling of being well-prepared. But almost 30 per cent will fail and can repeat the exam after a certain time.

You can get only two academic degrees at a German university—

Subscriptions have been received in the debt reduction campaign for the original goal of $50,000. To the present time a total of 56,000 dollars has been pledged and of the amount $14,000 has come in cash.

In order to completely wipe out the debt, $44,000 more must be raised. However, there are about half of the churches on the zone that have not been reached as yet.

Dr. Riley, president of NNC, made the following statement: "If too many churches do not fall below the mark we will liquidate our entire mortgage indebtedness. Half the zone has voted enthusiastically to do so. What does the other half say?"

Ten Easy Ways To Slip and Slide Through College

Here are "10 Ways to Get Thru College Without Even Trying," as written in PAGEANT magazine by Prof. Robert Tyson of Hunter college:

1. Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject. If you don't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.

2. Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.

3. Nod frequently and murmur, "How true!" To you, this seems exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective.

4. Sit in front, near him. (Applies only if you intend to stay awake.)

5. Laugh at his jokes. You CAN tell. If he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a joke.

6. Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it. Just ask.

7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.

8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course. If you do math in psychology class and psychology in math class, match the books for size and color.

9. Ask any questions you think he can answer. Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question he COULD NOT answer, and in your younger brother's second reader at that.

10. Call attention to his writing. Produces an exquisitely pleasant experience connected with you. If you know he's written a book or an article, ask in class if he wrote it. (Ed. Note: Don't try this at NNC, it MIGHT not work!)

the Masters and the Doctor. Between German and other European universities is no hard difference.

THEY TESTIFIED TWICE

By Thelma B. Culver

A report from the Registrar's Office indicates that three juniors and one senior have received a mid-semester G. P. A. of 4.00. This report testifies to faithfulness, self-discipline and intelligence. As I looked at the names I thought of the total picture of the lives of these NNC students—athletics, student leadership, outpost work, Sunday School teaching — and I thought of the fallacy behind that hackneyed term "book-worm."

Yet again I heard the voice of testimony from these four top students. During the Wednesday evening prayer service and in the Sunday School hour their voices sounded with testimonies of saving grace, sanctifying power and interest in and devotion to the church.

My own voice joined theirs as I found myself saying: "Thank you, Carlton Bryson, Joe Keen, Betty Miralles and Dale Swinney for both of your testimonies!"

VARSITY TO MEET EOCE MONDAY NIGHT

CHS Meets Nampa High Sophs Dec. 1

The sophomores of Nampa High will furnish the initial test for the College High Trojans Dec. 1 as CHS opens a tough twenty game schedule.

Faced with the problem of replacing his only expected returning starter, Clarence Kinzler, who will be out for the season as a result of a broken arm suffered in a football game with Cambridge last Oct. 17, Coach Elmore Vail will depend upon the squad's only letterman, 6'1" Ed Manley, two transfers, and last year's junior varsity team.

But a difficult job it will be to equal the record established by Vail's outstanding team of 1951-52 which won 17 games out of nineteen played. Manley will take the chores of the center position but will be hampered in the opening games by an injury suffered to his right hand. Four other seniors are seeking positions in the opening lineup with two scratching the six-foot mark. Keith Goodman, who was a steady fixture at left end of the football team, hits an even six feet with forward John Good one inch taller. Two guards, Ellis Miller and Mac Wells stand 5 feet 9 inches and 5 feet 8 inches respectively.

The juniors, all except one of whom have Jayvee experience, are guards Donald Doane, Philip Younger and Ronnie Kratzer, forwards Harold Wesche, and center Roger Hitchcock. Completing the big thirteen who have been turning out since Nov. 10 are three sophomores, Gary Finkbeiner, Roger Johnson and Willis Nichols.

Annual Jamboree To Be Nov. 29th

Intramural basketball opens its cage season tomorrow night in the NNC gym, in the form of the annual Thanksgiving Jamboree.

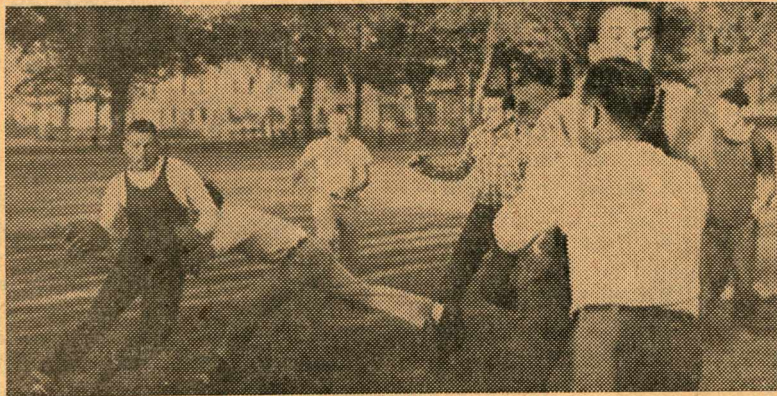

Yell leaders for the varsity contests will be selected during the evening's activities. Those trying out are Ellen Sutherland, Howard Smith, Howard Arnold and Gladys and Laveta Cantrell; Jo Ann Cook and Eugenie Steinback.

