NNC PERSONNEL COMMITTEE HEADED BY TRIUMVIRATE

With the beginning of the school year NNC's three-member Personnel Committee have announced several changes which will aid them in administering matters of student personnel.

Miss Wilson's former office in the speech hall has been converted into the Office of Personnel and Publicity. During the mornings from 8 o'clock until noon the office will be in charge of Mrs. Dave Friesen, newly-appointed committee secretary.

During the afternoon Miss Wilson and other members of the Personnel Committee will use the office for individual and group conferences and counseling. Miss Wilson has moved her books and classroom data into the former Crusader editorial office which is located next door to the Personnel and Publicity Office.

Work of the Personnel Committee has been divided this year with individual assignments given to each committee member. Professor Warnie T. Tippitt, committee chairman, is in charge of cars and all counseling of men. He is also responsible for Chapman Hall advisory matters.

Mr. Elmore Vail, director of the intramural program, is in charge of chapel attendance this year. He is also adviser to the student council.

Miss Helen Wilson is executive secretary of the committee and is directly responsible for all matters pertaining to campus women's activities. Miss Wilson is also in charge of the freshmen's study halls.

SOCIETY LEADERS CHOSEN; ENTHUSIASM AT A PEAK

Northwest Nazarene College's intramural program got underway this week when members of the six athletic-literary societies met to elect officers for the first semester.

Chosen president of the Olympian society was Weldon Wood of Nampa, who transferred to NNC from the University of Idaho last year. Other officers named to assist Wood are Marvin Daniels of Sweet Home, Ore.; Naomi Shawen of Cle Elum, Wash.; Myrna Dean of Medford, Ore.; Laurie Seaman of Red Deer, Alberta, Canada; Richard Benner of Kansas City, Mo.; Wally Steward of Nampa, and Mary Lee Lester of Richland, Wash.

Gene Oberg of Roseburg, Ore. was named president of Alpha Delta Phi. Oberg, a sophomore, is a varsity basketball player. Assisting him will be Art Freeman of Seattle, Wash.; Myrna Branum of Kennewick, Wash.; Sherrill Friesen of Salem, Ore.; Gary Condon of Pomeroy, Wash.; Jerry Van Order of Cambridge, Ida.; Jerry Dirkse of Spokane, Wash., and Joan Dean of Portland, Ore.

Spartans tapped Henry "Hank" Savage of Gooding, Ida. to serve as their president. He will be assisted by Neil McKay of Orofino; Careta Hammond of The Dalles, Ore.; Carmen Gilmore of Portland, Ore.; Marvin Bressler of Salem, Ore., and Mary Waller of Nampa, Ore., and Mary Waller of Nampa, Ore.

Heading the Athenians will be Bob Parker, senior business major from Eugene, Ore. Other officers named by the Athenians were Phil Campbell of Nampa; Faye Reeder of Roseburg, Ore.; Joyce Oldenkamp of Tillamook, Ore.; Wes Aman of Nampa, and Alice Graham of Orofino.

Lambda Sigma Pi chose Dan Etulain of Moses Lake, Wash. to be their president. Assisting him will be John Gennaro of St. Louis, Mo.; Sharon Yeider of Seattle, Wash.; Kathie Santo of Boise; Naomi Crofford of Nampa, Jerry Hull of Ontario, Ore.; Art Zellmer of Kennewick, Wash., and Delores Kalkbrenner of Litchfield, Minn.

Gordon Olsen of Eugene, Ore. was named president of Sigma Lambda Alpha. Olsen, a junior, is a business major. Assisting him will be Ralph Swenson of Minneapolis, Minn.; Bill Tracy of Richland, Wash.; Phyllis Fletcher of Nampa; Bob Anderson of Tillamook, Ore., and Lois Draper of Albany, Ore.

Frisk Chosen KROK Manager

The student council has voted to appoint Phil Frisk of Salem, Oregon, to be manager of the campus radio station KROK. Phil will replace Cordell Castleman who did not return to school. He is a divisional major in language and literature, single, and was manager of the station in his sophomore year. He is a senior.

