

Annual Spring Revival Begins March 28

"Calamity Kids," First of Comedy Productions, Goes On Stage Tonight

"The Calamity Kids," a three-act comedy by Jay Tobias, will be presented on the nights of March 19 and 20 by members of the LSP and SLA societies.

In the first of this semester's society comedy productions, leading roles are taken by Lu Anna Ammons, a freshman from Nampa, who plays the part of a peppery young lady and Harold Weber, a sophomore from Walla Walla, as Bradley Rivers, a university student who is recuperating from a siege of pneumonia.

The action occurs in the country home of Emily and Hezekiah Hoskins who are portrayed by Margie Clay and Jim Ridgeway, both freshmen from Salem, Ore.

Others in the cast include Joan Cook, sophomore, Molalla, Ore., as Midge and Gary Lund, freshman of Kinncay, Wyo., as Mickey, an ornery set of 15-year-old twins; Pat Somerville, freshman, Brainerd, Minn., as Clara Clagg, a gossipy old maid who is boarding at the Hoskins' home; Carol Newgard, a junior from Portland, as Opal Ludlow, the twins' uppity aunt from the city; Carol Brittain, a CHS senior, Montrose, Calif., and Howard Smith, junior from Spokane, as Lorraine and Elmer, Opal's children; and Dick Ivester, senior Nampa, as Gideon Garvey, a neighboring farmer who is the twins' uncle.

Student directors of the production are Ardis Manley, LSP, and Howard Smith, SLA.

Notice

Due to mid-semester examinations which will be given next week, the next issue of the CRUSADER will be published on April 9.

Mrs. Rose Voget Is Presented Her Master's Degree

ROSE VOGET

Mrs. Rose Voget, chairman of secretarial studies at NNC, has been awarded her Masters of Education degree from Washington State College at Pullman.

After graduating from Washington State College in 1945 with a B. A. degree, Mrs. Voget taught in Caldwell for one year and four years at Nampa High School. She has been a member of the NNC faculty since 1949.

At the present time Mrs. Voget is attending the Western Business Education Association which is meeting at the Hotel Congress in Portland March 18-20. She is an official delegate from the Idaho State Business Association.

REV. C. WILLIAM FISHER

Nampa Site of Fall State I. H. E. A. Meet

According to an announcement made by Mrs. Florence Aller, the biennial meeting of the Idaho Home Economics Association will be held in Nampa this coming fall.

Mrs. Aller, IHEA State councilor, extended the invitation, which was accepted, at the recent executive planning committee session held at the State House in Boise.

Elaine Carlson Is Given Leave of Absence To Complete Work On Master's Degree

The request of a year's leave of absence by Miss Elaine Carlson has been granted, according to President John E. Riley.

Miss Carlson, B. Mus., is a graduate of Northwest Nazarene College. Before joining the faculty in 1943 she taught in Washington.

The leave of absence was granted in order that she may complete work for her Master of Arts degree in the field of organ at the University of Idaho. She will also take additional Home Economic courses, specializing in the foods division.

Miss Carlson will return to the faculty for the term of 1955-56.

Rev. C. W. Fisher Is Guest Speaker; Services End Apr. 4

Spring revival services have been scheduled for March 28 through April 4 with Evangelist Rev. C. William Fisher of Kansas City, Mo. as the special speaker, according to President Riley. All the services will be held in College Church with Rev. Eugene Stowe in charge.

Rev. Fisher has completed a recent world tour through seventeen countries of Europe, Asia, and the Orient. More recently, he and Mrs. Fisher spent several weeks in the Hawaiian Islands conducting meetings principally in Honolulu. Rev. Fisher is a talented musician, and has written two books, "The Time Is Now" and "Second-Hand Religion."

As a special feature Rev. Fisher will present special music on the baritone horn with which he received first place in competition in the state of Oklahoma and second in national competition in Chicago.

A dynamic, interesting, and effective preacher, Rev. Fisher has among his sermon subjects the following: "Seventy Per Cent Is Not Passing," "Use It Or Lose It," and "Wake Up and Lift."

ELAINE CARLSON

tain, good in humorous readings; Noel Riley, excellent in memorized oratory; Anna Mae Bauerle, superior in original essay and Carol Russell, average in original poetry.

Betty Brown received a superior in dramatic readings; Lois Ann Kirley, a good in re-told story; Phil Heidner, a good in extemporaneous; Gary Finkbeiner, superior in poetry; and Nadine Seward, excellent in radio speaking.

