Intra-Mural Speech Tournery Slated for March 9-10, With Numerous Entries

All Societies Will Take Part in Events

Dates for the speech tournament which is a part of the Athletic Literary activity program, has been set for March 9 and 10.

Debating will be the most important of the speech events. The subject chosen for the debates is "Resolved: that the United States should cooperate in establishing and maintaining an International police force upon the defeat of the axis." Teams will consist of one person each, and each person must prepare to debate both sides of the question. Four preliminary rounds will be held. The best two teams from each society will compete in the finals.

Finals will be judged by members of the faculty, while the preliminaries will be judged by student ratings.

Post war plans will be the subject of the extempore speeches. Forty minutes before delivery time three subjects will be drawn by the contestants: one will be chosen and the other two will be returned. The rating in the final round will be the sum of the ratings in the three preliminary rounds plus two times the score made in the final. Impromptu speeches will be given on current editorials. No advance preparation will be necessary or possible. The two leading contestants from each society will enter the finals.

For the after-dinner speeches the subject "The Army and the Navy" has been chosen. The two best speeches from each society will be given after dinner in Morrison Hall on Friday evening.

Participation points for these events are 10 for each person. The tournament points are as follows: debate, 300, 200, 125 and 75. The other three events receive the same number of points: 100, 70, 40 and 25. Four hundred cup points will be given to the society with the most tournament points. Second place will receive 250 points; third 100 points and fourth, 50 points.

TAVES ELECTED HEAD OF HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Elected to represent the club were Verona Taves, president; Grace Yoder vice-president, Violet Johnson program chairman, Elaine Kern secretary, and Romona Vanderpool, publicity chairman.

Creating a friendly relationship among the Home Ec students, arousing interest in the Home Economics Department, and gaining more knowledge concerning such things as proper dress for various campus occasions are the purpose of the organization. Under the direction of Miss Elaine Carlson, sponsor, preparations are being made to fulfill these purposes through bi-monthly meetings, a chapel program, a banquet, and a style show.

Also at work in the interest of the club is a committee to draw up a constitution which will be presented to the Student Council for authorization.

NEW LIBRARIAN IS NAMED BY CORLETT

Dr. Lewis T. Corlett announced this week the appointment of Laurel E. Holcomb of Los Angeles, Calif., to succeed Mrs. Margaret Fred as Northwest Nazarene college, librarian. Mrs. Fred, who has been critically ill for the past few months has been unable to assume her work as librarian.

She received her certificate in librarianship from the University of California this month, and has had extensive training in library work. She acted as student assistant in the Los Angeles City College library for three years and is well qualified for the position to which she has been named.

Miss Holcomb is expected to arrive in Nampa soon to assume her duties in the N. N. C. library. Mrs. L. T. Corlett has been acting as librarian during the past term.

Miss Holcomb comes to N. N. C. on the recommendation of the Rev. Ted Martin, former N. N. C. student who is now alumni representative on the Board of Regents.

A committee was appointed to arrange for a sophomore class party to be held soon, and includes Donna Hoxie, Marguerite Spencer, Ardeth Grover and President Hurn.

Meeting To Continue Through March 5

The Rev. Arthur C. Morgan, a dynamic speaker and successful soul winner, opened the special spring revival evangelistic services February 27, taking as his subject on Sunday morning, "The Rich Young Ruler," and on Sunday evening, "Prepare to Meet Thy God." The auditorium was filled with attentive interested audience.

At the Monday morning chapel service, Rev. Morgan gave an inspiring message on the importance of prayer in one's every day life. Using James 5:16 as the text, he stressed the fact that prayer is the solution to all of our problems.

The services are being held in the N. N. C. chapel and are continuing through March 5 on each school day morning at 11 a. m. and each evening at 7:30 p. m.

Music for the services is under the direction of Prof. Roger Taylor and consists of special choir numbers, quartets, trios, duets and solos.

