

Lyndon LaRouche Says: The reasons for the cool weather is the activities of the drug-pusher Queen Elizabeth and her conspiracy with the communist property owners the Catholic... Jerry Falwell.

Rich Hume would like to extend great thanks to the 156 people who voted for him in the last ASNNC election.

THE CRUSADER

"Men are never so likely to settle a question rightly as when they discuss it freely." - Macaulay

Nampa, Idaho.

Student Newspaper of Northwest Nazarene College

May 2, 1986

ASNNC: Changing of the Guard

by Elissa Westbrook

The hotly contested ASNNC election is over and the winners have been announced. The ASNNC Executive Officers for 1986-87 would like you to become involved and know a little bit about them.

PRESIDENT:

In asking Laura Grossi about how she felt about her new office she replied, "I'm just super dooper excited." For anyone who has ever met Laura, this is easy to see. Her deep commitments to Christ and NNC are at once evident in meeting her. She came into the office with no rhetorical speeches or campaign promises she couldn't be sure of keeping, but rather with the hope of making "some changes" and most of all to just "be a person." In following with this idea, one of Laura's main goals for the following year is to serve as a liason between the staff members and the general student body. She wants to support her staff as much as

Laura Grossi

Rob Thompson

our campus and wants each club to become more familiar with the actions and workings of the others. While building up a unity among the various clubs, Errol would like to make the campus and general community more aware of the clubs and their various outreach programs.

Errol pointed out that the first order of duty is to complete any business left by his predecessor, Cherri Choate.

Errol Bolden

to start working.
SECRETARY:

Lynette Remy is already fully committed to her new office of ASNNC Secretary. As she says herself, "The position requires more than pencils, notepads, and a bottle of whiteout." It does require commitment and a desire to do a good job. Lynette will have to keep up with not only her studies, but meet the demands of the student can. She plans to make the most possible out of what could seemingly be a very busy, repetitive job.

Ken Lewis

SOCIAL V.P.:

Ken Lewis (PICTURED ABOVE)

BUS. MANAGER:

Brian Morrow, who is completing his service as this year's Chairman of the Senate Ways and Means committee, is more than qualified to fill the office Darcy Riddle leaves

Brian Morrow

Honesty is definitely important in any office and Brian sees the need for "effective management and a close adherence to the qualities and characteristics that Jesus Christ personified..."

Brian's love for NNC and God have been very apparent in his accomplishments and statements about the future.

The ASNNC government

possible while further developing her own job. She does see the current problems at NNC and would like to play her part in helping to make the necessary changes. All of this ties in with Laura's plan to work as a go-between in teacher/student relations.

EXECUTIVE V.P.:

The face of Rob Thompson is a familiar one on the campus. Whether he is being the Associate Editor of The Crusader or "disguised" as Cher, he emanates a feeling of success. Rob is quite happy about the recent election.

"This is something I've been looking forward to since last year at this time." In running for the same office last year, Rob felt he was fully qualified. He was soon to discover, through working with Warren Kolz that he still had some ground to cover. As he says, "I'm more experienced now than I was then."

Rob mentioned that he has learned quite a bit through some help from Heidi Hagood whom he wishes to thank. "She was the one who put up with me through the first few council meetings, and really was the one who inspired me to be the best Senator I could."

Rob Thompson's attitude is admirable. I had wanted to be Executive V.P. (last year), but I'm glad I'm taking the office now rather than back then, and I'm glad that everything is put in the perspective of God's own time. I look forward to being the best servant I possibly can."

COMM. REL. V.P.:

In summarizing his feelings about the outcome of the recent ASNNC election, Errol Bolden's strongest feeling was one of "relief." He is glad to have come to "the end of the race." His excitement about next year is growing, though.

Errol's biggest plan is to "draw the different clubs and organizations closer together." He sees much diversity among the clubs on

Lynette Remy

of a problem as she kept up with everything. Errol is excited for the future and ready

Lynette wants to serve her officers along with her fellow students in any way she

Like all of the other officers, Brian is intent on dedication and commitment.

citing 86-87 year. Students should meet their officers and let them know their feelings.

Terry Reilly

Community Suffers Tragic Loss

by Michelle I. Wable

"His wife lost a committed husband. His two young sons lost a loving father. Idaho lost an ethical, progressive, public servant. And I and many others lost a close friend," expressed Dr. Steve Shaw of former Democratic state Senator Terry Reilly of Nampa.

Reilly, along with Democratic congressional candidate Pete Busch and his wife, of Caldwell, died in a plane crash Thursday, April 10, about 65 miles from their destination of Idaho Falls. Both Reilly and Busch were on a campaign tour when the plane went down.

As a devout Roman Catholic, Reilly was committed to God and the highest ideals of Christian service. Shaw respectfully claims,

"Terry didn't wear religion on his sleeve by living a life saying 'this is how good I am.' It wasn't through his words that we saw his faith but through his actions."

Reilly was a man dedicated to public service. Aside from being active politically, he helped serve the powerless, the poor and the hungry through his Community Health Clinics. Reilly began these clinics in the early '70s to provide health care to those in need. Today they provide medical care to over 60,000 patients a year.

Perhaps one of the stereotypes that comes to a persons mind when they think of a politician is that the public is top priority, thus the family life suffers in result.

However, as Shaw indicates, Reilly was quite capable in juggling his private life with his public life, keeping the plates from cracking, successfully juggling the demands of life. Shaw adds, "He would always try to involve his family in his political campaigning."

Reilly had close contact with NNC, both politically and individually. One of his desires for NNC was that the college be more public with the community, a more outspoken institution. He felt NNC should go out to the community and bring the community to NNC.

"For Terry, public service was truly an honorable profession. Both in his work and in his life he surely found his life in losing it in service to others," commented Shaw.

"My prayer is that we may act on our Christian principles as did Terry and find our lives by serving others."

The Crusadeer wishes to extend its sincere sympathy not only to Mrs. Reilly and her sons, Gabriel and Aaron, but to the entire community as well.

What would you say Mr. Trolley?

by Cherri Choate

Some of you may have noticed a new vehicle on the roads in the local area. This vehicle is called the Nampa-Caldwell Trolley and it is a great new means of transportation for all of us. In an effort to create a type of transit system in the community the trolley has started a route which includes stops on the campus and a wide variety of other places.

The trolley is an answer to many transportation problems that plague students. For those who do not have a car this provides a way for you to get around to local areas such as downtown Nampa, Fred Meyer, and Karcher Mall without needing to rely on someone to take them. The trolley is also a unique way to have fun with friends during the upcoming spring days.

Not only is the trolley an available means of transportation but it is also very cost effective. (In other words it is cheap!) In fact there are 150 free passes for the first fifty people who ask for them at the Student Affairs office.

The trolley schedule will be posted at various spots on campus including the Student Center. A permanent schedule will be posted on the window of office 211 upstairs in the Student Center. The stop on our campus is on Holly and Amity -- in Kurtz Park across from Morrison Hall and the Religion Building. The trolley stops there at 11:05, 1:05 and 3:05 and it runs Mondays through Saturday 10:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

As a school we are always striving to better our relations with the area in which we live. The community has reached out and asked us to become a more effective body so let's use the trolley wisely. Our participation will indicate our appreciation.

The Caldwell-Nampa Trolley is a great opportunity for our campus and it may grow to be one of the greatest assets of this community. We are privileged to have been included in the trolley route.

INSIDE:

Page 2: Editors react to Libya.

Page 4: Global News; Libya, Soviet melt-down, Reagan-Gorbachev summit, South Africa.

Terrorism: Part of the cost bombing of Libya by in retaliation for attacks against this and its allies has a serious question: Was it right?

Reagan Administration has threatened against terrorism for six years. It was in three years in for terrorist acts by Libya (or its allies), it was to show and nations who that terrorism has a "cost," and it was that this demon-"cost" will prevent terrorist actions. For President ordered nearly 100 into a raid against specific targets in ults have been a Libyans dead, 2 servicemen dead, more people dead in terrorist attacks. The Administration may this attack a success. This writer the attack an affront of the moral and bankruptcy of Reagan and his ad-

ly, America was the raid, that is with in the cases of Great Britain, and raid was the action cowardice. Libya, volatile dictator, from most Arab and reluctantly by the Soviet was the target. Good to lose nothing

ive firepower was blasting away at more importantly, er, frustration, and catharsis was with the blood of in-nyans who have no control over their than they do the ons of Syria, Iran, viet Union are all of terrorism, and ere not struck. So, picked--the least the most isolated, st able to retaliate. it should not take ke the President too long to realize that most of Middle Eastern terrorism stems from the Arab-Israeli conflict. Any world leader whose memory can extend longer than two weeks should realize that much of the terrorism flows from the unsettled issue of the Palestinians. Terrorism will not be bombed away but can only end when the refugee camps of Syria, Jordan, and Lebanon are emptied because Palestinians are given a homeland. A politically cowardice president will continue to bomb and forget this obvious dilemma.

Americans often mourn their terrorist dead, but how often are tears shed for two generations of Palestinians who live in conditions worse than American ghettos? How often do Americans cry for those who have lived and then died at the hands of the Christians, Moslems, Syrians, and Israelites in Lebanon?

Many believe that America has exhausted political avenues to end terrorism but what of a political solution to the problems of the Palestines? If the Reagan Administration is really interested in finding an end to terrorism, then it would make solving the Palestinian issue a top priority.

The American bombing of Libya further exposes the moral bankruptcy of the Reagan Administration. The bombing suggests two things to the world: (1) America will take revenge, and (2) America will fight terrorism with terror.