CHS received the only superior in the radio drama division.

A smile creates happiness in the home, fosters good will in a business, and is the countersign of friends. Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen, for it is something that is no earthly good to anybody until it is given away.

CHS Tops Others In Speech Contest

Ten College High students participated in the Southwestern Idaho high school speech contest held at Meridian, March 12.

Competing against 27 other high schools in this area, including Boise and Nampa High Schools, the campus group came out on top. Six of the ten students advanced into state finals.

Ratings given were superior, excellent, good and average. Superior and excellent winners are entitled to compete in the state finals which will be held in Twin Falls, April 2.

College High students entering were Curt Zimmerman, excellent in after-dinner speaking; Carol Brit-

Seniors Will Take Comps On April 5; Sophomore Culture Tests Scheduled

On April 5 at 9:00 a. m. Mrs. Elmer Bittleston will give comprehensive examinations to graduating senior students.

This examination is required of each candidate for a degree, and supplementary work may be required if results are unsatisfactory.

During the same hours, students of the sophomore class will be taking General Culture tests, including a test for competence in the use of English.

For the first time, the culture tests will be scored electrically on the IBM test scoring machine at B. J. C.

... from the Librarian's Desk

"I have studied books rather than men," wrote Francis Bacon. "The proper study of mankind is books," said Aldous Huxley. Biographies not only tell us interesting facts about some great persons, but often lift us out of our own life and set us down in the midst of some great movement in history. Biography enables us to add other peoples' lives to our own. Because we want to make a success of our lives, it is fascinating to read the stories of success in others.

Biography is of the widest possible interest next to fiction. There is an exactness of statement, but there is something more than a chronicle of dates and acts. The author must add the flesh and blood, using memory, imagination, feeling and grace of style to lend color and movement to the picture.

Mark Twain said that an autobiography is always a give-away. The man who writes his own life cannot hide his own character. He reveals his inner life, his religious, emotional, and intellectual experiences. A sincere revelation must be interesting and valuable. Emerson said, "The real source of all biography is the confession of the man himself to somebody." Carlyle wrote, "A well-written life is almost as rare as a well-spent one."

Biographies of great men do more than almost any other books to encourage and inspire. Whether we mean to be ministers, missionaries, teachers, musicians, doctors, lawyers or whatever we want to be—the lives of leaders in our chosen field will be a great inspiration. By reading biographies, we add lives of leaders to ours, and make our own lives richer. Tennyson caused Ulysses to say: "I am a part of all I have met."

R. T. Williams library has a good collection of biographies and autobiographies. You will find them in the 92's and a few collections of stories in the 920's. Practically every field is represented. Read and enrich your life.

Most biographies use the name of the subject in the title. Those are easily found by consulting the card index by name of the man or woman whose life is written. However, there are some intriguing titles that give only a hint of the subject. Some give a hint of the field, but not of the man. A partial list follows: A Mingled Chime, My Cap and My Cape, A Prince in Israel, Spirit-filled, Skyward, The Spirit of St. Louis, The Man Who Talks with Flowers, Admiral of the Ocean Sea, In the Green Mountain Country, The Misses' Darling, Adventure in Two Worlds, Israfel, We Took to the Woods, Connecticut Yankee, The Shape of Sunday, Pilgrimage of Ideas and Death Be Not Proud.

Sweet Smelling Myrrh, To Master — A Long Goodnight, Blood Brother of the Swazis, I Married Adventure, Down Melody Lane, Here I Stand, The Potter's Vessel, The Man Called Peter, You're Only Human Once, And Gladly Teach, Sunshine and Smiles, This I Remember, Missionary Prospector, Beloved Friend, Campus Shadows, Days of Our Years, Up from Slavery, Revival Tornadoes, Fifty Years in Buckles and Saddles, The Diary of An Old Man, and Cheaper By the Dozen.

Dr. Riley Brings Lectures At ENC; Visits Relatives

Dr. John E. Riley was a busy man while visiting Eastern Nazarene College at Wollaston, Mass., in capacity of guest speaker for the annual Gould lectures.

Not only did he bring the lectures during the chapel hours, but he also delivered the messages for the annual Spring Holiness Convention held each evening.

Throughout the day, so Dr. Riley would have something to do, he was scheduled to speak at service clubs; the Union Lenten service at the First Baptist Church in Norwood, Mass.; and to forty ministers of the Boston Zone at a noon luncheon.

