Major Student Body Offices Filled; Jack Wright Elected Crusader Editor

Al Jones, a junior from Pullman, Wash., was elected to serve as 1959-60 student body president winning over Jack Wright in a run-off election held April 17. Jones served as sophomore class president and this year as president of Christian Worker's Band. He is a ministerial student.

Other student body elections were held last week with a final vote on April 27. George Harper, a pre-medical major from Kansas City, Mo., is the new student body president.

Kathy Pershall, an elementary education major from Oregon City, Ore., was elected as secretary. Other nominees were Sandy Coombs and Ruth Watkins.

Dan Hudson was elected to fill the student body treasurer's office. A business major, Hudson comes from Buhl, Idaho. Other nominees for treasurer were Max Read, John Clark, Dan Etulain, and Wally Steward.

A newly created office, sergeant-at-arms, will be filled by Dave Jennings, an engineering physics major from Red Deer, Alberta, Canada.

Serving as Crusader editor next year will be Jack Wright of Nampa. Dorothy Mittleider of Meridian, Idaho, was elected as editor of the Oasis. Station manager for KROK will be Cordell Castleman, a sophomore from Minot, N. Dak.

In a run-off ballot, Clayton Bonar was elected General Missionary Society president over Bob Longanecker. Laurie Seaman was elected vice president; Sharon Saturn, secretary; Joan Horne, treasurer; and Joyce Oldenkamp and Charlie Yourden, program chairmen.

School Teachers Entertained At Annual Luncheon

Some fifty Nampa public school teachers and administrators were entertained at the annual appreciation luncheon given for them last week by the NNC education department.

While the public school officials were enjoying luncheon, their classes were being manned by NNC education students.

James A. Feltar, director of student teaching at NNC, was master of ceremonies for the luncheon.

Musical numbers were furnished by June Tood, Sharan Perkins, Don Hoff, and Dave Mattson.

Mrs. Edythe Leupp, professor of elementary education, was in charge of arrangements for the luncheon.

Pi Kappa Delta Initiates Members

Five active memberships and one honorary recommendation were approved when members of Pi Kappa Delta, national honor society, met recently to consider membership applications.

Larry Clark, PKD president, released the list of candidates this week. Clark said that an initiation dinner will be held before the close of school.

Elected to active membership were Joyce Oldenkamp, Lorraine Paul, Louise Weitman, Ralph Neil and David Rinker. Prof. A. H. Manchester was invited to honor membership in the group.

Clark said that the initiation dinner will also feature the election of officers for next year. Miss Helen Wilson and Prof. M. A. Wilson are sponsors of the new society.

College Costs Rising

Average costs of a year in a private college moved from $1,023 in 1940 to $2,047 in 1956, and are expected to jump to $2,232 by 1960.

Larry Hull, Northwest Nazarene College junior, received word recently that he has been appointed a student summer research fellow by the University of Washington School of Medicine for this summer.

Notification of the fellowship came in a letter from Richard J. Blandau, assistant dean of the school of medicine.

Hull will receive a stipend of $900 for the summer and will be given the opportunity of taking various University courses for which tuition will be paid.

Hull, a pre-medical student at NNC, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee V. Hull of Ontario, Ore. A straight "A" student this year, he has been selected as one of the junior marshals who will lead the investiture procession at Senior Investiture today.

Hull has been active in campus affairs and is president of the Circle K club, campus service group. He has also participated in varsity track.

Herb Morgan Plans Flying Missionary Work

By BOB LONGANECKER

Landing on a narrow sandbar with jungle trees clutching at your wing-tips can be a risky business, but for the flying missionary it is all in a day's work to advance the cause of Jesus Christ.

This is the type of challenge that Herb Morgan, a senior NNC student accepted for his life when he received a call from God to be a flying missionary. The opportunity for Herb to learn flying came when his father's business partner bought a plane for their auto mechanics enterprise. Out of town trips were extensive, giving Herb the chance to go along and learn to fly. Opportunity plus ability yielded a young pilot with experiences that determined his life's work.

