Dr. Antonio Brico Speaks in Chapel

Dr. Antonia Brico, eminent American conductor and lecturer, was the chapel speaker at Northwest Nazarene College Tuesday at 9:35 a.m.

Dr. Brico lectured on the life and music of Albert Schweitzer.

She had slides and displays to accompany the lecture.

Dr. Brico's appearance was arranged by the division of fine arts with Double E. Hill as chairman. In commenting upon Dr. Brico's lecture, Hill said:

"We are extremely fortunate to be able to have Dr. Brico as our lecturer. She is well known as a choral director, a magnetic lecturer and a forceful and inspiring teacher."

Dr. Brico was born in Holland and is of Dutch and Italian ancestry. She entered the Master School of Conducting at the Berlin State Academy of Music in 1927 and was graduated in 1929, the only American man or woman ever to have been admitted.

In 1934 she founded the New York Women's Symphony Orchestra and has been a pioneer in securing equality of opportunity for women musicians. In 1938 Mills College conferred upon her the Degree of Music in recognition of her outstanding contribution to the progress of women in music.

A personal friend of the great Schweitzer, she has traveled to Africa twice to study with him in his jungle hospital.

Beanery Has Visitors

The beanery has been an extra busy place the past week due to visitors who have stopped in.

Last week visitors from the District NYPS Convention helped to increase the business. Also a group of prospective students from Lewiston along with their pastor, Rev. Yount, were guests in the beanery. The visitors have on many occasions expressed their appreciation for the courtesy shown to them.

According to Mrs. Harper "The Bean" is expecting an overflow the week of district conventions starting April 30. In order to serve the customers efficiently they are planning to put the high school students in the dining hall.

TIPS ON TASTE

By Kay Van Allen

Hi! I hope you all survived with minor injuries—the campaign I mean. Seriously, I'm sure you all conducted yourselves in a collegiate manner, yes, even the girls who sat precariously on the car bumpers.

To tie in with Presidential week, let's discuss the subject of personality. Personality consists of all the characteristics and habits—mental, physical, social, and emotional—that a person has which makes him different from any other person. Each person, whether he realizes it or not, is constantly judging or being judged by everyone he meets. Each has standards of conduct that he thinks are desirable, and he judges according to these standards. Each judges in terms of "self," his own personality; and since each one is dominated by his own peculiarities, each will judge in a different way. Personal mannerisms that appeal to one may be disliked by another. Consequently, this makes the rating of personality very difficult.

Certain standards of behavior and dress, however, are uniform and have been accepted by society in general. These standards are called the "conventions".

The more that one knows of the conventions, the more competent he is to judge others, and the more he will realize how he himself is being judged.

Chapman Hall

Buildings have personalities, just like people. There are large buildings and small buildings, wide spacious buildings, and narrow cramped ones. There are buildings I like. One is Chapman Hall. And in it there are times that I like, very much.

There is the newness after a summer of work. A rest and a change from the mills and stores and farms.

There is the fall with the yellow leaves, from a dorm window.

There is winter with the cold and snow outside and the warmness within.

There is spring with the hurried quietness of summer vacation.

There are warm spring evenings when we would set on the steps and talk and joke. After a while the lights would come on and we would go back inside.

Everything would be work and then suddenly the tests would be over and unconsciously we would begin to come to the lounge. We wanted to be together. That was all. We would play checkers and we would be together.

We would go to supper. When we came back we would stop at our neighbors room and listen to his records and hear what he thought of the baseball team.

There is the goodness and warmness, and it is Chapman Hall.

—Richard

It All Goes To Snow You

By Frosty

It would seem that our friend, the Door-Knocker, didn't knock hard enough. Or else Richard is a chronic complainer. Now he turns his leaking ball-point and draws a bead on the TV screen.

"Now, I'll have to confess that I've never seen "Gone With the Windows" either on or off television. And I don't attend movies. And I do have a TV set which I watch when I'm at home. Said TV set has a little knob which I move gently to the left when something of the type of "Gone With the Windows" is announced. Now, no one comes and tells me to turn this knob—I do it all with my own protoplasm.

