New Faculty Additions Named for Next Year

Civic Music Series to Feature Noted Harpist in March 28 Concert

Mildred Dilling, world-famous harpist, will be presented in concert in the NNC chapel auditorium next Monday, March 28, at 8:15 p.m.

The concert is the second in this year's series sponsored by the Nampa Civic Music Assn. Lewis E. Roberts is president of the group.

According to advance press notices, Miss Dilling "set out to prove that the harp is as exciting a solo concert instrument as the piano or the violin, and she has achieved her objective with outstanding success."

According to Roberts, Miss Dilling is booked for annual recital tours of the U.S., Canada and Europe and makes solo appearances with leading symphony orchestras.

Her success has prompted one writer to observe that "she has moved the harp from the fringes of the orchestra to the center of the concert stage."

An artist of many and varied distinctions, Miss Dilling is reputed to have the world's finest private collection of harps.

She is the author of two best-selling volumes for harpists, "Old Tunes for New Harpists" and "Thirty Little Classics."

Roberts says that Miss Dilling has given seven invitation concerts in the White House and is the teacher of Harpo Marx.

Sermon Contest Set Next Month

Graduating ministerial students are now at work on their entries for the second annual Sanner Sermon Award contest which is scheduled to be held in April.

Inaugurated by the children of Dr. A. E. Sanner as a tribute to his work in the ministry, the award consists of a first prize of $50. and a second prize of $25.

Presentation of the cash awards and public recognition of the winners will be made during the last chapel service on commencement day. Winners may be announced as soon as a decision is reached, however.

Purpose of the contest is to encourage students to show in their preaching "evidence of both Biblical exegesis and theological insight." According to Prof. Elwood Sanner the contestants also are encouraged to give evidence of their cultural and intellectual development in the field of liberal arts including such disciplines as history, literature, philosophy, science and particularly the communication.

PHYSICIST TO VISIT NNC CAMPUS AND C OF I MARCH 28, 29 AND 30

Clarence J. Overbeck, professor of physics at Northwestern University and an authority on physics education, will make a joint visit to NNC and the College of Idaho on Monday through Wednesday, March 28-30.

Prof. Overbeck is Past President of the American Assn. of Physics Teachers and author of numerous books on physics teaching. He will visit under the auspices of the A.A.P.T. and the American Institute of Physics as part of a broad, nationwide program to stimulate interest in physics.

Professor Overbeck will give lectures, hold informal meetings with students and assist faculty members with curriculum and research problems. He will speak in chapel on Tuesday, March 29.

A native of Holland, Indiana, Professor Overbeck studied physics at Indiana University and the University of Michigan. He served as an assistant in physics at Indiana, professor of physics at LaSalle-Peru Junior College and has been on the Northwestern University faculty since 1927.

During the summer of 1948 he was visiting professor at Stanford University.

In 1954 he received the A.A.P.T. Citation for Distinguished Service. He wrote a series of articles for the British Institute of Physics from 1942-1951 and is the author of several books used in college physics programs.

His field of research includes sputtering of metals, supersonics, audible sound and design of laboratory equipment.

Luncheon Planned For Personnel

Prof. James A. Feltar, director of student teaching and teacher placement, has announced that a luncheon is being planned for public school personnel on Thursday, April 7, at 12:15 p.m. in Morrison Dining Hall.

At this time the Committee on Education will entertain some 57 cadet teaching supervisors and 12 school administrators including Harry C. Mills, superintendent of Nampa schools.

Mr. Feltar reports that already some eight or 10 NNC seniors have signed contracts for teaching positions for next year. He said that administrators from LaPuente, Calif., Portland, Ore., Coos Bay, Ore. and Boise who visited the campus recently have said that they will hire all the NNC education students who will sign contracts.

Mr. Feltar also said that he recently sent a questionnaire to students who were graduated in teacher education last year. To date he has had 20 replies and 18 of these state that they are remaining in their present positions for another year. The average increase in salary will be $250. for the coming year.

