Campaign Managers Give Candidates' Qualifications

EDITOR'S NOTE:

As a service to its readers, the CRUSADER has invited the campaign managers of each ASB presidential candidate to submit the following personal information on their candidates.

It is hoped that the reader will be able to vote more wisely as a result of reading these articles. Please bear in mind that the CRUSADER, as a newspaper, assumes no definite stands for or against any of the candidates.

Dick Etulain

By TOM TRACY
Campaign Manager

Presidential candidate, Dick Etulain, is a junior Literature and Language Divisional major hailing from Moses Lake, Wash. Dick has remained active in Christian Workers Band for three years, and he plans to go into some full-time religious work.

In varsity sports, Dick has found his place on the Crusader baseball team for the third year. He has been president and athletic director of the SLA Athletic-Literary Society.

This year Dick has served as junior class president, undertaking probably one of the largest jobs of any of the class presidents, that of directing plans for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Scholastically, Dick is in the top part of his class, with an accumulative average of 3.3, and for the past three semesters, he sustained a 3.7 average. Recently he was chosen as young person of the month on the Northwest District. He was also tabbed as the outstanding camper at the Northwest District Camp.

A well-rounded person—spiritually, scholastically and activity-wise—describes ASB presidential candidate, Dick Etulain.

Jerry Hull

By JACK WRIGHT

Honor student, varsity athlete, former student body president, Jerry Hull, is a familiar face to the NNC student body.

Coming to College High from Ontario, Oregon, Jerry captured nearly every top award the school had to offer. He lettered in three sports during his junior and senior years, receiving the award for the most inspirational athlete. In his senior year he was elected student body president, and he was chosen as the outstanding student at graduation. He was an honor student throughout high school and began dealing with college problems early as the high school representative to the college student council.

As a college freshman Jerry not only played junior varsity basketball, but after playing in the preliminary game, he traded his tennis shoes for a cheerleader's sweater and yelled the varsity on to victory. He served his second year as a student council representative, was active in Circle K and CMA, lettered in varsity track as a member of NNC's championship mile relay team, and maintained a GPA in the upper third of his class.

This year Jerry was elected president of the LSP society, and he continued his active part in CWB, where he is a group leader.

He served his third year on the student council working on the plans for the new recreation center and finally being appointed director of the center upon its completion. Active in society basketball, Jerry was the leading scorer for the 1957-58 season.

Despite the huge load of extracurricular activities, Jerry's first semester grade point was 3.75.

CURTAIN TO RISE TONIGHT ON "HEALTHY, WEALTHY AND DUMB"

Tonight marks the first performance of "Healthy, Wealthy and Dumb," to be presented by the ADP, LSP and Spartan Athletic-Literary Societies.

Sporting a cast of ten, the performance will be given again tomorrow night. Curtain time is set for 8 p. m.

Carolyn Eby, LSP; Lorraine Paul,

Visiting Lecturer, Professor From U. of Washington

Dr. Ronald Geballe, associate professor and acting head of the Department of Physics at the University of Washington in Seattle, is the featured visiting lecturer on campus today and Thursday.

He is visiting under the auspices of the American Institute of Physics and the American Association of Physics Teachers as a part of a broad, nation-wide program to stimulate interest in physics.

ADP; and Gail Wheeler, Spa., are the three directors conducting the performance.

In the play, Neal Whitmore, a young teacher of logic, entered a jingle contest to finance his marriage to Roberta Phillips. The contest is sponsored by Veronica Bragg, "the world's healthiest woman," who awards him $10,000. The award is in his mother's name and thus he must produce a Mrs. Whitmore. One will have to come to the play to see the confusions and to learn the results. By the final scene, Neal has lost one fiance and acquired another.

The playwright is James Reach.

Three Directors

TAKING A BREATH between acts of the play "Healthy, Wealthy and Dumb" are the three student directors (from left), Lorraine Paul, Carolyn Eby and Gail Wheeler. The play is being presented by the ADP, LSP and Spartan societies tonight at 8:00 p. m. in the NNC auditorium.

Junior-Senior Banquet Date Slated For May 9

Dick Etulain, junior class president, has announced that May 9 has been set as the date for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

New Astronomy Course Will Be Offered Next Fall

A descriptive course in astronomy will be offered by the science department next year for the first time in nearly ten years, according to Prof. Tillotson.

Olympian, SLA, Athenian Societies To Stage Next Play

"A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" is scheduled to be staged April 25 and 26 by the Olympian, SLA and Athenian Athletic-Literary Societies.