Judges will select the society that displays outstanding sportsmanship, the best skit, enthusiasm and decorations. Points will be awarded toward the faculty loving cup with 100 points for first, 75 for second, 50 for third and 25 for fourth.

Games will begin at 6:30 and the winners will play winners in both boys and girls games. The losers will play for the consolation game.

There are three things about the superior man that I have not been able to attain. The true man has no worries; the wise man has no perplexities; and the brave man has no fear.—Confucius.

Olympians Take Football Crown

One of the main springs of the powerful Olympian football team, which pounded out a 12-7 championship victory over the ADPs, is big Skip Wilcox, attempting to by-pass ADP Don Morgan. ADP Howard Miller and referee Dean Mauer look on while, at the far left OLY Leone Doane attempts to block Ray Tate.

Jayvees To Prelim At Mt. Home Tilt

Junior Varsity Coach Bob Dennis has his freshman recruits fired up for the opening of the season this week and predicts the best Jayvee team in years on the NNC campus. Following several warm-up games, they will travel to Mountain Home with the varsity for a preliminary to the season's lid-lifter Friday night.

With the opening line-up not yet decided upon, there were 14 men turning out. A probable starter at center for the Mountain Home game will be Harold Weber who usually is a forward but may move over in the absence of 6'4" Leon Doane, remaining at home for the society play. At one forward will be one of the two sophomores on the team, Bob Willard, and anyone has a chance to take the other remaining berths. That list includes Ernie Fisher, Les Chambers, Jim Gilson, Dean Maurer, Dennis Rudel, Paul Fouch, Duane Olson, Jim White, Don Morgan, Frank Earlywine and Floyd Johnson.

Doane is the tallest man on either the J. V. or the varsity and only five of his teammates hit the six-foot mark, those being Weber, Morgan, Olson, White and Fouch.

Dennis has been working the team recently on the Central Auditorium floor where most of the games will be played. One of the highlights of the season will be the Jan. 30 game with the touring Harlem Globetrotters. The game was put on the Jayvee schedule due to the varsity's engagement with Seattle Pacific College at Seattle.

Jay Dean, formerly of Nampa High and Oregon State College, is assisting Dennis as coach.

First Game To Be Played Tonight At Mt. Home Air Base

Monty Lee's newest edition of the Crusaders basketball team opens a long 27-game schedule tonight against the Airmen of Mountain Home Air Force Base at Mountain Home and will return to Nampa for the first game of the home schedule against Eastern Oregon College of Education Monday night.

With freshmen Mickey Dean and Darrel Reisch joining veterans Lauren Sanders, Roger Wilcox and Capt. Myron Finkbeiner on the opening quintet, they face the task of stopping the EOCE star, Lowell Kolbaba who, as a sophomore last season, almost single-handedly beat the Crusaders with his thirty-plus points per game against the Nampans. He works from the pivot position with all his 6'5" of height against the Crusaders pivot man, Skip Wilcox.

This initial home game of the season will be free of charge and is financed by four Nampa merchants interested in the promotion of local sports. Another round with the same team the following day completes the first home stand before the traveling squad leaves on a trip through Utah and four games in five nights.

The entire starting line-up measures at least six feet tall with Reisch, Wilcox and Dean standing at 6'2". Sanders is the only senior on the entire team, and in contrast to last year's group in which there were six married men, he is the only one in this edition.

Completing the roster is one freshman, Bob Cantonwine from Walla Walla, measuring 6' 3", four sophomores, Paul Bynum, Len Back, Harold Stickney, the team's tallest man at 6'4", Wayne Aller, and two juniors, Herb Geller and Mervyn Gale.

Five of the 12 have had some varsity experience with Sanders, Wilcox and Finkbeiner each boasting two years. Gale and Stickney have had one each. However Dean and Reisch were stars on excellent high school teams with the former leading Nampa High to fourth place in the Idaho Class A tournament and Reisch playing for College High which won 17 and lost only two.

It has been said of the world's history hitherto that might makes right. It is for us and for our time to reverse the maxim and to say that right makes might.—Abraham Lincoln.