DEAN SPEAKS TO FROSH

Dean Thelma B. Culver was speaker at the first freshman orientation class which was held Wednesday at 6:45 p.m. in the college chapel. Dr. Culver will speak for the first few meetings about matters of academic adjustment in college.

New this year, the freshman orientation class is designed to aid freshmen in getting adjusted to college life.

According to Miss Helen Wilson, class director, later sessions of the class will include discussions of such topics as "dating," "personality development," etc.

Men's Club Elects Leaders In First Meeting

Officers of the Men's Club for the year 1959-60 are as follows: President, Gene Oberg; Vice President, Lauren Ellis; Secretary, Hank Savage; and Sgt.-at-Arms, John "Two-Gun" Gennaro.

President Oberg issued the statement that he hoped to keep the spirit of enthusiasm shown by last semester's Men's Club and will try to make Men's Club a "club with a purpose."

NEW STUDENT SUCCUMBS IN OREGON

The many friends of the R. H. Sutherlands of Moscow, Idaho were saddened to learn of the passing of their daughter, Louanes. She was ready to enter NNC as a freshman when she passed away. Flowers were sent on behalf of the student body.

NNC HOST TO TEACHERS AT RECENT EDUCATION CONVENTION

Southwest Idaho teacher delegates attended the thirteenth annual leadership training school sponsored by the Idaho Education Association and the National Education Association.

Idaho's district No. 3 met on the NNC campus in Elmore Hall and the auditorium September 18 and 19.

NEA and IEA has four purposes: To promote child welfare; to advance education; to promote welfare of students and teachers; and to improve the teaching profession in Idaho through the effort of numbers working together.

This year's theme is "Active Associations Through Quality Leadership." Discussed topics were activities of local units, committee organizations, professional attitudes, the NEA in action, federal support, dues, membership campaigns, and other school functions. Friday's special speakers included Wayne York, this year's IEA president, and Ezra Moore, the IEA director and last year's president. The executive secretary, Elmer Crowley, spoke on "Books to Stir Your Thinking" after a dinner Friday night.

Erwin Coombs, NEA Salary Consultant, spoke Saturday on a salary schedule. This was a new feature presented this year.

Rev. H. M. Daniels Selected for Fall Revival Meetings

Rev. Harold M. Daniels has been selected as the evangelist for the fall revival beginning October 4, and running through the 11th. He will be speaking at the regular chapel hour each morning and each evening in College Church at 7:30.

Rev. Daniels, of Springfield, Illinois, has been superintendent of the Illinois District in the Church of the Nazarene since May, 1958.

He has served twenty years as pastor of Nazarene churches when elected to the superintendency.

During the last ten years in the pastorate, he served churches in Colorado Springs, Colorado, Ashland, Kentucky; Albuquerque, New Mexico; and Phoenix, Arizona. Prior to that, he was at small churches starting in Lincoln, Nebraska, where he organized the Northside Church.

Mr. Daniels was a member of advisory boards of both the Kentucky and Arizona districts and active in youth work. He has spoken at camp meetings and conferences on twenty-seven Nazarene church districts.

A native of Nebraska, he had formal schooling at Bresee College, Hutchison, Kansas, and the University of Nebraska, Lincoln. Mr. Daniels is married and he and his wife have two children.

Warnie Tippitt is regarded by many as the most expressive tenor soloist in the scriptural holiness movement today. His voice has fine tone, register, and range, and he sings in demonstration of the experience of heart holiness for which the Church of the Nazarene stands.

★★ Editorial Comment ★★

Dr. Riley has designated as the theme for this year the simple but fascinating motto, "I Believe." This motto if you apply it makes you say, "What do I believe?" Not what Dr. Riley believes or Dean Culver or your grandmother, bless her memory, but down deep in your soul of souls what do YOU really believe? Belief has the connotation of conviction, persuasion, conclusion, it is the kind of thing that will cause a man like Martin Luther to stand before a council prepared to die for what he believed was right. Deep convictions such as were held by Martin Luther were not easily gained. Truth is an elusive thing, it must be pursued and the results are never always in. Charles Darwin said he felt as if he were standing on the seashore looking out at an ocean of truth. The only time you quit learning is when you are six feet under. Of course some people never started learning so they end where they began—nowhere.