With the bombing of Libya the U.S. has demonstrated that it will seek revenge. For months the administration has used the rhetoric of war. For months Americans have heard this tough rhetoric and continued to see the death toll rise. It appears that Reagan was just waiting for the frustration to reach a fever pitch and then strike.

The attack was extrajudicial. The U.S. went beyond treating terrorists as criminals--it abandoned evidence, trial, and conviction, and went straight for execution. A nation that ex-pouses the value of order and the rule of law has carried out an act of vengeful vigilantism.

Secondly, the attack is the first overt use of terror by the U.S. The Israelis have long held a policy of air-raids against terrorist bases. And this policy has led to increased acts of terror. Just as the Israeli jets imprint terror onto the lives of Palestinians and Lebanese, so too the American bombers over Tripoli have left their mark of terror on the lives of Libyans. While the corollation is not completely accurate, we have left the moral high ground in the fight against terrorism. The U.S. bombing has blurred the line between the actions of law-abiding democratic radical authoritarian states.

The Reagan Administration's decision to bomb Libya made a clear statement. The U.S. no longer will depend upon diplomacy; the U.S. will take revenge, and the U.S. will use terror. The implications of this new statement should cause the Christian some problems.

Here at NNC people may feel exhilaration or pride at the bombing, but this is wrong. Christians should not support a policy of revenge. Revenge has no place in the heart of one who loves their neighbors. Christians should not delight at the deaths of anyone. There are real people in Libya suffering great pain over the deaths of loved ones due to the U.S. bombing. Christians should feel compassion, even for the terrorist dead.

The truth should also be faced that to some extent the blood of Libyans is on our hands. The people of the U.S. are responsible for this administration and Christians who support a policy of counter-terror, revenge, and the death of innocents, have much to reconcile to the peace, forgiveness, and tolerance by Jesus Christ.

America is at its best when it stands against evil without being evil. Diplomacy to end the Palestinian problem, seeking a more active prosecution of terrorists, and shifting greater responsibility to our allies would be a more civilized way to deal with the uncivilized behavior of terrorists. The U.S. must not become like terrorists in our efforts to end terrorism.

The hard cold truth may be very bleak. A nation with 6 percent of the population that uses 40 percent of the world's resources, and has the world's most powerful military, is going to have to pay a price. The U.S. cannot expect to have so much while the rest of the world has so little and avoid being resented. There is a price to pay for wealth and power. Terrorism may be part of the cost.

Khadaffi: Paying the price

by Robert J. Thompson

The crisis in Libya is indeed reason for grave concern in our country today. The events of several weeks ago, which were coined surgical strike retaliatory measures by the White House, were indeed warranted, and are in fact justified.

Simply because the law allows one to do something, doesn't mean that is necessarily what should be done. And just because someone has the right to do something doesn't mean he or she will be happy in doing it. This explains the peculiar situation the United States finds itself in today.

Terrorism, even if it is state-sponsored terrorism, cannot be avoided through a process of diplomatic negotiation. The acts that terrorists perform throughout the world are criminal, nothing more than criminal acts. If Middle East terrorists were Americans, and the acts they perform happened here, they would be called kidnapers, murderers, rapists, saboteurs, and a host of other names, all of which would be true.

In our country, criminals are tracked, tried, convicted, and punished for their crimes. But how do we react when crimes occur against us in a land where there is no law? Perhaps it would be wise of our people not to go to a land where the government itself is criminal. But the point is that Americans continue to travel to many Middle Eastern countries like Lebanon, for instance, wherein the central government doesn't even control the capital city. Government is created by civilized people to protect them from themselves and from each other. That is the main reason why the U.S. made the strike on Libya.

No one in Washington ever really believed that Reagan's strike would end terrorism. No one in Washington ever thought that the strike would shut Khadaffi's mouth, but virtually everyone in Washington, and the polls say almost everyone in America, realizes that the strike was a first in a series of events aimed at showing the world that the United States is serious about bringing an end to terrorism, one way or another.

The Administration has been criticized by some who highlight the deaths of civilians in Libya. Of course, any American has to be upset and truly mourn when he or she ponders the deaths of dozens of poor Libyans, and of Khadaffi's infant daughter. Those were terrible and needless deaths and everyone in the world should be saddened and sobered by their reality. However true our remorse may be, we must face the reality that if Col. Khadaffi hadn't sponsored terrorist acts around the world, this kind of thing would never have happened.

If one agrees that the main function of government is to protect its people, then one must agree that the actions of Ronald Reagan were aimed at protecting his people. If one agrees with that premise, then he or she must also agree that Khadaffi not only failed to protect his own people, but in fact endangered them by his rhetoric and his quite-well documented actions.

Now that I've looked at the F-111 raid on Tripoli and other locations in Libya, I'd like to explore the events of two weeks before that when forces of the U.S. Navy crossed Khadaffi's "Line of Death" in the Gulf of Sidra.

The Gulf of Sidra incident was not in any way a provocation of Libya by the United States, but was in fact very much the opposite. Historically the U.S. Navy has performed exercises in the Gulf of Sidra. Most of the water surface of the gulf lies within international waters. Only a 12-mile-wide perimeter of the gulf can legally be laid claim to by Libya. The Navy forces were well outside the contiguous zone of Libyan waters, and Col. Khadaffi's imaginary "Line of Death" was a good deal outside his jurisdiction. Khadaffi's claim to the en-claim. The fact is that only one other country in the world has extended its contiguous zone of territorial waters beyond the 12 miles and that is Venezuela. As of yet, no one has recognized Venezuela's claim, but Venezuela is belligerent with virtually no one, so that hasn't been a problem as of yet.

Khadaffi drew the "Line of Death" because he knew the U.S. Navy had practiced in the Gulf of Sidra for years. Khadaffi drew the line for the same reason he sponsors terror: to provoke the United States.

If there is anything of which the United States is guilty, it is giving in to provocation. But at this junction what else are we to do? Are we to allow our citizens to be slaughtered for no reason? Are we to allow our buildings, embassies, and foreign industries to be destroyed or damaged beyond repair? These things are acts of war. The fact is that the random kidnapping and murder of civilians is even more criminal than any act of war could ever be.

As I have said before, our raid on Libya will not stop terrorism, but it will be the first even in a process that eventually will stop terrorism. Our attack on Khadaffi won't stop terrorism.

As I have said before, our raid on Libya will not stop terrorism, but it will be the first event in a process that eventually will stop terrorism. Our attack on

SOME OF YOU HAVE BEEN COMPLAINING THAT MY CARTOONS ARE TOO NEGATIVE AND THAT I SEEM TO BE DOWN ON THE CHURCH (PLEASE NOTE THAT I'VE NEVER BEEN DOWN ON CHRISTIANITY!)

A FEW OF YOU HAVE EVEN GONE SO FAR AS TO SUGGEST THAT (GASP!) MY CARTOONS AREN'T EVEN FUNNY!!! THEY KIDS, IT REALLY RIPS MY SPLEEN OUT WHEN I HEAR THAT!

I DON'T KNOW WHAT YOUR MUM AND DAD TOLD YOU, BUT THE WORLD OF CARTOONING IS NOT A PRETTY ONE. AT TIMES IT CAN GET DOWN RIGHT HUMOROUS!!!

NOW I KNOW THAT A FEW OF YOU JUST WILL NOT TOLERATE HUMOUR IN ANY FORM, SO, FOR THOSE WHO JUST CAN'T FACE THE HORRIFYING REALITY OF THE COMICS PAGE I PRESENT (WITHY APOLOGIES TO MY SUPPORTERS)...

Canada, Great Britain, and Israel. The raid was the action of political cowardice. Libya, ruled by a volatile dictator, isolated from most Arab countries, and reluctantly supported by the Soviet Union, was the target. America stood to lose nothing ... its massive firepower was capable of blasting away at Libya, but more importantly, at our anger, frustration, and pain. Our catharsis was gained with the blood of innocent Libyans who have no more control over their government than they do the weather.

The nations of Syria, Iran, and the Soviet Union are all supporters of terrorism, and yet they were not struck. So, Libya was picked--the least powerful, the most isolated, and the least able to retaliate. Politically, it should not take someone like the President too top priority. The American bombing of Libya further exposes the moral bankruptcy of the Reagan Administration. The bombing suggests two things to the world: (1) America will take revenge, and (2) America will fight terrorism with terror.

With the bombing of Libya the U.S. has demonstrated that it will seek revenge. For months the administration has used the rhetoric of war. For months Americans have heard this tough rhetoric and continued to see the death toll rise. It appears that Reagan was just waiting for the frustration to reach a fever pitch and then strike.

The attack was extrajudicial. The U.S. went beyond treating terrorists as criminals--it abandoned evidence, trial, and conviction, and went straight for execution. A nation that ex-

allows one to do something, doesn't mean that is necessarily what should be done. And just because someone has the right to do something doesn't mean he or she will be happy in doing it. This explains the peculiar situation the United States finds itself in today.

Terrorism, even if it is state-sponsored terrorism, cannot be avoided through a process of diplomatic negotiation. The acts that terrorists perform throughout the world are criminal, nothing more than criminal acts. If Middle East terrorists were Americans, and the acts they perform happened here, they would be called kidnappers, murderers, rapists, saboteurs, and a host of other names, all of which would be true.

In our country, criminals are tracked, tried, convicted, and punished for their crimes. But how do we react when control the capital city. Government is created by civilized people to protect them from themselves and from each other. That is the main reason why the U.S. made the strike on Libya.

No one in Washington ever really believed that Reagan's strike would end terrorism. No one in Washington ever thought that the strike would shut Khadaffi's mouth, but virtually everyone in Washington, and the polls say almost everyone in America, realizes that the strike was a first in a series of events aimed at showing the world that the United States is serious about bringing an end to terrorism, one way or another.