Much interest was shown by the ENC faculty when Dr. Riley spoke to them concerning the educational setup at NNC. He particularly emphasized the study of organization and religion and the first year of student self-government. He also held numerous conferences with faculty members on educational and religious problems.

Outside of his busy schedule, Dr. Riley visited his 79-year-old mother and other relatives at Haverhill, Mass.

Dr. Maude Rice Receives Faculty Emeritus Status

During the recent spring session of the Board of Regents, Dr. Maude Rice, Ph. D. in Biological Science, was elected to an emeritus status on the NNC faculty.

According to Dr. A. R. Aller, head of the biological department, "1953 brought to a close a 15 year term of faithful service at NNC by Dr. Rice.

"Few persons have been more diligent in the performance of their duties than has this honored woman. She has exhibited great resourcefulness in improvising in a laboratory that was often inadequately equipped. Faithful attendance to chapel and to the Thursday prayer and fasting hours will not soon be forgotten. Service was her watchword. NNC has no greater friend than Dr. Rice."

He attended an NNC reunion at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Kauffman, who were members of the NNC faculty last year.

Among those present were Stanley Nordmo, Nicky Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. William Osterhout, Rev. and Mrs. Henry Knowles and Prof. and Mrs. Kent Goodnow.

A Glance With Les At World Events

A wheel of history came into full circle last week. In Tokyo, the U. S. and Japan signed a mutual defense assistance agreement in which the United States undertakes to arm the nation it was fighting only nine years ago.

The crucial clause of the treaty states: "The government of Japan . . . will make, consistent with the political and economic stability of Japan, the full contribution permitted by its manpower, resources, facilities, and general economic conditions to the development and maintenance of its own strength and the defensive strength of the free world."

The agreement will boost Japan's defense force from 120,000 to 160,000 men and provides for destroyers, tanks, jeeps, airplanes and other military needs. It also provides for a 700-man military advisory group to serve with the Japanese defense force.

The United States will start the movement of 500,000 tons of surplus wheat and 100,000 tons of barley to Japan. Then Japan will sell the grain domestically and in turn use the money for guns and munitions.

The treaty was a major step toward the day when U. S. forces can withdraw from Japan, and Japan takes its place as a friend and ally in the defense of the anti-communist world.

"See My Lawyer" To Be Staged March 26-27 By ADP-Oly Groups

March 26-27 are the dates of the combined ADP-Oly production, "See My Lawyer." The three act comedy by Richard Maibaum and Harry Clook, is being directed by ADP Betty Bradford from Halfway, Ore., and Dell Morgan, Oly, from Valpraiso, Ind.

Cast Includes 18

The cast includes eighteen characters. Arthur Lee, an up-and-coming young attorney is portrayed by Ed Arnold, Kelso, Wash. The junior member of the firm, Pete Russo, is played by Gary Finkbeiner from Nampa. Wayne Bauder, a resident of Kennewick, Wash., plays the role of the senior partner, Joe O'Rourke. Gladys Fred of Nampa takes the part of the able secretary, Fay Frankel, who is also Arthur's fiancée.

The part of Morris Schnurer is played by Sam Scammon of Laurel, Mont., and Bruce Larson from Medford, Ore., enacts Robert Carlin, a fabulous millionaire who becomes a client. Cliff Taylor of Banning, Calif., takes the part of Schero Kato, Carlin's Japanese chauffeur. The Carlin family lawyer is portrayed by Merritt McKay of Ione, Ore.

Fay's young brother, Irving Frankel, who is always doing the wrong thing at the right time, is played by Wally Johnson of Minneapolis. Nampa Betty Brown has taken the part of Blossom LaVerne, one of Carlin's jilted friends.

Minor Parts Cast

Other characters include Sydonia Tyler, a client, by Barbara Sanford of Detroit Lakes, Minn.; telephone linesman by Fred Stuart of Nampa; a drugstore clerk, Harvey Farr of Modesto, Calif.; Mamie, his assistant, Carol Wion of Nampa; the policeman, Leon Doane of Nampa; the stenographer from next door, Glee Barnett of Eugene, Ore.; Western Union boy, Myron Finkbeiner of Nampa and shoeshine boy, Don Morgan of Valpraiso, Ind.

Harlem Clowns Play Basketball, Football, Softball in Crowd - Pleasing Exhibition

During the Harlem Clown-NNC basketball game Saturday night, one wasn't sure whether the game in progress was basketball, football or softball. Hal Weber, Crusader guard at the left, stands by as the colored boys rough up Referee Bob Fuller.