Rev. Morgan, prior to his appointment to his present post as District Superintendent of the South Dakota District, Church of the Nazarene, has served for several years in the field of evangelism during which time he traveled in all parts of the nation and as an aggressive pastor, having served churches at Henryetta, Oklahoma, Wichita, Kansas, and Oskaloosa, Iowa. He has also served on the board of trustees of three Nazarene colleges: Bethany at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Olivet at Kankakee, Illinois, and Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa, Idaho.

THIS COLLEGIATE WORLD (By Associated Collegiate Press)

It may be just feminine influence since co-eds took over the management of the Westminster college student bookstore, and again it might be intended as a gentle Leap Year hint to army and navy cadets on the campus. But observers are doubting that it was accidental when a biology textbook titled "Man" was displayed next to another called "Animals Without Backbones." Co-ed bookstore managers are non-committal.

For the fourth time Calvin Cum-bie shook hands with the president of North Texas State Teachers college—and received his fourth diploma.

This time he got to keep it. On the other three occasions he was only a proxy.

Dr. Edward D. Neill, first president and founder of Macalester college, St. Paul, was a graduate of Amherst college and at one time was secretary to President Lincoln.

"Teachers should start immediately to teach children there will be no peace in the world if they retain hate for Japs, Germans or anybody. It is equally important that they learn not to hate minority groups in their own country." Robert J. Havighurst, professor of education at University of Chicago, urges caution in wartime use of the doctrine of hate.

MEN WEREN'T MADE TO LIVE LIKE THIS

He was just another N. N. C. student now garbed in khaki, who had come back to visit the campus, but his manner had grown more serious during the months in which he had been away from the college. As he walked about the campus, he gave voice to the wish that conditions once more might be normal and that the boys might be free once more to return to peace-time pursuits.

"Men weren't made to live this way," he remarked suddenly with unexpected vehemence. "It isn't normal for them to have to live in a state of war and unrest." Then the young soldier had gone but his words seemed to hover over the campus.

He was right; men weren't made to live this way. Despite the petty demagogues who may shout that war is the natural state of mankind, and the long and bloody history of civilization, filled with warfare, men weren't created to kill and maim and give way to hatred.

The generation now growing up in an atmosphere polluted by war must be convinced that there is a better path for mankind to take towards the solution of differences. If civilization is to be kept from utter destruction, the belief that men weren't meant to live in a perpetual state of unrest must become an integral part of every one of us.

Men who have had the shadow of death as a constant companion crouching beside them in trenches and fox holes from Tarawa to Italy know that men were not made for such conditions. It is a solemn trust of every person who remains within the confines of his own country to become cognizant of this fact. It must be kept before the world when the hour of Armistice arrives to guide men to a practical peace.

The young soldier was right. Men were not made to live like this.

EXIT '43-44 BASKETBALL

Now that we've shelved our lusty yells, and the Crusaders have checked in their uniforms for one more year we can all look back on a season of good performing by our basketball squad.

Even though the column of losses weighs more heavily than our wins, we have ample reason to be more than proud of the boys! Starting from the proverbial "scratch," Coach Allison built a team that gave everything it had for the honor of the school. What makes us proud is the way they fought against overwhelming odds in game after game without giving way to discouragement.

When most of the colleges, comparable in size to N. N. C., were giving up basketball for the duration, we could boast of a hard-fighting, clean-playing team that wouldn't quit.

The boys have brought recognition and respect to N. N. C., they have given the student body some first-class entertainment, and they themselves have profited from participation in the sport.

To Coach Ralph Allison, to Captain Bob Smith, and to each individual player go our appreciation and a sincere "nice going!"

WHAT IS AN ATOLL?

The word "atoll" mentioned in dispatches from the South Pacific, is likely to be used more frequently in the fighting of the next few weeks.

An atoll is a coral reef, generally circular, enclosing a body of ocean water. The Gilbert and Marshall island groups are mostly atolls.