Although Herb was an accomplished pilot, he still needed the technical training under an instructor in order to obtain the necessary 30-hours flying time for a private pilot's license. But this young man who let the wild blue yonder get in his blood didn't stop with only a private pilot's license.

Gets Commerical License

Herb's desire to fly led to diligent study and the commercial pilot's license. It isn't the custom to court one's girl friend in an airplane but Herb needed 200 flying hours to qualify for commerical piloting and what better excuse could he have for taking along a girl named Eloise Seaman, who later became his co-pilot for life.

Another of Herb Morgan's ambitions has been the obtaining of a bachelor of arts degree in business. This major is a prerequisite for missionary flying and at the present time this goal seems near, for Herb has only this semester left before graduating and receiving his degree.

Summer Crop Sprayer

It is interesting to see the various fields that American soldiers involves flying plus good pay, and Herb needed both; so in spite of his wife's hesitancy, Herb took the job and proved a real match for it.

"No day ever seemed the same in this unique job," says Herb. For instance, one day he forgot to check wind direction and tried to approach a field in a down-wind. The plane dropped into an alfalfa field but, luckily bounced straight up; immediately Herb applied full throttle and continued on. Another time he brushed a tree, ripping the wing tip.

Herb Morgan enjoys this risky job which requires a constant matching of wits with a thousand details, any one of which if missed could mean death. Eloise's enthusiasm for flying doesn't quite match Herb's, but since it's to be his life's work, she feels the only thing to do is relax and not to worry too much.

Helps Meet Requirements

This summer's flying experience helped Herb fulfill some of the stringent requirements for membership in the Missionary Aviation Fellowship. This evangelical organization began in 1947 in Fullerton, Calif., and at the present time is headed by J. Grady Parrott, the founder and a former missionary pilot. Nate Saint, one of the five martyred missionaries in Ecuador, South America, was a member of the M.A.F.; his life story gave impetus to Herb's calling as a flying missionary.

After college and a stint in an aviation mechanics school, Herb will apply for membership in M.A.F. If accepted the next step will be special orientation classes in mountain flying and landing. Following this will come deputation work in the U.S. to gather financial support for the mission field. Upon completion of this work, Herb, with God's help, will be off to some foreign mission field where his flying talents and mechanical skills will open new jungle areas from the sky and speed the work of medical mis-

Dr. Carl Hanson Capable As Professor Of Greek, Hebrew

By RUTH OLIN

Dr. Carl E. Hanson, chairman of the Division of Philosophy and Religion, came to NNC in 1949 from Berkely Baptist Divinity School which was only one of several schools he has attended for graduate work since he graduated from NNC as a student. He often worked in the logging industry during the summer because it was the most lucrative summer employment. During this time he was a faller and scaler.

As the professor and friend in such classes as Greek and Hebrew Prophets, none could be more capable. He believes that education should be for the purpose of helping students develop toward maturity, intellect, emotional response and decision.

This silvery-haired man of letters does not like the impoliteness of the student who converses with his neighbor in class while recitation or lecture is going on. He also feels that some students need to wake up to the importance of carrying out instructions.

As a high school student, Dr. Hanson considered the field of the research scientist but later felt the call to be a teacher. Though he pastored a church for two years in Lancaster, Calif., he felt this was a temporary calling.

There is an interesting incident in connection with his coming to NNC as a member of its faculty. In his words he tells it thusly:

"I had notified a half-dozen schools of my availability. Another school wanted to hire me as a philosophy teacher. They wanted me to wire back collect but I deecided to wait for the morning mail and in the morning mail was an opening at NNC."

Dr. Hanson was born in Tillamook, Ore., as the youngest of two boys. In regard to Nampa, he says, "it has some very fine people, and for most people the climate is very fine but since I'm allergic to sage brush, it is not ideal."

Miss Loraine Husky became his bride soon after they met as students at Pasadena College. Hunting, fishing, and hiking are forms of relaxation to him and strawberries and ice cream are a special treat. Blue is the color that is most restful and pleasing as far as he is concerned.

Generally he would like to spiritually counsel every NNC student to get a clear conception of God and maintain a firm commitment of God. "The greatest thing a person could conceive of is the nature of God's love and patience," were his thoughtful concluding words.