DR. RILEY TO DISCUSS NEW CURRICULUM

Dr. Thelma Culver, dean of the college, has announced that President Riley will discuss the reorganization of curriculum and new time schedule for next year during the faculty chapel hour on Monday, March 28.

Faculty members and students are urged to be present for this discussion.

NNC's Board of Regents approved the new plan which was submitted by the administration at the regular spring meeting.

"At the President's request an intensive study of Beardsley Rum's 'Memo To A College Trustee' was undertaken by members of the Academic Council this fall," said Dean Culver.

"In my opinion 1960-61 will see the strongest faculty and best-planned program of studies in my experience at NNC."

Phi Delta Lambda Presents Banner To College

Members of Phi Delta Lambda, national scholastic honor society of the colleges of the Church of the Nazarene, have received approval from the Board of Regents to present a custom-made banner to NNC.

According to Wanda McMichael, secretary, the banner will be made of heavy white satin with gold tassels and fringe and will bear a coat of arms based on the school seal. The coat of arms will be embroidered in full color.

Accompanying the banner will be an eight-foot pole and standard.

Dr. Riley announced this week that Miss Marilyn Starr of Detroit, Mich. has been appointed to the faculty in the fields of physical education and English.

Miss Starr will take over the work of Miss Wanda Rhodes who plans to spend the next several years in doctoral studies in the fields of physical education. She will also teach two classes in English composition.

An alumna of Olivet Nazarene College where she was graduated with scholastic honors, Miss Starr recently returned to this country from Germany where she served as an exchange teacher. As the present time she is serving as a physical education supervisor for the Detroit public school system.

Miss Starr will complete her master's degree this summer at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Board of Regents Approves Six
Six other new faculty members were appointed to posts at NNC during the recent meeting of the Board of Regents.

Dr. Joseph Mayfield of Pasadena was named Assistant to the President and Director of Campus Life. Later the board acceded to a request from the Pasadena College Board of Regents that Dr. Mayfield be allowed to break his contract and continue as acting head of that institution.

Dr. Mayfield has been dean of students at Pasadena College for a number of years.

Tracy to Teach Chemistry
Appointed to serve as head of the department of chemistry at NNC is Joseph W. Tracy who received his B.S. degree in chemistry from the University of Washington in 1951. He earned his master's degree in 1954 and will obtain his Ph.D. in chemistry at Washington this spring.

A former NNC student, Tracy spent 33 months of service in the armored infantry including five campaigns in Europe. He is a member of the Christian War Veterans of America and is treasurer of the NFMS at First Church of the Nazarene in Seattle where he and his family are active members.

Tracy spent four years as a research engineer for Boeing Airplane Co. in Seattle and has been a teaching assistant at the University of Washington in the college of pharmacy and in the department of chemistry.

A senior grade member of the American Chemical Society, he presented a paper at the Northwest regional meeting of that group last June. His research interests include equilibria, crystallography and other areas of chemistry.

Seamans to Head English Dept.

Heading the department of English will be Arthur F. Seamans who was graduated from Eastern Nazarene College in 1952 and is now a doctoral candidate at the University of Maryland. He obtained his M.A. in English from Boston University in 1953.

Active on the staff of the newspaper and yearbook in his undergraduate days, Seamans is now an instructor in English at Columbia Preparatory School in Washington, D. C.

The new department head is a bachelor.

New Speech Head

Heading NNC's department of speech will be Earl R. Owens who is now pursuing doctoral studies at Stanford University where he received his master's degree in speech in 1956.

Owens was graduated from the University of California where he participated in varsity debate and dramatics and was elected to membership in Scabbard and Blade and Kappa Delta Pi.

A member of the American Speech and Hearing Assn., Owens has served as a speech therapist in the Santa Barbara, Calif. public schools and has taught speech at the University of California, Santa Barbara branch. Mr. and Mrs. Owens have two small children.