SPORTS SLANTS

By Smitty

Since the last issue there has been quite a lull in the sports activities mainly due to the cold weather we've been having. We might be able to dig up a few bits of interest though as we rummage through the files more commonly known as a brain. Right now the file's pretty empty.

The signing of the University of Idaho Vandals baseball team to play the Crusaders is going to be a big boost to the local ball club and it ought to be a good game too. As we understand the situation, the Vandals are just coming here as a warm-up game before their conference schedule starts, but if 'Pop' Frazier has anything to say about it they're going to wish they had warmed up with someone other than the red-hot Crusaders. If we can knock over this double header it will really give the school some prestige in the field of sports. The game will be played at Rodeo Field under the lights and is expected to be the big baseball attraction in the valley this year.

As yet the Administration has not released any information as to who will be Coach Lee's successor as director of athletics. Several names have been mentioned around the campus but they're strictly rumors.

The new system of playing off intramural sports has been a big success so far this semester with more participation than there's been in a long time. For those who don't know how it works it's like this: Your athletic director must sign up your name and if you don't play off your matches your society forfeits one point. It places a little more responsibility on you.

At press time the grudge clash between the ADPs and the Olys was undecided. Both society causes were strengthened by the addition of varsity players, however, so it should have been a good exhibition. Helping the Olys were Finkbeiner, Doane, Reisch, Stickney and Back. ADP contenders were Kinzler, Peppley and Thompson.

That's about all for today except we'd like to wish the motorcade visitors an enjoyable time here on the campus.

Crusader, Trojan Teams Honored At Annual Booster Club Banquet

Members of the local Boosters Club honored the two campus basketball teams at their annual banquet March 8 in Morrison dining hall. Approximately 150 guests were present to listen to the jokes of Paul Corlett, master of ceremonies and nearly everyone got a chance to put in a word.

Rev. Raymond Kratzer gave the invocation and Rev. Carl Wooten offered the benediction. Music was furnished by the school trombone quartet consisting of Paul Freeberg, Gale Maxey, Les Hoyle, and Norman Crofford accompanied by Miss Joy Tink.

Coach Vail presented letters to the College High Trojans. Those receiving awards were Ron Kratzer, Bill James, Phil Younger, Harold Wesche, Roger Johnson, Phil Heidner, Don Doane, Bud Wheeler, Don Constable and Milt Alexander, manager.

Coach Lee presented letters to his last Crusader ball club and gave two special awards—the free-throw to Capt. Myron Finkbeiner and the inspirational award to Mick Dean.

Those earning letters were Myron Finkbeiner, Darrel Reisch, Harold Stickney, Mickey Dean, Harold Weber, Duane Peppley, Clarence Kinzler, Leon Doane, Len Back, Paul Ralphs and Stan Kern and Howard Smith, managers.

The address of the evening was given by Lyle Smith, director of athletics at BJC, on the subject of democracy in sports.

Kenneth Montgomery, president of the boosters' club, directed the planning of the banquet.

SLA's Carl Bryson Is Ping Pong Champ

Carl Bryson, top paddle-handler for the Sigma Lambda Alphas, has annexed the ping pong championship of NNC for the second semester by beating Merv Gale, ADP.

In third place was Myron Finkbeiner, Oly, who edged out fourth place Glen Gertson, LSP. Fink won the first three games and Gert took three games to tie it up. Finkbeiner came through in the last game, however, to take the match and third place.

Men's Volleyball Paced By ADPs

Men's volleyball has gotten off to a good start this semester, and the favorites for the championship have already shown their colors. The ADPs, winners of their first three games, are now leading the league.

Playing two out of three games, with 15 points a game, the ADPs walloped the SLAs, 15-2 and 15-6 for their first win; whipped the LSPs 15-6 and 15-7 for their second and, still only playing two games, they trounced the Olys 15-12 and 15-7.

The Olys are in second place, having lost only to the leaders. It took them three games to beat the LSPs and SLAs each time losing the second.

In third place are the SLAs with one win and two losses. Their only win was over the LSPs. The LSPs are as yet winless.

Harlem Clowns, a traveling professional team, played the NNC Crusaders last Saturday night at Central Auditorium before a capacity house. Their tricks and antics kept the crowd in stitches and the referees jumpy all evening.

Coach Lee surprised the Clowns with a dark-horse in the fourth quarter which almost upset the visitors. Lanky Stan Kern, with his running jump shot, went wild early in that period and sank one for two, hitting 50% of his shots.

The Clowns finally pulled away and won the game after playing a little baseball and football as well as a lot of basketball.