If you are one of those observing freshman, you know that Dr. Carl Hanson is one of the co-authors of the textbook entitled: "Exploring the New Testament."

He finds strength for the future from the verse found in Romans 8:28. He especially likes the revised Standard Version which reads: "We know that in everything Gods works for good with those who love him, who are called according to his purpose."

Our school will have a difficult time in filling the shoes of this brilliant professor who is using his talents as a humble servant of God.

Dr. Carl Hanson

By REV. EUGENE STOWE

If you never played in a high school band you've missed something! In the town where I grew up, the director of that organization was a Viennese musician who had immigrated to America. His name was Rudolph Seidel. Although he had been in this country for a number of years, he had lost neither his old country accent nor his continental temperament.

One of the favorite expressions which he used when a member of the band complained about the long practice sessions and rigorous preparations for concerts and contests was, "don't bite da hand vot feeds you!" In other words, "Don't be ungrateful, I'm doing it for your benefit."

With only a month remaining in another school year at NNC, perhaps a few words about gratitude would be in order.

THANKS TO PARENTS

How long since you said "Thanks" to those parents back home whose "hand" has been "feeding" you this year? Not just a perfunctory "Thanks a lot" as a postscript to an appeal for funds, but a genuine, heartfelt expression of your appreciation. The longer you live the more you'll come to realize how much their love and sacrifice really mean to you. Why not surprise them with a few words of gratitude?

THANKS TO PROFESSORS

The same goes for your professors. You may not exactly have been biting their hands as they feed you, but your reactions to their assignments and tests may have almost bordered on that. But from this vantage point you can no doubt see that there was a method in their "madness" after all. In some state universities, there is a tradition that at the last regular class session of the year the students stand and applaud their teachers. Doesn't it seem right that in our Christian college where so many instructors sacrifice so much to serve there should be more expressions of gratitude?

THANKS TO CHURCH

Then there's the matter of our denomination. After all, without the support of the people called Nazarenes there would be no NNC. Certainly no one claims that the Church of the Nazarene is faultless. No human organization is. But don't we owe something to the institution which makes a school like this possible? Careless criticism of her standards, unkind attitudes toward her leadership, and general disloyalty to her are a poor show of appreciation.

One of the marks of a truly cultured and educated individual is a proper sense of gratitude. Don't bite the hand that feeds you!

World Events Pass In Review

Christian Herter, the new Secretary of State, comes into office well qualified for the job.

Herter was born in Paris, France, to a couple of young American painters. He came to a U.S. boarding school at the age of 9 and went on to enter Harvard at 16. He graduated as the youngest member of his class but with top honors. Encouraged by a classmate he applied and was appointed to a foreign service job. He married a granddaughter of the founder of Standard Oil.

During his life he has jumped back and forth from politics to diplomacy. He has been a state legislator, Congressman, and Governor of Massachusetts. In the diplomatic field he was sent to Russia by Hoover, and then Under Secretary of State before advancing to his present position.

He is a tall 6 feet 4½ inches but walks with a stoop because of an arthritic condition in his hips. He owns a farm in South Carolina and is an avid reader of "who dun its."

VISITING SOLDIER

Fidel Castro came up for a little visit the other day. He was dressed like a soldier but acted like a politician out to win votes. He kissed babies, talked with children, and answered some teen-agers' questions. He met some opposition by pickets who carried signs charging him with "butchery."

He was invited to this country by the American Society of Newspaper Editors. When he addressed them at their convention he was often interrupted by applause.

Castro came here "to win friends and influence people" and, putting himself to the task, he did just that. He has asked for a loan to help his country out of its economic need.

Professor Wilson Acts As Speech Department Head

By RUTH OLIN

These words tumbled from the lips of Prof. Mallalieu Wilson recently but with the usual mischievous glint in his eyes when he was asked to describe himself: "A gray-haired man that is getting thin on top; green eyes sometimes called hazel; five feet eight inches tall, but I think I've shrunk about an inch although I still go by that figure." To me these words typify this energetic registrar's inimitable sense of humor.

