Riley Introduces Seven Year Plan

Dr. John E. Riley, President of Northwest Nazarene College.

The adoption of a Seven-Year Development Program presented by Dr. John Riley was one of the major actions taken by the board of regents when they met in session on Wednesday.

The program will climax at the Golden Anniversary of NNC in 1963.

Students will be interested to learn that the program includes the addition of two dormitories, enlargement of the library, addition of a physical education building and a science building, and general improvement on the campus. President Riley made a number of preliminary and tentative proposals to the board. These will be analyzed and approved separately before their inauguration.

President Riley said that the first step in the new program will be to raise within two year's time capital funds to match the Ford Foundation grant of $84,000.

To implement the program regents named a committee on development from their own membership and authorized the appointment by the administration of a Development Council of 30 or more members drawn from the educational zone. This advisory council will work with the regents in carrying out the proposed program.

In other business the board, under the leadership of Dr. B. V. Seals:

Authorized the preparation of Briarwood Hall for student occupancy this fall and authorized the purchase of city block 32 for campus needs.

Approved plans set forth for the inauguration of a master's degree in religion this summer and requested the faculty to continue their study of the future implementation of a master's degree in education or general studies.

Authorized the granting of free tuition to faculty members and their dependents and to full-time employees after one year of service.

Announced the appointment of two new faculty members. Prof. Marvin Byers of the University of Wyoming will be the new head of the department of business and Prof. Juanita L. Demer of Grants Pass, Oregon will be on the faculty in the department of modern languages.

PATHS TO SOMEWHERE

There are paths that lead to Nowhere
On a college campus I know,
Also there are sidewalks that lead to Somewhere,
That sometimes lack the echo of hurrying feet.

Say, have you noticed all the new sidewalks that are being put in around the campus? Almost impossible to look over them, don't you think? And I am sure that each one of us would like to say a big THANK YOU to all the persons who have helped to make this possible.

Tell me this - are college students allergic to the use of good sidewalks? I have been wondering if this is so. Usually people who receive something new like to get the benefit from it right away by putting it to use whenever possible. It appears, though, that this isn't the case with our new sidewalks.

Now that everyone has become aware of the new sidewalks I'd like to ask you another question. Have you noticed the trails made by oft traveling that are becoming more and more noticeable day by day across the campus lawn? Sure, you're in a hurry, (aren't we all these days?)

With spring practically here the grass will start greening and it's a fact that none of us want distinct paths across it. So, since we are all sensible college students and like to have the best possible wherever obtainable, why don't we try to improve the appearance of our campus by using the new sidewalks that were made especially for us?

College Friends, what about it, let's meet and exchange greetings on the sidewalks that lead to Somewhere.

LOOKING AROUND

with MARVIN BRUNSON

Much impressed by the chapel talk Tuesday, I went at my studying with new zest. I cleared my desk; opened my book, and what I learned was remarkable. An open book makes a much softer pillow than a closed one.

Now with mid-term exams in history, I should be looking forward to a brighter day. But I'm not. By special revelation (school calendar) I know the seniors' day of judgment is at hand (one month today).

So choose ye this day whom you will serve. As for me and my house - - we will study like mad for the comps.

The other day I heard this little prayer in a classroom. It has a refreshing idea I like. Perhaps you'd like to use it some morning.

"I'm happy because today is going to be a good day. I know it will be a good day because I will be walking hand in hand with Jesus all the time. Wherever I go He will be with me. Whatever I do He will help.

"I cannot fail for I'm working with God. So I know this will be a wonderful day. But help me, God, that I may share my blessing with other people. . . Amen."

Speech, Music Contest Winners

Finals in the society speech and music contest were announced last week and the winners were named on Friday night.

The LSPs took first in piano solos with Joy Tink as their pianist.

The LSPs triumphed again when Joy Tink and Bill Armstrong won the ensemble contest.

Ronnie Jo Yount and Bill Armstrong tied for first in organ.

STORK VISITS

Howard and Jo Ellen Arnold are the proud parents of a baby girl, Osa Marie, born on February 20. Howard was graduated from NNC last year. He took work in teacher education and is now a teacher.

Scriblerus Club

On Tuesday, March 13, Scriblerus Club met at the home of Miss Washburn. Jan Johnson presented a study on Greek god and goddess, Mercury and Vesta. Refreshments were served.

Those in the cast are: Jim Martin, Lord Fancourt Babberly; Dee Freeborn, Jack Chesney; Elmo Hatlestad, Charley Wykeham; Carol Russell, Kitty Verdun; Louise Weitman, Amy Spettigue; Carolyn Simmons, Donna Lucia D'Alvadorez; Margaret Tschiffely, Ela Delahay; Leland Ernest, Brassett; Les Hoyle, Stephen Spittigue.

Former Student In German Play

The Boulder Daily Camera, student daily at the University of Colorado, reports that Art Manchester played the role of King Utis in Friedrich von Sallet's "Die Welt ausser Rang und Banden" (The World Out of Hand) when the play was presented last week.

Nine students of the modern language department were featured in the drama which was given in the German language in modern costume.

In addition to presenting a little gratuitous ridicule of various human frailties, the play is a satire on the romantic notion that restraints of society and civilization are undesirable inasmuch as they conflict with a natural mode of life.

Manchester was a member of last year's graduating class at NNC. He was valedictorian of his class.

BOOSTER CLUB HAS BANQUET

The Booster Club Banquet in honor of NNC and College High School Basketball teams was held in the Morrison Hall dining hall on Thursday, March 15.

The dinner music was played by Shirley Thomas, and the accompanist was Joy Tink.

NNC HAS GOLF COURSE

Flags will soon be flying over N.N.C. No there isn't going to be a parade, but spring is coming and with it golfing season.

Tucked away in the college catalogue is a paragraph entitled, "Campus". There-in the reader is told that there is a small 12-hole golf course on the campus.

Most students, new and old, are not aware that there actually is a golf course on our campus. The first tee is just north of Hadley Hall. From there the course zig-zags all over the campus.

Coach Orrin Hills says that if enough students are interested, the course can be put to use. A few cups must be placed in the holes and the flags must be put up. Hills requests that those who are interested in using the course get in contact with him.

TIPS ON TASTE

By Kay Van Allen

Is it ever proper for a boy to ask a girl to go Dutch? When? It is proper if the couple know each other very well or if the occasion is an unusually expensive one such as a trip out of town to a concert. Of course, this arrangement should be understood previous to the date.

Who pays for what? Men donot pay for girls lunches when they eat together, unless it has been a specifically arranged date. Neither is the boy expected to pay for all the cokes just because he happens to join two girls who are drinking theirs. Each one pays for his own. Remember, we're all in the same boat, and money doesn't grow on trees.

A FINAL VERSE

Manhattan, Kan.—(ACP)—

With finals looming ominously ahead, Ann Weathers sat down and penned a short verse in her "Over the Ivy Line" column in the Kansas State Collegian, it reads:

Tests, tests, everywhere,
With drops and drops of ink;
And never a prof who'll leave the room
And allow a guy to think.

Happiness is like jam, you can't spread it without getting a little bit on yourself.

—Bob Burns
