Sweetheart's Banquet Tonight

WORK IS PROGRESSING ON NEW DORM

With August 1, 1960, set as the completion date, work on NNC's new $400,000 dormitory for women is progressing nicely according to L. Wesley Johnson, college business manager.

Mr. Johnson said this week that the college has received a set of plans for decorating and furnishing the new building from Mrs. Kathryn Jane Joseph of Boise who made the plans as a project toward a master's degree in interior decoration at the University of California at Los Angeles.

During the developing of her project Mrs. Joseph met for a number of sessions with a campus committee composed of Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Ruth Long, Dr. Thelma Culver, Mrs. L. W. Johnson, Mrs. John Riley and Mrs. Harold Volk.

"Mrs. Joseph received an 'A' on her project and then very graciously turned the plans over to us for our use," said Mr. Johnson. "Her research has saved us hours and hours of work and we do appreciate her interest and generosity."

According to Mr. Johnson the new dormitory will be a "beautiful, modern building with more facilities than are found in the average residence hall."

He said that the building, which will house 120 girls, is divided into three units. Each unit, which accommodates 40 girls, will have its own private parlor and kitchenette in addition to a large parlor and recreation room for the entire group.

Plans are now in the offing to furnish each room with draperies and bedspreads which will blend with the furniture and architecture of the building. Six different colors and designs will be used in this.

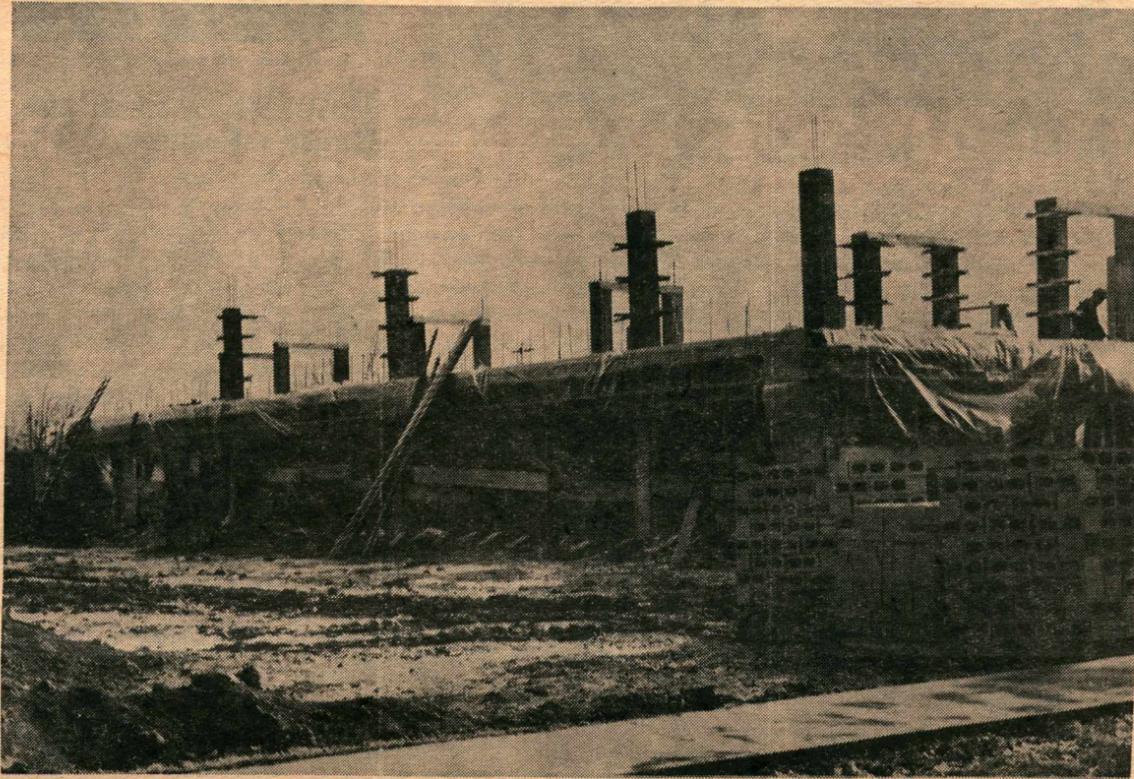

Miss Helen Wilson, dean of women, says that already she is receiving letters of application from new and former students who want to reserve rooms in the new dormitory for next year.

