Heart Sister Week Set for Feb. 10-14

Heart Sister Week, the annual Valentine week tradition for the Associated Women Students, will be in effect the week of Feb. 10-14. All the girls wishing to participate will draw a name from the big Valentine box and place their own in, according to Bonnie Painter, program chairman.

Tradition demands that the heart sister do something nice every day of the week without revealing her identity, for the person whose name she draws.

The Heart Sister's identity will be disclosed by a plan to be announced at the AWS chapel program, Tuesday, Feb. 10.

Medical Schools To Give Admission Test

Candidates for admission to medical school in the fall of 1954 are advised to take the Medical College Admission Test in May, it was announced today by Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test for the Association of American Medical Colleges. These tests, required of applicants by almost every medical college throughout the country, will be given twice during the current calendar year. Candidates taking the May test, however, will be able to furnish scores to institutions in early fall, when many medical colleges begin the selection of their next entering class.

Test to Be Given in May

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 9, 1953, or on Monday, November 2, 1953, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1954 take the May test.

The MCAT consists of tests of general scholastic ability, a test on understanding of modern society, and an achievement test in science. According to ETS, no special preparation other than a review of science subjects is necessary. All questions are of the objective type.

Ministers' Wives Urged to Attend Shepherdess Class

"We want to reach every minister's wife second semester with our Shepherdess class," Mrs. Riley, class sponsor, said this week. "Interest has been unusually good with about 75% of the preacher's wives attending." During the six class sessions being held second semester, Mrs. Riley has planned discussions pertaining to the more practical aspects of being a minister's wife.

Last semester the class followed the outline of "The Wife's Relationship to God, Her Home and Her Husband."

"We urge every minister's wife, or girls in the college who plan to be a preacher's wife, to join the class second semester," Mrs. Riley further said.

The class meets in the library seminar room from 8 to 9:30 twice a month. Mrs. Ruth Laws is chairman and Mrs. Larry Abila is the publicity director.

Information, which gives details of registration and administration, as well as sample questions, are available from pre-medical advisers or directly from Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N. J. Completed applications must reach the ETS office by April 25, and October 19, respectively, for the May 9 and November 2 administrations.

Dr. E. Witthoff Gives Mangum Missionary Lectures, "India, the Land of Contrasts"

Today, during the morning chapel hour, Dr. Evelyn Witthoff gave the final address in the Mangum Missionary Lecture series.

Throughout the week, "India, the Land of Contrasts," has been presented by the medical missionary. Topics covered have been on the Nazarene work in India, its customs, religions and her personal call to the mission field. During today's lecture, she told of her internment as a Japanese prisoner of war.

Coming to Nampa from the East, Dr. Witthoff began the series Monday and has spent afternoons and evenings talking to various missionary groups of the city and interviewing students studying for the mission field.

Dr. Witthoff took her medical work at the University of Illinois and, after serving her internship, went to Canada for a medical examination, which answers for a British qualification and gives her permission to practice medicine in India.

During the war, Dr. Witthoff spent three years in Santo Tomas Japanese concentration camp in Manila. After liberation in February, 1945, she returned to the United States for a year and left for India in 1946. She arrived in the States June, 1952.

Seven years ago, Mrs. Louise Robinson Chapman delivered the first lecture about the work in Africa. Other speakers have been Dr. Lauren Seaman (Africa), Rev. C. H. Wymans (Peru), Rev. Prescott Beals (India) and Rev. and Mrs. Earl Mosteller, Cape Verde Islands.

The Mangum Missionary Lectures are presented annually on the campus of NNC and are given in honor of Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Mangum by their children.

PLANNING . . . WHERE IS IT?

The recent boys' intramural basketball championship game is an excellent example of the poor planning in intramural activities.

During the play-off, the referees were selected by tossing the whistle to two of the spectators, one of whom was a student. During the game, three different referees were chosen the same way, two of them having walked off the floor because of criticism from team members who objected to the way the game was called. For a short time the game was played with only one referee. Finally, another spectator consented to keep the whistle long enough to referee the final minutes of the game.

If basketball, or any other intramural activity, is important enough to take time for it, there should be SOME planning somewhere along the line to insure adequate refereeing and judging. Two hundred and fifty points are given in basketball toward the faculty loving cup, but it doesn't seem to be important enough to secure referees before the game!

The first semester speech contest is another excellent example of more of this "planning". One thousand points were at stake during this event. If you know anything about the contest, you'll have to admit it was conducted in a very haphazard, unplanned way. You'll probably hear more about this later.