These islands are built up from the petrified bodies of the minute coral insects or polyps which exist in many parts of the ocean. They have the faculty of taking coral or lime from the seawater, and as they have died in unaccounted billions throughout the ages, their skeletons have built up the islands which the Japanese have fortified, and which we are now fighting to secure.

Some of these atolls are one hundred miles or more in length, and there are thousands of them. Generally they are only a few feet above sea level, but palm trees and other vegetation have grown up on them from seed drifted ashore or perhaps carried by birds.

In some cases, coral reefs have been built around volcanic or other islands in the oceans, and there

Mark of a Christian

BY EDGARD KINCAID

TARRY YE

Some of the greatest tragedies in life have resulted not from war, accidents, earthquakes or various other phenomena of nature, but from failure to tarry a little while before acting. "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread." Cain acting upon the impulse took his brother Abel's life. He bore the penalty of his sin for the remainder of his days. Esau for the spur of the moment sold his birthright and later found as a result that he was deprived of the blessing which was rightfully his.

These are Biblical examples of failing to tarry and to consider before acting. But this failing is by no means antiquated. We have seen men rush out into the ministry instead of tarrying to finish their education. We have seen some construction projects fail because the builders failed to tarry and count the cost before they began building. Yes, and you yourself can look back with sad regret at some move you made without tarrying a moment to consider the matter before you acted. Of course, I'm well aware of the fact that sometimes people do nothing but tarry when they should act, yet all too often we do not tarry and take time out to prepare for action.

Though his disciples had followed Jesus for three years keeping him company day and night, He knew they needed to tarry a while before they began to preach the gospel. Thus came the command of our Lord, "Tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem until ye be endued with power from on high." When the disciples had received this, they were prepared to go into all the world.

Soon we will have a revival in our midst. Let us tarry until the power of the Holy Spirit comes upon us. Let us tarry a little while until we feel the touch of God before we begin the duties of the day. Above all, let us tarry until we are endued with power from on high. Let us tarry—'tis the mark of a Christian.

By The Way

By WESLEY YOUNG

Everywhere I go people ask me how the annual is coming along. Perhaps it would be advantageous to make a report in this column to forestall further inquiries. By the time this paper has come from the press all the copy will have been sent to the engraver except part of the Classes and Snapshot sections. The entire section on Organizations went to the printers a week ago and has already been printed. The Departments section went to the printer last Saturday. So far we have been able to keep up with all of our deadlines. If nothing unusual comes up the annual should be ready for distribution by the first week in May.

Let it be said with shame that mankind never seems to appreciate its privileges while they have them. It is only when they have gone or are fading fast that we look back and realize what we have been enjoying. This is just as true of N.

are coral reefs along a very considerable part of the Australian coast line. The Great Barrier reef is perhaps the best known.

Thousands of American soldiers are probably fighting on atolls this very moment.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Sort of fun to have March arrive, isn't it . . . means that there are more kinds of animals wandering around the campus . . . lions, as in if March comes in like, it doesn't go out as . . . and lambs and wolves . . . and then there's Bill Butler.

Brisk as a March wind is that Bob Tolbert-Ethel Scheitler deal that's been rah-rahing together at basketball games . . . Don Cozard and Helen Pullen had just as much fun as anyone at Friday night's game . . . they were downright absorbed in sports or something!

"Quick, Dallas! the flit!" is June Douglas' favorite expression anymore . . . and why did June wear dark glasses when Dallas escorted her to the community concert Thursday night . . . we knew her anyhow . . . it's always dimple enough to identify her minus the eyes, even.

Just wondering . . . why Ralph George doesn't play some other game besides the Lone Ranger . . . how Kenny Rinard can appear so shy and be so otherwise . . . what kind of vitamin pills Miriam Eastly takes . . . why Norvil Nelson can't shake the nickname he's had pinned on him for so long.