Convictions are not founded by taking notes in a class and parroted them back on a test. Ideas must be digested, evaluated and rethought before you can make them a part of you. The things you believe are the things you live by. They govern your actions because they are the things that are most meaningful to you.

In Religion more than in any other area we find a wide range of beliefs. The people who disagree might be just as sincere and just as intelligent for that matter. Many people read the same Bible and yet come out believing vastly different things. A Roman Catholic reading Matt. 15:8-9, "This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men," would naturally conclude, "this refers to Protestants." A Protestant reading the same verse would conclude, "This refers to Catholics." I wonder how a person without much religious background must feel when he sees the maze of religious dogma, the Seventh-Day Adventist telling him to come to church on Saturday, the Mormon telling him about Gold Plates and Seven Heavens, the Roman Catholics assuring him it is right to pray for the dead, the Christian Scientist telling him his broken bones are a figment of an over-active imagination, the Calvinist reminds him he has no free-will and the Arminian reminds he does. The Tower of Babel must seem like close harmony to the bewildered seeker of truth in the area of Religion.

However, the other side of the coin is the fact that while there are differences there is in the Christian world a vast area in which we are in complete agreement. Throughout the main stream of Christian thought there are many fundamental doctrines that everyone agrees upon. The diety of Jesus, the resurrection and many other basic agreements.

This school has some beliefs, they are a heritage from our founders. To us these beliefs are sound both Biblically and experimentally, but before you can make them your own you must seek to know for yourself. The Master gave us the promise that if we seek we shall find. One cannot help but believe that a loving God will guide the sincere, seeking person into all truth. An old colored preacher explaining the Bible to a young skeptic said, "De book don't go into detail 'bout everything, I guess de good Lord expects us to figure out a few things for ourselves."

The greatest misfortune of all is not to be able to bear misfortune.—Bias

Common sense, in an uncommon degree, is what the world calls wisdom.—Coleridge

The Danforth Foundation, an educational foundation located in St. Louis, Missouri, invites applications for the ninth class (1960) of Danforth Graduate Fellows from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching, and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1960, for their first year of graduate study. The Foundation welcomes applicants from the areas of Natural and Biological Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities and all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

President J. E. Riley has named Mr. Francis Reeves as the Liaison Officer to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or not to exceed three candidates for these 1960 fellowships. These appointments are fundamentally "a relationship of encouragement" throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need. The maximum annual grant for single Fellows is $1500 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students; for married Fellows, $2000 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students with an additional stipend of $500 for each child. Students with or without financial need are invited to apply. A Danforth Fellow is allowed to carry other scholarship appointments, such as Rhodes, Fulbright, Woodrow Wilson, Marshall, etc., concurrently with his Danforth Fellowship, and applicants for these appointments are cordially invited to apply at the same time for a Danforth Fellowship. If a man received the Danforth Appointment, together with a Rhodes Scholarship, Fulbright Scholarship, or Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, he becomes a Danforth Fellow without stipend, until these other relationships are completed.

All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching, to be held at Camp Miniwanca in Michigan next September, 1960.

The qualifications of the candidates as listed in the announcement from the Foundation are: men of outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom, and integrity and character, including serious inquiry within the Christian tradition.

All applications, including the recommendations, must be completed by January 31, 1960. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with our Liaison officer.

Language and Literature

Our English teachers are feeling the effects of the large freshman class with a high enrollment in seven sections of freshman composition. One of these is an honor section, two are remedial, and four are regular courses.

There is also an increased interest in German this fall. Possibly encouraged by numerous students venturing on with third year German literature and conversation, ambitious fraulein and herrn have filled two sections of beginning German.