The play is a three-act comedy based on Mark Twain's book of the same title. It was adapted to the stage by John G. Fuller and includes a prologue and epilogue.

Those taking roles in the production are as follows: Dave Jennings, Hank Bennett; Marva Lund, Marion Bennett (his sister); Margaret Mahaney, Mrs. Bennett; Anna Rose Rives, Queen Guenevere; Irene Ammons, Morgan Le Fay; Rich Williamson, King Arthur; Jack Thomas, Merylin; Ron Fry, Sir Sagamor; Don Doane, Sir Lancelot; Phil Frisk, Clarence; Junella Finkbeiner, Elaine; Jerrie Waller, Sandy.

Directing the play are Marilyn Poole, Oly; Sharon Templeman, SLA; and Orene Mauer, Ath.

Professor From U. of Washington

Dr. Ronald Geballe, associate professor and acting head of the Department of Physics at the University of Washington in Seattle, is the featured visiting lecturer on campus today and Thursday.

He is visiting under the auspices of the American Institute of Physics and the American Association of Physics Teachers as a part of a broad, nation-wide program to stimulate interest in physics.

DR. RONALD GEBALLE

While at NNC, Dr. Geballe is the guest of Dr. Gilbert C. Ford, head of the Physical Science Department. Dr. Geballe is giving lectures, talking with students and assisting faculty members with curriculum and research problems in physics.

A member of the University of Washington faculty since 1946 and acting head of the physics department since January, 1957, Dr. Geballe first came to the University in 1943 as an associate physicist with the U.S. office of Scientific Research and Development and the University's Applied Physics Laboratory.

Educated in San Francisco, he received the B.S., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of California.

Oasis Staff Plans Dedication Dinner

Plans for a dedication dinner for the 1958 Oasis are scheduled for sometime after May 15, announced Oasis editor, Betty Richardson. The dedication announcement will be kept secret until that time.

Proof will soon be read and sent back to the printer, and if all goes as planned, the annuals will be distributed sometime in the latter part of May. The distribution date was uncertain at this time. The Oasis is being printed by Caxton Printers of Caldwell.

The following have parts: Jim Hilliard, Neal Whitmore; Fran Smyth, Susan Drake; Sally Whitchanack, Roberta Phillips; Ralph Hodgins, Gramp; Paul Miller, Dudley Kent; Dale Vawter, Sam Anderson; Myrna Branum, Kathy Ford; Louis Van Branch, Tony Lewis; Carolyn Downey, Veronica Bragg; Louise Weitman, Jane Jackson.

The playwright is James Reach.

L. W. Johnson To Return Today

L. Wesley Johnson, NNC's business manager is scheduled to arrive on campus by noon today or shortly thereafter. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are driving in from San Francisco, Calif., where they left their car before taking their vacation to the Hawaiian Islands. The Johnsons left the Islands Saturday, April 12 by boat. The boat trip took four days and five nights.

It's doubtful that they will bring any more orchids with them, but one can rest assured that there will be plenty of new jokes and tales circulating on campus, as well as two nice sun tans.

"The Lowland Sea" To Be Staged By Opera Workshop

Opera comes to the NNC campus May 2 and 3.

The opera, THE LOWLAND SEA, by Alex Wilder, will be presented by some of Professor Double E Hill's music students. THE LOWLAND SEA is a story about the men who go to sea, and the women who wait at home for them.

In the cast are Pansy Martin as Doris Davis; Dean Boring as Johnny Dee, and Lee Marsh as Captain Jesse. Ben Clouser and D. Roy Franklin will play Nathaniel Hazard and Amos. The ship's doctor will be played by Don Doane, with Jan Chenowith as Hannah, and Mona Hulen as Belinda.

There are also 29 other participants in the cast. Much work is being done with the lighting by stage manager Don Thompson. A great deal of work is also being done by Florine Wilson and Sharon Johnson on the costumes.

Preceding the main event will be a curtain raiser, a short comedy opera entitled EXCURSION. Included in the cast are Carolyn Downey, Barbara Kiel, Bob Faris and Guilford Fitz.

Tickets will go on sale next week with reserved seats being available.

TAKING A BREATHER between acts of the play "Healthy, Wealthy and Dumb" are the three student directors (from left), Lorraine Paul, Carolyn Eby and Gail Wheeler. The play is being presented by the ADP, LSP and Spartan societies tonight at 8:00 p.m. in the NNC auditorium.