The Administration has been criticised by some who highlight the deaths of civilians in Libya. Of course, any American has to be upset and truly mourn when he or she ponders the deaths of world, this kind of thing would never have happened.

If one agrees that the main function of government is to protect its people, then one must agree that the actions of Ronald Reagan were aimed at protecting his people. If one agrees with that premise, then he or she must also agree that Khadaffi not only failed to protect his own people, but in fact endangered them by his rhetoric and his quite-well documented actions.

Now that I've looked at the F-111 raid on Tripoli and other locations in Libya, I'd like to explore the events of two weeks before that when forces of the U.S. Navy crossed Khadaffi's "Line of Death" in the Gulf of Sidra.

The Gulf of Sidra incident was not in any way a provocation of Libya by the United States, but was in fact very much the opposite. Historically the U.S. Navy has performed exercises in the Gulf of Sidra. Most of the water surface of the gulf lies within international waters. Only a 12-mile-wide perimeter of the gulf can legally be laid claim to by Libya. The Navy forces were well outside the contiguous zone of Libyan waters, and Col. Khadaffi's imaginary "Line of Death" was a good deal outside his jurisdiction.

Khadaffi's claim to the entire Gulf of Sidra is in fact so ridiculous that no country with the exception of those that are even more ridiculous than Libya recognizes this

Venezuela is belligerent virtually no one, so hasn't been a problem as yet.

Khadaffi drew the "Line of Death" because he knew the U.S. Navy had practiced the Gulf of Sidra for years. Khadaffi drew the line for the same reason he sponsored terrorism: to provoke the United States.

If there is anything of which the United States is guilty, giving in to provocation. At this junction what else are we to do? Are we to allow citizens to be slaughtered no reason? Are we to allow our buildings, embassies, and foreign industries to be destroyed or damaged beyond repair? These things are acts of war. The fact that the random kidnapping and murder of civilians is even more criminal than an act of war could ever be.

As I have said before, the raid on Libya will not stop terrorism, but it will be the first event in a process that eventually will stop terrorism. Our attack on Khadaffi won't stop terrorism.

As I have said before, the raid on Libya will not stop terrorism, but it will be the first event in a process that eventually will stop terrorism. Our attack on Khadaffi won't stop the rhetoric, but it will institute a chain of events that will stop not only terror, but mass terrorism. (continued to page 6)

SOME OF YOU HAVE BEEN COMPLAINING THAT MY CARTOONS ARE TOO NEGATIVE AND THAT I SEEM TO BE DOWN ON THE CHURCH (PLEASE NOTE THAT I'VE NEVER BEEN DOWN ON CHRISTIANITY!)

A FEW OF YOU HAVE EVEN GONE SO FAR AS TO SUGGEST THAT (GASP!) MY CARTOONS AREN'T EVEN FUNNY!!! (HEY KIDS, IT REALLY RIPS MY SPLEEN OUT WHEN I HEAR THAT!)

UGLY BAG

I DON'T KNOW WHAT YOUR MUM AND DAD TOLD YOU, BUT THE WORLD OF CARTOONING IS NOT A PRETTY ONE. AT TIMES IT CAN GET DOWN RIGHT HUMOROUS!!!

NOW I KNOW THAT A FEW OF YOU JUST WILL NOT TOLERATE HUMOUR IN ANY FORM, SO, FOR THOSE WHO JUST CAN'T FACE THE HORRIFYING REALITY OF THE COMICS PAGE I PRESENT (WITH MY APOLOGIES TO MY SUPPORTERS)...

A NICE DAY IN CARTOONLAND

SAY MUFFY LET'S GO FOR A WALK IN THE MEADOW!

WOW SKIP! THAT'D BE REAL KEEN!

GOSH MUFFY THE MEADOW IS SO GREAT IN THE SPRING!

YEAH SKIP, I JUST LOVE ALL THE FLOWERS! I DON'T THINK ANYTHING CAN RUIN TODAY!

HI THERE!

I'M SORRY KIDS, I JUST COULDN'T HELP MYSELF!

BY-THE-WAY @1986 THANKS CRITICS! (AND I'M NOT ASHAMED OF MY NAME!!!)

Gratitude to Gratitude to '86 '87 Officers

A. Gordon Wetmore
NNC President

From my perspective, the esprit de corp which has prevailed on the campus of Northwest Nazarene College for the academic year 1985-86 is, in part, due to the excellent managerial and moral leadership of this year's ASNNC officers.

It has been an outstanding slate:

- President - Diana Fitz
- Vice President - Warren Kolz
- Social Vice President - Laura Grossi
- Business Manager - Darcy Riddle
- Secretary - Becky York
- Community Relations - Cherri Choate

A college is a composite of faculty and students plus support personnel and the ever-widening circle of parents and friends of the student body. The attitudes and initiatives of student leaders are simple factors in the way a school functions.

This is a personal salute because the student leaders this year have meant so much to me in my role. They have asked hard questions and they have been willing to grapple with answers.

You as the student body have again elected your slate of officers for the coming academic year. I look forward eagerly to working with your new leaders. Together we can help NNC be an even stronger place.

RAISE THE BANNERS

by S. Emerson

If you were asked how to be rebellious at NNC, how would you answer? It's a decent guess that you, like most NNC students, would say to rebel against the establishment of NNC you'd go dancing, drinking, smoking, maybe wear shorts to class or participate in some other frowned-upon activities. Basically, to be rebellious at NNC you'd break as many of NNC's rules as possible; but is that rebelling against NNC? Not hardly.

NNC has rules and regulations because it is expected that persons attending NNC are going to participate in activities or behave in ways that NNC does not think are correct. Though it is certainly not desired, it is expected by NNC that its students are going to dance, drink, and just generally do whatever NNC has rules against. Those expectations are why NNC has rules against such activities. NNC hopes it can prevent students from doing what is expected of them and instead do what is desired of them.

Therefore, if you jam on down to a certain Boise dance club to "trip the light fantastic," then go out to your car to tip the light beer, you are being no more rebellious than the "rebel without a cause" adolescent who hits his little brother, yells at his parents, and skips chemistry 101. He may think that he's showing the establishment he's his own person; in actuality he is just behaving in the semi-volatile manner that society has come to expect of adolescents. When you set out to break NNC's rules, you are doing nothing more than exactly what NNC expects you to do.

So, how does a person go about being truly rebellious at NNC? Though it sounds odd, the way to really show NNC who's in charge is by not doing what NNC expects and instead doing exactly what NNC desires of you, but not because NNC has a number of rules to get you to behave this way. Do it because it's what you want to do or not do. You don't have premarital sex because of your Christian or personal beliefs, not because of pages 41-61 in the NNC Student Handbook.

It is in this way that Christians are the most rebellious people in the world. Society in general expects that people are going to be selfish, unfriendly, dangerous, etc. Christians blow their expectations away by deciding they aren't going to conform to the norm and instead are loving people who care less about themselves and more about the well-being of other people, not because any man-made law says they must, but because they want to.

No one but you (and God of course) will know if you choose to rebel against NNC expects of you a steady do what NNC desires you because you want the satisfaction of rebellion be personal, telling N your own never-heard-that it can't expect the behavior from everyone. Some students are going rise above NNC's stations and be rebellious.

SURRENDER UNTO

by Rueben Russell

I walked out the door and saw. All these people laughing at me. I looked to my Father and said, "Father, forgive them, they don't know what they are doing." I grabbed the wooden cross and started walking your children still and mocking me and calling wicked names.

And I looked to you again Father said, "Give me strength. Help me, it's so hard!" As I looked at the tears running down your face, I knew that you loved me. I picked the cross again and went to Calvary.

As they drove the nails into my hands and feet, I screamed for help but I love you and your Father so I stayed and took the cross. For I knew that one day someone would be with you safe from pain and suffering. Well Father, now I am with you. Your children need to pick up the cross and teach the children. And when they think, "Why do we feel like it today or I don't like it?" people laugh and call me a rebel. Just think of all I went through for them.

Give your all children for they will get to heaven, you will be there in eternity, no pain, no hurt, wonderful love.

There's God's children all over the world who don't know the name of a God. Make a stand against the world of our awesome God.

A friend remembers, reflects...

A good friend of mine died, a good friend of many of us, Mr. Terry Reilly. Terry was a resident of Nampa, a former Senator and at the time of his death was flying to Idaho Falls in Eastern Idaho to speak at a political banquet as he was campaigning for the position of Idaho's Lt. Governor.

His wife Rosie lost a committed husband. His two young sons, Gabriel and Aaron, lost a loving father. Idaho lost an ethical, progressive, public servant. NNC lost a loyal supporter. And I and many others lost a close friend.

Terry was a devout Roman Catholic. Faithful to God...to the highest ideals of Christian service. He was active politically and helped serve the powerless and the poor and the hungry through the Community Health Clinics. For Terry, public service was truly an honorable profession. In his life work, he surely found his life in losing it in the service of others.

He found in his life what the Jesuit Theologian Pierre Tilharde Shardeen called the divine milieu. He understood the Christian value of action and as the English writer Jon Dunn would say, by Terry's death we have all been diminished.

I suppose my prayer may be to act out our Christian principles as did Terry and find our lives by serving others.

This eulogy was delivered in the April 14, 1986, Chapel service by Dr. Steve Shaw.

Meanwhile, back at the Hull house...

and the Lord made an east wind blow across

A. Gordon Wetmore
NNC President

From my perspective, the esprit de corp which has prevailed on the campus of Northwest Nazarene College for the academic year 1985-86 is, in part, due to the excellent managerial and moral leadership of this year's ASNNC officers.