FTA HOLDS MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Herron were special guests at the last meeting of the FTA held in Morrison dining hall. The main feature of the evening was a panel discussion led by Dr. Thelma Culver on problems concerning students when entering their first teaching position.

By way of introduction, each member of the panel presented some humorous incident from their teaching careers. Members of the panel were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Herron, Dr. Culver, Miss Ethel Allison and Coach Elmore Vail. After the panel discussion refreshments were served while the students asked questions concerning their personal teaching problems.

BETA CHI ALPHA TO SPONSOR ART EXHIBIT

The first of two annual art exhibits sponsored by the Beta Chi Alpha is scheduled for Dec. 8-12. The exhibit is a display of work done by students during the semester.

Through the efforts of the club, the works of Dr. Woody Crumbo has been on display in the R. T. Williams Library. Dr. Crumbo has attained pre-eminence as the nation's foremost Indian artist. He has exhibited his work in many galleries and has murals in many prominent public buildings. The pictures on display were done in the medium of silk screen.

At the Monday night meeting three films entitled "Art of the Inca," "Color Study," and "Portrait Painting," were shown to the group.

GNG To Sponsor Breakfast Dec. 4

Dec. 4 was set for the date of the GNG Christmas breakfast in Morrison Dining Hall, at the recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Voget. This breakfast will honor the new members.

Associate members received into the club were Noreen DeJong, Eunice Broadbent and Virginia Phillips. Kathy Liddell was given a prize for selling the most GNG booklets.

CONFERENCE REPORTS GIVEN SCIENCE CLUB

Marshall Science Club members met recently and heard reports from Ardith McCann and Ira Taylor on the premed conference held in Seattle. Prof. Tillotson gave a talk on "Beyond the Googul," dealing with a study of infinity.

Work on the grinding of the telescope mirror has also been started again.

STUDENTS PLEDGE $2,266 TO NOORDGESIG CHURCH

Herb Geller, treasurer of the General Missionary Society, states that $2,266 was pledged by the Associated Student Body recently to build a church in Noordgesig, the GMS project for the year.

The society also plans to secure 8x10 photos of all previous projects, to be mounted in a trophy case giving the year of the project.

Prayer and fasting each Thursday noon is also sponsored by the GMS. Vice President Rod Newman is in charge and reports a large group attending every week.

Charles Stewart Is Named Band Prexy

Officers were elected at the last meeting of the band with Charles Stewart chosen president. Gale Maxey, the vice president, will be responsible for transportation to and from the basketball games.

Janis Atkinson, new secretary-treasurer, will keep the roll and order the music. Stage managers are Wally Johnson and Frank Earlywine. Louise Simmons will handle publicity.

Wednesday the band played in chapel and Coach Lamont Lee and Myron Finkbeiner, basketball captain, gave talks about the coming season in basketball.

"We have the potential to develop a fine 45-piece band, if everyone will only cooperate," stated George Mowry, student director, "and it promises to be the nucleus of a good cheering section for our games this year." If you are interested in playing with the group, see George as soon as possible.

SHEPHERDESS CLASS

"What You Owe to Yourself" will be discussed at the Dec. 1 meeting of the Shepherdess Class.

The wives of ministers in the college are members of the class and Mrs. John Riley is the sponsor. The group meets in the Library Seminar room.

ADDRESS BY H. FUJII GIVEN AT IRC MEET

Mr. Henry Fujii was the special speaker at the November meeting of the International Relations club. "My Pioneer Days in Boise Valley" was the topic of his talk. Mr. Fujii has lived here since 1907.

Mel Laws, president of IRC, has announced tentative plans to show the film "History of the Korean Peace Talks" before Christmas vacation. Listen for a chapel announcement for a definite date.

ELECT CHOIR OFFICERS

At a recent meeting of the College Male Choir, an election of officers was held. The following were selected to share in the responsibilities of the choir organization: Harold Stickney, president; Guilford Fitz, vice president; George Mowry, business manager; Rod Newman, treasurer, and Lauren Nichols, platform manager.

Prof. Bulgin, director of the Male Choir, states that there are a few openings remaining in the singing group and urges those men interested to contact the director for an audition. Plans are being formulated which will provide an active schedule of appearances for the choir.

Morrison Chapel Nears Completion

Completion of Morrison Hall Chapel is the emphasis of Circle K this year. At the present time the room has been remodeled, the altar completed and it is now ready for the paint job and laying of the rug.

The approximate $90 received from the recent auction will be used in this project.

It was announced that again this year the group will award a trophy to the most active departmental club on the campus. Presentation of the award will be based on percentage of members attending and the activities sponsored throughout the school year. Mu Epsilon Sigma was the first club to have its name inscribed on the trophy.