Junior-Senior Banquet Date Slated For May 9

Dick Etluain, junior class president, has announced that May 9 has been set as the date for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

Special speaker for the annual event will be Bishop Foote of Boise, who is bishop of the Episcopal church in Idaho. Dr. Riley describes him as "one of the outstanding churchmen in the state of Idaho."

According to Etluain, over 200 guests are expected to be present as the banquet theme is revealed. Several faculty members usually attend every year. Etluain said that speeches by both class presidents will probably be on the program also.

Working on the programs for the banquet are Noel Riley and Marilyn Poole, while Don Thompson and Nancy McConnell are in charge of the decorations. Co-chairmen for the event are Harold Nevin and Kitty White. Larry Halter will be master of ceremonies.

New Astronomy Course Will Be Offered Next Fall

A descriptive course in astronomy will be offered by the science department next year for the first time in nearly ten years, according to Prof. Tillotson.

The course has been offered during summer school since that time, however. The course will give a fairly thorough study of the solar system, with the sun, the stars and some constellations also being studied. There will be no lab, but some evening observation classes will be held.

The main objective of this course is to round out a phase of physical science for science majors; however, Professor Tillotson stressed that it is being offered to all students and that he hopes many non-science majors will enroll.

A minimum of mathematics will be needed for this three-hour course. The science department is hoping to have its telescope ready for use in time for this class. The telescope is a recent project of the Marshall Science Club.

Those taking roles in the production are as follows: Dave Jennings, Hank Bennett; Marva Lund, Marion Bennett (his sister); Margaret Mahaney, Mrs. Bennett; Anna Rose Rives, Queen Guenevere; Irene Ammons, Morgan Le Fay; Rich Williamson, King Arthur; Jack Thomas, Merylin; Ron Fry, Sir Sagamor; Don Doane, Sir Lancelot; Phil Frisk, Clarence; Junella Finkbeiner, Elaine; Jerrie Waller, Sandy.

Directing the play are Marilyn Poole, Oly; Sharon Templeman, SLA; and Orene Mauer, Ath.

A young engineer, the Yankee from Connecticut, is knocked out by one of his experiments and awakens to find himself in King Arthur's court. There are striking contrasts between medieval and modern times, and even radio and television find their way into the court of King Arthur.

Tickets will go on sale next week.

ELECTION NOTICE

It seems an unfortunate incident involving a decorated car occurred last Wednesday night, after which much confusion resulted as to the responsible parties. Supporters of all three candidates were involved, but it is our contention that none of the political candidates or their campaign managers had any previous knowledge to the incident. Let's all try and forget it.

Alan Rodda

By JIM HILLIARD
Campaign Manager

Sincere friendliness, proven leadership ability, and high scholastic standing are the three terms that most ably describe Alan Rodda, a junior Philosophy major from Walla, Walla, Wash.

Al's leadership is nothing new, for Al has been a leader as far back as his freshman year in high school, holding offices continually since that time.

Al's freshman year was full of activity, for he served not only as his class Chaplain, but was active in school plays, intramural sports, in traveling groups, plus membership in campus clubs. He was selected as a Circle K member, and also as a group leader for CWB.

Al's sophomore year was another of campus leadership, for he was elected as his class president, served as CWB vice president, plus his activity in Crusader council, Olympian Society officer, operetta participation and revivals for CWB.

This year Al has served as CWB president, freshman class counselor in Chapman Hall, Circle K board of directors, minister of music at Fairview Church of the Nazarene, plus his membership in Speech Club, Music Club, CMA, Crusader Choir, Debate Team and Pep Band.

Constant campus activity has not hindered Al's scholastic standing, for his accumulative GPA is 3.6. Al's qualifications plus his past record identify him as an ASB presidential candidate.

NOTICE

All publicity regarding college activities must be channeled through Miss Wilson's office. This includes pictures and news releases for downtown and television announcements. Students are NOT to take news stories, pictures, etc. to any newspaper without first obtaining Miss Wilson's okay.

★★ Editorial Comment ★★

VOTE! VOTE! VOTE!

I am reminded of a film, "Government Is Your Business," that was recently shown in chapel. In it the young, would-be politician challenged the present, corrupt politician to an open debate. The young man gave an excellent speech and ended it in an emotional furry crying: VOTE! VOTE! VOTE!