It has been an outstanding slate:

- President - Diana Fitz
- Vice President - Warren Kolz
- Social Vice President - Laura Grossi
- Business Manager - Darcy Riddle
- Secretary - Becky York
- Community Relations - Cherri Choate

A college is a composite of faculty and students plus support personnel and the ever-widening circle of parents and friends of the student body. The attitudes and initiatives of student leaders are simple factors in the way a school functions.

This is a personal salute because the student leaders this year have meant so much to me in my role. They have asked hard questions and they have been willing to grapple with answers.

You as the student body have again elected your slate of officers for the coming academic year. I look forward eagerly to working with your new leaders. Together we can help NNC be an even stronger place.

If you were asked how to be rebellious at NNC, how would you answer? It's a decent guess that you, like most NNC students, would say to rebel against the establishment of NNC you'd go dancing, drinking, smoking, maybe wear shorts to class or participate in some other frowned-upon activities. Basically, to be rebellious at NNC you'd break as many of NNC's rules as possible; but is that rebelling against NNC? Not hardly.

NNC has rules and

pected that persons attending NNC are going to participate in activities or behave in ways that NNC does not think are correct. Though it is certainly not desired, it is expected by NNC that its students are going to dance, drink, and just generally do whatever NNC has rules against. Those expectations are why NNC has rules against such activities. NNC hopes it can prevent students from doing what is expected of them and instead do what is desired of them.

Therefore, if you jam on

A friend remembers, reflects...

A good friend of mine died, a good friend of many of us, Mr. Terry Reilly. Terry was a resident of Nampa, a former Senator and at the time of his death was flying to Idaho Falls in Eastern Idaho to speak at a political banquet as he was campaigning for the position of Idaho's Lt. Governor.

His wife Rosie lost a committed husband. His two young sons, Gabriel and Aaron, lost a loving father. Idaho lost an ethical, progressive, public servant. NNC lost a loyal supporter. And I and many others lost a close friend.

Terry was a devout Roman Catholic. Faithful to God...to the highest ideals of Christian service. He was active politically and helped serve the powerless and the poor and the hungry through the Community Health Clinics. For Terry, public service was truly an honorable profession. In his life work, he surely found his life in losing it in the service of others.

He found in his life what the Jesuit Theologian Pierre Tilharde Shardeen called the divine milieu. He understood the Christian value of action and as the English writer Jon Dunn would say, by Terry's death we have all been diminished.

I suppose my prayer may be to act out our Christian principles as did Terry and find our lives by serving others.

This eulogy was delivered in the April 14, 1986, Chapel service by Dr. Steve Shaw.

ce club to "trip the light fantastic," then go out to your car to tip the light beer, you are being no more rebellious than the "rebel without a cause" adolescent who hits his little brother, yells at his parents, and skips chemistry 101. He may think that he's showing the establishment he's his own person; in actuality he is just behaving in the semi-volatile manner that society has come to expect of adolescents. When you set out to break NNC's rules, you are doing nothing more than exactly what NNC expects you to do.

So, how does a person go about being truly rebellious at NNC? Though it sounds odd, the way to really show NNC who's in charge is by not doing what NNC expects and instead doing exactly what NNC desires of you, but not because NNC has a number of rules to get you to behave this way. Do it because it's what you want to do or not do. You don't have premarital sex because of your Christian or personal beliefs, not because of pages 41-61 in the NNC Student Handbook.

It is in this way that Christians are the most rebellious people in the world. Society in general expects that people are going to be selfish, unfriendly, dangerous, etc. Christians blow their expectations away by deciding they aren't going to conform to the norm and instead are loving people who care less about themselves and more about the well-being of other people, not because any man-made law says they must, but because they want to.

No one but you (and God of course) will know if you

SURRENDER UNTO

by Rueben Russell

I walked out the door and see, All these people laughing at me. I looked to my Father and said, Father forgive them, they don't know what they are doing." I grab the wooden cross and started on my path your children still and mocking me and calling me wicked names.

And I looked to you again Father said, "Give me strength O Lord Help me, it's so hard!"

As I looked at the tears running down your face, I knew that you loved me. I picked the cross again and went to Calvary.

As they drove the nails in my hands and feet, I screamed for it to stop but I love you and your Father so I stayed and took the cross.

For I knew that one day soon you would be with you safe from pain and suffering.

Well Father, now I am with you your children need to pick up the cross and teach the children.

And when they think, "Well, I feel like it today or I don't like it." people laugh and call me names.

Just think of all I went through for you.

Give your all children for me. I get to heaven, you will be with me in eternity, no pain, no hurt, wonderful love.

There's God's children all over the world who don't know the name of a God. Make a stand and witness to a world of our awesome God.

"...and the Lord made an east wind blow over the land all that day and all that night. By morning the wind had brought locusts; they invaded... and settled down in every area of the country..." Exodus 10:3-4 (NIV)

Letters...

Dear Editor:

I am writing in conjunction with what I would call the "Political Scam" of the NNC summer traveling groups. Yes, I did say "Political scam." I have been in the Nazarene Church most of my life. I have found out in these years that if you don't know the right people, or if you don't have the "known" last name, and finally if you are not with the "popular crowd," you may as well never try out or attempt to get somewhere in the Church or the college, for that matter.

I know one thing is for sure: when a person gets into the "world" with a career, he or she has to prove themselves to get somewhere, not just have the last name that allows that person to get what they want because of their last name.

This is the conclusion my friends and I have come to. We feel that we should never try out again, because we would be wasting our time. Why would we be wasting our picked are such as "you are too young to represent NNC" and "you look as though you are a rebel from another Nazarene institution," and we all know which one, without having to say, don't we? This statement was said about one student to another student by a judge--where do these "judges" get off to say things behind students' backs. If these are the people that attend here, and make up the college, and have great voices, why couldn't they have been picked? That is so very easy to answer; they don't have the right "connections."

It also seems funny that the majority of the people that went last summer were freshmen--they represented the college. For all we know, they were "rebels" or "too young." However, they had and still do have "political pull and connections," because the same people are traveling again this summer.

and qualities--not tradition.

Jim Chase

Since SAGA is always serving cookies and cakes, why don't we ever smell any of these things baking?

Think about it,
Shun

ED,

I am the leader of the M.A.L.P.F. We are going to leave a path of destruction on this campus like none before if these demands aren't met by May 10th:

A. Send the Chordbusters (Airborne) to Lybia.

B. If (a) cannot be met, then they must not be allowed to sing in chapel ever again.

C. ASNNC must submit a letter denouncing Khadafi to The Crusader by the next publication.

D. The summer traveling groups must include Persecution.

We are the Moral American Liberty People's Front, and we must be taken seriously.

Lone Wolf

Dear Editor:

I am the public connection of M.A.L.P.F. I do not in any way support the actions of M.A.L.P.F. I do have inside sources and they are paying me to represent them.

I have a few questions:

1. Whose Saint Bernard is that always tied up?

2. Is it true there are hamsters running and generating the tray belt?

3. What does SHUN stand for?

Thank you,

Bill North

P.S. Bill North is my fake name.

CRUSADER

STAFF

- Rich Hume
Editor-in-Chief
- Rob Thompson
Associate Editor
- Lori Pleshko
News Editor
- Brian J. Morrow
Fine Arts Editor
- Steve Metcalfe
Sports Editor
- Jeff Shea
Business Manager
- Chris McNaught
Photographer

The C... is a pr... the Publications Board Associated Students Northwest Nazarene College Crusader is printed Idaho Press-Tribune... expressed are not ne... those of the staff, s... faculty, or admini...

Americans Strike At Libyan Targets

day, April 14th, the United States launched an attack against the Libya. The attack was the result of several weeks of tension between the U.S. and Libya concerning terrorist activities directed at U.S. officials and civilians and their allies.

The night raid was the result of an extensive investigation of a bombing in a Berlin discotheque. An American soldier, a Jewish woman and scores of others were killed. The raid was frequented by American military personnel. The investigation pointed to the initiator of the attack. The Reagan administration saw this as a direct assault against U.S. interests. During an address to the nation following the raid, President Reagan said on his decision: "Our citizens are being attacked anywhere in the world . . . we will respond, so long as I am in the Oval office. Today we have done what we had to do. If necessary, we will do it again."

The raid was well-planned in advance with five key locations in Tripoli and Benghazi the targets. Eighteen F-111 bombers based in Great Britain and 15 A-6 and A-7 attack jets from Navy carriers carried out the attack. The targets chosen for attack were command and control centers, intelligence, communications, logistics, and training facilities used by terrorists. These were chosen because of their strategic significance and also to minimize civilian casualties.

According to the Reagan Administration, the air raid was a success with all five targets hit and damaged. Casualties numbered about 100 which were mostly civilians in the Tripoli area including a large number of children. Among the dead was Libyan leader, Moammar Khadafi's fifteen-month old adopted daughter. Two of Khadafi's younger sons were also wounded; one remains in critical condition. The only U.S. casualties were two air force officers. They were killed when heavy anti-aircraft fire shot down their F-111 bomber.

Libyan response to the American attack was mixed with bitterness. Libyan gunships fired several missiles at a Coast Guard installation on the island of Lampedusa. The missiles missed their targets. Terrorists' activities increased in the days following the raid. Three kidnapped victims held since December 3, 1984, were found slain on a

Lebanon highway. Two were identified as British and one was American, Peter Kilburn, a librarian at the American University in Lebanon. In Khartoum, Sudan, a U.S. Embassy officer was shot and paralyzed by terrorists. An attempt was made to blow up an Israeli airliner in London. A security guard discovered an unidentified item and the attacker was caught. Two bombs were tossed at a U.S. Marine compound in Tunisia. These instances were all made with a clear message to the U.S. and U.S. allies--Libya will get revenge.