Students' Father Joins Faculty
No stranger to the campus is Bernard E. Seaman, NNC alumnus and father of Lauren and Roberta Seaman who are now students at the college.

After earning both the A.B. and Th.M. degrees at NNC, Seaman went to Nazarene Theological Seminary where he obtained his B.D. He received his M.Ed. at the University of Alberta, Canada where

WHY COMPREHENSIVES?

BY ELTON TRUEBLOOD

It is not good enough in a college which strives to demonstrate excellence to arrange for course examinations and no more. The crucial mistake of that policy is to make the students feel that, having passed a course, they are forthwith free to forget it. The course has been "done" and checked off in the mood of the tourist who "does" Milton's cottage or Stoke Poges. The only known alternative to such fragmentation of learning is the employment of comprehensive examinations toward the end of the student's college career. . . .

The truly comprehensive examination has many advantages, the chief of which is the way in which the thoughtful student is likely to use his preparation for it to try to see his college education in its wholeness. Around him are his many notebooks, the papers which he has written on many subjects, and a vast accumulation of scattered ideas put down from time to time. Now his task is to pull these together and to get ready, by that means, to face mature questioning. Just as the beginning student may learn more in the week immediately prior to the course examination than in all the earlier part of the term, so likewise the advanced student, almost ready for his bachelor's degree, may learn more in getting ready for his comprehensive examination than in any other part of his college life. . . .

Unless we have comprehensive examinations and unless we take them seriously, there is really no solution of the problem presented by the person who has been clever in accumulating credits, but has no real grasp of learning. . . . The general adoption of such a plan (of comprehensive examinations) would do much to redeem American higher education in the eyes of the world, for it would insure a certain integrity.

The integrity we seek is not likely to be achieved unless the system of comprehensive examinations includes the use of outside examiners. If the senior's only inquisitors are his own beloved professors, the system is likely to be too easy. It is almost impossible to eliminate favoritism, however great the discipline of the professor concerned. . . . It is not enough that a student merely repeats back to his instructor the instructor's own ideas and pet convictions or interpretations of events. The question is whether the professors can so equip their students that they can make a reasonable showing before scholars who have never seen them before and will probably never see them again.

Only by some such means can a college have an objective check on its own standards. Otherwise the students might be ill-prepared and yet nobody ever recognized that such is the case.

—The above excerpts were taken from Dr. Trueblood's book, "The Idea of A College" pp. 172-174

"Youth for Nixon Clubs" Formed By Students in More Than 125 Colleges

Students in more than 125 colleges have formed "Youth for Nixon" clubs to promote the candidacy of Vice President Nixon for the Presidency. The student groups not only hold mock elections on campus and stage rallies for Nixon, but help in local committees and state-wide Nixon projects.

Formation of such groups is only one indication of wide-spread support for Nixon from high school and college youth. A recent Purdue University opinion research poll reveals that 45% of the nation's teenagers favor Nixon for President. Kennedy scored only 16% in the high school poll; Stevenson, 14%; Johnson, 4%; and Rockefeller, 13%.

That southern youth is for Nixon is shown in a poll of University of Miami students in which 529 out of 1154 questioned favor Nixon; 259 like Kennedy and 193 are for Stevenson. The University of Miami Youth for Nixon Club has a broad program to aid the local Republican organization ferret out so-called "Democrats" on Florida's registration roster, who will actually vote Republican. Eric Raeppe, chairman of the college group, hopes that the plan will be adopted state-wide.

Other southern colleges which have Nixon clubs are: College of the Ozarks, Arkansas; Duke and Univ. of N. Carolina, North Carolina; Vanderbilt and East Tennessee, Tennessee; Tulane and Newcomb, Louisiana.

Bruce Chapman of Harvard College, former chairman of the now defunct Students for Rockefeller, announced his support for Nixon in a newsletter to collegiate Rockefeller supporters. Bruce will now help swing his group to the Nixon camp.