Yet never doubt the preparedness of the faculty, for our profs were scattered across the country this summer studying in their specialized fields. Returning to the University of California in Berkeley, Mrs. Lewis completed two more terms of work on her Master's degree in English literature. Miss Washburn headed home to New England for the summer during which she spent two weeks at Georgetown University attending a conference on the new literary criticism. The conference featured leading contemporary critics as speakers. Back here in Idaho, Mr. Wilson took courses in drama at the University of Idaho.

Fine Arts

Also seen on the University of Idaho campus this summer were several teachers from our music department. Mrs. Sanner and Mrs. Swann were there for a piano workshop and Profs. Tippitt and Bloomquist attended the meeting of the National Association of Teachers of Singing.

Up in Seattle Mrs. Waller was present at the Northwest Regional Conference of the American Guild of Organists where she gave a recital, musically representing the state of Idaho.

Applied Studies

Our business teachers perhaps did less roving this summer, but they kept busy making changes and additions in their curriculum for the year. Two new courses will be offered next semester: Personnel Management taught by Prof. Zink and Indexing and Filing, by Miss Hartley.

Math and Natural Science

Good news from Dr. Ford—he received a $21,000 check during the summer for work on the mass spectrometer. More is to come later. It looks as if they'll be able to keep the shop open for a while.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,
 The radio is playing softly, the moon is shining brightly, and there is a beautiful girl next door. Ah yes, the perfect setting for a writer to pour his heart out on paper. But alas—I don't like the song on the radio, moonlight sentimentailities never appeal to me, and lo and behold the girl next door is married.

Consequently, the incentive to write an article for your paper is in absentia. But I do recognize your sordid status and do trust that this conglomeration of flippant verbalizations will satiate the grotesque hunger for space in your little newspaper.

ESSAY COMPETITION TO BE HELD

Prizes are being offered in a nationwide essay competition sponsored by the Albert Schweitzer Educational foundation. The purpose of this competition is to encourage individuals to read Albert Schweitzer's writing, to study the wholeness of his concept of Reverence for Life, and to evaluate his synthesis in relation to their own personal philosophies and to the world crisis.

An international committee of Schweitzer scholars will judge the essays. They will give clarity and accuracy in presenting ideas more consideration than literary style.

Registrations, stating name, address, and classification, must reach Foundation office by midnight, November 10, 1959. The address is: 55 E. Washington St., Chicago 2, Illinois. Final Deadline: Completed essays must reach Foundation office by midnight, December 10, 1959. Length of essay: 4,000 to 6,000 words for college students. First prize $300.

September 18, 1959

Mr. Jack Wright, Editor THE CRUSADER Northwest Nazarene College Nampa, Idaho

Dear Jack:

Welcome! To Nampa, Idaho's Friendly and Progressive City.

We are proud of our City and I am certain you will develop a similar pride as the days of your stay lengthens into months and years.

The organization of which you are a part, Northwest Nazarene College, is held in high esteem in Nampa. Everyone knows about N.N.C. You will have a good feeling to be a part of such an important institution!

As Mayor I am happy to welcome you personally and officially to Nampa. You will have your pastor "Away from Home," and your

LIBRARY BOOKS; CHECK FILE 13

According to Miss Edith Lancaster, Head Librarian, the NNC library is now missing over 350 books with a total value of $1,750. It will take approximately one-fifth of the library budget to replace these books.

Not all of these books were lost, strayed or stolen last year as the last complete inventory was in 1954. It is evident that Denmark isn't the only place with problems. Now there are at least two avenues open to us. We can continue to lose books until the library can be housed in a book mobile or the students can begin to avail themselves of the library checkout system. Free of charge the library will stamp the return date for the books. It is a unique system found in every library in the world. The other alternative would be to have a revival of restitution and bring back the books. The librarians have reason to believe that these books are not being read as about one fourth of them are from the Religious section. If all the religion majors who have books tucked away under their mattresses to make them sleep better would have a more sensitive conscience it would be a boon to the librarians. Maybe when some of these people put their all on the altar they will place the library books there also. Time and the revival will tell.