It's high time we either PLANNED some of these events and carried out those plans, or else we should revamp the emphasis given toward the result of these activities. We invite your comments.

Sophomores Lead In Cutting Classes

A poll at Smith College, Mass., shows that sophomores do more class cutting than other students. Fifty-eight per cent of the class stay out at least once a week.

Three main reasons for cutting were given: Studying for exams; dull classes; and (for Saturday classes) out-of-town weekends.

Commented the Sophian, student newspaper, "The reasons or excuses for missing class reveal neither maturity nor responsibility. The most frequent excuse, studying, shows, if not a poor value judgment, at least a lack of planning. The dull class routine is even more ridiculous."

SCRIBLERUS PRESENTS FILM ON SHAKESPEARE

"William Shakespeare, Background for His Work," is the name of a film to be shown at the Feb. 9 meeting of the Scriblerus club.

Brief episodes are presented from some of the most studied plays, including Romeo and Juliet, Macbeth and Hamlet. Other interesting pictures will be the Kenilworth Castle, Stratford, the Avon, and Anne Hathaway's Cottage.

In addition to the film, Roger Marks and George Pfenninger will give excerpts from Romeo and Juliet. The meeting will be held at the Herron home, Maple and Idaho streets.

STUDENTS SPEAK . . .

By Terry Yoda

One of the hardest things for persons from different families, districts, and especially from foreign countries to learn is how to understand each other. When we look back into our history, we could find several evidences that this misunderstanding caused war between nations. And most of these misunderstandings are the result of ignorance.

I like it here, but there are many things which are far beyond my ability to completely understand. We, the Japanese, were taught to conceal our feelings, affections, and our own personal problems. This kind of teaching is based on the Japanese philosophy which was developed during the last twenty-seven centuries under the deep influence of Buddhism. We were taught that instead of trying to get help to escape from hardships or tribulations, we should try to break through them or fight against them by our own strength. We concealed our problems from even our closest friends.

In schools, the instructors or teachers never discussed or talked about problems that concerned the individual's private life in front of the class or in other public places. Instructors always called the students into their offices—sometimes to their homes—to give personal instruction. The students who are trained under these educational customs or traditions are easily embarrassed and discouraged when they receive personal advice in public. The instructors and teachers are also told to keep these individual and personal problems secret.

During my high school days, in one of the Tokyo high schools, an instructor gave advice of this kind to a girl in the classroom before the entire class. She was so discouraged and embarrassed that, after returning to her home, she committed suicide. Of course, this is an extreme example, but to a certain degree such traditions and customs are still extant among the Japanese people, even of the younger generation.

Upon the adoption of the American way of life after the war, considerable confusion and conflict arose between American customs and traditions which the Japanese have practiced for centuries, and I feel it will take over a century to settle these problems.

Foreign students are very sensitive because they are trying to learn as much as they can in a limited time. To the stranger, even a

THE HERO OF THE GAME

Sometimes it seems an awful shame,

And yet it makes you smile,
When in a game of basketball,
You fumble all the while.

You miss all of your easy shots
And foul the other team;
Your legs just get all tangled up,
You're strictly off the beam.

You travel when you get the ball
Or throw your passes wild;
You're always stepping out-of-bounds,
Your temper is not mild.

You try your best to get the ball,
But fall upon the floor.
You've lost the ball game for your team;
You didn't even score.

You come dejected from the show'r
Then someone calls your name;
You turn to hear your girl friend sigh,
"The HERO of the game."

(Charles Easton, Plano High School.)

FEMININE LOGIC

Asked by a student pollster whether she preferred male students in ROTC uniforms or in civilian dress, an Akron university coed replied, "If they wear uniforms then they don't have to buy so many clothes. That leaves them with more money to spend on me."

Another girl told the pollster, "I like civilian clothes better because the only way you can tell the Air Force men from the bus drivers is the way they tilt their hats."—(A. C. P.)

deed of ignorance brings unexpected results on certain occasions, as it is considered to be the result of racial prejudice. And to the others, the foreigner may give an impression of unfriendly isolationism. I believe, if we had more time together to exchange our opinions and ideas freely without any ill-feeling, we could understand each other much better and might discover some things about ourselves of which we have never before thought. Regardless of our traditions and customs, if we have a fine Christian love of fellowship and cooperation, no longer will we have misunderstandings and difficulties among ourselves.

The whole world is living in the midst of our greatest example, the United States of America, the world's greatest melting pot of the races. When we can find the real foundations upon which the great nation was built, I think we can find the answer to our most pressing problems.

Joy is not in things; it is in us. Wagner.