Other universities which have conducted polls in which Nixon was the favorite are: Univ. of Nebraska, Univ. of Wyoming, Columbia Basin (Washington), Goucher (Baltimore), Williams (Massachusetts), Monmouth (Illinois), and Washington State University.

GALA WELCOME ACCORDED BEAN

BY GARY CONDON

The heartbeat of NNC was revived last Monday night with the re-opening of the "Bean." Students responded very well to the operation and hopes are for a speedy recovery of campus life. Physician Flagg successfully set the pulse to a high fervor by transfusing free cokes into the life line and then injected free ice cream in the form of "all you can eat" for good measure.

Students filled the "Bean" to capacity. Laughter, singing by the freshmen girls' quartet and the freshmen trio, and food were on the menu for the big opening. The "Bean" has been improved in anticipation of bigger and better business. Mr. Flagg has placed new waitresses on duty, hard ice cream is now available, and music from a Wurlitzer stereo has been imported.

Many thanks go to Mr. Flagg for his enthusiasm and cooperation on making the "Bean" available. He states that there are "many things in store for the remainder of the school year." The cooperation of the students was requested by Mr. Flagg in helping the waitresses by self-service. In turn, Flagg said that he would do his best to "please the customers."

CLUB CAUSERIE

BY CONNIE

Members of the NNC Radio Club sometimes wonder if the rest of the campus knows they're here. Radio fans who don't belong to the club are invited to join.

Most recent activity was the construction of a new antenna. Working on the project were Bob Marks, Rich Williamson, Dave Jennings and Dr. Ford and Prof. Vail.

Marshall Science Club members have slated their spring field trip for May 6-7. They plan to go to Hell's Canyon. The group is also working on plans for publication of their annual newsletter.

Annual banquet night for Circle K will be April 29 according to Sharedan "Swede" Lisk who is in charge. Applications are now being accepted for four openings in the club membership.

Laurie Seaman is head of a committee planning Circle K's chapel which is to be held March 30.

Nine-to-Five met recently at the Home Management House to hear Shirley Clark, secretary to the president of Idaho State Power Co. in Boise, discuss her work and the program of the National Secretaries' Assn.

Group members are now making plans for the annual Boss-Secretary luncheon which will be held in April.

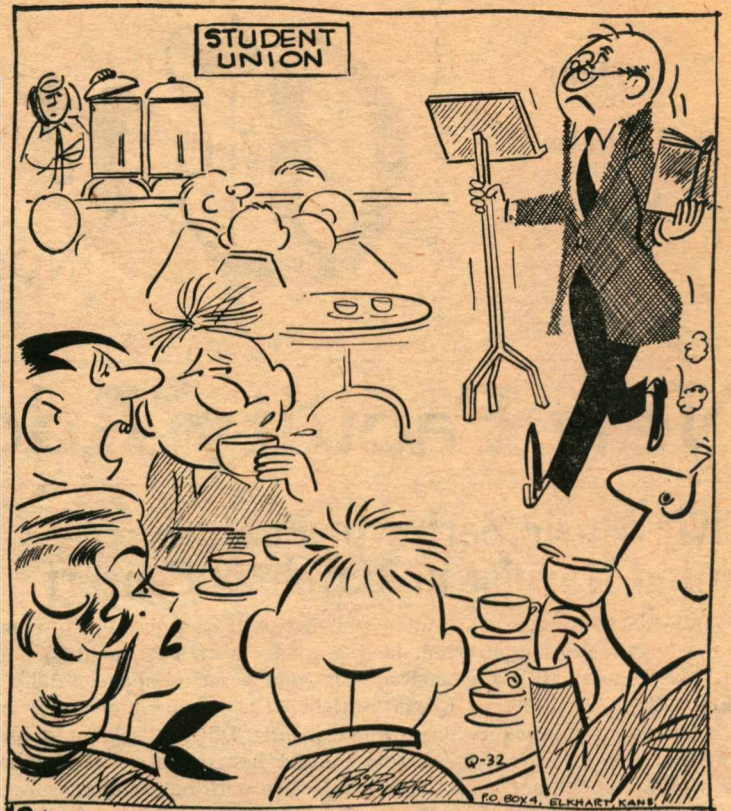

Home Economics Club members announce that their cookbooks will soon be out and ready for sale. Rosalie Rose is receiving plaudits for the book's cover design which relates to the space age with an emphasis on putting meals and recipes into proper orbit.