In addition to his duties as NNC's registrar Prof. Wilson is presently teaching oral interpretation, phonetics and debate and is the head of the Speech Department. When he gives a test, it is for two reasons: first to find out what grade to give individual students and second, to provide an opportunity for students to find out what they don't know.

His timely advice at this graduation time is that those students who want to teach in college and are capable should not stop until they get their Ph.D.—"get it young."

This professor used to raise a fine vegetable garden each summer. That was before they had two homes and as he says—"When I had a place to do it." Since his wife, Jewell, is teaching commercial subjects and is the librarian at Wilder High School, most of their time is spent in their home at Wilder. Their small apartment here in Nampa is used occasionally on weekends.

So predicts Western Reserve University's RESERVE TRIBUNE after polling 50 coeds on cooking proficiency. All 50 said they could make hamburgers, 47 agreed to mashed potatoes, 45 claimed homemade coffee and chocolate cake.

Twenty were confident they were good cooks, the rest admitting to "fair" or "poor." Two-thirds of the "fair-poor" plan to improve their cooking before marriage, while the others deem such unnecessary.

WELCOME ALUMNI; SPECIAL TRIBUTE GIVEN SIX CLASSES

"Alumnus of Year" Announced Tonight

Announcement of this year's recipient of "Alumnus of the Year" will be made at the Alumni Banquet at 7 p.m. tonight in Morrison Hall. This award is presented to a member of the Alumni Association who has distinguished himself in his field and who is upholding the standards represented by NNC.

In past years a trophy cup was given with the name engraved on it. This year a new wall plaque will be presented and to each past recipient a framed certificate of award will be given.

In '53 Gordon Olsen, a prominent businessman in Eugene, Ore., received this award. The following year Lyle W. Robinson received the award for his work as chaplain in the Korean War. In '55 Dean Culver was the recipient. Albert F. Harper, Ph.D., D.D., editor-in-chief of the Nazarene church school publications, received the award in '56. Howard Hamlin, M.D., a neuro-surgeon from Chicago was the following year's recipient.

Last year the honor was given to a symbolic NNC missionary because of the difficulty to pick a representative in this area.

Congratulations On Fine Sportsmanship

By JERRY HULL

Congratulations to president-elect, Al Jones, and to the unsuccessful candidates, George Harper and Jack Wright. But those who seem to be even more deserving of congratulations are you, the students.

It seems to me that this election time was more enjoyable than others because of the very gracious attitude that seemed to be prevalent. It appears that one would be correct in saying that you the students had a more wholesome and objective spirit in the campus politics than is generally the case.

I would like to take the opportunity to inform you that the proposed constitutional changes were approved by the student body. Besides the new sergeant-at-arms, these changes will allow for a representative from AWS and Men's Clubs on the Council.

Your Student Council has voted to have all freshman initiation activities the first two weeks of school next fall. In place of the "Keys to the Campus" we are planning a Freshman Handbook.

Six classes, including the current graduating class, will be honored today as Commencement activities get underway. In honor of these classes, the Crusader gives a resume of each class.

Ed's note.

CLASS OF 1919

By DICK ETULAIN

Just 40 years ago this month, seven NNC graduates took their places in the then sparsely settled NNC Alumni. Missionary, pastor, evangelist, doctor, teacher, and minister they graduated, laying foundation stones for our passing feet to build upon.

Though small in rank the class produced individuals that have helped the Nazarene Church to take its place in all aspects of society. Because of two 1919 graduates, well-known to us, people have met Christ in India and Trinidad and men and women have received adroit medical care in Nampa, Idaho.

Prescott Beals, missionary doctor of hearts, and Thomas E. Mangum, doctor with a missionary's heart, symbolize the early type of NNC graduate. Earnest, honest, and devoted to God, these men have brought honor to NNC as they traveled the road to success.

Plato and Aristotle were popular those days as four graduates chose philosophy as their major. With the sounds of war just barely past their ears, the class chose peaceable blue and white as their class colors.

Yes, 40 years have come and gone but there remains those years of challenging lives and deeds well done to aspire us to greater heights. To you, Emma Cook Anderson, Oliver Gault, Ralph Hertenstein, J. Stewart Maddox, Thomas E. Mangum, Willard Shattuck, and James Short, we offer you, the class of 1919, our admiration and respect.