Now lest we be misunderstood, what has happened has been well meaning people have taken books out the library sincerely meaning to return them but the spirit was willing and the flesh was weak. If this continues then the library will be forced to have a check stand where you lean against the wall and an efficient staff member gives you the royal frisk.

dorm mother and dad—in a real sense consider me your Mayor "away from home."

Yours for a wonderful year!

Sincerely,
Thomas A. Leupp

My First Impressions of NNC; Given By A New Student

"Well, hello. What can I do for you?" were the first words encountered at Northwest Nazarene College. It came from a sincere smiling fellow that depicted an attitude very prevalent in the college. Nowhere have I seen people—students and faculty—as friendly, interested and caring for a stranger or any individual than at NNC.

This writer was overwhelmed by the Christian spirit exhibited on the campus. After attending school for two years in a worldly college, the comparison "isn't comparable." Speaking for myself and hundreds of others, thank God for NNC... an institution where not only physical standards of life are learned, but the spiritual, also. Where prayer, not wine, women and song, is the measuring stick for success.

I like the friendly rivalry (hope it stays friendly) that is shown by the different athletic-literary societies. Life is one big competition in every respect. The Devil is competing for our lives, we're competing against the world for success in our particular field, and we're actually competing against ourselves... measuring our achievements according to goals we have set. Thus I feel through belonging to one of these societies, I am learning to compete fairly and learning to take the losses with the wins which will carry over into life after school.

The enthusiasm is another bright light here. There are more students at the prayer and fasting meeting every week than at some athletic contests I've seen. Dorm prayer meetings are attended by most of the lodgers. And already, though basketball season is over two months away, students are talking about the team and our chances for success this year.

Our course, we know there are faults in every college or actually in every phase of life. We realize the need for funds to build better facilities and buildings, the need for establishment of new courses and other phases at NNC that could be bettered. But we also know there is a God working on our side and somehow these needs will be met in due season.

Remember, fellow new students, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest." Ecc. 9:10. Get into as many activities as feasible and let God use the talents He has given you. You might even like it here as well as I do.

TIGER

By BOB ANDERSON

If you should happen to look up the word "Tiger" in Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary you would find that one of the definitions is: "A ferocious, bloodthirsty person." Although we can't say that this is an accurate description of our own coach, Orrin E. "Tiger" Hills, some of the freshmen might have been able to use this definition after taking the Freshman Motor Fitness Test.

Like many young men, Coach Hills went to college to find out about the intellectual side of life, decided he liked it, set some goals and then reached them. He might have been the studious type for he met his wife-to-be (then Esther Mills) in the library.

While in college Coach Hills was a real "Tiger" on the NNC varsity basketball team. He was top scorer three consecutive years for the Crusaders.

Mr. Hills received his A.B. at NNC and then went on to receive his M.S. at the University of Oregon. He taught in public schools in Oregon and Idaho, coming to NNC in 1954. Since coming to NNC he has done much to improve the physical education program. The present, thorough intramural program is just one of the many great improvements he has wrought in the P.E. department. Part of his educational philosophy is that education has four aspects: physical, mental and emotional, social, and spiritual.

Because of his superior knowledge of the game and adeptness in teaching the fundamentals of shooting, passing, defensive and offensive play, NNC's basketball teams have improved tremendously. In the last four years NNC's basketball teams, under Coach Hills' guidance, have won 83 games compared to only 33 losses for a 72% win average.

1955-1956—Team finished second in the Intermountain Collegiate Athletic Conference. Record - 20 wins, 7 losses.

1956-1957 - Team awarded National Defense Championship. Team won N.A.I.A. district tournament, went to nationals at Kansas City. Record - 26 wins, 7 losses.

1957-1958—Dave Gardner fourth high in scoring in the Northwest. 20.7 game average. Honorable Mention Little All American Basketball Team. Record - 18 wins, 12 losses.

1958-1959—Record - 18 wins, 7 losses.

Coach Hills has also sent many cindermen around that circle at record-breaking speeds.