This is not the first editorial the CRUSADER has run on voting in our student elections, and judging from most election turnouts, it shouldn't be the last. Our present ASB president commented in a recent student council meeting that at a certain college, somewhat equal to NNC, student government, as we know it is absent. He remarked that even their cheerleaders are chosen for them. To cite another example of corrupt politics, in the USSR, officials boast about their 100 per cent elections. Everyone votes. This is well enough in itself, but the facts of how these elections are set up hardly need to be repeated. There is only one party.

We don't have parties on our campus, but we certainly have some very fine candidates, and the student body would be doing them a favor by merely voting. For example, would a candidate feel confident if he were elected by a slim majority of about half the eligible voters? Of course not. These candidates are running for a position to serve you. Why not do them a favor and let them know you are interested in student government enough to at least vote.

Let's have a 100 per cent election. VOTE! VOTE! VOTE!

—Don Erickson

THE GREATER ISSUE

Our Christian, democratic way of government is a heritage we wish to preserve with all of our strength. Political campaigning and democratic voting are a freedom which we as a nation enjoy as a result of our Godly, founding fathers.

We are now in the midst of a college-level political campaign and we are justly proud of our student government and its outworkings. But let us think for a moment of the danger involved in such an activity as presidential elections.

This is a Holiness college and our main purpose it so send out learned, holy men and women of God; individuals who will be fire brands for Jesus Christ. We believe that godliness, or the "inner soul" life, is the most important phase of our lives. Anything that would sever the bond of unity which exists between us as members of the body of Jesus Christ, or cause us to lose our "first love" is a peril.

Let us take for our rule here, "I will say or do nothing that would hurt the character of either candidate or their supporters." Mud slinging never becometh a Christian and even if something is true and would help your candidate to win, it is not the Christian way to act. The wrong means never justify a right end.

When individuals lose confidence in one another, they have lost also their spiritual unity. The Holy Spirit cannot have free right-of-way in our services and our hearts.

Gossip has never done one iota of good. It is love that covereth a multitude of sins. Let us examine ourselves and make restitution if necessary. There is an issue greater than which candidate wins or who is right whatever the argument may be, and that is our unity in CRUSADER CHOIR, under the direction of Prof. Tippitt, is scheduled to give its full concert in College Church this Sunday evening. The 47-voice choir recently returned from a 10-day tour over Oregon and Washington, during which 19 concerts were given. Sunday evening, April 27, will find them singing in North Nampa Church, while on May 4, they will give an evening concert in First Church.

College High's band, choir and male quartet received One ratings at the district music festival held April 11 and 12 at the College of Idaho. These groups are eligible to compete in the state festival at Twin Falls, April 25 and 26. The PTA is making plans for the trip.

At the Caldwell festival excellent ratings were given to the following: the girls' trio; Bob Mangum, trumpet solo; Carolyn Younger, piano solo; Rosemary Hall, mezzosoprano solo.

Upon their return from singing at the Easter sunrise service at Lizard Butte, members of the high school choir were entertained at breakfast at Fellowship hall by the Pals of College Church. The group was given a reception on Tuesday evening, April 15, by the PTA.

The student council sponsored a scavenger hunt for the entire student body, Friday evening, March 28. As students gathered at the high school, they counted off into three groups and received their

Rev. Don Fowler Killed In Recent Auto Accident

NNC sympathizes with Mrs. Don Fowler and her two children over the recent death of a former graduate of NNC, Rev. Don Fowler, who was killed in an automobile accident March 29.

At the time of the accident Rev. Fowler was taking his baby to the hospital, and in order to avoid hitting a car he was passing, Fowler swerved and hit a cement pole. He was thrown from the car and killed instantly. His wife and two children are recovering from the accident.

Don had a wide circle of friends at NNC, and he is remembered as being cooperative and dependable in every activity in which he participated. Don also enjoyed playing practical jokes on his friends.

While attending NNC, Don was a very versatile individual. He participated in activities from sports to music. When he was a freshman, he played on the junior varsity basketball team. He sang in male chorus, Crusader Choir, Philharmonic, and also traveled in a quartet representing NNC one summer.

He played an outstanding part in the same play being put on this year, "Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court." The ADP society

CHOIR TOUR ECHOES

Member Of Crusader Choir Tells Of Tour

By NANCY McCONNELL

"All right, who has the shaving cream? It seems like a body can't even catch a little shut-eye on this Greyhound. Think I'll stay awake from now on." This is a typical conversation one might hear if riding on the bus on choir tour. Ten days of riding, singing, eating, sleeping and visiting mounted up to one grand experience for the 50 members in Crusader Choir.