I, too, am against movies. I am against everything they stand for and I quit going to them several years ago. One thing I always begrudged was having to pay for something that I didn't choose to see. And there was no turn-off knob.

I can't quite figure Richard Reif. It looks to me as if all he wants to do is criticize and I wonder if he gets any joy out of life. Is he against religion or for it? Or does he just want to fuss about things. I suspect the latter because his last article was anything but logical.

Let me suggest to Richard that he quit worrying about the movies and dance music and concentrate on the good things in life. Maybe he could read Dr. Peale's book on "Positive Living". And, say, Dr. Peale has a wonderful TV program. But, Richard, you'd better send for a repair man to fix that awful set of yours. You won't want to miss a minute of Peale's program.

Students Attend Delegate Assembly

Seven students delegates and two faculty sponsors from Northwest Nazarene College's E. E. Angell chapter of the Future Teachers of America will leave tomorrow for Pocatello where they will attend the annual delegate assembly.

Student delegates are: Carol Hankins, Eleanor Horne, Larry Bunts, Bob Willard, Mary Wing and Phyllis Martin. Sponsors are Dr. Thelma Culver and Edythe Leupp. Mrs. Rose Voget is also going to Pocatello to attend meetings of the business education group.

Dr. Culver is chairman of the Teacher Education and Professional Standards Committee of the Idaho Education Association and will be presiding over meetings of that group in Pocatello.

NNC's E. E. Angell chapter was the first future group organized in the state and it is now the largest with 110 active members. Dr. Culver said today that 35 members of this year's graduating class at NNC are preparing to be teachers. Some finished their work last summer at mid-year and are already teaching.

DEB LAWS NEW ABS PRESIDENT

Deb Laws was nominated ASB president for the year 1956-57 last Wednesday. When the ballots were counted at 5 p.m. Laws had 243 votes and Jim Ridgeway 183.

In the primary elections Monday 77% of the student body voted. However Wednesday the turnout was better with 82% voting at the polls. This was below the average of last year, but still better than the turnout at most colleges in the northwest.

Baseball Wins Double Header

The Crusader nine picked up their first wins of the season last Saturday when they swept both ends of a double-header dumping the College of Idaho squad 8-2, 4-3.

In the first game the Crusaders belabored four C of I pitchers for a total of 11 hits, three of them home runs. Peppley, Morgan, and Brooks all wielded the big bat for NNC. Cecil Campbell hurled the pitches for the Frazier men with Don Crawford behind the plate.

Campbell had a shut-out going until the last inning when one of his pitches careened off the edge of the plate and let in the first Coyote run. Crawford retrieved the unlucky pitch and rifled the ball to second in an attempt to pick off a C of I runner. The returning throw hit the rubber pitcher's mound and bounced back into the infield to allow the second Coyote runner to come in. Making the final score 8-2.

The second contest went into an extra inning. Boyd doubled down the left-field foul line with none away in NNC's last turn at bat. Mickey Dean then drove in with a long fly to center. Peppley then pounded a single to bring Brooks in making the score 3-2, NNC leading.

The Coyotes retaliated in their final-at-bat when Ryan blistered a drive off pitcher Kinyon's mitt for an infield single that brought Perkins in with the tying run.

The Crusaders opened their

Harry Maine winning the mile race at C of I Friday.

NEW TRACK FIELD BEING PREPARED

Behind Chapman Hall these days there can be heard the growl of diesel engines. A few weeks ago a lot was purchased behind Chapman Hall. Added to what was already owned this made sufficient room to allow a full length track to be installed.

The ground is now being leveled off in preparation for the new track field. This field has become necessary since the Bulldog Bowl is no longer available to the NNC track squad. So far this season all practices have been on parts of the baseball field that were not in immediate use.

half of the same inning with Boyd booting out a single, putting the potential winning run on first. Dean then knocked a single to deep center which sent Boyd to third. With one out Hal Weber laid a bunt and Boyd came home on a suicide squeeze play. This handed the Crusaders the game with a 4-3 score.