He has this bit of advice that everyone can use: "In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths." (Prov. 3:6)

Sports Underway

At the time of publishing the intramural ball games were getting underway. On the boys' side the SLA's had downed the OLY's 12-0 thanks to the pitching of Clarence Crow. He allowed only one hit, striking out 16. The Spartans also downed the ADP's 12-6. On the girls' side the Spartans won the ADP's by forfeit and the SLA's downed the OLY's 9-3.

PEACE THROUGH POWER

By ROGER BURKHART

The only sound coming from the T-shaped building silhouetted against the purple and golden sunset is the steady staccato of five or six typewriters. There may be a couple of virile bull sessions and maybe some quiet music or the ping pong ball being batted back and forth, but as a whole it looks and sounds like a peaceful settlement.

The "old timers" of two and three years back see it as quite a contrast to what they experienced when they landed in its stormy quarters. Then one needed to be ready for wrestling, nine pins, water follies, atomic bombs, and room raids. It almost seems like we have been delivered from the Egyptians and are living in the promised land in comparison. Of course to depict the past as black and the present as white would be unfair, for the past did have its good points and Chapman Hall still has her problems, but the present spirit of mature co-operativeness, friendliness, and the organization and government are strong evidence for a desirable future.

A great deal of the credit for the present satisfaction with Chapman Hall goes to Mac and La Donna Webb, who are the head residents for this year. Mac is a senior sociology major and La Donna is teaching in the ninth grade at West Junior High. Next year they plan to move to Berkeley where Mac will do graduate work at the University of California.

Mac's primary interest in past years has been boxing. He fought amateur at fourteen and later went into professional boxing competing in the Golden Gloves competition. He says he has liked to fight ever since he entered the first grade in Salem, his home town. Mac spent two years in the service and incidentally this is when he made his decision for Christ. For the future he wishes to enter the field of counseling and correctional work with young boys. His acceptance by the Chapman Hall men is explained by his congenial personality, friendly yet firm manner, Christian example, and individual concern for the welfare of each young man.

La Donna is a native of Nampa, in fact she was born only three blocks from her present home. She has graduated from Central Auditorium three times and now is teaching in the school she once attended. Her father has been a prominent Nampa business man for many years, owning the men's clothing store frequented by many college men.

La Donna graduated from NNC

cum lauda and won the Lions Club Award for the outstanding senior woman. She also was a cheer leader for three years and assistant editor of the Oasis for two years. Mac informs us, though, that the crowning experience of her life was marrying him.

To say that she never dreamed she would ever live in Chapman Hall is an understatement, but as the days pass she is increasingly enjoying her role as first lady to one-hundred fifty fine young gentlemen and so far, assures us that she has had nothing but the finest relations with all of them. Her job here, she claims, "is to keep Mac happy." We are confident that she is well qualified.

Mac and La Donna will only be here this year but we will profit greatly by even this one year as they help young men to be in the words of Chapman's motto "Clean Christian Gentlemen." Our tribute goes to the Webbs for they have consented to make Chapman Hall's reputation their own.

HONORS GIVEN ATHLETES

Two area coeds, Dorothy Mittel-leider of Meridian, and Mary Waller of Nampa, were named to receive Northwest Nazarene College's highest athletic award for women this week.

Women's athletic activities at NNC are channeled through Gamma Nu Gamma, campus athletic honorary for women, and presentation of the award was made by Miss Wanda Rhodes, director of women's physical education and sponsor of GNG.

Awards are given according to a point system and Miss Mittel-leider and Miss Waller had amassed a total of some 400 points which made them eligible to receive a collegiate blazer.

The blazers were presented to the two during a student assembly period.

According to Miss Helen Wilson, dean of women, the Bench study hall program for freshmen last year proved so successful that this year it has been expanded to include both men and women students.

Immediately upon the issuance of the first Bench List a list of those freshmen students who are having scholastic difficulty will be given to Miss Wilson who will then announce the study hall locations.

Benches are required to attend the study hall sessions during the regular study hours on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Dorothy's on the ball.