Marilyn Kaelke, Home Ec club member, appeared on TV recently to demonstrate the versatility of cream puffs. She presented the tasty puffs as appetizers, framework for a main dish, sandwiches for teas and dessert.

SNEA was called to order by Sharon Hall, who presided in the absence of Dave Friesen, president. Mac Webb was elected treasurer to replace Wally Steward, resigned.

The group voted to give two clocks for NNC classrooms. This is a continuation of a project which was begun last year.

STUDENTS ADVISED TO SUBMIT SSCQT APPLICATIONS BY APRIL 7

Applications for the April 28, 1960 administration of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to take this test should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information.

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided to SELECTIVE SERVICE EXAMINING SECTION, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 586, Princeton, New Jersey. Applications for the April 28 test must be postmarked no later than midnight, April 7, 1960.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once. The results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use considering his deferment as a student.

Merit Examinations Announced for April

Announcement has been made by the Personnel Council for the Department of Public Assistance that examinations will be given for the positions of District Child Welfare Consultant, Child Welfare Worker II and I, Case Worker I, Senior Stenographer, Stenographer, Dictating Machine Transcriber, Clerk-Typist and Utility Man. These competitive merit examinations are given for the purpose of establishing registers from which appointments are made to fill vacancies in the Department and may be taken in Coeur d'Alene, Moscow, Lewiston, Boise, Twin Falls, Pocatello and Idaho Falls.

The closing date for applications is April 11th. The application form may be secured from county offices of the Department of Public Assistance; the State Office, Box 1373, Boise, Idaho; and the county offices of Employment Security. Where the requirements call for university or high school graduation, applications will be accepted from those who will graduate at the end of the current semester or quarter.

The Executive Secretary stated that salaries are now comparable to other fields, there are vacancies throughout the state at the present time, and additional openings occur frequently. It is, therefore, an opportune time for interested, qualified persons to take the examinations.

Survey Reveals High Standing of Foreign Students

Registrar's office records reveal that NNC's foreign students take a back seat to no one when it comes to making good grades.

George Bravo, sophomore from Peru, ranked second in the sophomore class. Hiroko Okito, senior from Japan, boasted a cumulative GPA of 3.25, and Kyung Ja Yoo, senior, made a B plus average for the semester.

Students from Her Majesty's neighboring dominion, Canada, also ranked high in scholastic honor for the semester.

First-year student, Jewell Lanterman, ranked in the middle of the freshman class. Carol Falk, another freshman, ranked in the upper third of her class.

Ernest Gusella was rated sixth from the top in the sophomore class, while Laurie Seaman placed in the upper 20% of the junior class. Evelyne Baptiste was in the upper 25% of the junior class, while Roberta Heppell with a 3.00 was in the upper third of the class. Also ranking well were Glenda Heppell and Dave Jennings.

From last year's foreign students has come word that Patricio Rossi of Italy who was granted a fellowship in romance languages at the University of California is doing well in his studies as he pursues studies toward the doctorate in languages.

To err is human—but when you wear out the eraser before the pencil, you're overdoing it.

Do what you are paid to do, and then some. It's the "then some" that counts.

DARRELL MARKS

Meet Mr. Marks

BY THOMAS PAINE

"For me there has never been any real conflict between science and religion. The more I study science, the more wonderful creation becomes to me."

In these words Darrell Marks, newly-appointed head of the mathematics department at NNC, explains his philosophy which has impelled him to reject lucrative offers in industry and devote his life to teaching in a holiness college.