Libya was not the only country the U.S. angered. Demonstrations in Italy, Great Britain, West Germany, France, and Sweden occurred to protest U.S. action.

The goal of the U.S. is to stop international terrorism and the raid on Libya was a part of that policy. Only time will determine who wins the upper hand in this game of international security.

Soviet Nuclear Meltdown Threatens Europe

day of this week, an accident in a reactor at Chernobyl in the Soviet heartland. The accident was at least partially due to the fact that it was a hastily made decision to put the reactor into operation minutes into an untested State-controlled plant Monday, high levels of radiation were reported in Sweden, some 1,000 miles to the northwest of many as several hundred people were killed instantly, and that some two thousand were killed before they could be treated.

Chernobyl is only slightly northeast of Kiev, Russia's third largest city. If Kiev were an American city, it would rank fourth in terms of population, right after Chicago. Kiev has many times been compared to St. Louis, Missouri or Kansas City because of its size and agricultural significance to the rest of the nation.

At this point in time, there is a fire raging within the nuclear facility at Chernobyl at temperatures in excess of 4000° Fahrenheit. The Soviet government has requested the assistance of nuclear engineering experts from Sweden and West Germany, but nuclear scientists from the United States believe that there is no method at our disposal, due to the current lack of technological understanding, to control a meltdown of such proportions.

Because of the proportions of the melt-down itself, the accident potentially endangers everyone, however the immediate concern is for those around Chernobyl and Kiev.

The City of Kiev has built a drinking water reservoir between the city and the nuclear facility. As if that weren't bad enough, the City of Kiev lies within the heart of the Soviet Union's "bread basket," and there is potential that the wheat and staple crops of the Soviet Union could be damaged or devastated for years to come. This news on Tuesday sent United States wheat prices soaring in Markets in Chicago and New York on the theory that the Soviets would now be forced to import more grain from the United States.

The radiation cloud from the accident is currently travelling towards the West Coast of the U.S. The radioactive cloud will move over the Arctic region and down over the northwestern U.S. as early as Saturday. Officials believe however that the radiation will be widely dispersed and thusly will pose no danger to people in this country.

Soviet-Summit Stalled

ment to more talks in 1986.

This atmosphere of congeniality has been threatened by events of recent weeks. Soviet Ambassador Anatoli Dobrynin has given the reasons for cooled U.S.-Soviet relations as being the resumption of nuclear testing by the U.S., U.S. efforts to reduce the Soviet United Nations staff, and the U.S. testing of Soviet naval defenses in the Black Sea. American officials cite the reasons for poor relations as the Soviets supplying weapons to Libya and renewed attacks in Afghanistan. Yet the most recent crisis has been the American bombing of Libya.

Soviet reaction to the bombing was severe. A scheduled planning meeting for the summit between U.S. Secretary of State George Schultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze that was set for May 14-15 was cancelled after the attack. Chairman Gorbachev, in a letter to Khadafi, assured him that the Soviets would replace the military equipment that was destroyed in the raid. However, Gorbachev did state April 20 that he still planned on meeting Reagan despite the recent U.S. events that were "poisoning the atmosphere."

Both the U.S. and the Soviets still are moving towards a summit in November or December. A recent Soviet proposal calling for reduction in Eastern and Soviet Europe conventional forces prompted closer U.S. attention.

"Pass Laws" End

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa--President P.W. Botha on April 18 signaled the end of the "Pass Laws" for blacks.

For over 200 years the "Pass Laws" have denied blacks entry into city areas unless they possessed a government permit to do so. The new guidelines will abandon the "reference books" blacks had to carry with their permits and will be replaced with the same I.D. documents that whites carry.

Botha announced that blacks who have been jailed under the "Pass Laws" will be released and that no further arrests will be made. Both, in his statement to the South welcomed the change but wondered why it took so long. Murphy Morobe, spokesperson for the UDF (United Democratic Front, an anti-apartheid organization), said, "Without addressing the crucial issue of political power and the demand of people to take part in the decision-making process in this country, Botha's latest move will remain an act of political posturing."

Nearly 2,000 people in South Africa have been killed since September 1984, when anti-apartheid unrest began its most recent outbreak.

accident as was the fact that its minutes into an state-controlled Monday, high els were reported 1, Sweden, some the northwest of al Soviet news s reported that e were receiving e reports made no casualties. Since can news agen- reported that as northeast of Kiev, Russia's third largest city. If Kiev were an American city, it would rank fourth in terms of population, right after Chicago. Kiev has many times been compared to St. Louis, Missouri or Kansas City because of its size and agricultural significance to the rest of the nation.

At this point in time, there is a fire raging within the nuclear facility at Chernobyl at temperatures in excess of 4000° Fahrenheit. The Soviet government has requested the assistance of nuclear lack of technological standing, to control a meltdown of such proportions.

Because of the proportions of the melt-down itself, the accident potentially endangers everyone, however the immediate concern is for those around Chernobyl and Kiev.

The City of Kiev has built a drinking water reservoir between the city and the nuclear facility. As if that weren't bad enough, the City of Kiev lies within the heart of the Soviet Union's "bread basket," and there is potential that the

York on the theory that the Soviets would now be forced to import more grain from the United States.

The radiation cloud from the accident is currently travelling towards the West Coast of the U.S. The radioactive cloud will move over the Arctic region and down over the northwestern U.S. as early as Saturday. Officials believe however that the radiation will be widely dispersed and thusly will pose no danger to people in this country.

U.S.-Soviet Summit Stalled

ment to more talks in 1986.

ed 1986 Reagan-summit in recent come threatened tic stagnation and ts.

ember 1985 sum- chev gave birth mistic "spirit of his was followed mption of arms talks and several and economic ex- lowever, no sub- greements were cept a commit-

This atmosphere of congeniality has been threatened by events of recent weeks. Soviet Ambassador Anatoli Dobrynin has given the reasons for cooled U.S.-Soviet relations as being the resumption of nuclear testing by the U.S., U.S. efforts to reduce the Soviet United Nations staff, and the U.S. testing of Soviet naval defenses in the Black Sea. American officials cite the reasons for poor relations as the Soviets supplying weapons to Libya and renewed attacks in Afghanistan. Yet the most recent crisis has been the American bombing of Libya.

Soviet reaction to the bombing was severe. A scheduled planning meeting for the summit between U.S. Secretary of State George Schultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze that was set for May 14-15 was cancelled after the attack. Chairman Gorbachev, in a letter to Khadafi, assured him that the Soviets would replace the military equipment that was destroyed in the raid. However, Gorbachev did state April 20 that he still planned on meeting Reagan despite the recent U.S. events that were "poisoning the atmosphere."

Both the U.S. and the Soviets still are moving towards a summit in November or December. A recent Soviet proposal calling for reduction in Eastern and Soviet Europe conventional forces prompted closer U.S. attention.

"Sanctuary Movement" Faces Trial

ly charges of a standard have been at the U.S. Justice ent regarding the y issue."

"sanctuary issue" h illegal aliens that pression in Central gaining illegal n U.S. churches. hurches hide and for the needs of who claim to have rsecuted for their and religious beliefs l America. Most of ple have fled the ents of Nicaragua,

El Salvador, and Guatemala.

In Florida, the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) has refused to deport citizens of Nicaragua who seek asylum in the U.S. from the Marxist government there. Yet in Arizona, the Justice Department has continued prosecution against church workers who have helped smuggle aliens from El Salvador and Guatemala.

The Justice Department has established policy that accepts refugees fleeing communist governments but has consistently deported refugees seeking asylum from non-communist countries. Many involved in the "sanctuary movement" contend this is an unfair contradiction.

In the case in Arizona the Justice Department has asserted that a nun, two priests, a minister, and several lay workers violated immigration laws by illegally smuggling aliens from El Salvador and Guatemala into the U.S. Federal Judge Earl Carrol prohibited the defense from showing the jurors the INS's inconsistency and testimony demonstrating the refugees' persecution or the defendants' religious and compassionate motives for providing sanctuary. The defense has not yet concluded its case, but it has been damaged by the restrictions placed on it.

The "Sanctuary Movement" has been helped by the publicity of these cases. Sixteen U.S. cities and the state of New Mexico have proclaimed their areas sanctuaries for anyone fleeing armed conflict.

"Pass Laws" End

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa—President P.W. Botha on April 18 signaled the end of the "Pass Laws" for blacks.

For over 200 years the "Pass Laws" have denied blacks entry into city areas unless they possessed a government permit to do so. The new guidelines will abandon the "reference books" blacks had to carry with their permits and will be replaced with the same I.D. documents that whites carry.

Botha announced that blacks who have been jailed under the "Pass Laws" will be released and that no further arrests will be made. Both, in his statement to the South African parliament said laws that restrict blacks movement will be abandoned and that his government will promote "orderly urbanization" for blacks and work for job creation.

Black reaction to Botha's announcement was varied. Many blacks believed the change was late in coming and this was only a preliminary step in the dismantling of apartheid. Apartheid is the system by which 5 million whites discriminate against 24 million non-whites.

Bishop of Johannesburg, Desmond Tutu (1985 Nobel Peace Prize winner),

welcomed the change but wondered why it took so long. Murphy Morobe, spokesperson for the UDF (United Democratic Front, an anti-apartheid organization), said, "Without addressing the crucial issue of political power and the demand of people to take part in the decision-making process in this country, Botha's latest move will remain an act of political posturing."

Nearly 2,000 people in South Africa have been killed since September 1984, when anti-apartheid unrest began its most recent outbreak.