By DICK ETULAIN

For seven men and women this May will prove to be a large cog in their wheel of memories. It has been thirty years since they left NNC behind to seek their fortune; but anyway, those were great days. Studying, debating, and participating took up most of your time, didn't it? But there always seemed time to sell a ride to Mars for the Oasis or to go out on a CWB trip.

Remember that hospital they were building? It is called Samaritan Community now and is one of the finest in the Northwest.

we invite you, Edna Bartram, Ruth Born, Eva Gronewald, Frank True, Juanita Winn, and Mildred Pershall, the Class of 1929 to come back and visit us some time.

Willard Lewis, math.; Esta Sinkhorn, English; Edith Rumann, English; Lloyd Pounds, theology; Gale Putman, philosophy; Merritt Swim, theology; Mildred Teerink, sociology; Marjorie Stark, nursing science; Lyle Robinson, philosophy; Edgar Pust, history; Harold Wilhite, math.; Charles Zink, theology; Martha Wilcox, English; Lois Tish, English, and Gerald Worcester, theology.

What happened to them? Mabel Bittleston Montenegro lives in Chile, So. America, where she teaches. Her husband is a mining engineer. Richard Jackson lives in Nampa and teaches at College High. Ronnie Lush is director of music at a Nazarene church in San Bernadino, Calif. J. Fred Parker is editor of the Conquest magazine. This Nazarene publication won first place 3 out of 5 years in a national contest of youth publications.

Chaplain Lyle Robinson was "Alumnus of the Year" of 1954. Marjorie Stark Wise is a missionary to South Africa. Edith Rumann Calloway lives in Horseshoe Bend where her husband is a school principal. She taught for 9 years in Idaho schools.

Among those who were pastors are Robert Emrick, Leroy Harris, J. Edwin McConnell, Lloyd Pounds, Gerald Worcester, Dick Jackson, and Charles Zink.

The deceased include Charles Zink and Reuben Huebner.

CLASS OF 1934

To this year's silver anniversary class goes the distinction of achieving two firsts in NNC history.

In February an audience of 800 filled the college chapel to hear NNC debaters Norman Oke and Paul Spencer defeat a top team from Stanford University. Chairman of the debate was Idaho's secretary of state.

The year 1934 also marked NNC's entrance into intercollegiate athletics. Ralph Allison was basketball coach.

On the class roster were such names as Gordon Olsen, Elmer Schmelzenbach, Leonard Eastley, Leora Martin, Dora Alice Paylor, Hannah Groseth, Pearl Nelson, Donnie G. Laughlin, Norman Oke.

John Vreugdenhill, David Fritzlan, Stanley Mittelstaedt, Venita Maxey, Charlotte Patterson, Earl Rawson, Russell and Elmore Max-linger, sociology; Eugene Clark, history; Wesley Edes, philosophy; Florence Aileen Hines, philosophy; C. Arlene Hews, English; Robert C. Emrick, philosophy; Sam E. Everson, bio. sci.; Leonard Falk, theology; Agnes Miller, bio. sci.; LaVern Lee, English.

Wilma Miller, English; David Figg, theology; Leroy Harris, theology; Alice Roberts, bio. sci.; Marjory Olson, English; Richard Jackson, theology; Elmer Froemke, math.; Reuben Huebner, history; Ronald Lush, English; Marjorie Pounds, nursing science; Esther Peterson, bio. sci.; Lyle Krueger, social science; J. CLASS OF 1949

By STANLEY TROMBURG

From the jungles of Africa to the halls of higher learning, the class of 1949 lives lives that were molded at NNC. Holding high the missionary endeavor of this school, the class of '49 boasts eight active missionaries.

Among these are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Johnson, who are our pioneer workers to Germany. Also going abroad for Christ is Floyd J. Perkins, who is principal of a Bible College in South Africa. On that continent too, is missionary nurse Mildred A. McNabb. Leonard and Miriam York are missionaries now serving in British Honduras. Mr. and Mrs. William P. Moon are now in a language school at Lisbon, Portugal.

