Leaves Alma Mater, After Nine Year Tenure, To Go Into Private Business

MONTY LEE

After nine years as director of athletics at Northwest Nazarene College, Lamont "Monty" Lee has resigned to go into private business, according to reports released this week by the Administration.

Student Body Prexy

Born in Walcott, North Dakota, Monty moved to Nampa to enroll in NNC in 1941 as a sophomore. He lettered two years in basketball for the Crusaders and was student body president during the school year of 1942-43.

After graduating with an AB degree in Philosophy, Monty continued schooling and received his degree of ThB in 1944. That same spring he was ordained an elder in the Church of the Nazarene. He continued his graduate work at USC in 1945. Last summer he received his degree of Master of Arts in education from the U. of I.

While a student at NNC he was director of high school athletics and taught physical education classes in the college. He became director for the Civilian Conservation Corps for three years.

Joins Faculty in '45

Following his job with the CCC's he returned to NNC to become director of athletics in the fall of 1945. During his nine year tenure of office, he started the high school basketball, track and football programs on an interscholastic basis. In the college he began the track, basketball and cross country programs on an intercollegiate basis. He is responsible for the origin of such annual college activities as the Turkey Bowl game, Tip-off, and the Society Jamboree basketball program. Although the college intramural program was begun when Monty assumed his duties as athletic director, he developed it into one of the strongest of its kind in the Northwest.

Civic-Minded

Mr. Lee has also been very active in city interests in Nampa and throughout the Boise Valley. He was an original member of the City Recreation commission and at one time president of the YMCA Council. He has been active in Boy Scout and Red Cross work for several years. He is leaving his present responsibility with the college in order to assume a position in private business here in Nampa.

President John Riley is quoted as saying, "We are going to miss Monty on the campus. He has been a wholesome leader and an inspiration to Christian manhood, both for the men on his teams and to the entire student body."

It is expected that the Administration will announce Mr. Lee's successor soon.

Dr. Riley To Present ENC Gould Lectures

Dr. John E. Riley will leave Saturday for Eastern Nazarene College in Wollaston, Mass., where he will deliver the annual Gould Lectures from Feb. 28 to March 7.

Preceding the lectures, he will spend a few days with his mother in Boston.

College Speakers Appear In Idaho State Tourney

Several NNC students are taking part in the Idaho State Speech Tourney which is being held in Boise at BJC today and tomorrow.

Those participating in today's events are Jim Ridgeway and Hal Weber in radio speaking and Jim Ridgeway in after-dinner speaking.

Wendell Poole, Raymond Cooke, Helen Bogle and Marian Anderson will be entered in debate tomorrow; Lora Jane De Lashmutt, oratory; and Florence Cooke and Noreen DeJong, interpretative readings.

Final winners will be determined by the total rating in all contests.

Mrs. A. R. Aller Speaks At Convo

Mrs. A. R. Aller of the NNC Home Economics department, was a guest speaker at the recent Women's Division of the Annual Farmers Institute which was sponsored by the Nampa Chamber of Commerce and the Countrymen's club. For her topic she chose, "Home, the Hub."

Other speakers included Mary Jane Patterson, U. of I. extension nutritionist; Ester Nystrom, U. of I. extension clothing specialist, and Florence Steward, county home demonstration agent.

In the course of the program, different obvious mannerisms and characteristics of various faculty members will be satirized. All those being the object of fun will have given their consent beforehand.

Those on the committee are Clarice Harmon, Ginny Poplin, Harold Stickney, Carl Bryson, Alvin Solts and Lyle Starkey.

A Glance With Les At World Events

By Les Chambers

About 2,000 miles to the west of California, 500,000 Hawaiians are waiting, as they have on other days in other years, for news that has a deep meaning for all of them—statehood. They have waged a long, sometimes despairing struggle to make their much-loved Pacific Islands the 49th state of the union.

Benefits for Both

With a final vote on statehood believed to be close at hand in Congress, what will be the benefits for both continental United States and the Hawaiian Islands?

First, statehood for Hawaii could open the window of truth to the billion human beings living on the Asiatic continent and let in the light of Western democracy. All Asia could understand the theme: Freedom and Tolerance.

Claude Jagger, president of the Hawaiian Economic Service, puts it this way: "The state of Hawaii can be democracy's bridge to Asia."

Second, statehood means improvement in Hawaii's legislative, judicial and executive government; the right to vote for president, senators and representatives; and the right to live under a state government that would not be subject to federal veto.

Third, Hawaii would have a natural right to a share in federal grants for education, health, highways and other public improvements.

Economy Is Sound

The economy of Hawaii is sound and the employment outlook is good. The average islander is as well off, materially, as the average mainland. Per-capita earned income is almost exactly the same as the comparable figure for the continental states.