Dean Culver Attends Meet

Dr. Thelma B. Culver, dean of the college and head of the education department, left this week for Chicago where she has been asked to serve as a recorder at the annual meeting of the American Association of Colleges of Teacher Education.

Invitation to participate in the national conclave came in a letter to Dr. Culver from Dr. Wendell W. Wright, president of the association and dean of the school of education at the University of Indiana.

Dean Culver and Dean Wright served together on a panel discussion of teacher education standards at the AACTE summer meeting in Laramie, Wyo. several years ago.

With the arrival of spring-like weather, work has started once more on the new girls' dormitory. Date of completion has been set as August 1, 1960.

WORKSHOP HELD BY OFFICERS

Tuesday, January 26, various student officers met for an officer's workshop sponsored by the Student Council.

This group included the presidents of the societies, the dorms, AWS and Mens Club, religious groups, classes, and members of the Student Council.

Purpose of this meeting was to discuss plans for second semester and to analyze the basic reasons behind the seeming low morale on campus this year.

ASB president, Al Jones, led the group in an opening period of devotion and then the group divided into 4 small groups to discuss different aspects of campus life — societies, classes, religious life, and dorm life.

Al declares that "It is not more activity that we need; it's making what activity we now have better." He adds that unless the spiritual life on campus is up to par nothing else will be either. Al states that we need more spirit as individuals throughout our student body in order to revitalize campus life at NNC.

Management House Opens for Semester

Home Management House, an integral part of NNC's home economics program, began operations for second semester this week.

Beginning as cook is Marilyn Kaelke with Careta Hammond, hostess, and Carolyn Eby, official housekeeper.

Miss Wanda Rhodes is head resident and house supervisor.

First dinner guests for the new semester will be the Rev. and Mrs. I. F. Younger of Nampa. Mr. Younger is superintendent of the Idaho-Oregon district of the Church of the Nazarene.

Eleven Students With Four Point Averages Head Dean's List For First Semester

Eleven students made straight "A" averages for first semester which puts them at the top of the Dean's List of those achieving academic honors for the semester.

Four-pointers include LeRoy Baker, Dick Etulain, Jerry Hull, Kathy Longanecker and Belle Woodward, seniors; Max Read, Rosemary Kunkel and Lynn Riley, juniors; Donna Rankin, sophomore, and Bruce Cronrath, freshman.

In explaining the listing of honor students Dean Culver pointed out that: "Students carrying a regular academic load who maintain a grade point average of 3.50 to 4.00 earn 'high honors' for the semester or year. Students carrying a regular academic load who maintain a grade point average of 3.00 to 3.50 earn 'honors'."

The list of honors students by classes is as follows:

SENIORS—High Honors: LeRoy Baker, Dick Etulain, Jerry Hull, Kathy Longanecker, Belle Woodward, Leona Barnes, Dale Fleming, George Harper, Bonnie Nealeigh, Cleo Fletcher, Mary Waller, Naomi Crofford, Lorraine Gunderson, Dorothy Mittleider, Sharon Hall, Barbara Fleming, Sandra Coombs, Larry Hull, Alice Graham, Joan Ogburn, Lorna Read and Ernie Thompson.

FRESHMEN—High Honors: Bruce Cronrath, Roberta Knight, Phyllis Fletcher, William Dryer, Richard Machen, Gordon Lindbloom, Martha Calvert, Ethilda Kneeland and David Eckert.

KING AND QUEEN OF HEARTS TO BE CROWNED

The annual Sweetheart's Banquet will be held tonight at 5:45 in the Morrison Hall dining room.

Identity of the King and Queen of Hearts will be revealed at the beginning of the evening. Al Jones will crown the King and Queen who will reign over the festivities of the evening with their court.