Horseshoe Sport Lists 72 Entrants

Spring must surely be here, for horseshoes have been started for second semester. There were so many participants in it, however, that a bracket has not yet been arranged. A total of 72 men signed up with their athletic directors for the shoe-throwing sport.

For the SLAs and Olys, there were 22 signed members each in the tournament, while the ADPs have 18, and the LSPs 10. As soon as the more fortunate are divided from the less fortunate, tournament matchings will be arranged, and the games will proceed.

TROJAN TALK

By College Hi Bets

Early Friday morning, March 5, CHS seniors slipped out of Nampa for a two-day trip to McCall. Everyone had lots of fun playing in the snow and swimming. On Friday night the group enjoyed a big banquet. The evening devotions was one of the most outstanding things of the entire trip. After singing, praying and testifying, God came in a wonderful way and four seniors accepted the Lord as their personal Saviour.

Members of the high school have decided to have their own intramural programs. This has not been planned to take the students from the college intramural program, but to bring the junior high and senior high closer together.

We have four societies, but as yet they are unnamed. For the time being they are the First, Second, Third and Fourth. The officers are as follows:

First—president, Ron Kratzer; vice president, Carol Brittain; athletic directors, Martha Hopkins and Bill James; program chairman, Gary Finkbeiner; secretary, Anita Ogstad, and treasurer, Anna Mae Baurle.

Second—president, Ray Ax; athletic directors, Gerry Gray and Bud Wesche; program chairman, Nadine Seward; secretary-treasurer, Roxie Hull, and sponsor, Mrs. Tame.

Third—president, Noel Riley; vice president, Bud Wheeler; athletic directors, Sharon Finkbeiner and Roger Johnson; program chairman, Betty Brown; secretary, Joyce Cronrath, and treasurer, Betty Coffman.

Fourth—president, Don Doane; vice president, Milton Alexander; athletic directors, Lucille Cotner and Don Constable; program chairmen, Beverly Gustin and Pearl Tromburg; secretary, Sidney Lewis, and treasurer, Bobby Dobbs.

A play, "The Little Dog Laughed" is going to be performed by CHS students sometime in April. Mrs. E. R. Tame and student director Betty Brown, along with the cast are working hard to make the production a great success.

Those included in the cast are Nadine Seward, Keith Wright, Betty Coffman, Curt Zimmerman, Naomi Wolstenholm, Donald Doane, Don Constable, Polly Taylor, Carol Wion, Marilyn Woodbeck, Pearl Tromburg and Lois Ann Kirley.

"The Forest Prince," an operetta, will be presented by the CHS choir sometime during the latter part of May, according to Mrs. Elva Roberts, director.

Business Department's Machines Display Proves Successful; Is Attended By 700

Over 700 persons visited the Business Department's Machines Display held in the college gym March 11-12.

The success of the affair was so great that businessmen requested a continuation of the project. Several surrounding colleges and high schools visited the display and the department. The Thursday morning panels were the highlights of the Business Conference.

Seniors Are Honored

Senior business majors and members of the Business Conference panels were guests at a Thursday noon luncheon in Morrison parlor.

Those attending were Don Christianson, Bonnie McGraw, Bob Dennis, Roger Weber, Sam Scammon, Marvin Emrich, Jack McEvoy, Russ Miller, Harold Hughes and Bertie Graham, seniors.

Faculty and panel members included Mrs. Rose Voget, Mr. and Mrs. Hays Johnson, Dr. Thelma B. Culver, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hanson, E. C. Weber of Walla Walla, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Janosky.

CWB Gospel Teams Appear in Program

Immediately following the March 10 prayer service, members of the Christian Workers Band met in Morrison dining hall for a time of refreshment — both spiritual and physical.

Various speakers and singing groups who have been sponsored by the organization throughout the year performed. Those speaking were Paul Anderson, Dave Draper, Jim Ridgeway, Don Runyon and George Ferguson.

Musical groups taking part included Bob Shafto and Joyce Thun, Lillian George, Paul McNutt, Lloyd Eitzen and Jean Lang, and a trombone quartet composed of Gale Maxey, Les Hoyle, Paul Freeburg and Norm Crofford.

Following the program a light lunch was served.

TATIONS from the Music Dept.

Members of the four societies are well at work preparing for the annual spring music contest which will probably be held the week of April 4-9. Finals will be run off in chapel, April 20, 21 and 23.

The music contest points can go a long way toward the winning of the faculty loving cup.