Valedictorian of his graduating class at NNC in 1958, Marks was faced with a number of tempting offers. He decided to accept a fellowship from the Atomic Energy Commission which enabled him to obtain his master's degree in engineering physics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Future plans include graduate study in applied mathematics at either the University of California or Harvard.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Marks are life-long residents of Idaho. Mrs. Marks, the former Neva Lair, attended NNC during her freshman year and continued to take a few classes after her marriage. While her husband was finishing college at NNC, Mrs. Marks worked in the registrar's office.

Third member of the Marks' household is 14-month-old Jay, who is termed a "foreigner" by his father since he was born in Boston while his father was attending M.I.T.

COOPERATION

Cooperation would solve many problems. For instance, freckles would make a nice coat of tan if they'd just get together.

NNC Home Ec Group Tops Participation At State Meet

NNC had the largest representation of any college at the annual district-state convention of home economics clubs which was held in Boise recently.

Nine members of the home economics department including Mrs. Letty Howe and Miss Eula Tombaugh represented NNC at the conclave.

Theme of the meeting was "Communications in Home Economics" and the NNC club was responsible for planning the table motif at the luncheon.

The meeting featured key speakers from the Idaho Agricultural Extension Service and Home Economics Service.

Chapman Hall Initiates New Tradition; Lois Young Reigns as First "Sweetheart"

BY RON MCGILVRA

To Lois Young, comely auburn-haired sophomore from Kansas City, Mo., goes the honor of being Chapman Hall's first "Sweetheart."

Selected by vote of the men of Chapman, Miss Young will reign over all Chapman Hall functions for the coming year.

Identity of this year's sweetheart was revealed at the annual Chapman Hall banquet and Open House which were held on Mar. 12. At the banquet, Roger Burkhart, Chapman president, introduced Miss Young and read a poem in her honor.

Jack Wright was emcee for the banquet which featured Dr. W. D. McGraw, superintendent of the Oregon Pacific District of the Church of the Nazarene, as speaker. Music was furnished by the Harmonaires.

On planning committees for the banquet were Jerry Groenig, Jerry Abrams, Richard Machen, Richard Brooks, Marvin Pemberton and Mike Williams.

Open house was held at the dormitory immediately following the banquet with Miss Young and Mrs. Mac Webb acting as hostesses.

A judging team composed of Mrs. Letty Howe and Mrs. Loyd McMichael awarded room prizes to Phil Frisk and Bob Skegrud, first place; Dennis Butchard, Jerry Jensen and Denis Fredericksen, second place, and Ron Mills and Orval Halley, third place.

by the library are always on duty during the library hours. Each of the student assistants works from 10-12 hours a week plus one girl working in the book binding department.

Since the beginning of the fiscal year—July 1—the library has catalogued over 1,000 new books. These books are obtained upon request of the teachers for reference the following fall. Some of the newest of these are a four-volume set of The Menonite Encyclopedia and a sixvolume set of The History of Idaho; both catalogued and ready for use as reference material.

NOTICE

All club leaders and sponsors are reminded that news releases and other announcements about college activities must be cleared through Miss Wilson's office. The NNC publicity office has a working agreement with local news agencies concerning deadlines and unauthorized persons who innocently offend this policy may cause strained relationships.

NNC Student Supports Self by Preaching

BY GARY CONDON

Most students go to college in order to preach but Les Shelton, 19-year-old sophomore from Sitka, Alaska, preaches in order that he may go to college.

Preaching comes naturally to Les since he is the son of two of the church's most consecrated evangelists. His parents have served on the mission field in Trinidad and have started churches in Alaska and the Yukon Territory.

The Sheltons have toured the U.S. in evangelistic services and have served pastorates in the state of California.

It is little wonder that their son, Les, has caught their spirit of sacrifice and passion for preaching.

When second semester financial problems began pressing in on this future evangelist, he conceived the idea of beginning his full-time ministry while yet in school.

With the help of his parents he developed a letter of introduction which he sent to every church in the five Northwest districts. The letter contained a statement of his qualifications plus information that he was available for week-end meetings within an evening's drive from Nampa.