Candidates for the King and Queen of Hearts include: seniors, Jan Kellom, Sharon Templeman, Ruth Watkins, Larry Hull, Dan Etulain, and Roger Burkhart; juniors, Myrna Branum, Lynn Riley, Joyce Oldenkamp, Gordon Miller, Rich Williamson, and Ralph Swenson; sophomores, Bonnie Quick, Kathie Santo, Lois Young, Jerry Abrams, Jerry Van Order, and Bob Anderson; freshmen, Myrna Pemberton, Karalee Miller, Carolyn Shepherd, Ron Johnson, Rich Gammil, and Russ Aman.

This year's theme, according to George Harper, is "Sweethearts." Lorna Reed, who is in charge of decorations, reports that the theme will be carried out through the use of sweetheart roses and red and white net. Colors used will be pink, red and white.

Bob Parker will be emceeing the program. Entertainment will include Gina Mattson singing "Sweethearts," and "Hello Young Lovers;" the Melodaires singing "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi;" and Laurie Seaman singing "Some Enchanted Evening," and "Evening Song."

Mr. Flagg, Saga Foods representative, lists the menu as follows: chilled tomato juice with crackers, roast young Idaho tom turkey with sage dressing, cranberry sauce, whipped snowflake potatoes, frozen green peas, homemade rolls, vanilla and cherry ice cream.

Committee chairmen include: tickets, Dave Jennings; clean-up, Gordon Olsen; publicity, Jackie Soderholm and Bonnie Quick.

Following the banquet the film "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be shown in the chapel auditorium.

KROK Schedules New Program

Phil Frisk, station manager for KROK, campus radio outlet, has announced the scheduling of a new program, "Daybreak Devotions."

Tom Paigne, sophomore religion major, conducts the program which is broadcast on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 7:00 to 7:30.

Frisk said that the program is designed to aid all students with their daily devotions. Scripture readings, Gospel hymns, religious poetry, prayer and meditations are featured on the program.

★★ Editorial Comment ★★

LET'S FACE IT!

By GARY CONDON

Let's face it! Our athletic-literary program is almost defunct. To delineate this problem I'd like to tell you of a conversation I had with one of the society athletic directors. This individual told me that in one activity last semester her team was forced to forfeit over two-thirds of their games because of the lack of players. She would go to a dorm to try to "drum up" some participants only to find the girls in bed or busy at other tasks.

This is not the only phase of our society life that is dying. There are many others. Did you see the results of the music contest this fall? I, a mere neophyte in music, placed second in the finals in men's solos. Why? Simply because there were only two entrants in the contest.

Do you call this competition? Do you call these music contests exciting? Do you call the intramural sports "heated rivalry" . . . with both men and women being well represented? Do you call the athletic literary societies "keen competition in which members of the same family or best friends battle for their individual societies"?

I call it a farce with a capital "F", a farce that is dying of malnutrition because of a lack of enthusiasm, ambition and interest.

I am not the only one on campus who holds this belief. There are many other students who feel the same way. Even some teachers would like to see the societies replaced with something new and better.

What is the cause of this lack of interest in our society life?

There are, no doubt, many individual reasons why students aren't cooperating to the fullest extent. One main reason is the emphasis on varsity sports. NNC's basketball team is number one on the hit parade of activities around the school. At one time the intramural program was first. Since varsity sports have taken over, the intramurals have not moved over to give the varsity the edge but still try to push their activities as always.

This, I believe, is the cause for the lack of interest and cooperation. There are other activities that are ahead of our society system but the societies go on full steam. This leads to too many activities for one person. A student has to decide what is important.

This means that the athletic-literary society system is going to have to have a complete redoing or die out completely. What is the use of having something if it doesn't work.

I am not offering a solution to this problem but I am endeavoring to bring it to a head. I am sick of the half-hearted attitudes of society members. It is my opinion that we should overhaul this system to fit with the other activities and interests of our school.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The Crusader believes in freedom of the press and the editorial columns of a newspaper are the place for such freedom to be expressed. Judging from chatter we heard in the newsroom when this item was being set up for publication, we judge that there are some who hold opinions exactly opposite to that of Mr. Condon. Next issue we should like to print an answer to his spirited editorial from someone who disagrees with him.