Students Pessimistic About Peace Changes

College students have little hope of either a speedy end to the Korean war or of peace between Russia and the United States.

In a survey taken by the ACP National Poll of Student Opinion, students across the nation were asked: "Do you think the Korean war will be over within 6 months?"

The results:
Yes 5 per cent
No 82 per cent
No opinion 10 per cent
Other 3 per cent

Students were also asked: How do you feel about chances for a peaceful settlement of differences between Russia and the United States? Here are the answers:

Changes are good 3 per cent
Changes are fair 27 per cent
Changes are poor 54 per cent
No chances 12 per cent
No opinion 4 per cent

In a Student Opinion poll taken one year ago the same question was asked. At that time only 45 per cent of those interviewed said "Chances are poor." (ACP)

THE JOY OF BEING EDITOR

Getting out this newspaper is no picnic.

If we print jokes people say we are silly.

If we don't they say we are too serious.

If we stick close to the office all day,

We ought to be around hunting material.

If we go out and try to hustle,
We ought to be on the job in the office.

If we don't print contributions,
We don't appreciate genius;

And if we do print them, the paper is filled with junk,

If we edit the other fellow's write-up we're too critical;

If we don't, we're asleep.

If we clip things from other papers
We're too lazy to write them ourselves.

If we don't we are stuck on our own stuff.

Now, like as not, some guy will say
We swiped this from some magazine.

WE DID!

Engagements

Rev. and Mrs. A. Richard Gongwer, Walla Walla, Wash., announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Mr. Dewayne Krause. Jean is a graduate of CHS and is a member of the freshman class. Dewayne is a sophomore. May 31 has been set for the wedding.

CHS Tip-Off Queen To Reign Tonight

Tonight in the college gym the traditional CHS "Tip-Off" Queen will be chosen. Those elected by the student body include Shirley Scott, Betty Coffman and Nancy Kegley.

Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scott of Payette and is a member of the senior class. Nancy is also a senior and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Kegley, live in Nampa. Betty June is from Harrold, S. Dak., and is a member of the junior class.

The girl with the highest number of student body votes will be queen and the remaining two will be her attendants.

Identity of the queen will not be disclosed until tonight.

Olympian Boys Take First Semester Title

The Olympian society, after serving as doormats to the basketball championship for several semesters, came up with the first semester title. The new champs managed to win only one game out of 12 last year.

Lost from the winning quintet are Paul Bynum and Gordon Beeson, who have been added to the varsity. Myron Finkbeiner, Len Back and Darrel Reisch have been added for second semester competition.

The SLAs appear to have the added material to make a big threat for the crown. Carl Bryson will see only limited action, but Bob Cantonwine, Wayne Aller and Mickey Dean make a formidable lineup to face the OLYs.

Alpha Delta Phi lost the services of Bob Burkhart and has gained Mervin Gale. Russ Miller is working with the junior varsity but may come back into the ADP fold before the new season starts. Otherwise they have the same lineup.

College High Meets Greenleaf In Annual Tip-Off Match Tonight At College Gym

Candidates for the College High School annual tip-off coronation, which will be held tonight in College gym, are, left to right: Betty June Coffman, Nancy Kegley, and Shirley Scott. The crown will go to either Miss Kegley or Miss Scott, both seniors. Miss Coffman, a junior, will attend as lower class princess.

They lost two games in the first half, both to the OLYs.

The LSPs failed to win any contests the first semester and the outlook for this semester is dim. Bill Richards, Keith Leamon and Harry Detwiler have left the lineup, which leaves the society in desperate need of material. But the LSPs could present any pennant-minded team with a surprise.

The College High Trojans will meet the Greenleaf Grizzlies tonight at the College Gym in the annual Tip-off game. The Trojans started the season by winning three straight games but have dropped eight of their last nine.

The luck of Elmore Vail's team has definitely shown the loss of Keith Goodman, who failed to return to school after the Christmas vacation, at which time his team was undefeated. Goodman was high scorer for the first three games. Ronnie Kratzer has taken over that role since his departure.

Kratzer's efforts, with the rest of the team, have netted only one victory, even though four of the eight losses have been by three points or less.

The 5'4" guard dropped in 18 points in a losing cause to the Nampa High sophs and 12 more last week against Teresa. Since Mac Wells broke his glasses in the third quarter and Roger Johnson cut his knee on the pieces, they were forced to leave the game with their teammates leading. The absence of the two were noticed as the lead quickly diminished in the fourth quarter and the Trojans went down to a 44-41 loss.

Leading the Grizzlies tonight on the basketball court will be Bob Chess, a big name in several sports for Greenleaf. Chess has averaged nearly 20 points per game thus far this season and has a good winning percentage in games to date.