"Con," our capable bus driver, could park that bus on a dime. He could drive it to the door of a doll house if necessary! If there were a tree, telephone pole or building to obstruct him, somehow "Con" could squeeze that bus around whatever seemed to be in the way. If there wasn't a driveway, he would make one. The voices of 30 back-seat drivers egged him on. How could he miss?

We were quite privileged to have Panzella Martin and her West-erneers serenading the passengers on the bus. Her little band of singers kept things active even when the request numbers ceased to be requested. Panzella and her band would fill in with a free tune almost any time.

Jackie Watson made her debut during the Moses Lake concert. The story goes that she became a little fain during the end of the program. We were ready to sing "Amazing Grace" when Jackie took two steps forward and fell quite gracefully to the floor. We were all a little stunned, but tried to carry on. When Prof. Tippitt realized he didn't have our full attention, he motioned a couple minute men off the risers to remove that bundle of body off his feet. They quickly came to the rescue and carried her off stage.

During our evening meal at Ash-

Sand Painter Is Guest Speaker At Art Banquet

A dessert banquet held at the Roundup Room of the Harmony Cafe last night marked the high point of the year for the Art Club.

Special speaker for the banquet was Mrs. Luther Douglas of Boise, who spoke on sand painting. Sand painting is an old, little-known Navajo Indian technique in which colored sand is used to make pictures or Indian designs. Both Mrs. Douglas and her husband are sand painters.

Mr. Douglas developed his tech-land, Dee Freeborn adjusted his bifocals about a half inch to the right of his nose. He resembled a bleary-eyed television viewer. After the laughing died down, several others made use of their spectacles in the same way. This is just another incident that added variety to the choir tour.

Since the tour was during the Easter season, our fine hostesses emphasized the idea with ham dinners. We had ham dinners and more ham dinners. But they were good meals—every one of them. One thing is sure; we all came back richer; to be more exact—about five pounds.

Bob Faris, playing the Good Samaritan, lost part of his toe while helping a woman start her rotary lawn mower. After a couple trips to the doctor, Bob was able to sing in the concert—at least in a sitting position. We were fortunate—it could have been his whole foot!

Spare time was spent by writing letters, studying, sleeping, reading, laughing, or just staring out the windows. Some of the girls added a new spring outfit to their wardrobes.

After the dinner at Yakima, Al Jones presented a matching tie clasp and cuff links to both Double E Hill and Prof. Tippitt. We also gave "Con" a brown leather billfold.

The devotional services preceding each concert remain clearly in our minds. The testimonies, prayers and moments of meditation spent together before each concert gave us just the lift and blessing we needed in order to do our best singing. It was truly a unique experience; one we won't forget for a long time. Students would tell how a particular phrase of a song had made a direct impact on their thinking. The Holy Spirit was so close and God was so near.

Some concerts were outstanding in the minds of the choir members, but our final service in Walla Walla was a highlight for everyone. Words just can't express the blessing that each member received from this particular service. It's just one of those spiritual blessings that God pours down from above. Experiences like these make life more meaningful and our lives much richer.

We'll remember the lemon juice, the pillow fights, and the shaving lotion, but more than that we'll remember the closeness of God and the oneness of His Holy Spirit that made choir tour such a success this

We are now in the midst of a college-level political campaign and we are justly proud of our student government and its outworkings. But let us think for a moment of the danger involved in such an activity as presidential elections.

Applicants Needed For Summer Trip

Plans for the third Summer Biology Field Trip, June 4-21, are getting underway. As of yet the dates and plans are only tentative, until all applications are in.

Under the leadership of Dr. Aller, the group will leave June 4 on their trek through Oregon. They will visit such places as Kline Kalls State Park, Suttle Lake, Beverly Beach and other interesting areas. Tents and sleeping bags will be essential equipment because the group will be camping out each night.

This trip is open to everyone and no previous biology is required. Besides the fun involved, three semester hours with laboratory science credit will be given. The approximate cost will be $100, which covers food, tuition and transportation.

The group will study such things as plant ecology, plant identification and the observation of mammals and birds. They will do all their own cooking, and also included will be recreation, camp fire singing, photography, and a spiritual emphasis.

Everyone interested may pick up an application blank from Dr. Aller's office.

May 7 Next Date For TV Program

May 7 will mark the date of the next appearance of NNC on television. This will be the last in a series of monthly programs telecast over KBOI-Channel 2 in Boise.

Bonnie Wallis, Boise television personality, is mistress of ceremonies on the program.