GLEE CLUB TO TOUR NORTHWEST

Prof. Marvin R. Bloomquist announced this week that the NNC Men's Glee Club will make an eight-day tour of the Northwestern states during the Easter season.

The group will be touring in place of the Crusader Choir which plans to travel to the General Assembly of the Church of the Nazarene to be held in Kansas City, Mo., this summer.

Prof. Bloomquist and glee club officers met recently to set up a tentative schedule of concerts for the tour. On the schedule are churches in the Walla Walla, Yakima, Seattle and Portland areas.

This year's club is composed of 26 singers and their accompanist, Prof. T. C. Leckie.

Officers of the group are Gerald

Van Order, president; Ron Mills, vice president; Dennis Butchart, secretary-treasurer, and Larry Jackson, chaplain.

Prof. Bloomquist is director of the glee club and Gary Condon is assistant director.

BULLETIN BOARD FEATURES MISSIONS

Glenda Anderson, Glenys Haven, and Marjorie Edgar have been given the responsibility for changing the missionary bulletin board in the hall of the Ad Building.

Once a month an attractive display has been put up by these girls. According to Clayton Bonar, society president, "The purpose of the bulletin board is to link the student body with the mission field."

Slides of the project field will be the future of a chapel period in the near future. The exact date of this showing has not yet been set.

Letter to the Editor

The Crusader staff solicits letters to the editor. Each letter must be signed with the author's name. Names may be withheld by request. All letters must be in the hands of the Crusader editor by Monday of the week in which the paper goes to press.

Dear Editor:

There seems to be a concensus on the campus that something should be done about our social life. From what I can see, nothing has been done except talk. Please don't misunderstand me, there have been activities, but when such an event takes place, one observes a row of five or six ladies seated here and there with many rows of men grouped together, and never the twain shall meet.

Well, ladies, this might be the reason. I have heard some of the men say, "There just aren't enough neat women on this campus."

Easy, men! Don't get any superiority complex, for hear this. It has been said also that "the men on his campus just aren't collegiate enough."

Well, here we stand and neither side is doing anything to remedy the situation. Now that we know how both sides feel, let me offer a few suggestions.

To the women: I'm sure the only way you will be brought into this is to in some way catch the attention of one of the male species. To do this you might try to gain some poise, try to smile and be friendly. It is not out of line to start a conversation. Besides, this is leap year so loosen up a bit, and I'm sure it will make a difference. Take a little interest in your appearance and mannerisms and cultivate the beauty that God gave to you.

To the men: Try to be a real gentleman. Develop some forms of intelligent conversation. Talk about controversial things. Treat your date as though she were a lady, and to your surprise she may turn out to be one. Oh! But first of all you must get a date. You at least have the power of choice which is more than the lady can say.

The faculty also could help in this. I think they can help by treating us as men and women. They could call us "Mr. Jones" or "Miss Jones" and should expect us to act like college students.

Getting back to this matter of not enough to do on campus. I should like to hear a loud shout from everyone who has spent at least an hour on any special activity. I doubt very much if this meager shout could be heard 100 yards. I have never yet seen a car that could run on one wheel, and in like manner I have never seen a successful college function that took the efforts of only a few people. The blame should not fall on the social chairman but on each member of the student body.

Where is our spirit at ball games? Its' no wonder our team can't win any more games than they do with no more support than we give them. We act as though we were at a funeral, but the only dead body is our cheering section. Let's have a few pep rallies and more of that live pep band.

The only solution is a social reformation. If we stay as we are we should be ashamed to honk our Model T horn as the rest of the world zooms by in its space ship.

Yours for the betterment of NNC,
 Sharadan E. Lisk

Holiness Convention Begins February 17

Wednesday, February 17, will mark the beginning of this year's Holiness Convention, with Dr. Hugh C. Benner as the featured speaker.

Evening services will be held in College Church; each day at 2:30, afternoon services will be held in the college chapel. At one of these meetings a panel, including Mr. Sanner and Dr. Jorden, will discuss various aspects of practical sanctification and holiness in everyday life. According to pastor Eugene Stowe the convention is being held on campus in order to include more college students in its activities.