In the field of education, public school attendance exceeds the average on the mainland. The University of Hawaii is located on the island of Oahu.

Death Rate Low

The death rate on the islands is substantially below the national average, and the infant mortality rate is among the lowest in the United States and territories.

Today, politically, economically, and, most certainly, patriotically, the half-million people of Hawaii are ready to step into statehood.

Marriage Series To Begin in March Woman's Magazine

Marcia Carter was twenty-nine, stuck in a small town, and single. "How To Be Marriageable," the first of a new series in the March LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, begins to tell how Marcia accomplished her aim—marriage.

The startling results of a Marriage Readiness Course conducted by the American Institute of Family Relations are reported to the public for the first time here. Since 50 per cent of American women who marry are married by their 22nd birthday, unmarried women in their late twenties and early thirties have, statistically, only about one chance in five of finding a mate. Are these women "unmarriageable?"

"Our experience in studying the personality problems of thousands of young women over the years has produced evidence that the majority of women who do not marry, but wish to, have not learned how to be marriageable," says Paul Popenoe, director of the Institute of Family Relations.

Dr. Popenoe believes that any young woman who wants to marry can if she will admit her own dilemma and then do something about it. In the Institute's Marriage Readiness Course, each woman student is assigned a counselor who is a married woman. The student has a series of tests to determine the balance or lack of balance in her life and personality. Then the counselor helps the student to work out a program that will help her to overcome the handicaps that have kept her from marriage. An overly independent woman, for instance, may be subconsciously unwilling to submit to the "yoke" that she believes marriage to be. "It takes most unmarrieds about a year," says Dr. Popenoe, ". . . to be able to bring themselves to the point where they will work at achieving lovability."

P. S.: I might employ a secret service agent for me. How about it?

Love,
Zeff.

Dear Zeff:

I'll admit I didn't know half of what you told me. And I'm sure that with the insight of the private life of the students I will understand them better. Thanks again.

Yours truly,
Phil Osopher.

We hope all of you have discovered the newspaper room, with its attractive table and chairs, newspaper rack, and magazine shelves. The room is decorated in pastel colors, is well lighted, and comfortable. When you have time to read the news, or browse through a magazine, relax and enjoy the pleasant environment.

Please do your news reading and your casual magazine reading in the room where the rack is, and don't take the racks out into the main library, unless the newspaper room is crowded. In such a case, you may take the roller into the main reading room, but please return it to the rack.

The FTA books are now in the west reading room, next to the curriculum library. You will recall that the IRC books are on the other side of the arch at the end of the west reading room.

If you need films, filmstrips, or records, consult our catalogs, which are on the top shelf in the newspaper room. Ask to see what we have on hand in the audio-visual room. There are some filmstrips and records that may be checked out.

Eighty members of the Associated Women Students flocked around the box in the hall on Feb. 10 and drew names to determine their "Heart Sisters."

That evening things began happening. Rooms were mysteriously cleaned, shoes polished and clothes ironed.

Other girls found valentines, hankies, practical gifts or favors in their rooms. Thursday and Friday mornings even found some girls eating breakfast in bed, thanks to their heart sisters.

The climax for the fun was in form of a party Saturday evening in Morrison hall parlor. Each girl brought a homemade valentine and a gift for her "heart sister." Carol Newgard's miniature mobile valentine was selected the winner.

Pat Sommerville gave a reading and several girls participated in a skit, "Cupid's First Arrow." Jan Atkinson played the part of Cupid.

SPORTS SLANTS

By Smitty

Since the basketball boys have returned from their various trips, there have been a lot of stories floating around concerning their experiences and some are quite amusing. Harold Stickney and Leon Doane seem to hold the center of the talk this time.

As we heard it—Sticks was to play his horn for a service in Newburg but somewhere along the way it was dropped and one of the barrels picked up a dent which made the valve stick. He borrowed a horn from some good person in the church and planned on playing anyway (you just can't keep that guy down).

As usual he felt he should say a few words so he proceeded to explain that it was a strange instrument and that his was out of order. It would have been sufficient to say it was dented but not for Sticks; he had to say someone must have stuck his underwear in it or something. Harold politely quit talking and played for the people.

Then there's Leon Doane, the sympathy seeker who wants his knee bandaged but can't remember which knee hurts. Usually he has Coach Lee wrap the knee for him so he never paid much attention to the delicate operation, but one day he found himself without the services of this expert trainer so he had to rely upon his own memory as to which knee hurt the worse. Well, he picked the wrong one, according to the rest of the team, and came out on the floor with his left knee bandaged instead of his usual right one.

Leon has an explanation for this unfortunate incident, though. He says when he watches Monty do it he has to look at the operation from the opposite side and that's what flubbed him up.