The May program will feature Mrs. Waller and the NNC Treble Choir. Also appearing on the program will be Wayne Butchart, Development Representative for Northwest Nazarene College.

Seven Graduates Speak On Campus In Past Months

During the past few months seven NNC graduates have returned to speak on the campus.

The visiting graduates were Floyd Perkins, principal of the Nazarene Bible College of the Union of South Africa; Dr. L. Guy Nees of Los Angeles, who delivered the Miller Lectures; Rev. Dean Galloway of Nicaragua, who delivered the Mangum Lectures; Rev. Hubert Helling of Japan; Dr. Maurice Scheel, who spoke on his work with alcoholics; Rev. Morris Chalfant, who was the speaker at the annual basketball banquet; and Dr. Albert F. Harper, who spoke in chapel while he and several other alumni from Kansas City were here for a Church Schools Workshop.

NNC is proud of her graduates and the fact that so many are called into different fields of Christian service.

Prof. Hill Attends Services For Father

Students and faculty extended sympathy to Prof. Hill last week when he flew home to Poteau, Oklahoma, to attend funeral services for his father, E. E. Hill.

E. E. Hill, 71, died at his home of a heart attack after an extended illness. Services were Thursday, April 10, at Poteau Church of the Nazarene. He was a retired postmaster and rancher. He was postmaster for 37 years.

It can be plainly seen where Prof. Double E Hill gets his first name. His father acquired the name "Double" as a nickname and passed it on to Prof. Hill as his first name.

The programs are arranged each month by Miss Helen Wilson.

PTA is making plans for the trip. At the Caldwell festival excellent ratings were given to the following: the girls' trio; Bob Mangum, trumpet solo; Carolyn Younger, piano solo; Rosemary Hall, mezzosoprano solo.

Upon their return from singing at the Easter sunrise service at Lizard Butte, members of the high school choir were entertained at breakfast at Fellowship hall by the Pals of College Church. The group was given a reception on Tuesday evening, April 15, by the PTA.

The student council sponsored a scavenger hunt for the entire student body, Friday evening, March 28. As students gathered at the high school, they counted off into three groups and received their instructions from Bill Manley. One group managed to find a 1938 dime, a twenty-watt light bulb—in fact everything but a live mouse.

Three seniors, Deo Holtry, Sharon Hampton and Jan Davis, and two freshmen, Patty Mangum and Gloria Wolcott, were honored by the announcement that their poems were accepted for publication in an anthology of poetry submitted by high school students from all over the nation.

The sophomore boys planned a hayride for the class Friday, April 4. Mr. Johnson, the class sponsor, drove the rack to Lake Lowell where the group had a weiner roast.

The Trojan baseball team won two of its first three games. They defeated Greenleaf twice, 10-2 and 7-1, and were nosed out by Melba 11-10. Seven lettermen lead the squad of twelve. Mr. Boyd, the coach, is using Billy Manley and Buddy Kinzler on the mound.

The juniors and seniors have begun practice on "Annie Laurie," a romantic play they will present May 9 and 10. The drama, written by Wall Spence, is based on the

Sand Painter Is Guest Speaker At Art Banquet

A dessert banquet held at the Roundup Room of the Harmony Cafe last night marked the high point of the year for the Art Club.

Special speaker for the banquet was Mrs. Luther Douglas of Boise, who spoke on sand painting. Sand painting is an old, little-known Navajo Indian technique in which colored sand is used to make pictures or Indian designs. Both Mrs. Douglas and her husband are sand painters.

Mr. Douglas developed his technique of sand painting sufficiently parallel to native work to merit serious attention. His method is successful in retaining the texture of the native sand; it retains the accurate color of the original and permits reduction in size without loss of fine detail.

Mr. Douglas' work is based on 15 years of research and study of authentic source material, and first-hand field work on the Navajo reservation.

a long time. Students would tell how a particular phrase of a song had made a direct impact on their thinking. The Holy Spirit was so close and God was so near.

Some concerts were outstanding in the minds of the choir members, but our final service in Walla Walla was a highlight for everyone. Words just can't express the blessing that each member received from this particular service. It's just one of those spiritual blessings that God pours down from above. Experiences like these make life more meaningful and our lives much richer.

We'll remember the lemon juice, the pillow fights, and the shaving lotion, but more than that we'll remember the closeness of God and the oneness of His Holy Spirit that made choir tour such a success this year.