Dr. Benner will be speaking in college chapel services Thursday and Friday mornings.

The convention will move to Central Auditorium for the final service Sunday night, February 21. At this time churches throughout the area will rally together for the convention's closing.

Mr. Tippett will be in charge of the music for the convention.

MUSIC CONTEST IS ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Deloris Waller has announced that preliminaries for the intramural music contest will be held on March 7 and 8 with finals slated for March 11.

Music for this semester's contest is to be instrumental.

Anyone who wishes to enter the contest is invited to see his society contest representative or to get in touch with Mrs. Waller at the music hall.

Cupid's Corner

By SHARON TEMPLEMAN

In view of the fact that Cupid's BIG week-end is nearing in the future, he hasn't given much information. Yet the engagements that we do have are none the less important. Many congratulations are sent out to the following couples.

Mr. and Mrs. Claire Howard of Caldwell announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan, to David Emry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Emry of Greenleaf. No definite date has been set for a wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Weekly of Salem, Oregon, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce, to Les Shelton, son of Rev. and Mrs. S. T. Shelton, now residing at Nampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kalbfleisch of Filer, Idaho, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gwen, to Al Nettleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Nettleton, Boise. Mr. Nettleton is teaching in Bliss, Idaho. A June 10th wedding is planned.

REGISTRATION REPORT

By MARILYN SLEMMER

The inevitable manila envelopes, registration schedules, sets of registration cards, class cards and long lines marked the beginning of NNC's 47th spring semester. It hit the campus like a timed bomb, setting off eager anticipation of a season of activity and progress.

Two seniors, three juniors, four sophomores and eleven freshmen are proudly welcomed as either new or returning full time students this semester. New, special or part-time students total 44. Thus, a total of 64 comprise the list of "new" students for II Semester 1959-60.

With the change of semesters, 82 became "former students" as they took what we hope will be a temporary leave.

After a grand tally of all new and "former" students, NNC's records show a gain of four over the same time last year.

And those of us who are just plain "old" join with the new in a promising semester of academic progress and spiritual deepening.

HEARD ABOUT CAMPUS

By PHIL NELSON

Have you checked out a book at the library this semester? If you have, you'd better look at the 'due date' again. Here's the reason.

There are some new workers in the library this semester and last week someone turned the date stamper to an incorrect date. One of the new girls stamped several books with this date. At closing time she realized her error.

Better check that book again! IT HAS COME to the attention of the dining hall management that some students are complaining about their seating for the evening meal. Maybe this hasn't been a problem to you but in case it has we might offer a couple of suggestions given to us by the management.

First, the food is prepared and dished out so that one full table may be served at a time. When there is a vacancy at a table, it means uneven distribution of the food.

Secondly, the waitresses are assigned certain tables for service. If the tables toward one end are filled first, it will be easier for a minimum of waitresses to serve.

So from now on when you enter the dining hall, why not sit toward the end where the majority of people are already seated. Your cooperation in this matter will be appreciated.

If you have any suggestions or ideas for better dining hall service, please see Dan Hudson or Mr. Cushman Flagg.

CHEAP FARE

(ACP) - DAILY LASS-O of Texas Woman's University reports that Brown University researchers asked an IBM computer just how much it would cost a man to live if his diet were determined strictly by scientific considerations.

The computer reported that minimum quantities of needed protein, calcium, iron, phosphorous and five vitamins could be obtained in only four foods at a nominal cost of 21 cents a day.

The four foods listed by the computer included lard, beef liver, orange juice and soybean meal.

There is one slight drawback, however. As of yet, Brown researchers have not found a way to combine these four foods into a palatable meal.

Ministerial Student Uses Talent As Baker To Assist Schooling

Thomas Mullens had a choice to make: to bake bread for a living or preach the Gospel. He felt the call of the Church and came to Nampa to study to be a minister, but he brought with him kitchen knowledge that is proving helpful as he pursues his studies and rears a family.

Mullens, who served in the U. S. Navy for five years and was chief cook aboard a destroyer, came to Nampa to attend school. With him came his wife and son, seven-year-old Thomas, Jr. The Mullens also have another son, 22 months old. They reside at 505 South Powerline Road.