Wall Street Journal
Daily New York Times
Sunday New York Times
Oregonian (coming soon)

5 Self Serve
¢ Photo
Copies 8½ X 11

Also available legal size, ledger size and colored paper.

Open 7:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.
8:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Sun.

1224 1st Street South • Nampa, Id 83651

1st Street
Market
Kiosk

Rape Myths Missed

by Elissa Westbrook

Over one quarter of a million women are raped every year. Rape is one of the most rapidly growing crimes in the United States. Last term The Crusader published an article on the issue of rape and a woman from a local help center spoke on the topic in chapel.

In an effort to keep its readers aware, The Crusader attempts to bring to light the answers to questions many have about this and other current topics.

Surrounding the whole problem of rape there are many questions and myths. According to the book If You Are Raped, by Kathryn M. Johnson these are some of the things that currently influence peoples beliefs about rape.

Myth: Rape is an expression of intense sexual desire.

Fact: Rape is an expression of some men's need to dominate women.

Myth: Rape is a part of human nature.

Fact: Rape is learned behavior.

Myth: Rape is a lonely man's response to a lack of love.

Fact: Rape is neither an act of sex nor an act of love. Rape is an act of violence.

Myth: Rape always occurs spontaneously.

Fact: Rapes are quite often carefully planned and executed.

Myth: A rapist is mentally ill.

Fact: A rapist can be any man.

Myth: Rape is usually committed by a man of one race against a woman of another race.

Fact: Most rapes are committed within one racial group.

Myth: Some women secretly desire to be raped.

Fact: Women view rape as a terrifying experience.

Myth: Some women "deserve" to be raped.

Fact: Rape is a crime to which no woman should be subjected.

Myth: A man rapes a woman because she "asks for it" by being careless.

Fact: Regardless of where a woman is, no one has the right to rape her.

Rape is a major problem that must be faced. Essentially what it all boils down to is the idea that has been taught to males throughout history: women are to be subjects of the male desire and the male must be dominant.

Chances are many women on our campus may be raped sometime during their life and indeed, many have already suffered through this terrible loss of pride and self.

If interested in this topic, there are many excellent books on the topic right here in our library.

Against Our Will by Susan Brownmiller and No Fairy Godmothers, No Magic Wands by Judy H. Katz are good examples that may open your eyes to the different aspects of this problem.

Hawthorne Bring World Home

by Debbie Lever

A Valley Boy? Well, although he has spent most of his life on the Los Angeles district and did address the student body in a rather laid-back manner during his three days on NNC's campus, Steve Hawthorne does not deserve this title given him by one student. He is a man who has given his life over to the vision of completing world evangelization, so much that when I interviewed him, he would rather talk about how I could become involved than about himself or his background.

Hawthorne was born in Pomeroy, Washington, but his pastor father soon moved to the L.A. district and it was there that he grew up. He went to Point Loma College and received his degree in religion Magna Cum Laude. Approximately a year later, Hawthorne attended a missions conference called Urbana '76, where he caught the vision of completing world evangelization.

Hawthorne has developed curriculum for and taught at the Institute of International Studies at the U.S. Center for World Missions. He has edited two books, written many articles, and is currently executive director of

Steve Hawthorne

World Christian magazine.

One of Hawthorne's main involvements over the past few years has been "The Joshua Project." He was part of a team of photojournalists who "identified and profiled unreached people groups" and then presented their findings on a popular level in an attempt to motivate God's people, just as Joshua did. These projects were sponsored by World Christian and took place in Alexandria, Egypt; Delhi, India; Madurai, India; and Istanbul, Turkey.

Hawthorne was involved in expeditions to Mexico City and Thailand.

During his time at NNC, Hawthorne was the central message presenter. His purpose is to see His glorified among all and to cause us to realize it is not too large a purpose for any single life. This purpose Hawthorne has for himself, and the dynamically challenged to adopt.

Borgman Scholarship Still Growing

by Elissa Westbrook

ATTN: All Social Work majors, the Tammy Borgman Scholarship for social work majors is alive and growing. Truly one of the most satisfying ways to honor a loved one or friend is to perpetuate their memory as an example and an aid for others to come. Through the Tammy

Through the careful planning of CPA Lewis Suiter an endowment is being built enabling the school to award $1,000 a year to social work majors in the form of a scholarship. The first award will be in the spring of 1988, which is when Tammy would have graduated.

this month. This goal has been exceeded to a total of $8,237.

By 1988, about $13,000 must be raised to perpetuate the fund and avoid problems of fluctuating interest rates.

Special thanks go out to Dr.

Flyers have been sent out to all on NNC's mailing lists announcing the scholarship and asking for help in gathering the funds.

The criteria for the scholarship have been established as follows:

1. Commitment to serving

3. Nomination by the Social Work Scholarship Committee.

4. Full-time student majoring in social work.

Students are encouraged to contribute to the scholarship also. Any amount will be accepted and appreciated to support this memorial

many during her

Through NNC careful planning her will be kept in the minds of students and professors for years a woman from a local help center spoke on the topic in chapel.

In an effort to keep its readers aware, The Crusader attempts to bring to light the answers to questions many have about this and other current topics.

Surrounding the whole problem of rape there are many questions and myths. According to the book If You Are Raped, by Kathryn M. Johnson these are some of the things that currently influence peoples beliefs about rape.

Myth: Rape is an expression of intense sexual desire.

Fact: Rape is an expression of some men's need to dominate women.

of sex nor an act of love. Rape is an act of violence.

Myth: Rape always occurs spontaneously.

Fact: Rapes are quite often carefully planned and executed.

Myth: A rapist is mentally ill.

Fact: A rapist can be any man.

Myth: Rape is usually committed by a man of one race against a woman of another race.

Fact: Most rapes are committed within one racial group.

Myth: Some women secretly desire to be raped.

Fact: Women view rape as a terrifying experience.

Myth: Some women "deserve" to be raped.

Fact: Rape is a crime to which no woman should be subjected.

Myth: A man rapes a

that must be faced. Essentially what it all boils down to is the idea that has been taught to males throughout history: women are to be subjects of the male desire and the male must be dominant.

Chances are many women on our campus may be raped sometime during their life and indeed, many have already suffered through this terrible loss of pride and self.

If interested in this topic, there are many excellent books on the topic right here in our library.

Against Our Will by Susan Brownmiller and No Fairy Godmothers, No Magic Wands by Judy H. Katz are good examples that may open your eyes to the different aspects of this problem.

Hawthorne does not deserve this title given him by one student. He is a man who has given his life over to the vision of completing world evangelization, so much that when I interviewed him, he would rather talk about how I could become involved than about himself or his background.

Hawthorne was born in Pomeroy, Washington, but his pastor father soon moved to the L.A. district and it was there that he grew up. He went to Point Loma College and received his degree in religion Magna Cum Laude. Approximately a year later, Hawthorne attended a missions conference called Urbana '76, where he caught the vision of completing world evangelization.

Hawthorne has developed curriculum for and taught at the Institute of International Studies at the U.S. Center for World Missions. He has edited two books, written many articles, and is currently executive director of

Steve Hawthorne

World Christian magazine.

One of Hawthorne's main involvements over the past few years has been "The Joshua Project." He was part of a team of photojournalists who "identified and profiled unreached people groups" and then presented their findings on a popular level in an attempt to motivate God's people, just as Joshua did. These projects were sponsored by World Christian and took place in Alexandria, Egypt; Delhi, India; Madurai, India; and Istanbul, Turkey.

Hawthorne was also involved in expeditions to Mexico City and Bangkok, Thailand.

During his time here, central message presented Hawthorne was that God's purpose is to see His Name glorified among all people and to cause us to realize it is not too large a purpose for any single life. This is the purpose Hawthorne has accepted for himself, and the one that dynamically challenged and adopted.

Borgman Scholarship Still Growing

by Elissa Westbrook

ATTN: All Social Work majors, the Tammy Borgman Scholarship for social work majors is alive and growing. Truly one of the most satisfying ways to honor a loved one or friend is to perpetuate their memory as an example and an aid for others to come. Through the Tammy Borgman Scholarship, NNC will gain its first social work scholarship.

Through the careful planning of CPA Lewis Suiter an endowment is being built enabling the school to award $1,000 a year to social work majors in the form of a scholarship. The first award will be in the spring of 1988, which is when Tammy would have graduated.

According to the financial plan, the endowment fund was hoping to raise $6,000 by this month. This goal has been exceeded to a total of $8,237.

By 1988, about $13,000 must be raised to perpetuate the fund and avoid problems of fluctuating interest rates.

Special thanks go out to Dr. and Mrs. Leo Qualls of Salem, Oregon, who recently donated $2,000 to this fund.

Flyers have been sent out to all on NNC's mailing lists announcing the scholarship and asking for help in gathering the funds.

The criteria for the scholarship have been established as follows:

1. Commitment to serving others.
2. Demonstration of academic ability.

3. Nomination by the Social Work Scholarship Committee.

4. Full-time student majoring in social work.

Students are encouraged to contribute to the scholarship also. Any amount will be accepted and appreciated to support this memorial.

Tammy set an example for many during her life.

Through NNC and careful planning her memory will be kept in the hearts and minds of students and professors for years to come.

Four Easy Laws For Dating

Just as there are physical laws that govern the physical universe, so are there dating laws which govern your relationship with women.

LAW ONE: God love you, and has a wonderful date for your life.

(References in this article should not be read in context from the Bible wherever possible.)

God's Love: "Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God." (1 John 4:7)

God's Date: "But he is under guardians and managers until the date set by the father." (Gal. 4:2)

Why is it that most people are not experiencing God's date? Because...