Heading the various societies as contest chairmen are Joy Tink, LSP; Ginny Poplin, ADP; Colleen Wooten, SLA, and Norm Crofford, Oly.

Included in the contest will be ladies' vocal solos, men's vocal solos, instrumental solos, ladies' trios, male quartets and instrumental ensembles.

Outside judges will be secured for the final competition.

Alpha Phi Lambda Members Hear Dr. Gerald Wesche

Members of Alpha Phi Lambda heard a talk on the nervous breakdowns of preachers and preachers' wives given by Dr. Gerald Wesche at their last meeting.

Other programs have included a panel discussion of the relation between philosophy and theology presented by Prof. Francis Reeves, Dr. Carl Hansen, and Rev. Elwood Sanner; a talk on the ministerial treatment of the mentally deranged; and a presentation on how to read the Bible by Prof. M. A. Wilson.

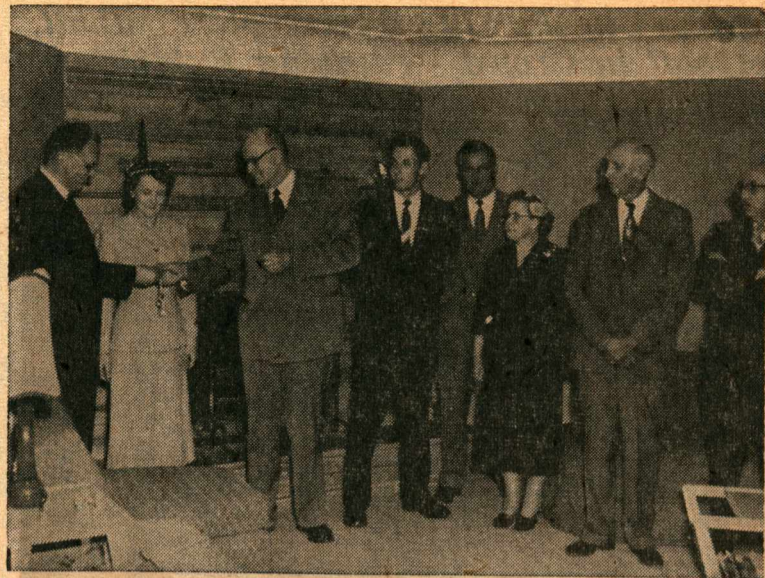

The group has taken as its project for the year the purchases of the latest two volumes of the Expositor's Bible to be placed in the library, plus 100 copies of Prof. Reeves' lecture on heterosexual relationships.

Plans are being made for the annual Alpha Phi Lambda breakfast. Ross Carroll is the chairman in charge. No date has been set for the breakfast.

Thirty Attend FMB Annual Breakfast

Approximately 30 attended the Foreign Missions breakfast at the home of Prof. and Mrs. F. C. Sutherland on March 6.

Chairman of the committee in charge was Nadine Webster, while Mary Lou Oldenkamp, Corabelle Anderson and Jean Figg assisted.

Marshall Scientists Hear Dr. R. Maybury

Dr. Robert Maybury, Chemistry professor at the College of Idaho, presented a lecture on "The Chemistry of the Blood" at the March 5, meeting of the Marshall Science Society.

One of the interesting highlights of the talk was his description of how the blood which is donated to the Red Cross is broken up into fractions and stored.

Dr. Maybury is a graduate of Eastern Nazarene College.

Korean Slides, Films Shown At IRC Meet

At the regular meeting of the International Relations Club on March 8, members were shown colored slides and movies by Dr. Graydon Cross and James Muzzy.

Dr. Cross served in the Army Medical Corps Hospital in Pusan and Muzzy, an NNC student was in Korea during World War II.

The local group has been invited to send a representative to the seventh annual AIRC Conference to be held in New York City April 19-24.

Plans are underway for a social which will be held in the near future.

In an impressive ceremony Mar. 10, the new NNC presidential home was formally dedicated.

Standing before the large corner fireplace, Dr. B. V. Seals, chairman of the Board of Regents, officiated.

Following a vocal selection, "Bless This House" by Prof. Jim Carkhuff, who was accompanied by his wife, Dr. Thelma B. Culver, Dean of the College and Dick Ivester ASB president spoke in behalf of the faculty and students respectively.

Previous to the giving of the benediction by E. E. Wordsworth, Rev. W. D. McGraw on behalf of the entire Northwest educational zone, presented a stuffed chair to the Rileys as a personal gift.