Within two days he received two calls for meetings—and the calls are still coming.

Accompanying him for most of his meetings are various NNC students including his fiancée, Joyce Weekly, freshman from Salem, Ore. An excellent pianist and beautiful soprano soloist, Joyce makes a real contribution to the meetings.

Les Shelton's calling card carries his picture plus this motto which is his life's theme: "We preach Christ crucified." It is no wonder that God is honoring his efforts with souls.

MUSIC MEMO

BY BERTHA SHEPPARD

"A German Requiem" by Johannes Brahms will be presented by the Symphonic Choral Society and Boise Civic Symphony on Sunday, April 10, in Boise High School Auditorium. David A. Wehr, minister of music at First Methodist Church in Boise, will be conducting.

First place in piano solos went to Gerald Nelson, Athenian. Tied for second were Athenian Shirley Thiessen and Olympian Sharon Satrum. Tying for third place were Naomi Crofford, LSP, and June Venable, SLA. Diane Hebard, ADP, placed fourth.

Athenians all—Gerald Nelson, Larry Vandell, Sharan Perkins, Shirley Thiessen took first place honors in the ensembles division.

June Venable and Phyllis Fletcher captured second place honors for the SLA's and the Oly's and LSP's tied for third place with Sharon Satrum, Dennis Butchart, Naomi Crofford and Mary Lou Kemper figuring as principals. Fourth place went to Donna Rankin and Jerry Abrams, Spartans. Jerry Dirkse, ADP, swept the

A BUCK'S WORTH

BY BOB ANDERSON

If you have been around NNC during the spring season you might have wandered out to see the baseball team play a game. You might have glanced out the dorm window and said, "Oh, the baseball team is playing today," much the same way you might say, "It's 2 o'clock."

Parts of this stagnancy could be attributed to the fact that the baseball games are not published. This shall not be the case this year, even if I have to stand upon my chapel seat and announce the games myself.

Of course, a large spectator crowd is not a main aim of the school, since we have no money problems like the Boise Braves or New York Yankees. But I feel (watching from the bench) that we have a good team this year.

I think we should turn out and give the guys who play with the horse's skins and ash twigs more support at their home ball games and show them we really care whether they win or lose. You might even run into a Yankee scout and get signed to play on the Yankee Batboy Team.

If the baseball team beats C of I two or more games, they will play the champion of the Montana Conference League. If they win that game, they will be entitled to go to the national tournament in Texas. No NNC baseball team has even gone to the national tournament. With a little help from us I believe this could be the year.

Jerry Isaacson (4-2 last season), who ranked nationally in strikeouts per nine innings last year, has improved tremendously and should have a good season. A Yankee scout has asked for our baseball schedule so that he can watch Jerry pitch.

One time last year when Ernie Thompson was making life miserable for EOCE pitchers, a new pitcher was heard to ask the EOCE coach, "How should I pitch to this fellow?" "Just like you would to anyone else," replied the coach, "only don't let go of the ball." Ernie batted a hot .327 last year.

Coach Vail, who directs the baseball team, has the players working out with the track men during calisthenics. This means the team will be in excellent shape, probably the best ever, for the first game.

First scheduled home game - NNC vs. C of I, April 5, at 3:00!

Lettermen Bolster Track Squad

Five lettermen, paced by three-year letterwinners Al Freeman and Jerry Hull bolster the hopes of Coach Orrin Hills' track team as they prepare for their first meet with Boise Junior College April 1.

Freeman competed in the national meet last year in South Dakota, running the high hurdles. Hull competes in the 440 and 880-yard runs.

Other lettermen back are George Harper—high jump and hurdles; Marty Sharp—high jump; John Reed—high jump and 440; and Jim Lenn—880 and mile. Harper is a two-year letterwinner. The rest have earned one each.

Loss of two men will hurt the NNC thinclads. Sprinter Don Constable, and hurdler Don Ogburn graduated last year, leaving a big gap to fill in the point department.