After looking the field over carefully, Del "I'm Not Conceited, I'm Just Aware of My Potentialities" Hobza renewed an old friendship with Sue Prueca . . . the academy has the college beat all hollow, we're told . . . Ray Cotner picked up where he left off in dating Mary Louise Carlson . . . seemed swell to have Ray on the prowl around here again, Navy uniform and all . . . ditto Bob Sturtevant . . . ditto Dan Powell.

Haven't decided whether Ellis Palmer and Marlys Hobza are trying to strike up a duo deal or whether they just happened to be seen together more than a casual quota of times in the halls this week.

Art Mottram says with men who know the woman Hess it's Janice two to one . . . deciding that Art isn't far from being a smoothie and as for Janice . . . nuff said . . . we favor the match.

Wally Roseboro took the wrong path and got lost in Lakeview park the other night . . . said he'd have to write to Emily Post as he'd evidently taken the wrong fork . . . Things We Like . . . Frances Esser and Loisanne Johnson's loyalty . . . Vi Johnson's smile . . . the ease with which Johnny Cotner can strike up an interesting discussion.

If someone tells you that . . . Elizabeth Evans has quit drinking coffee . . . the typewriter in the Crusader office actually works . . . the bench system has been abolished . . . Royal Warner has dispensed with his upper lip camouflage . . . eight o'clock isn't really very early to have a class . . . DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT!

Next week we hope to discuss that vital topic, "Is the horseless carriage really here to stay?" Stick around, will ya?

Personalities

ARDETH GROVER

Fem personality of the week is Ardeeth Grover. Miss Grover comes from the neighboring city of Boise and is a sophomore. Known to many as "Ardie" she possesses an effervescent personality that flows as freshly and continuously as a mountain spring. She has a cheery hello and a pleasant smile for all who pass her way.

Ardeeth was born April 4, 1924, at Weeping Water, Neb. She has lived in Boise for the past few years.

She is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi society of which she is now treasurer. Outstanding ability in music has given her an active part in A capella, Philharmonic, Girl's Glee club, and in the Silver Chord trio. She was recently honored by being chosen Athletic-Literary council secretary for this semester.

Her hobbies are playing the vibra harp and the piano which she has played since she was three years of age. She recently made an agreement with the Navy but will not report for active duty until a commission has been received . . . but not by her.

ED DOWD

Congenial, calm and sedate, with a good sense of humor and a personality all his own . . . is our left handed, red-haired friend and history student, Ed Dowd.

He comes to us from Willamette college in Salem, Oregon. While he was in Salem he was president of the Young Peoples' society and held many other offices. Here he is our Spencerian speech club president and program chairman for Sigma Lambda Alpha.

His hobbies are art, poetry, playing the cornet and star gazing. His favorite day is Friday . . . his favorite book, and I quote, "Is the book of parables . . . and I just love sugar on my beans and definitely dislike carrots . . . just look at my hair."

"My major is history, my minor getting a wife," he says . . . but we're beginning to think his minor is becoming his major.

to realize just what N. N. C. has meant to us. Think of the enduring lessons you have learned from the lives of your instructors, to say nothing of their classes. Think of your friends and classmates who would give a great deal to be in school with you. Think of the years of Christian fellowship that have been your lot. Remember the many spirit-filled revivals that have swept the campus while you were here. Recall the hundreds of people who have sacrificed so that

Dave Messenger, S 2/c, writes from San Diego: "John Harris just received the last issue of the Crusader and we surely enjoyed reading it. I was also glad to hear that the A. D. P.'s were still on top."

"John and I were transferred from Farragut to San Diego. We are stationed in a park here. It was built for a fair in 1915 and then used again for the World's Fair in 1935 and 1936. We sleep in tents, rather cold and damp in the mornings and especially so after a rain. The park joins the big Naval hospital here."

"Most of the buildings are wards. There are a lot of the boys here from Guadalcanal and Tarawa. Most of them have malaria."