It was in Muncie, Ind., that the call came to the young Naval veteran and he accepted it.

"It looked like Nampa was the place to come to, and it seemed like the leadings of the Lord were directing us here, so we followed after them, and here we are," he said.

TIGHT SCHOOL SCHEDULE

A sophomore at NNC where he someday will receive his degree and the authority to preach the Gospel for the Church of the Nazarene, Mullens doesn't have time to work as a baker because of a rigorous school schedule and its conflict with the life of a baker.

"In baking you work all night and get ready for the following day when the goods are sold. I can't do that and take care of my school work, so I concentrate on my studies."

But his knowledge of baking, butchering and cooking, all learned while serving his country, is not going to waste in Nampa.

Saturday is baking day in the Mullen's home. Mullens puts his studies and Bible to one side and slips on an apron and goes to work. By his side, ready to pass the salt, sugar and anything else that tastes good, is his seven-year-old son, Thomas, Jr.

Bread, doughnuts and other baked goods are the order of the day for the two as they prepare for the week ahead. Mullens insists he loves to do it, and besides, "it saves money."

VARIED TALENTS

The ministerial student does not only bake bread, rolls and pastry. He can go all the way and cook a seven-course dinner—if he has to. And sometimes he takes complete charge of the kitchen when company is coming.

Also, he cooks for himself and sons each evening, as his wife—to assist in helping make ends meet while her husband goes to school—works in a local restaurant from noon until 8 p.m.

A big problem to Mullens since leaving the Navy is cutting down his recipes. He was used to baking for large groups, such as at Bremerton where he was one of 36 cooks taking care of the diets of 10,000 persons.

After his discharge he made a cherry pie for his wife, and reverting back to type as a Navy cook, he slipped slightly in his measurements and ended up with enough pie dough for six pies instead of one. "So my wife collected cans of cherries from our neighbors and I baked them all a pie. It was hard to get the Navy out of my cooking habits."

PRAISED BY CAPTAIN

One time the captain of his ship praised his cookies and asked for a recipe for his wife. Mullens started out by telling him to "use 25 pounds of sugar, 35 pounds of flour," until the truth came home that he wasn't planning a menu for a company of men and the captain wasn't planning on making a batch of cookies that would see him through his entire service career. So Mullens worked out the portions for a single recipe and the captain ended up with the recipe he wanted for a normal batch of cookies.

Mullens long ago set his sight on the ministry. He'll make the grade in due time although it will take a "heap of studying and baking" to do it.

CLUB CAUSERIE

By Crusader Staff Members

If you are interested in panel discussions you will enjoy the next meeting of FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America). Club officers say that you do not have to be a member of the group to attend its monthly meetings.

The afore-mentioned panel discussion will be a feature of the next FBLA meeting which is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 23, in Elmore Hall.

FLBA is a national organization for students enrolled in business subjects. The only college chapter in Idaho, NNC's group is also the largest volunteer (?) club on the campus. Club officials say that a field trip to Boise to visit an insurance and a finance company are on the March agenda. An April banquet and a May picnic are also on the calendar for this busy and enthusiastic organization.

That attractive banner which you see displayed at basketball games was presented to the NNC student body last year by the MEN'S CLUB. In January this group presented a film, "The Legend of Idaho" in chapel.

Gene Oberg is president of Men's Club. Assisting him are Lauren Ellis, vice president, and Hank Savage, secretary-treasurer.

Members of COLLEGIATE MINISTERIAL ASSN. are planning to send a representative to a conference on philosophical and religious problems in Berkeley, Calif. this year. Roger Burkhart and Tom Nees attended the conference last year.

Under the leadership of Ralph Neil, president, CMA members are now working on plans for their annual breakfast.

Roberta Miller, President of the HOME ECONOMICS CLUB at NNC, extends a cordial invitation to all interested coeds to join this club which does not limit its membership to home economics majors.

After hostessing a state-wide conference this fall, this busy club is now planning a St. Valentine's party for Tuesday, Feb. 9. At this time new members will be received into the group.