Coach Hills commented, "we should have fair strength in the hurdles, high jump, middle distances and distances. The rest are untried. We may have some good talent, but the cold weather has held us up. General conditioning exercises have constituted the major workout schedule."

Other cindermen include Leroy James, Dave Eckert, Hank Savage, Tony Bohner, Jerry Evans, Wilson Barber, Art Zellmer, Tom Ellis, Ray Millard, Van Lybyer and Dan Edgar.

The NNC schedule: April 1 - BJC Dual; April 9 - NNC Invitational; April 14, BJC Invitational; April 23 - Eastern Oregon; April 30 - BJC.

May 7 - Valley Meet at Caldwell; May 14 - NAIA District at Dillon; June 3-4 - Sioux Falls NAIA.

Last year the Crusaders placed third at the BJC meet, third at Eastern Oregon, second in the Valley Meet, and second in the district.

badminton singles, March 28 and 31; men's badminton singles finals, March 28 and April 1; mixed doubles in ping pong (finals), March 28.

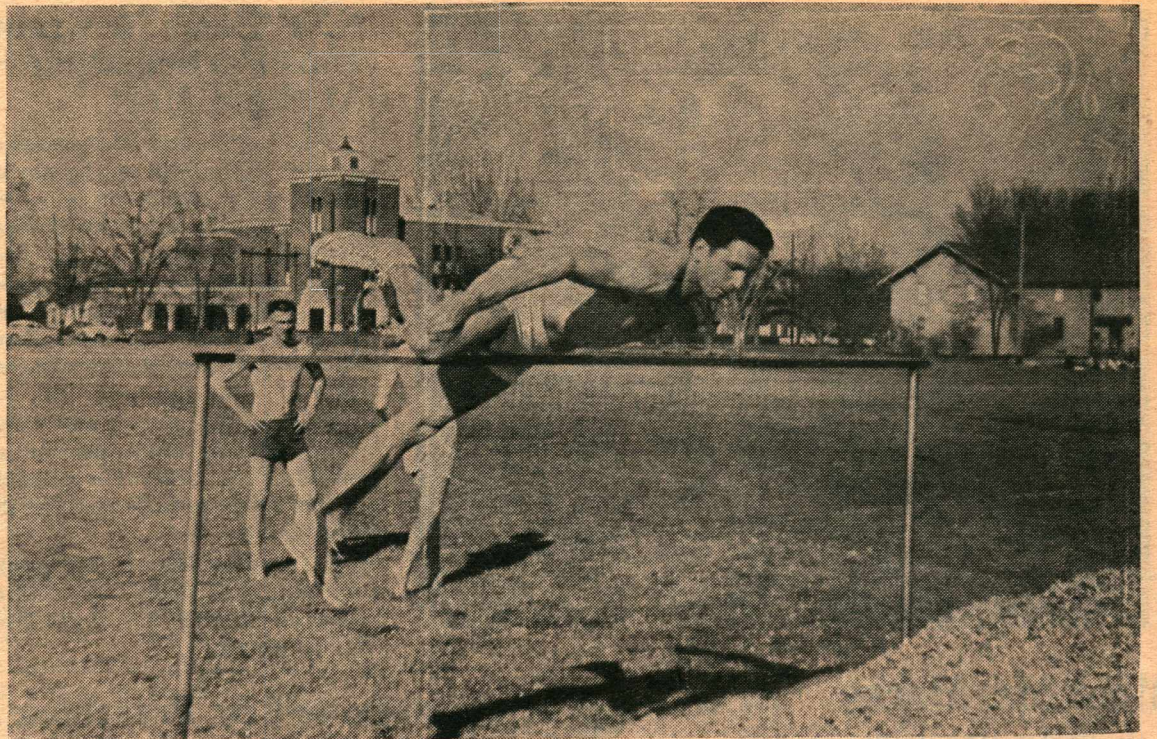

All outcomes must be posted on the bulletin board in the intramural office.