LAW TWO: Man is bashful and separated from woman, thus he cannot know and experience God's date for his life.

Man is bashful: "But they did not understand... and they were afraid to ask..." (Mark 9:32)

Man was created to have fellowship with woman; but because of his own bashfulness, he chose to go his own independent way, and fellowship with woman was broken. This bashfulness, characterized by an attitude of fear of rejection or passive indifference is an evidence of what the Bible calls loneliness.

Man is separated: "You do not have because you do not ask." (Men do not have dates, and are therefore separated.) James 4:2.

Woman is available and man is bashful. A great chasm separates the two. Man is continually trying to impress woman through his own efforts, but cannot reach her. The third law gives us the only answer to this dilemma... LAW THREE: The telephone is God's only provision for man's bashfulness. Through it you can know and experience God's love and date for your life.

God will bless us with it: "For the same Lord is Lord of all, abounding in riches for all who call..." (Romans 10:12)

God will make it work: "And we know that God causes all things to work together for good to those who... call..." (Romans 8:28)

It is the way to ask woman out: "If any of you lacks... let him ask... and it will be given to him." (James 1:5)

God has bridged the chasm which separates man from woman by sending the telephone to provide a pathway for communication.

It is not enough just to know these three laws...

LAW FOUR: We must individually use the telephone to ask woman out; then we can know and experience God's love and date for our lives.

You can make a phone call right now. Getting a date involves turning to woman from self, trusting woman to say "yes" to go out with you and to make you happy. It is not enough to give intellectual assent to these claims or to have an emotional experience.

Women know your heart, and are not so concerned with the words as they are with the attitude of your heart. The following is a suggested phone call:

"(Woman's name), I need you. I open the door of my car for you. I would like very much to go out with you. How would you like to go out this Saturday night?"

Does the phone call express the desire of the heart? If it does, call right now, and you will experience God's date for your life, as He promises. HOW TO BE A WOMAN IS GOING WITH YOU: Did you woman? According to "yes," is she going out with you? She said she would. Would she mislead you? What authority do you have? she will go? (Answer: trustworthiness of herself and her word.)

Formulated by Wheaton College Students

Dimes Trial Ride

The March of Dimes Trail Ride '86 will be held Saturday, May 17th, at 8:00 AM, at the end of Eagle Road. This year we will have a 10 or 20 mile trail. Pledge forms are located in various areas throughout the Treasure Valley or by calling the March of Dimes office at 336-5421.

work in the prevention of birth defects through local programming and research.

There will be prizes for the riders who turn in the most money along with a Grand Prize drawing of a $200 gift certificate from Albertson's.

For more information call 336-5421 or stop by the March of Dimes office at 855 S.

thorne printing & office supply, inc.

Complete printing service

Phone 466-3682 or 342-4611

- FORMS
- BROCHURES
- FULL COLOR PRINTING
- TYPESETTING
- DESIGN
- EXCESS COPIES

TP

Third Dimension Cuts

Precision Haircuts & Styling for guys & gals

A GROUP EFFORT

NO APPOINTMENT NEEDED

Karcher Mall
Open: Mon-Fri 10-9
Sat 9-6 Sun 12-5

466-0402

HAIRCUTS
$6.95
PERMANENT
$19.95
includes haircut, styling, guarantee

Northwesterners perform Brigadoon

Two people in love, a eral, heather on the hill, a dding, an enchanted
 tish village, and ... bages?
 NC's Northwesterners present the musical
 "Brigadoon" by Lerner and Loewe May 9, 10, 12, and 13
 at 8:00 p.m. in the Science Center Hall. "Brigadoon" is a story of miracles made possible by faith and love.
 The miracle made a town appear; the other made it disappear. Two young Americans, Jeff Douglas and Tommy Albright, played by Ed Johnson and Larry Hart, on a holiday, are hunting in Scotland and come upon a mist enshrouded village in an secure valley in the Highlands. They are aware of a strange atmosphere which pervades the town of Brigadoon and, after per-tent inquiry, learn they are witnessing an age old miracle. They hear the tale of the first miracle from the lips of the village dominie or schoolmaster about a Mr.
 Bursythe whose desire and ambition was to protect the flock of his parish from the influence of a two hundred year old story of witches roaming
 the Highlands of Scotland.
 Tommy Albright falls in love

Jeff (Ed Johnson) and Tommy (Larry Hart) lost in the woods.

with Fiona, one of the lasses of Brigadoon, portrayed by Melody Handley, but not enough to remain. He returns to his home and his own life and realizes, too late, that he has made the greatest mistake of his life. But there is a second miracle!
 The show is directed by Dr.
 D.E. Hill and will feature bagpipe music by Ron Lopez of Boise and Dr. Raymond Cooke, Head of the Social Science Dept. at NNC. The sets were created by Dennis

Tilzey and the choreography was prepared by Todd Ferring.
 Tickets may be purchased at the NNC Bookstore, NNC
 Music Office, Nafziger's
 Men's Store in Nampa, and Peebles-Winter Music in Nampa, or at the door. For more information, call 467-8413.
 Ticket prices are: $3.50
 General Admission, $2.50
 Senior Citizens, and $2.50
 Students.

Thursday - 7:30 p.m.
MAY 8, 1986
Montgomery Fieldhouse (NNC)
For Information Call 467-8771

"Over the Edge"

Three blind mice, three blind mice.....

Brian J. Morrow
 "Three blind mice, three blind mice,...." That melody still ringing in my ears. Not just mine but other ears as well. If you are walking along and you hear someone whistling the tune, take it for granted that person saw "The Mousetrap" by Agatha Christie.

"The Mousetrap" was,
 most fortunately, this year's
 Jr. Class Play selection.
 Even though the closing night was eleven days ago, the popularity of this year's cast's
 rendition of Agatha Christie's
 best work is still very evident.
 The popularity is rightfully founded. During this author's

three years of attendance at NNC, I have attended every
 theatrical presentation
 available to the public. None
 of those 10-plus productions
 have come close (of course
 this is only my opinion) to matching the brilliance of
 "The Mousetrap".
 Naturally the greatest portion of praise should go to

 Mrs. Christie who engineered the intrigue into both a humorous and mind-challenging play. Yet
 without actors the play
 remains in a dull second dimensional state. The motion of Letha Goecks,
 Brent Rice, Keith Modrow,
 Leann Sanderson, Robert

Condon, Maureen Cronrath,
 Kenneth Owens (The Mysterious Stranger), and
 Sonny Manning brought the script into the third dimension.
 Salutations unerringly go to the director, Miss Kathleen Guffey. She was able to take decrepit stage flats and transform them miraculously as well as organize the blocking of a very active play into a sensible setting.

 Now that the play is over,
 I guess I could tell you who did
 it,....but I won't.

NNC Artists Show Their Stuff...

"Monolith"--Kevin Dunton

"Waterfall"--Glen Ness

"Untitled"--Mike Watanabe

cont'd from page 2)
 Khadafi himself only a matter of history.

MACO JOHN'S
 Customer Appreciation Days
 Daily Specials
 624-12 Ave Rd

NEW SALON
HAIR Etc.

Morrow
 e blind mice, three ce,..." That melody ing in my ears. Not e but other ears as ou are walking along u hear someone
 y the tune, take it for hat person saw "The ap" by Agatha

"The Mousetrap" was,
 most fortunately, this year's
 Jr. Class Play selection.

Even though the closing
 night was eleven days ago, the
 popularity of this year's cast's
 rendition of Agatha Christie's
 best work is still very evident.
 The popularity is rightfully founded. During this author's

three years of attendance at NNC, I have attended every
 theatrical presentation
 available to the public. None
 of those 10-plus productions
 have come close (of course
 this is only my opinion) to
 matching the brilliance of
 "The Mousetrap".

Naturally the greatest portion of praise should go to

 Mrs. Christie who engineered
 the intrigue into both a
 humorous and mind-
 challenging play. Yet
 without actors the play
 remains in a dull second dimensional state. The
 motion of Letha Goecks,
 Brent Rice, Keith Modrow,
 Leann Sanderson, Robert

Condon, Maureen Cronrath,
 Kenneth Owens (The Mysterious Stranger), and
 Sonny Manning brought the script into the third dimension.

Salutations unerringly go to the director, Miss Kathleen Guffey. She was able to take
 decrepit stage flats and transform them miraculously as

 well as organize the blocking
 of a very active play into a
 sensible setting.

Now that the play is over, I guess I could tell you who did
 it,...but I won't.

IC Artists Show Their Stuff...

"Waterfall"--Glen Ness

"Monolith"--Kevin Dunton

"Untitled"--Mike Watanabe

from page 2)

himself only a matrry.

we conclude by hat each of us ought the deaths of our man beings whether r American. This cle of tragedy must owed to continue.
 it, we must take lity to terminate it ce; this is the only on we need have.

Colonel Khadaffi,
 ot rest easy in the e truth: Terrorism
 pped.

TACO JOHN'S

Customer Appreciation Days

Daily Special Everday 624•12 Ave. Rd.
 Nampa

Soft Shell Tacos... 99¢

Liter Drinks... 49¢

No Limit

ENTRY FORM

FREE DRAWING FOR

VCR

Name: _____ ph: _____

ADDRESS: _____

Sign.: _____ Expires June 2

NEW SALON

HAIR Etc.

Opening Special

Zofu's Wash & Wear Perm
$17.50 REG. $19.95

All haircuts $5.00

STYLISTS:

Linda Smith--owner and instructor
 Diann Fredricks
 Shirley Buchanon

Next door to Campus Corner Salon

Hours 9 to 5 Mon.-Sat.
 (Part-time Idaho licensed hairdresser needed.)