THE PERFECT PRESIDENT

History of ASB Presidents Tell Past "Qualifications"

By JACKIE SODERHOLM

According to statistics of the past 12 ASB president, the perfect prexy would be an Olympian history major from Washington. Other qualifications would be varsity basketball, Zeta Kappa Rho and society presidents. See for yourself.

Olympians rate first in the list of ASB presidents since 1947 with six out of twelve prexy's; leaving the ADPs, SLAs, and LSPs with two each.

Five ASB presidents hail from Washington; Oregon and Idaho follow with three each and one from Minnesota.

Ten were seniors and two were juniors when elected ASB president and all were elected in the Who's Who. Six were in the honor society, Zeta Kappa Rho.

Halter Relinquishes Position of State SIEA President

Larry Halter, state president of Student Idaho Education Association, will relinquish his position by the end of this month as a result of present elections. He was elected

Their majors include history, heading the list; and religious education, speech, art, philosophy, business administration and social science.

Varsity basketball claimed five ASB presidents of whom three were Olympians, one a SLA and one a LSP and Washington and Idaho each boasted two and Oregon one.

Seven served as society presidents, and Washington rated top with four.

Where will ASB president for 1958-59 place in the logue of statistics?

Following are the ASB presidents since 1947:

- 1947—Elwood Smith, LSP, Minn.
- 1948—Merril Bennet, Oly, Oregon

Two NNC seniors have received scholarships from the Oak Ridge Foundation in Tennessee and another was invited to California for an interview with authorities at the University of California Radiation Laboratories in recent weeks.

Darrell Marks, senior from Boise and John Prince, senior from Salem, Ore., received telegrams from the Oak Ridge Foundation announcing that they had been awarded scholarships to pursue graduate work in nuclear physics.

Since that time, Marks has been offered admittance into the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, known as the top institution of its kind in the nation. Marks has announced that he has accepted the offer and that he and his wife, Neva, will leave for Massachusetts shortly after graduation. In working for his doctorate degree, Marks will study 11 months out of the year for three years at MIT.

Prince has announced that he will attend the University of Washington in Seattle, Wash.

Terrel Samuels, senior from Parma, went by plane to Livermore, Calif., where he was interviewed by members of the experimental physics group at the University of California's Radiation Laboratories. He was informed that he is being considered for a permanent position with the group.

Marks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Marks of Boise. Prince is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Prince of Salem. Samuels' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Samuels of Parma.

All three men are studying engineering physics with Dr. Gilbert Ford.

Seniors Must File For Graduation

April 28 is the last day for seniors to file application for graduation, according to the Registrar's office. The application must be signed by the student's major professor and the Dean of the college, and must state whether a certificate or an AB degree is desired.

Halter Relinquishes Position of State SIEA President

Larry Halter, state president of Student Idaho Education Association, will relinquish his position by the end of this month as a result of present elections. He was elected to the position last spring.

Sandy Coombs, a sophomore from Springfield, Ore., is a candidate for vice president. Election returns will be in the last of this month.

Halter's biggest responsibility as state prexy was to attend the national convention last summer at Philadelphia, Penn. The NNC student recently presided at the state meetings in Boise.

Among other discussions and panels at the state meeting, the group of 150 delegates voted to change the name of the state organization from Idaho FTA to SIEA. This change was made to coincide with the national name which was changed from Future Teachers of America to Student National Education Association.

Regents Vote To Increase Salaries

Faculty salary increases and an intensive study of needed new buildings were planned by members of the Board of Regents in their recent semi-annual meeting.

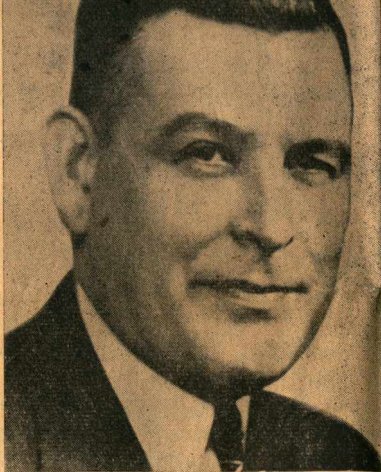

With Dr. B. V. Seals, Seattle, presiding as chairman, the board voted an average annual increase of $500 in salaries. Regents also elected faculty members for the coming year.

The board also appointed a planning committee which is meeting on campus this weekend to make an intensive study of needs in new buildings. The committee will devote the summer to studying campus needs and will bring definite recommendations to the board in its first meeting next fall.