Class officers of your class were Milton Gardiner, president, who is now serving as pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Springfield, Ore.; Lois Nelbauer, secretary, who lives in Yakima, Wash.; and Bill Moon, treasurer.

Other class members were Kenneth Sulston, ASB President, who was noted for his fine speaking ability. He holds a Ph.D. degree from the Northwestern University. Dr. Sulston lives in California where he is a Methodist minister. Ruby Feltar Boyd pursued further studies at the University of Idaho and it teaching part-time in an elementary school in Oroville, Wash. Her husband, Harry Boyd, is the principal.

Arthur H. Aleya is teaching in a Christian high school sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene in California. Wayne Johnson, son of our business manager, served two years in the service after graduation and is now successful in busi-

Miss Dorothy Long Leaves NNC As Art Department Head

By RUTH OLIN

The favorite color of an artist has always been a bit of the unknown for which I have wished for an answer. While talking to Miss Dorothy Long, head of the Art Department, my opportunity for an answer arrived. "It depends on what it is used for or its purpose," was the answer I received. In painting she likes to use yellows and greens but she prefers blues for her wearing apparel.

Those students who are taking such classes as painting, creative chalk, church school art, art methods, math 4, and measurement and evaluation are the recipients of her expert guidance this semester. She plans to teach in a nearby high school starting next fall.

Miss Long graduated as a student from NNC in 1946 and joined the faculty the same year in the fall. Since that time she was absent for one year while studying in Iowa as a result of a $1300 scholarship for graduate work. Her advice to NNC students now is to plan ahead for graduate school even though you may not think you are going or do not plan on it now. "Keep your sights high," she counseled.

The fact that the Longs, including Miss Dorothy Long, are Nazarenes today may be due to the efforts of an active Sunday School teacher in Spokane, Wash., who was a neighbor. Miss Long became a Nazarene when she was 10 years old. She low lives with her sister Ruth and their folks in an attractive bungalow on Diamond Street near the campus.

If you were to visit the Long's home you might find this brunet teacher with the sparkling brown eyes snitching a cookie from the cookie jar. If there were hours enough in the day you might also find her doing some sewing for herself. She and her sister enjoy entertaining their friends and their friends love to frequent their home.

Miss Long has always held teachers in high esteem and during her high school days she was not sure whether she would be a teacher or a preacher. She now believes that as a teacher she is helping students become more fit for society. The successful person in her eyes is one who works to the best of his ability and puts God first.

Her modest smile returned when I asked what her students did that irritated her. "Those who act immature wanting to know how soon the bell is going to ring or if I'm going to let them out early and those who do nothing but sit in class," was her thoughtful reply.

It is my feeling that the future for Miss Long will be bright because her trust is secure in her favorite scripture verse found in Romans 8:28: "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose."

CAMPUS CRIMINAL

University of Kansas campus police couldn't understand how cars were getting into a parking lot, past a toll gate, without specially issued cards. The cards had to be inserted into the gate to make it rise.

Yet drivers without the cards were parking there, said DAILY KANSAN.

Then a little boy was seen putting something in the gate and gleefully watching startled drivers edge into the lot. His "ticket?" A piece of popcorn box.

"I saw people putting cards in," explained the six-year-old, "so I tried my own." Police have reset the toll gate so popcorn boxes don't work there anymore.

Martha Hopkins, Senior, Sparks Intramural Games

By MARY WALLER

Sparking the ADP society for the last eight years, has been blond, blue-eyed Martha Hopkins. "Little but fast," she has established an outstanding record in athletics.

Martha was born in Astoria, Ore. She has three brothers and one sister. She and her family came to Nampa in 1950 where she enrolled at College High School and became a loyal ADP.

She seems to enjoy most all athletics. She has participated in softball, basketball, volleyball, tennis, ping pong, shuffleboard, golf, badminton, archery and track.

In the spring of 1958 she and her partner tied for first place in golf mixed doubles. At a track meet you will always find Martha running the dashes. In 1957 she ran the 50 yd. dash in 7.9 seconds to take first place.

The same year she was a member of the relay team that holds the school record. Last year she won first place in the broad jump with a jump of 13'2" and threw the basketball 81'11" for first place.