SPORTS

L-o-n-g-e-s-t Season Nears End

by G. Henry

The Crusaders continue to perform fairly well at home, while having their struggles on the road. Their inability to win road games and their lack of depth on the pitching staff have kept this year's baseball team from a successful season. It remains to be seen whether the season can still be successful.

The offense, for the most part, has continued to produce. But over the last few weeks, pitching has become a problem again for NNC. Coach Jack Alban has begun to turn more frequently to the two best pitchers on the staff, Marcus Menicucci and John Myers, with varying results. On Friday the 18th, Myers got the call in two straight games against George Fox College and came through with fine performances, especially in the first game, which NNC won 9-2. In the second game, Myers pitched 5 innings and NNC led 3-2. Eric Pollack pitched out of trouble in the last two innings, getting the last two Bruins to bounce back to him, and the Crusaders won 4-3. Myers pitched 14 innings altogether, picked up a win and helped Pollack win another. Fine.

Saturday things did not go as well. Menicucci started the first game, and although Western Oregon is a much stronger team than George Fox, Marcus did not have a good day. He went the distance, with Western scoring most of their runs in the first, fifth, and eighth innings, winning 16-4. Pollack started the second game and was trailing only 6-3 in the fifth inning when he was replaced by George Morris. Several runs and only two outs later Morris was gone and the Crusaders ended up losing 11-5. Only four days later, Myers was asked to start again and was shelled by Eastern Oregon. Obviously the Crusaders need more pitching.

But all is not lost. The ending of the Crusaders is not final if nothing else, some of the bench people have been playing and producing. Jeff Shea had three hits in the last game of the weekend. Steve Barstow had the RBI of the weekend with a double off the fence in the field. Gerren McAll and Penrod have seen play time at third base and first base, respectively. The youth of this year's team promises good things in the future.

There are six home games left. Wins in three or four of those games, at least, will leave a good feeling with the year's team, and push the number of wins back into double figures for the first time in a while. The Crusaders' record now is 7-14.

So, there is optimism, but there is pessimism. If the Crusaders do well through the next six games, they can salvage the season and look forward with expectation to next year.

team from a successful season. It remains to be seen whether the season can still be successful.

The offense, for the most part, has continued to produce. But over the last few weeks, pitching has become a problem again for NNC. Coach Jack Alban has begun to turn more frequently to the two best pitchers on the staff, Marcus Menicucci and John Myers, with varying results. On Friday the 18th, Myers got the call in two straight games against George Fox College and came through with fine performances, especially in the first game, which NNC won 9-2. In the second game, Myers pitched 5 innings and NNC led 3-2. Eric Pollack pitched out of double off the fence in field. Gerren McAll and Penrod have seen play time at third base and tstop, respectively. A youth of this year's promises good things future.

There are six home left. Wins in three or those games, at least, leave a good feeling with year's team, and push number of wins back double figures for the time in a while. The Cr record now is 7-14.

So, there is optimism there is pessimism. Crusaders do well those six games, they can season and look forward expectation to next year.

trouble in the last two innings, getting the last two Bruins to bounce back to him, and the Crusaders won 4-3. Myers pitched 14 innings altogether, picked up a win and helped Pollack win another. Fine.

Saturday things did not go as well. Menicucci started the first game, and although Western Oregon is a much stronger team than George Fox, Marcus did not have a good day. He went the distance, with Western scoring most of their runs in the first, fifth, and eighth innings, winning 16-4. Pollack started the second game and was trailing only 6-3 in the fifth inning when he was replaced by George Morris. Several runs and only two outs later Morris was gone and the Crusaders ended up losing 11-5. Only four days later, Myers was asked to start again and was shelled by Eastern Oregon. Obviously the Crusaders need more pitching.

Tracksters Season Means Success

by Mike Davidson

The Northwest Nazarene College Track and Field competitors are in their last weeks of a productive, competitive, rewarding season.

There has been a lot of ups and downs for our small but tough team this year. Injuries and disappointing performances always seem to haunt athletes in any sport and the NNC track team has not been an exception. Although many goals and dreams have fallen by the wayside, our athletes are holding their heads high, as they have the unquestioned right to do. Their honest, 100% effort to be the best they could be are characteristics of our athletes. These past couple months have been filled with more successes and outstanding performances than downers though. The positives far outweigh the negatives.

The Crusader tracksters ended their regular season competition at the Eastern Oregon Invitational in LaGrande, Oregon on the 26th of April. This weekend will be spent preparing for the District Championship competition coming on the 9th and 10th of May. During this time of practice all energy is going to be focused on winning at the District Championship.

very good shot at winning or placing high in all four events. Karen Carpenter is throwing the javelin a long way lately and she too is looking to place at the top at Districts. Jana Zellmer and Chris Chua have competed tough this season and both are going to challenge for top honors at the District Championships. Rounding off the women's team going to Districts is Holly Duncan.

Duncan, who has been hurt most of the season, has only competed in a couple meets the whole year. She also has a good chance to place high in the 400 meters.

Mike Gilbert leads the men's team into Districts.

Gilbert is expecting to continue his fine performances in the 400 m. hurdles, 400 m. open, relay races and also the pole vault. Randy Maves will run the 100 meters while teammates Tim Sievers and Kevin Wright are going to be tough in the 200 meters and 10,000 meters respectively.

The men's relay team of Gilbert, Maves, Sievers, Huenoeller, and White are having run-offs to decide who the final four runners will be making up the district relay team. Hank Wyborney is putting the shot at district while Steve Curl will be tossing the discus. Both men are among the best in the district and should fair well during the competition.

The District Championships are being held in Salem, Oregon this year due to problems with the track at Lewis and Clark in Portland.

Comment by Editor-In-Chief:

I wonder if anyone qu the logic of throwing cher for fourteen innin

All of the athletes are training hard and will represent NNC proudly.

Located in Owyhee Shopping Center
Next to Kings
505 12th Ave. E.
Nampa, Idaho 83655
466-0

Total Image
Style With Class
Hair And Nails

HAIR CUTS
$6.00 (w/coupon)
w/style $9.00

REG. $8.00
w/style $12.00

Karen Bass OWNER
Sheila Huling
Pam Stilwell

HAZZYS Book and Stationery

"Serving You — With You In Mind Since 1928"

- Hallmark Cards & Party Goods
- Stationery — Books & Bibles
- Gifts — Albums & Idaho Souvenirs
- Art & School Supplies
- Wedding & Anniversary Accessories
- Office Supplies

Remember HAZZYS HAZ IT

Schmitt's
Shoe Repair

Leather goods repaired while you wait

1510 1st. St. S.
446 7212

Classified Ad
Prepare for your JOB INTERVIEWS!

Read Step-By-Step Approach To A Successful Job Interview. Send $3.75 to:

For the women's team, Coach Alban is training

SPORTS

Tennis Teams Rise to Greatness

by Tim Seiver

The 1985-86 men's team is looking good heading into its final weekend before the district playoffs.

The team will travel to Columbia Basin College and Blue Mountain Community College this weekend. This will be the end of their regular season play.

Then it's off to Willamette University for the district championships on May 9th and 10th. The Crusaders will be going into that tournament with a strong chance to be a threat. Coach Myron Finkbeiner stated, "The team is ready for districts and we'll be tough." On a common teams played record, the Crusader men should be the No. 3 seeded team. Binfield, the defending champion is seeded No. 1, and Willamette is seeded No. 2.

The netters' record now stands at 7 wins and 10 losses, but their record doesn't show that 9 of those 10 losses came to N.C.A.A. Division 1 schools and the other loss came to Whitman University, which is the No. 1 ranked N.A.I.A. team in the northwest. Finkbeiner feels that this has led to his team's readiness for district, playing some very tough teams close. "At the I.S.U. tournament last week, we were barely beaten by Idaho State, and looked extremely well against Utah State. Utah State is the strongest team we've played this year," said Finkbeiner.

The team is now led by Mike Caven and Greg Belzer, who are very competitive for the No. 1 spot. At No. 3, Rob Warwick; Steve Caven is playing No. 4. Newcomer Kelly Bokn is looking strong in the No. 5 spot, and Nick Tobia finishes off the list in the No. 6 spot. Rich Hendley is out with a broken metatarsal and Jeff Richter did not return to school third term. The doubles team of Mike Caven and Rob Warwick is also looking very strong.

Finkbeiner feels that all of the men are playing well and is hoping to take the district by surprise and win the tournament.

by Tim Seiver

Coming off a very decisive win over Western Oregon State College, 8-1, and a close 4-5 loss to College of Idaho at NNC, the women's tennis team now waits for the playoff results to come out and hopes for a possible at large berth into the district tournament.

With their win-loss record now at 10 wins and 4 losses, they stand a good chance. They are at full strength now with no injuries.

The team is led by the No. 1 singles play of Nachele Roberts; Michelle Jones is No. 2; Anita Tilzey, No. 3; Debbie Ulrey, No. 4; Kris Rees, No. 5; Janelle Barnes, No. 6; and Jeanne Johnson and Alicia Tilzey finish the list, both coming back off injuries.

Coach Linda Grim is pleased with the way the women are playing. "Janelle and Debbie are playing very well now in singles and at the No. 2 doubles position, Kris and Jeanne are also playing well."

The women are through with their regular season and now must wait for the news before they know about district.

512 12th Ave. Road
Nampa
466-9233

PLEASE INDICATE COUPON
 WHEN ORDERING
(Not Good With Any Other Offer)

FREE Litre Of Expires May 31, 1986.
Soft Drink Delivery ph: 466-4333

WITH EVERY LARGE PIZZA DELIVERED