Intramural ball, this semester, is really going to be tops. The ADPs are ahead so far but it's going to be close with the SLAs and the Olys pressing them all the way. The LSPs are going to have the hardest going this time but Phil Peterson is confident of an upset since they've added Norm Stueckle to the roster.

The Crusaders' season standings are 15 wins and nine losses with four games to go. If all goes well it will be the best year NNC has ever had. A good cheering section has been a major cause for this fine representation.

Anyone noticed Monty's shiner lately? He says he wants to look as tough as he feels when he goes to a ball game. The way it looks to me, if he feels as tough as he looks, I'd hate to get in his way.

There were 63 students at Walla Walla, by actual count, when the Crusaders played Whitman. The Walla Walla church really treated the kids royally by giving them a party after the game and providing places to stay. It seems Hal Weber is to blame for all the mob but his folks very graciously took

Dean Leads Varsity; Marks Up 349 For 15.2 Season Average

Four players on the Crusader team are averaging over ten points per game and two players have hit the 300 mark so far this season.

Mickey Dean is leading the team in both average and total points with 15.2 and 349 respectively. Next in line is Myron Finkbeiner with 13.8 and 318 total. Also scoring above the 10 points per game is Duane Peppley with 13.5, Darrel Reisch 11.3. Weber has 7.5, Stickney 3.4, Kinzler 1.5 and Back 2.7.

ADP Girls Chalk Up Points Toward Cup

ADP girls seem to be doing their part in chalking up points towards the faculty loving cup for their society.

Defeating the LSPs a second time, 32 to 20, the ADP team has four victories to their credit in this semester's girls' basketball.

The SLAs have two wins and two losses, the LSPs two wins and three losses, while the Olympians are in fourth place with one win and four losses.

Thursday's games which were played after the paper went to press will determine second and third place between the SLA and LSP teams.

Work Has Begun On NNC Diamond

Work has commenced on the NNC baseball diamond, according to Wayne Aller, "N" club president.

Three main groups have taken up the project of "shaping up" the field for the coming season. The Boosters' Club and members of both the College and College High "N" clubs are at work.

A trench was dug for tile, to enable the irrigation ditch to be put underground. The back stops are being repaired, and the old gym bleachers are being erected around the field.

Big R. C. Owens Beats Crusaders; Scores 35 of 93

Spectators saw both a basketball game and a show Feb. 15 as R. C. Owens of College of Idaho displayed his ability on the basketball court. His uncanny shots and freak passes had the crowd on edge all the game and the 35 points he dumped in had the Crusaders on edge most of the time.

The NNC boys were in the game all the way until the last two minutes when the breaks went against them and the Coyotes got ten quick points to win 93-81.

Mick Dean, playing under a handicap of four fouls most of the game, picked up 19 for NNC, followed by Duane Peppley with 18 and Myron Finkbeiner with 13. Doane had 12, Weber 10 and Reisch six.

The Crusaders led several times in the game and started the fourth quarter with a 66-65 point edge.

Merv Gale Leads In Intramural Scoring

Merv Gale, former varsity player, has jumped out into the lead in the men's intramural scoring race. His lead could be short-lived, however, as Bob Cantonwine is but one point behind. Gale has 60 points in three games, while Bob has 59. Not too far behind these two leaders are Paul Anderson with 53 points, Jim Harris, 44, and Carlyle Dean with 39. Evidently the ADPs scoring power is what has put them in the league lead.

Based on five or more free throws, Jim Harris holds the lead in free throw percentage, having hit six for eight, or a percentage of .750. Not too far behind is Carl Bryson, who has hit five out of seven, or .714. The top five leaders in scoring are given as follows:

Varsity Splits With Whitman Five; Upsets Missionaries On Home Court

Boys Intramural Pace Set By ADPs

Team	W	L	%
ADP	3	0	1000
SLA	2	1	667
Oly	1	2	333
LSP	0	3	000

Runners-up in first semester basketball play, the Alpha Delta Phi's, have taken over the league lead in this semester's action. Led by Carlyle Dean and Merv Gale, they have taken every team once, which gives them a 3-0 record. The SLAs, third-place finishers last semester, are close behind the ADPs, having won two and lost one. Following them are the defending champs, the Olys, with a 1-2 record and last are the winless LSPs.

The ADPs have won all their games by substantial margins, although they were scared once or twice. In their first game, they handed the SLAs their only loss, slowly building up a lead to win, 65-54. High-scoring honors went to Bob Cantonwine with 25 points. Dean leads the ADPs with 22 counters. Merv Gale pumped in 25 points as they beat the LSPs, 72-26. They then secured their first place hold, edging out the Olys, 59-48.

Second-place SLAs, after losing their initial game, fought to a 61-48 win over the Olys, as Cantonwine led the way with 26 points. They also plunged the LSPs deeper in the cellar, winning 51-27. The Olys' only win was over the LSPs, 57-35.