Using her speed and sharp shooting to full advantage, Martha led the ADP's through three undefeated basketball seasons, winning the Hibbard-Long-Wesche tournament for three consecutive years.

Although she only stands 5'1" this has not been a handicap for she averaged 28 points per game during the last four years. This year she averaged 38 points per game. She holds the record for the most points scored in one game with 75 points. The ADP's are going to miss "No. 10" on the basketball court.

MARTHA HOPKINS

The softball diamond is a familiar spot for Martha, too. Here she takes over the pitching duties for the ADP's. In 1958 she pitched a no-hit game against the Oly's.

This weekend should provide you Crusader fans with a sports activity of a different nature. Tomorrow night the College of Idaho Coyotes will play host to NNC at the Rose Gardens in Caldwell.

The 7:30 p.m. game time will provide the baseball team with its first night performance for more than five years. The Crusaders will also play C of I here today.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

In case you didn't know, the Washington five has continually ranked in the top five NAIA teams for the past few years including a second place finish in this last year's Kansas City tournament.

... Bill Manley, College High's pitching mainstay, has attracted much interest for his mound prowess. Manley, who averaged two strikeouts per inning last year, has made nearly the same impression on visiting batsmen again this year.

DID YOU KNOW?

... that the sensational Dyrrol Burleson, whom I mentioned last issue, is still burning up the track. As a freshman he entered the recent Drake relays taking the mile run in a time of 4:06.7. Burleson's best time last year was 4:13. If he keeps improving at that rate next year, he may crack the four-minute mark.

Women Netters Road Trip Success

By MARY WALLER

Despite the two inches of snow that covered the Salt Lake City area April 18 the women's team had a successful trip over the weekend, beating Utah State University 5-2, and losing to Brigham Young University 3-4, and to the University of Utah 2-5.

Monday afternoon proved to be nice enough for a tennis match in spite of the snow storm in the morning. Individual scores at BYU were: Dorothy Mittleider defeated Clarlynn White 6-3, 4-6, 6-0; Martha Hopkins lost to Irene Webb 6-4, 6-4; Mary Waller lost to Marilyn Arnold 6-1, 6-2; Harriet Burkheimer lost to Pat Lee 6-0, 6-2; and Minnie Humphrey defeated Betty

Oly Women Win Volleyball

Boasting a 5-0 record the Oly women won the intramural second semester volleyball championship. Close behind them with only one defeat were the Spartans.

Following in third place were the Athenians with 2 wins and 3 losses. The ADP's took fourth, LSP's fifth, and SLA's sixth.

The intramural spring tennis program started with the Spartans defeating the LSP's 4-0. Other contests have been rained out.

In individual sports the Spartans took mixed ping pong doubles from the SLA's as Jim Bateman and Carol Coulter defeated Dick Etulain and Iverna Lyda. Third place went to ADP's Jerry Caven and Martha Hopkins.

Athletics are not her only interests, however. She is a home ec major and is preparing to teach. During her junior year she was a candidate for ASB secretary. This year she is president of GNG.

In her spare time she likes to bowl, sew, and I've heard it said that she plays the trumpet.

Crusader Capers

By DICK ETULAIN

"Active" is the only epithet I can use to describe the actions of our sports teams since the last issue of the Crusader. The horsehide, cinder, and racket-swinging men have all been busy the past two weeks trying to up NNC's prestige sportswise.

Coach Elmore Vail's baseball nine, after a fast start, fell on the short end of four scores in a row before bouncing back to the victor's side.

NNC BATSMEN BOW

The first of the four defeats came at the hands of BJC April 14. In a slugfest the Broncos managed to come out on the top end of an 18-10 score. Although the NNC batsmen hit BJC pitchers freely, it was a case of too many walks and errors by the NNC defense and an abundance of hits by the visitors that provided the difference.

The following Friday the Crusaders met Columbia Basin Junior College of Pasco, Wash. The powerful Hawks went on to take a double header from the local nine 13-4 and 9-1.

The visitors took advantage of 11 walks given up by starting pitcher Ben Clouser to help cinch their victory in the first game. In the second game it was Hawk pitcher, Beck, all the way. Pitching five innings of one-hit ball, Beck struck out seven Crusaders and walked only two.