Mrs. Donna Fuson, College Church secretary, was guest speaker for a recent meeting of NINE-TO-FIVE CLUB. This group is composed of all campus secretaries.

Many girls have sweethearts but only NNC women have heart-sisters. Heart-sister week will be sponsored again this year by AWS—Associated Women Students of NNC. The week will culminate in the annual Heart-Sister Party. President Joan Ogburn and her council will announce full details of this special week later.

No sooner did Dave Friesen, busy president of SNEA (Students National Education Assn. to you) arrive home from representing Ida-

Students Use New Reading Methods

There could be a number of reasons why Johnny can't read—and teacher education students at NNC are being trained to recognize and remedy these situations.

Included in the curriculum for this semester are three special reading classes where already some 50 college students and a half-dozen Nampa children are at work improving reading abilities and instruction.

Supervising the new program is Marian Marsh, former Nampa public school teacher who joined the NNC faculty this year after having obtained both her M.A. and Ed. S. degrees at Colorado State College in Greeley.

While at the Colorado school, Miss Marsh studied the teaching of reading from readiness to the adult level. In addition to taking some seven different graduate courses in teaching reading, she also worked in the college's reading clinic with Dr. Marion Jennings, a former associate of Dr. David Durrell, nationally known reading authority.

When Miss Marsh returned to Nampa, she and Dr. Thelma Culver, head of the department of education, sat down to figure out a reading program designed to meet the needs of both students and teachers.

The program as it emerged includes three classes. The first of these, Improvement of Reading for College Students, offers no credit but is designed to aid college students in their reading.

As one of the 20 students now enrolled for the class puts it, "I expect to be reading all the rest of my life so I want to learn to do it as efficiently as possible."

Three credits may be earned in the second course which is Remedial Reading: Theory and Practice. Purpose of the course is to help them diagnose and treat specific how to locate and remove the cause of reading failure and to help them diagnose and treat specific reading deficiencies in classroom and clinic.

Remedial Reading Laboratory, the third course, is just what the name implies—a laboratory course where teacher education students gain practical experience in remedial reading instruction by helping children who have reading deficiencies.

In this class students work with children from Nampa whose parents are seeking extra help for them in reading. Miss March emphasizes that children are accepted upon recommendation and consent of their teachers.

Materials of instruction for the reading courses include four reading laboratories, each containing carefully graded reading materials and designed to isolate and develop particular reading skills.

Materials cover a range from primary grades through college and include eye span trainers and pacing devices for improving speed of reading.

Basic in the philosophy of the new reading program is Miss Marsh's conviction that successful readers are not born—they are made. As she puts it: "The ability to read is not an 'either-or' proposition. There is room for improvement for everyone."

"I'M ONLY A JUNIOR—HEY, YOU WITH TH' BOOKS—! WHERE'S TH' LIBERRY?"

Use your head. It's the little things that count. Be reasonable . . . do things my way.

FIRST SEMESTER SOCIETY ALL-STARS CHOSEN; LSP's ARE FAVORED TO WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

The votes for the first semester all-star team have been cast and counted and here are the results:
 Guard - Orville Swanson - SLA
 Guard - Ernie Thompson - ADP
 Forward - Jerry Hull - LSP
 Forward - Bob Anderson - SLA
 Center - George Harper - SPA

LSP's FAVORED

The LSP's are favored to win the second semester basketball championship after running away from everyone first semester and copping a 5-0 record. Lots of height and ability marks their team. Their lineup is as follows: 6-4 Bob Jack, 6-0 Art Zellmer, 6-0 Jerry Hull, 6-0 Perry Winkle, 6-0 Dan Etulain, and 5-11 Swede Lisk.

The scrappy ADP's reached in the rate and pulled out a tie for second place during the first semester competition. They boast a fairly good team but don't have much depth. 6-1 Ernie Thompson will probably be their mainstay with Bill Parsons and Jerry Van Order. Record 3-2.

The OLY's surprised everyone

by sharing second place honors with the ADP's. What the OLY's didn't have in ability they made up for in spirit and drive. Although losing fireball Cec Shepard they will be in there fighting for first place. Team members—Ron Johnson, Leroy James, Marvin Daniels, John Wright, and Joey Boles. Record 3-2.