"I have been telling you all about the hospital and forgot to tell you we are studying to be corpsmen. We aren't patients here. The main courses are nursing and first aid with a little anatomy, hygiene, chemical warfare, materia medica, meteorology and cales-thenics. I had to give the class a demonstration on giving a hypodermic inoculation yesterday. I about rammed the needle clear through a guy's arm. I was just a little nervous."

Pvt. John W. Watt, A. S. N., now stationed in India, writes in a letter to DeWitt McAbee, student body president, "It has been well over a year since I was able to visit old N. N. C. and I sure miss the welcome of the school. If there are any students who would like to write to me, I would be glad to hear from them."

(Editor's Note: We will not print overseas addresses in the Crusader, but will keep them on file in the office. Any student desiring the overseas address of any student whose letter we may print may have it by calling at the office for it.)

Service Notes

Bob Sturtevant, student at N. N. C. during the first term this year, was a visitor on the campus Monday. Sturtevant has been in training at the Farragut Naval training base for the past few weeks.

Dan Powell, who left school during the first semester to go into the Navy, has been spending a furlough in Nampa with his parents. He has been stationed at Farragut, and expects to be assigned to another training center soon.

Ray Cotner, former N. N. C. student who is now in the Navy has been visiting in Nampa for the past two weeks. Cotner has been stationed at Farragut, but will go to Chicago for radio technician's training.

Warren G. (Jack) Harding, who recently checked out of the Academy to enlist in the Marine corps is now stationed at San Diego, Calif., according to word received

Dear Friends of N. N. C.:

Greetings from sunny California! We are now living in the most sunny spot in this renowned state—the Mojave Desert. It's a rugged country, where sagebrush and cacti abound. Nearby is a range of hills where rich gold mines existed in years gone by. The climate is not bad now, but they say it becomes quite warm here in the summer.

In Nov. 1 was commissioned a second lieutenant, and since then have been a weather officer in the Air Corps. For a while I forecasted at Long Beach, California, and now am in charge of the weather station at this airfield. Meteorology proves to be a very interesting work indeed, and occasionally I get a little flying in army planes. Mildred has been with me since we were married last July. She is working here now, and we have quarters on this field. Under these circumstances, life in the AAF is quite pleasant. We have been able to attend quite a few Nazarene churches in our travels, and have seen many friends who were formerly connected with N. N. C.

Always we are thankful for an education with a Christian background—the gift of Northwest Nazarene College. One of these days we hope to visit the college again. Meanwhile we would be glad to hear from you all.

Shelby Commissioned Second Lieutenant

Marvin C. Shelby, former N. N. C. student, was commissioned second lieutenant this week after completing bombardier training at the Carlsbad, N. M., Army air field.

Lieutenant Shelby, now becomes one of the Army air forces "triple-threat men" airmen who have completed instruction in dead-reckoning navigation and aerial gunnery in addition to the regular bombardiering course.

As an officer in the Army air forces ready for active duty, his destination is not disclosed.

He attended N. N. C. for two years, and was married recently to Miss Dorothy Nielsen of Portland, Ore., who also attended school at N. N. C.

by his parents, Rev. and Mrs. U. E. Harding.

BY THE WAY

N. N. C. could succeed. Think of choir-trips, debate tournaments, basketball games. Remember gaffs in the dorms and at Kampus Korner. Don't forget picnic days, campus days, and commencement. Think of all the things that you would remember if you were in Italy or India. Remember—remember—remember and appreciate.

JIM GYM RETURNS TO PEACE, QUIET

The gym gave a big sigh and settled down to the quiet routine of classes after withstanding once more the strain and tear of a blood thirsty crowd of basketball fans seething with rage at the atrocities inflicted upon them by the merciless Roseboro.

Not having a beard to mutter in this monastery of the muscular had to use its chimney to voice its feelings. "Nice couple of teams I put on the road this year," quoth the gym. "The college guys had the spirit but these young galoots really had the goods."