"It is possible that a new science building may be proposed at that time," said Dr. Riley.

In other business the board heard reports from the college president, business manager, board of directors and regular and special committees. Much time was spent in an analysis and interpretation of the report of the visitation committee which visited NNC last fall.

Some 34 regents representing 10 states and Alaska gathered on campus for the meeting, which was

PRO BASEBALL

Major league baseball is well on its way. President Eisenhower has thrown out the first ball of the pro season. It looks as if this year's major league race will be as close and interesting as any. New names, such as the San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers, promise to make this season interesting for us on the west coast.

The always-winning Yanks are favored in the American league, while the world champion Braves are favored in the National. Personally, I think that the Yanks will do well to watch those hustling White Sox, while the Braves are going to be closely followed by the hard hitting Redlegs. Anyone else care to pick a winner.

VERSATILE OWENS

Versatile, that's the mild way of describing R. C. Owens, our ex-heral from C. of I. Owens, who did a brilliant job of pass catching for the San Francisco 49'ers, has now joined the ranks of professional basketball and is now touring the country with the pro-basketball all-stars.

CRUSADER BASEBALL

The Crusader baseballers are keeping up with tradition by getting off to a slow-slow start. Don't worry though, as soon as the pitchers get the walks out of their systems and the infield tightens up a little, the Crusaders are going to be hard to beat. Enough said men, let's do our talking with our playing.

NNC INVITATIONAL

Led by veteran Dave Klicker, the Whitman College crew swept in 103½ points at the Bulldog Bowl last Saturday. This was 41½ more than runner-up Weber College. NNC's fourth place finish in the seven team meet wasn't too bad considering the fact that we had practically no men in the field events.

NNC looked particularly good in the middle distant runs where Don Constable and Paul Finkbeiner were outstanding. The mile relay quartet composed of Paul Finkbeiner, Larry Hull, Jerry Hull and Don Constable looked especially impressive. These boys will have a new school record with a little more work.

QUOTES AND NOTES

Just wait until Marty Sharp heals from his injuries. Then the track squad will have at least one consistent field event man.

Two of last year's tracksters, Dale Orkney and Leroy James, have given up the cinder sport due to injuries.

Dave Stuart, NNC second sacker, hollers "ham and eggs" to keep his teammates alive. Maybe he didn't finish his breakfast. (At least it's amusing.)

Women's Tennis Team Opens Its Season With BJC

The women's tennis team saw action for the first time this season when they met the BJC squad on Wednesday, April 16. Holding down the number one position for the second year is sophomore, Dorothy Mittleider.

Other team members include Martha Hopkins, playing the number two spot; LaDonna Webb; Mary Waller, Orrene Maurer; Harriet Burkheimer; Minne Humphrey; and Marilyn Franklin.

The team will play a match with C of I Wednesday, April 23. Other events on the agenda for the girls include an Invitational Tennis Meet to be held on the campus May 3. The squad will also compete in the Northwest College Tennis Tournament in Corvallis, Oregon, May 23-24. The top four team members will be participating in this meet.

Crusaders Meet EOCE Tomorrow

MOUNDSMEN EXPECTED to share pitching chores for NNC against EOCE Saturday are Cec Campbell and Don Kinyon. Kinyon is slated to start in the first game of the double header, with Campbell being named the probable starter for the second contest.

The Crusaders will be trying to even their season's record at three wins and three losses when they meet the Eastern Oregon College of Education Mountaineers in a doubleheader Saturday afternoon on NNC's home field.

The Mountaineers, with a new, inexperienced team, have dropped contests to the BJC Broncos and to the College of Idaho, as has NNC.

For NNC, Don Kinyon is scheduled to pitch the first game and Cec Campbell or Ben Clouser will handle the mound chores in the second contest.

Other probable starters for the Crusaders, according to Coach "Pop" Frazier, will be Don Crawford, catcher; Sam Willard, first base; Dave Stuart, second base; Ernie Thompson, third base; John Wright, shortstop; Bob Brooks, Dick Etulain and Phil White or Bud Lloyd in the outfield.

Men's Volleyball Draws to Close

Today will tell the tale as far as the regular intramural volleyball season is concerned, when the SLA's play the Oly's and the Athenians.

If the SLA's win both games, these three teams will be in a three-way tie for first place. It looks as if the LSP's have gone from first place in basketball to last place in volleyball.

The standings at press time were as follows:

	W	L	Pct.
Ath.	5	1	.833
Oly.	5	1	.833
SLA	3	2	.600