Putting on a rather dismal showing the SLA's managed a tie for 3rd place with the Athenians. Although having a well balanced team they just couldn't come through in the clinch. They lost three games by an average of 3 points per game. If these boys can get together the LSP's had better be prepared to relinquish their title. Team members—6-3 John Reed, 6-2 Don Sauer, 6-0 Marty Sharp, 6-0 Bob Anderson, Gil Craker, Dick Etulain, Orville Swanson, Rich Cutshall, and A. E. Neuman. Record 2-3.

If you hear someone say, "They may be small in stature but in drive and fire they look down on everyone else," you can bet they're talking about the Athenians. With such players as Jack Wright, Bob Longanecker, and Bob Parker they managed an upset over the 2nd place ADP's and gave other teams the shakes. They'll be in there fighting and no matter what the outcome will be able to say they did their best. Record 2-3.

The team known as the squad that liked to play basketball with only four men was the Spartans. George Harper, Spartan ace, had this to say, "Well, at least we're consistent." Record 0-5.

ALL-STARS TO PLAY

Rumor has it that the bookies refuse to put odds on the game of the year. The game we're speaking of, yes, you guessed, the Intramural All-Stars are playing the NNC Junior Varsity in a preliminary game to the Varsity Westminster contest. When—Feb. 20. Time—6.30. Yes, if you want to see a game full of thrills, great shooting, but mostly laughs, you won't want to miss this spectacle. The All-Star roster goes like this: SPA - George Harper; ADP - Ernie Thompson, OLY - Doug Lyle; SLA's - Orville Swanson, Bob Anderson, Marty Sharp; LSP's - Jerry Hull, Perry Winkle, Art Zellmer, Bob Jack.

WHY MEN CLIMB

(ACP) - Dentistry student Cleveland McCarty of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., goes from the depths of human mouths to mountain peaks. He recently finished climbing alone 54 of Colorado's peaks, all over 14,000 feet, in 53 days.

Why do men climb mountains? McCarty gave WU's STUDENT LIFE his answer. "It's a childhood hangover." The trees and jungles of his youth were molehills that turned into mountains.

Moscow radio reported Sergi Lopatin, a 20-year old competing in the Moscow youth weight-lifting contest, beat the existing world light-weight record by lifting a total of 875.3 pounds.

BULLDOGS DUMP CRUSADERS IN WEEK-END SERIES AWAY

By RUSSELL AMAN

The Western Montana College Bulldogs, paced by a well-balanced scoring attack, picked up victories number 15 and 16, with a pair of week-end wins over NNC's Crusaders. The shorter Montanans rolled to an impressive 82-53 win Friday, but were forced to come from behind to win Saturday, 72-61.

In the Friday encounter, the Bulldogs jumped to a 17-4 lead after four minutes, and were never in serious trouble after that. The Crusaders narrowed the margin to 38-28 at halftime, but were routed in the closing minutes of the second half.

Individual scoring honors went to NNC's Ray Burwick, who tallied 17 points, five Bulldogs hit the double figures to tip the balance in their favor.

Western Montana outshot the visiting Crusaders, connecting 38 per cent of their field goal attempts, while NNC was shooting a cold 28 per cent from the floor.

In Saturday night's fray, the Crusaders grabbed an early lead and held it until the final six minutes; the homestanding Bulldogs then turned on the steam to win going away. NNC held a 35-24 halftime lead.

George Nelson led all scorers, with 25 points, and paced the second half onslaught by Western Montana. After being held to four points in the first half, Nelson scorched the net with 21 additional points in the final stanza. Al Freeman and Ray Burwick led Crusader scoring with 13 and 12 points respectively.

Once again, Western Montana displayed superior shooting, connecting on 41 per cent of their attempts, while NNC hit a mediocre 32 per cent.

The two victories put Western Montana's record at 16-4, while NNC's mark now stands at 9-12.

The Crusaders will swing into action again the 5th and 6th of February, against Westminster College in Salt Lake City.