"Yep," said the gym answering itself for lack of cooperation from the cynics like you that think a gym can't talk, "those five guys and their coach really had the right angle on the thing, not a bad second team either, kept the bench warm as toast. Won out of games they did not bad if I am braggin' for my own team."

Twasn't all their own work though, some swell guy opened up and bought the whole outfit suits, things like that make the world keep going around in spite of a dirty dig row and then. Later the coach got them some warming jackets and then they had the class plus class."

"Well," continued Gym Jim, "be a year before I see so much excitement again, hope someone will help me spruce up a bit, maybe put ten cents worth of gray paint on my bleachers and sand me on the surface, bet I could put out a real team that way, from the way Betty and Barbara got out and got the gang yellin' till they quivered my timbers it was simple to see the school was behind the guys 100 per cent and a dob of color here and there makes things just that much brighter and worth yelling for. Ah well I better quit talking to myself or someone will say I am getting old and condemn me to inactive duty like storing plywood or holding choir robes." So saying the gym dozed off till the Hon. Arthur Mottram came next morning and started preparing Jim Gym for another day's schedule of classes.

Parade of Opinion

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

To the would-be war bride, Dr. Gulielma F. Alsop, physician for New York's Barnard college and co-author of a book on marriage, offers this advice: "Once assured in your own mind, marry him—the soldier, the sailor, the man of the sky—before he goes to war."

Dr. Alsop thinks "a lot of nonsense is being written and said about marriages."

After years of association with girls at the school, she said in an interview she feels young women should not be too timid and cautious about marrying men they've known for a reasonable length of time.

"Young people today are romantic, idealistic and ready for any kind of devotion," she said. The heightened emotion that sweeps the youth of a nation in war time makes for permanence in marriage.

Something New Has Been Added To NNA

Something new has been added.

The N. N. Aces, led by a leader; Lois Williamson, have recently been organized with the idea of realistic progress. This is reflected in their slogan Not on Top, But Still Climbing.

One of the results of this organization's efforts have been seen already in the form of a novel means of raising spirit at the games where the girls turned out in boys' coats that gave them a rather swaggerish and droopily draped appearance.

The girls have not as yet proved to be a really successful organization but if the leadership of a society is any indication of the society this one is a dilly of a super duper.

All the preceding has been said to gain license to list the officers in said society of self-appointed aces. (should that "a" be broad?)

PREXY—Lois Williamson.
Vice Aforesaid—Myran Lancaster.

Secretary—Louise Day.
Keeper of the Cash—Lillian Nutt.

Social Chairman—Dot Johnson.
Program Chairman—Betty Harding.

The colors chosen are red and white.

THE ACADEMY JOINS UP

At the present time there are no male graduates of the Senior class of "43" who are not in the service of their country.

One hundred per cent is a record of high value in any institution.

Not only are all of the "43" class in the service but three of the students now attending N. N. A. have enlisted in the Navy Reserves and one, Jack Harding, has left school to give the Marines a bit of assistance.

Those in the Navy Reserves are Johnny Harmon, Edgar Lynd and Paul McNutt.

"The basis of all marriage is responsibility and trust. And the young woman of today is self-reliant, capable and determined. I have confidence in the young woman of today to make a success of marriage and motherhood."

"But I do not advocate the weekend marriage, which is the chief thing to be feared. The young woman who meets a soldier on Friday, marries him on Saturday and parts with him—perhaps for months—on Monday may have serious difficulties ahead."

She advised war brides not to date other men, but to devote leisure hours to war work or to entertaining soldiers and sailors at properly conducted community parties.

She also warns young war brides: "You will now always be judged as a member of a partnership, not as an isolated individual. You must reflect your husband's ideals as well as your own."

"You have become a part of the war. Win the War with him."

Just Checkin' Up

Slip, bang, ow!

Nope, not that old flinch game that Warnock is inflicting on the school just another zoot suiter getting tangled up with her coat sleeves.