The starting line-up for the Trojans in this Tip-off game will be Kratzer and Wells at guard, Roger Hitchcock at center and Ed Manley will work in the post with either Johnson or Phil Younger.

Backing them up are Don Doane, Willis Nichols, John Good, Gary Finkbeiner, Ellis Miller and Harold Wesche.

Students Continue TB Fight in Japan

Although it is probable that three to six percent of all students in Japan are suffering from TB, there are absolutely no special hospital facilities for these young people, according to Dr. Kiyotusuna Watahabe, a leading Japanese health authority.

In a speech to the Inada-Noborita Internation Work Camp, Dr. Watahabe stressed that the TB attack rate in Japan is on the increase, although, thanks primarily to new drugs, the death rate seems to be declining. In 1950 the Department of Education found that 2% of Japan's students had TB; but, Dr. Watanabe noted only 31.8% of the students took the required physical examination. Thus the report is far from complete. At St. Paul's University, for example, where 85% of the students were examined, 6% were found to have TB. And St. Paul's is a university which requires X-ray examination of entering students, so it has fewer TB cases than other Japanese universities!

Many Need Hospitalization

In Dr. Watahabe's view there are some 15,000-20,000 Japanese students ill with TB. Although many can continue their studies with adequate rest and health aids, 3,000-5,000 should be hospitalized. Forced to interrupt their education, seriously ill, what can these young people do? Hospital facilities in Japan for TB victims are totally inadequate—113,000 beds for an estimated 2 million cases—and costs are exorbitant. Care at an ordinary hospital costs a single TB patient in a month as much as the average income of a middle class family. Even though government health insurance programs may cover as much as half the expense, the financial burden, in a country where one family in ten includes a TB patient, is crushingly heavy.

Students Not Eligible

Moreover, Dr. Watahabe emphasized, students with TB are usually not eligible for government compensation if they require medical care. Many students work their way through college—for them there is no way at all to cover hospital expenses.

The need for student sanatoria in Japan is great. Students ill with TB desperately require a place where they can receive medical attention and rest while continuing their studies. At least one thousand beds are necessary to meet student needs.

COUNCIL ADOPTS RULES TO AID SOCIETY PLAYS

Betty Miralles, secretary of the Athletic Literary Council, has announced the adoption of several rules to facilitate the presenting of society plays.

Recommendations made by the Student Council and adopted by the Athletic-Literary Council were as follows:

1. Seats for the judges will be designated by the Athletic-Literary Council and will be the same for both plays. No other markings of any kind on seats will be honored.

2. Only two seats will be reserved for each member of the play cast and the directors. Twelve seats will be reserved for ushers.

3. The faculty may reserve seats for the second performance only.

4. Children under 12 will not be admitted to society plays the first night.

5. Reserved seats will be released ten minutes before curtain time, with the exception of seats for ushers and the judges.

6. Co-head ushers will be appointed or elected by the societies at least two weeks before the performance. Their duties will be to indoctrinate ushers as to procedure and dress; to select and properly designate the reserve seats and to see that the cold drink machine is locked.

"We are trying to correct some of the confusion," Howard Miller, ASB president, stated, "and the adoption of these rules will eliminate some of the unpleasant situations we have had in the past, we hope."

sanatorium to be built in Japan. With the support of World University Service, of which it is the Japanese affiliate, the JSRC hopes to raise the $20,000 still required for its construction. For two summers, in 1951 and 1952, students have taken part in an International Work Camp at Indada-Noborito, outside of Tokio. They have cleared the ground for the sanatorium's foundations. All year round, the Japan Student Relief Committee seeks funds within Japan to match those contributed by American colleges through WSSF and WUS. Work to bring this project to a successful conclusion is unceasing.

The Indada-Noborito Sanatorium is a small part of the total answer to TB in Japan, but it is symbolic of the great fight being waged. Support for the project has come from students all over Japan. When completed it will be an inspiring example of what CAN be done to defeat TB.

Gettysburg Address For A Sunday School

(Paraphrased by Tom S. S. Kelly)

"Two centuries and eighty-four years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new institution—the Sunday School—conceived in liberty and dedicated to the propagation of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Now we are engaged in a war with Satan, testing whether that Sunday School or any Sunday School so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure.

"We are met on one great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate this year, 1953, to the advancement of the Kingdom of God through that great institution, the Sunday School. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow—this institution. The brave soldiers of the Cross, living and dead, who struggled to build the Sunday School have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract.

"The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this institution, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that the Sunday School of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."