Along with 50 other NNC students, the Crusaders journeyed to Walla Walla Feb. 6 to open this year's series with the Whitman College Missionaries.

By hitting six of their first attempts from the floor, the local boys took an early lead. Then the defense tightened and the two teams fought on even terms until the beginning of the fourth quarter when Whitman caught fire and roared ahead to win 74-54.

Last Friday night the Whitman Missionaries, in a return feud on the Crusader home court, met up with a different bunch of boys.

Following a poor start, which gave the Missionaries a 5-0 command, the NNC lads caught a vision and peppered the twines to tie the score and then forged ahead, never again to be out of the running. It was nip and tuck right up to the first of the fourth quarter, however, with the spread never exceeding six points.

The Crusader five then broke up the game with 12 quick points. That was the straw that broke the Missionaries' back and gave the Crusaders the remainder of the game, although the Whitman team matched them point for point.

Final score stood at 92-83. Mickey Dean took scoring honors for the evening with 28.

TROJAN TALK

By College Hi B's

Now that first semester is over and the new semester has started, College High is once again very, very busy. Every class is rushed in planning parties, banquets, and activities for the remaining part of the year.

The mighty juniors have really been working hard on the banquet. Gary Finkbeiner, junior class president, and other officers have been going all around the country finding places, themes, etc. The only trouble is that it seems one of the seniors found out all their plans. Sorry, juniors; too bad!

A formal dessert banquet was served the sophomores on Feb. 18. Rev. Raymond Kratzer was special speaker. Several readings were given and Anna Mae Baurle provided dinner music. The program was concluded by a film.

An all-school party was held Feb. 13 in the Recreation Hall at Lakeview Park. There was a varied talent program, lots of games, and hot dogs for everyone.

Since quite a few did not attend, there seems to be a number of hot dogs left. If you wish to buy one, please see Buddy Wheeler or Phillip Younger. They will give you a special discount.

Question of the Week

"Should the High School have separate chapel programs from the College?"

Out of the 80 votes that were cast, 70 voted no. Ten voted yes. Some of the main reasons for the "no's" were the following:

1. More interesting speakers in college chapel.
2. Fellowship between college and high school.
3. C. H. S. isn't big enough to conduct own meetings.
4. Too much work involved.
5. Not enough room in high school.
6. More variety in college chapel.
7. Won't be able to find out about meetings.

Some of the reasons for the "yes" vote:

1. Too much preaching in chapel.
2. College doesn't need C. H. S.
3. Monotonous.
4. Chapel pertains only to college students.
5. Some speakers above high school level.
6. Too much noise made by the high school.
7. Not a part of the college spiritually.

An idea of programs they would like:

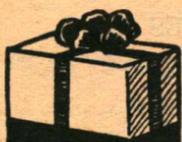

1. Religious films.
2. Testimony services.
3. Student talent.
4. National lyceums.
5. Interesting speakers.
6. Different clubs put on programs.
7. Chalk talks.
8. Skits.

The general consensus of opinion, however, is this: The high school could have one or two days a week then join the college for the remaining programs.

Approximately 70 members and visitors were present at the Feb. 5 meeting of the Marshall Science Society. According to Dr. Alvin Aller, one of the club sponsors, it was one of the best-attended meetings of the year.

After a brief business session, the program was turned over to Harmon Lee Schmelzenbach who showed colored slides of scenery and wild life of Africa. While showing the slides, he answered questions asked by the group and related incidents concerning the wild life and natives of Africa.

KROK Manager, Assistant Attend California Parley

Marvin Emrich and Marvin Brunson, KROK manager and assistant, respectively, are attending the 7th annual radio and TV conference being held at the San Francisco State College February 18-20.

Among activities included in the conference are visits with the educational and commercial broadcasters in San Francisco and the discussions of the present and future of radio and TV.

Campus organizations interested in presenting live programs over KROK are urged to contact program director Raymond Cooke.

Jim Ridgeway has been named assistant business manager on the KROK staff. He fills the position vacated by Paul Wright.

Students may find the KROK program log posted on the bulletin board in the basement of the administration building.

"Coming from Africa to America is just like coming out of water on to dry land, so different are the customs," Rev. Elmer Schmelzenbach told members of the Christian Workers Band and the Foreign Missionary Band in a joint meeting Tuesday night. This address was Rev. Schmelzenbach's last message before leaving for the South where he will be touring the churches in that area.

Rev. Schmelzenbach, outstanding missionary to Africa, delivered the annual Mangum Lectures last week in the daily chapel services.

Having spent 18 years working on the field, Rev. Schmelzenbach brought many heart warming stories of the native African people, their social customs, the native work, and the founding of the Church of the Nazarene in that country.