Back issues . . . Johnny Cramer and E. L. Jones at the sophomore party, also Bruce Maxey and Juanita Stanton. Ruby Feltar borrowed Bob Warnock for the evening. How much does Pauly Rein-er charge for an hour? Dee Carpenter's presence at the party Wis mere-ly a date but one never can tell what will grow from mere dates.

Lillian Nutt and Carpenter still make periodical pilgrimages to the P. O. to see how the male route is between here and Calif.

The latest (as near as I can get to the dead-line) is Friday's game.

The Sextet was out in full force, Pauly and Bob, Fuson and Turner, and our super deluxe cooing system, Paul Hurn and Orpha Jones, were operating on all 14.959 cylinders.

Johnny Harmon was in a Day-ze. Truly a pity that Johnny Cramer left Feltar standing up but as Broken Hearted Betty Harding says you never can tell about that Cramer man.

Carol Sharp and Marshall Griffith were cooking on both burners but the fire went out and they are acting kinda cool lately.

Crusaders Drop Last Two Games of Season to College of Idaho

Fuson Is High Point By Chalking Up 18

N. N. C. Crusaders played a brilliant game Friday night in the final game at Central Gym here. Although Hubinger was held down to 14 points the rest of the team was hot in the second half and proved too much for the gallant Nazarene five.

During the first half the score was tied five times, at 11, 12, 13, 19, and 21. This kept the crowd on their feet most of the time in this, the most exciting game of the season. The half ended with the score 27 to 22 in favor of the Coyotes.

The first six minutes of the second half spelled defeat for the Crusaders, when C. of I. ran the score up to 41 to 26 in a shooting streak. Hosoda and Hubinger sparked the attack at this point.

The high scorer of the game was not Hubinger as usual, but Fuson of the Crusaders. He potted 18 points. Hubinger followed with 16 points.

The officials called a fairly close game, calling eighteen fouls on each team. To add color to the game, Coach Alison hired Sgt. Bill Koche of Gowen field as one of the officials. Sgt Koche was an outstanding player for the House of David professional basketball team for a number of years before he was in the Army.

Smith (5) G (5) Baily
Vail (2) G (5) Lambing
Subs: N. N. C.; Dennis (2); C. of I.; Ryan (6), Hall (2).

Officials: Koche and Roseboro. The Crusaders were defeated by Hubinger at C. of I., in the first game of a home and home series between the two schools Thursday night by a score of 55 to 31. The big seventeen-year-old center of the Coyotes, Hubinger, potted 11 field goals in the game by merely standing beside the basket and dropping them in.

The game was rather a rough one so the officials were watching the game closely, when Warner accidentally tripped and fell into a Coyote player. The referee thought that he did it intentionally therefore he removed him from the game. This is explained so that no one will feel that N. N. C. players act in an unsportsmanlike manner and also that a sincere official will not be blamed for unfairness.

Fuson was high point man for the Crusaders with thirteen points. Warner was second with eleven.

BEARS DEFEATED BY N. N. C., 49-38

Bursting ahead in the last few minutes, the Crusaders walloped the Gowen Field "Bears" 49 to 38, last Monday night.

The entire first half was a nip and tuck affair with both teams taking the lead and then losing it. The half ended with the Crusaders leading 20 to 17.

Closely following the opening of the second half the Bears made a field goal to come within one point of the Crusaders. The score was tied twice in the first few minutes of play, and it looked as if it were going to be a tough battle all the way but finally the Bear's scoring dropped off and the Crusaders marched to victory.

Greene of the Bears, an ex-Globe Trotter, was high point man for the visitors with 11 points. If Greene had hit the basket the second half the score might have been different.

Hills led both teams in scoring with 16 points, closely followed by Fuson with 14 and Warner with 13 points.

Navy Quintet Bests NNC Crusader Team

The fast Whitman College Navy quintet at Walla Walla, Washington defeated the Crusaders twice in a row in the final road trip games for the N. N. C. hoopsters. These two games were the final games for the Whitman team as the Navy was moving them out on Wednesday.