DID YOU KNOW?

... that the sensational Dyrrol Burleson, whom, I mentioned last issue, is still burning up the track. As a freshman he entered the recent Drake relays taking the mile run in a time of 4:06.7. Burleson's best time last year was 4:13. If he keeps improving at that rate next year, he may crack the four-minute mark.

... Columbia Basin Junior College plays a 37-40 baseball game schedule each year. The powerful Junior College nine play the best in the Northwest, including University of Washington, Idaho, and Washington State.

When NNC played them the first time they already had an 11-4 record while NNC's was 2-2. We shouldn't feel too bad about losing to a team like this.

... that Eastern Washington College at Cheney, Wash., has a field house that is nearly two blocks long. We could lay about seven NNC gyms end to end inside of it and still have plenty of floor space left over.

... Sam Willard is leading the NNC hitters with a .391 average, while seven regulars are hitting over .300. They are Bob Brooks .348, Ben Clouser and Ernie Thompson .333, John Wright .320, and Phil White and Dick Etulain .314. Willard also leads the home run bracket with two, while the entire team has collected seven.

... Don Ogburn set a new NNC high hurdle record with a 15.5 timing in the Eastern Oregon Invitational.

Ernie Thompson provided NNC with the only run on a homer in the bottom half of the seventh.

COLUMBIA BASIN

In their first game on a swing through Washington, the Crusaders lost their third in a row to Columbia Basin 12-3. NNC took the lead with a two-run first, but the Junior College nine came back to go on top and were never headed.

Ben Clouser became the first Crusader chucker to go the route as he allowed 12 hits in his eight-inning stint. Dick Etulain led the Crusaders with two hits.

CRUSADERS WIN

On April 25 the traveling Crusaders broke a four-game losing streak to down Eastern Washington College of Education at Cheney 12-6.

Behind the eight-hit pitching of Jerry Isaacson, who stuck out 12, the Crusaders started slowly but became victorious.

Road Trip Success

By MARY WALLER

Despite the two inches of snow that covered the Salt Lake City area April 18 the women's team had a successful trip over the weekend, beating Utah State University 5-2, and losing to Brigham Young University 3-4, and to the University of Utah 2-5.

Monday afternoon proved to be nice enough for a tennis match in spite of the snow storm in the morning. Individual scores at BYU were: Dorothy Mittleider defeated Clarlynn White 6-3, 4-6, 6-0; Martha Hopkins lost to Irene Webb 6-4, 6-4; Mary Waller lost to Marilyn Arnold 6-1, 6-2; Harriet Burkheimer lost to Pat Lee 6-0, 6-2; and Minnie Humphrey defeated Betty Maun 10-8, 3-6, 6-4.

In doubles play Mittleider-Hopkins picked up the third win for NNC beating White and Webb 5-7, 6-3, 6-1. Waller-Burkheimer lost to Lee-Arnold 6-1, 6-2.

An interesting highlight in this match was that the BYU number one singles player, Clarlynn White, was the Arizona State Champion when she was in high school.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

Playing the University of Utah on the morning of April 21, NNC lost five close matches to give the University of 5-2 victory. Individual scores were: Mittleider lost to Janis Romney 6-4, 3-6, 6-3; Hopkins lost to Jean Sprunt 6-4, 6-3; Waller over Janet Thurgood 7-5, 6-2; Burkheimer lost to Joan Laughlin 6-4, 6-3; and Humphrey lost to Dianna Davis 6-2, 6-4.

In doubles play Mittleider-Hopkins again picked up a win by beating Romney-Betty Dance 6-2, 6-2. Waller-Humphrey lost the second doubles to Thurgood-Laughlin 10-8, 6-2.

UTAH STATE

Traveling to Logan the same afternoon NNC won an easy victory from Utah State College 5-2. Winning for NNC were Mittleider, Hopkins and Waller in singles. Mittleider-Hopkins and Waller-Humphrey both won their doubles matches.

Interesting sidelines on the trip included winter weather that caught the team in their spring clothes and light jackets; a visit to Temple Square in Salt Lake City