The first night the Crusaders never managed to come very close to the strong Whitman's score although they played a hard game. The main reason for this is the fact that they had been on the road for over a week. They lost by a 53 to 31 score. Warner was high point man for both teams but only three men scored for the Crusaders while the scoring was evenly distributed throughout the entire Whitman team.

In the second game of the series the Missionaries' lead was challenged the entire first half with Vail and Fuson really hitting. However near the end of the half an accident caused Vail to leave the game. The second half, although the Crusaders put up a great defense, the Missionaries were successful in holding the Crusaders to eight points the second half. The final score was 58 to 24.

Trojans Trowned by Caldwell Cougars

Caldwell High School Cougars defeated the N. N. A. Trojans 61 to 20 in a preliminary battle here Monday night. The nervous Trojans were completely off their shooting and passing, while the strong Cougars glided to victory.

Warnock was the only Trojan to play a consistent game. Bob Warnock is one of the best guards in the valley in this writer's opinion, and almost any team in the valley would appreciate his presence on its side. During the entire season Bob has played consistently and well.

The loss by the Academy to Caldwell is by no means a disgrace, when you consider the fact that Caldwell high school is one of the best teams in Southern Idaho, and the best team in this area. My guess is that Caldwell will come close to taking the State tournament this year. The Trojans of the past season were a credit to this institution as they would be to any high school of similar size.

Fuson was the leading scorer for the Trojans. He made eight points before he fouled out in the third quarter. Four of the starting lineup fouled out.

ON THE SPOT

BY SMITH

Again it comes time to bid farewell to a great old friend here at NNC, King Basketball. Except for a few society games that have yet to be played, the basketball season is officially over for this year. When we look back over the season with respect to the number of victories and losses, we must admit that we haven't been very successful. However, success does not always abide with the victor. Much more important than winning games this year is the fact that we have kept a sport alive in a time of adverse and uncertain conditions. Colleges and Universities with enrollments much larger than ours have dropped out of competitive sports and a large percentage of those that have kept going are doing so with the help of Navy programs. Over half of our games this year were with service teams or colleges with Navy programs. Four schools which we normally compete against were unable to have teams this year. They are; Lewiston Normal, Albion Normal, Eastern Oregon, and B.J.C. B.J.C. had a team at the first of the season but the Army soon took care of that.

Although the war has caused plenty of headaches, it also gave us a chance to play schools we ordinarily wouldn't have played. Because of lack of competition closer to home we were privileged this year to travel to the coast and play Pacific College at Newburg, Ore., and Seattle Pacific College were high-lights of our trip because of a similarity between these schools and our own. Many new friends were formed and we were treated with a kindness and fellowship that will not soon be forgotten. We'll always remember "Stick" at S.P.C. and those swell breakfasts his sister could cook up. One last bit of newsy news before we deflate the basketballs and throw them in the closet is that four of the eight members of the traveling squad and the manager pulled down grade-points of 2.4 or better. Two had top "3." This is a plenty good argument against those leftists who tell you that a person can't play basketball and get good grades. Yes, I know, this was first semester, but then half of our games and most of our practices were first semester.

With the coming of spring and sunshine and flowers and stuff, a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of those spring sports that are just around the corner. (Fooled ya didn't I?) Track has been added to the list of sports this year but certain stipulations were made. As a measure of protection for applicants it will be required for entrants to practice at least five times before they can enter any event. And they must also enter the events a week before the meet. This will prevent any last minute entrants or changes.

There was quite some argument over baseball for the boys this year but it was finally voted in. It is doubtful if all of the societies will be able to field a complete team but it must be remembered that this was also true last fall in softball. To those who think that it requires a full team with plenty of reserves to win a ball game we are reminded of the boys' championship softball game last fall when the L.S.P.' with seven players defeated the S.L.A.'s who had a full team of ten and some in reserve. So start greasing those Gloves fellas and remember, save a little for those rusty arms.
